PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Architects Bailly & Tuscott have awarded the contract for the erection of the Zion Baptist Church, at Ardmore, Pa., to Contractor Joseph M. Harlan, of that place. This work was noted some time ago in these columns.

Architect William D. Yarnall, of Darby, is preparing plans for a handsome residence for John R. Sweeney, retired grocer, of Darby. This property will be located on Lansdowne avenue, and will be complete in every detail. When finished it will be one of the finest dwellings in that locality.

James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, has made the plans for placing tanks of steel in the basement of the Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth, below Market street, the contract being awarded to Anderson & Adams, 128 South Twelfth street. The capacity will be 120,900 gallons.

William Steele & Sons will receive bids until the twenty-first inst. for alterations and additions to Joseph H. Bromley's residence, corner Wissahickon and Cheltenham avenues, Germantown, according to drawing by Architects Hazlehurst & Huckle, Girard Building Broad and Chestnut streets.

Kean & Mead, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, have finished plans for alterations and additions to the residence of W. H. Whitaker, 2102 North Broad street, and estimates are being made by a number of contractors. The work will include stone, brick and cut stone work, iron work, stairs, tile and electric work, dumb waiter, roofing, mill and plaster work, heater and range work, with all the latest conveniences, etc.

Architects Heacock & Hokanson, 931 Chestnut street, of this city, have awarded contracts for four houses to be built at Wyncotte, Pa., to Daniel W. Sperry, of Fort Washington, and for the parsonage to be erected at Beverly, N. J. for a Baptist congregation, to George L. Schele, of Riverside, N. J. The houses and parsonage were described some time ago.

All the drawings for the new printing house to be erected for T. B. Wanamaker, on the site of the old Chambers Church, Broad and Chestnut streets, are about complete and are, in general scope, as previously detailed in these columns. It is altogether likely that estimates may be asked for at an early day. Messrs. Rankin & Kellogg, architects 1024 Walnut street, will be the supervising architects whenever the start is made.

The drawings of Architect Joseph W. Anshutz, of the Board of Education, for the new school house to be erected on the north side of Thompson street, between Thirteenth street and Park avenue, have been approved by the structural engineering department of building inspection. The new building will measure 124 x 71 feet. It will be three stories high and constructed of stone. George W. Pierson has the contract for the work, and has commenced work. The estimated cost is $76,000.

Architects Hales & Ballinger, 1200 Chestnut street, are at work on plans and specifications for the erection of a 900-horse power house, and a large warehouse for J. P. Mathieu & Co. The power house will be built near Ninth and Westmoreland streets, and the warehouse will be erected at Ninth street and Sedgley avenue. The latter will be 155 feet long and irregular in depth. The walls are to be of red brick and stone. The interior will contain iron work, electric work, steam heat, power, lifts, etc. The architects will be ready to receive estimates in a short time.

Baltimore architects will compete for the new Custom House plans to be erected at that place. Through efforts of Congressman Wachter, the amount being a balance saved in the purchase of additional ground costing $75,000. The architects of that city who will send in plans are Wyatt & Nolting, William M. Ellicott, Jr., Baldwin & Pennington, Jackson C. Gott, Henry Brauns and Joseph Evans Sperry. They will be furnished with the necessary detail by the supervising architect. Congress has appropriated $1,500,000 for improvements at Baltimore, but it will not be available before July 1st, 1900, when the contract will be awarded and work commenced.

Henry E. Cregier, a Chicago architect, has bought the former residence and grounds of William L. Elkins, on North Broad street, Philadelphia, for himself and a Boston syndicate. He will convert the property by the addition of a twelve story building into a fine apartment hotel. The building will be completed in the summer of 1900, and will be of steel construction. The outer construction will be of granite, Roman brick and terra cotta, and the interior will contain over 100 apartments. There will be a palm garden on the roof. The property is 234 x 160 feet, and the total cost of the new building, counting the present improvements, will be $1,750,000. This work we noted in full in these columns fully one year ago when the proposition for sale was first considered. The Elkins country house is about completed, hence the consummation of the project at this time. All the plans are completed by Mr. Cregier and likely estimates will be invited at once.

Plans are on the boards at the office of Chief Pierie, of the Bureau of City Property, at City Hall, providing for the erection of a handsome fire station for Engine Company No. 4, at 1523 and 1530 Sansom street; for alterations to the repair shop of the Bureau of Fire, at Juniper and Race streets, and for the erection of a dead house at the Municipal Hospital grounds, Twenty-second and Lehigh avenue. The proposals for the work will be opened on the 25th instant. The drawings for the fire house were made by Architect Edgar V. Seeler, as previously noted in these columns, and show a two and three-story structure. The exterior walls will be constructed of granite, Indiana limestone, terra cotta and brick. The second story portion of the building will front on Sansom street, and the third story portion on Moravian street. The basement will contain bins for heater and steam coal, an ash pit and closet. The first floor will contain tracks for the combination wagon and steamer, sliding pole, extending to the second story in front, and one extending to the third floor in the rear, five stalls, stable and closets; second floor, foreman's room, sitting room with lockers, bath rooms with shower appliances, lavatory, matron's closet, locker room and dormitory; third floor, rear, drying room, store room, work room, hay loft, hay drop, feed bins, and a hose tower, extending to the first floor. The dead house will be one story in height and measure 18.8 x 25.3 feet. It will be constructed of brick, with granite and Indiana limestone trimmings. The specifications provide for cement work, brick and stone work, galvanized iron, enameled brick, red brick and black headers, plumbing, gas fitting, etc. The work at Juniper and Race streets will consist of putting in a new roof, new cornices, brick work and a skylight. Architect J. Franklin Stuckert & Son made the drawings for this work.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

John R. Wiggins has plans on the boards for extensive interior and exterior alterations at 2102 North Broad street, for W. H. Whitaker.

The deeds for the site of the New York Custom House have been executed, and are now in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury, at Washington D. C.

George K. Cummings has purchased the property on the west side of Broad street, 89 feet north of Girard avenue, measuring 31 x 160 feet, from Adolph Segal, for $50,000.

There is a great deal of heavy building work all over the country held in abeyance, owing to the scarcity of structural iron. Much of it cannot go until next spring.

Thomas S. Kirkbride has awarded the contract for the construction of a new lavatory and an alcove, 14,626 feet, at his residence, 1406 Spruce street, to Contractors Staley & Camac.

Frank P. Churehill will commence work at once on the erection of eight two-story brick dwellings, each 14 x 30.14 feet, on the south side of Ludlow street, 71.54 feet west of Fifth street.

Are about as far apart as human agencies can make them; they represent the extremes of human nature as well as human possibilities.

Impractical philanthropists argue that this difference is the natural result of environment, and that, under the same conditions, men would be alike as to their social and moral status.

If this assumption is correct, why are not horses alike? There is little difference as to environments in the early life of horses.

Why are manufacturers not alike? Why do some of these bring to bear upon their products the in-incible stamp of honest worth and business integrity, an absolute and conscientious adherence to the highest possible standard of excellence.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG. 23, 1899

Will the Trades' League rise and explain why and how and wherefore the cost of transportation of a barrel of cement from the works at Easton, Pa., to New York City is only seventy cents, while the cost to Philadelphia, which is fourteen miles nearer, is $1.20?

This discrimination as to freights may be all right as the railroads see it, but it makes hard lines for our material men, builders and contractors.

The gist of both the reports of R. G. Dun & Company and Bradstreet's, as to trade conditions for the week ending August 19th, is that trade conditions are constantly improving, as the demand is increasing, and there is a cheerful outlook all over the country.

Production in manufacturing has reached the maximum, while prices are about the same; grain and iron and steel being stronger.

Payments through the principal clearing houses have been 55.9 per cent. larger than in 1892 for the month of August, and 23 per cent. outside of New York.

The proposition to illuminate the trees in Independence Square should be well considered from a scientific standpoint before Chief of City Property Pierie gives his consent. It is claimed that electricity has killed the trees in Willow Grove Park, in every instance where they have been wired.

The loss of even a single tree in Independence Square would prove a serious matter, even though caused through patriotic impulses.

Old age is depleting the group fast enough, and it is doubtful after it is gone, if other trees will reach the stage of royal magnificence of that of the old patriarchs that have come to us as legacies of the past. Our welcome to the veterans cannot be enhanced a particle by stupid tree-killing methods.

The Philadelphia Drugs, Oils and Paints very wisely suggests, that inasmuch as rope is an important article in daily use, and as information on the subject is not generally accessible, the publication of some facts regarding it might be found useful. The following specification is accordingly given, with remarks by the compiler of the specifications.

PHYSICAL TEST.

Not less than three test pieces shall decide the average strength of any single coil of rope, one piece to be taken from the end and two pieces from near the middle of the coil.

Where many coils are to be tested, one piece from each coil is to be taken, and the average strength taken as the mean of nine pieces.

The test piece should be well spliced and have not less than three "under tucks" per strand; it should still further be strengthened by binding with stout twine. The eye-splice should form a loop about three inches in diameter, and the length of the pulling section between the loops may be anywhere from 12 to 45 inches.

The test piece generally used has a length of 18 inches between the loops.

When the elongation or stretch is to be determined, it is measured on a two inch section at the middle of the test piece using a pair of spring dividers for the purpose.

The diameter of the rope, if measured with a cordage gauge, should be calipered with one arm on top of a strand and the other arm between two strands directly opposite. With a micrometer a moderately close caliper on opposite strands is taken for the given diameter.

The weight of cordage is determined by weighing some given length, either 10, 100, 600 or 1,000 feet. When short lengths are taken for weight, the mean of at least three pieces should be taken to represent the average weight.

The limit of variation in weight is usually an allowance of ten per cent. either way.

The limit of allowance on strength for different sizes of rope will be as follows:

With a given diameter from $\frac{1}{8}$ in. to $\frac{7}{8}$ in. the strength must not be below the estimate; from $\frac{1}{2}$ in. to 1 in. not less than 90 per cent. of the estimated strength; from $1\frac{1}{2}$ in. to 2 in. not less than 75 per cent.; and with a given diameter of 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. to 8 in. not less than 55 per cent. of the estimate.

Sisal should come within these limits on strength and weight, and cotton will be expected to have a strength and weight in the proportion to manila, as mentioned in the latter part of this specification. (See Remarks.)

REMARKS.

Rope and twine are seldom bought on specification, it being a recognized fact that all of the cordage makers generally adhere to standard sizes, weight and grade.

Numerous tests have shown that there is quite often a great variation in size, weight and strength, even in the same grade of rope from the same factory.

Small cordage known as rope is usually composed of three or four strands of "yarns" (i. e., threads) twisted together.

The threads or yarns are laid up with a right-hand twist, while the strands are laid up with a left hand twist.

Hawsers are made up with three right-handed strands, and cables with three hawsers laid up left-handed.

Shrouds are made up with a central core, surrounded by four strands.

Common rope is usually laid up in three strands, and each strand will contain from two to fifteen more threads or yarns, according to the size of the rope.

Tarred ropes are less subject to injury by the weather than white cordage; but have one-fourth less strength, and as they take up from 20 to 30 per cent. of tar, the weight is increased accordingly.

The various kinds of fiber used in making rope are Manila, Sisal, Italian and Russian hemp, cotton, jute, flax, esparto, ramie and China-grass.

Manila, sisal and cotton are the three fibers most commonly used, and the only ones considered in this specification.

A chemical analysis and microscopical examination afford a fairly accurate means of detecting various fiber, but for commercial purposes a physical test gives the practical results which are required, and forms a basis for the value of the rope.

In testing rope, the strength is the main feature, but the size, weight, number of strands, threads or yarns per strand, fibers per yarn, and the number of twists or turns in 12 inches are considered and furnish most useful information.

Good rope should be of uniform size and not vary to any extent from the given diameter or circumference; it should be full weight and nicely twisted. The fiber should be of the long variety, with a fine texture, and properly cured.

The following table of approximate strength, weight, etc., is compiled from various cordage gauges, and based on actual tests of rope, the tests being made on a Riehle Bros. screw power testing machine under a time load:

The larger the cordage the less its strength per unit of section; this loss amounts to nearly 50 per cent. in large cables.

Making due allowance for these variations we believe that a good quality of rope will meet every condition as set forth under the head of the above physical test.

Small rope with a diameter ranging from 3-16 inch to 7-16 inch usually breaks above the estimate given in the table. For instance, a 3-16-inch rope, with an estimated strength of 254 pounds, will generally break at about 420 pounds, a 1/2-inch rope at 600 pounds, and a 5-16-inch rope at 840 pounds, giving a steady reduction up to 7-16 inch, then remaining stationary up to 1 1/2 inch, after which the reduction increases very rapidly.

It is a curious fact that lightning rarely does much damage in large cities. That this is not immediately due to many metallic structures is proven by the fact that the few bolts which actually strike rarely seek the steel skeleton buildings; they more often strike some modest chimney or tree. It is strange that so very little is known to-day of lightning—unquestionably the first electrical phenomenon ever observed. It is true, though, that knowledge of it is limited almost to a record of observation, not an entirely satisfactory explanation or the accumulation of lightning potentials of the action of the discharge itself having yet appeared.—Electrical Review.

Electricity from Heat.

The Great Problem That Offers Rich Reward for a Solution.

The great problem likely to be solved in the twentieth century is the transformation of heat into electricity direct. When this is accomplished, Biddy in the morning will start a fire, the heat of which will fill a series of storage batteries that will do most of the work of the household during the day, illuminating Manila and sisal weigh about alike, and have nearly the same strength; tarred rope weighs about one-fourth more, and has about one-fourth less strength.

Cotton weighs about one-fourth less than manila, and usually has only half the strength.

"Hawser laid" rope generally weighs about one-sixth less than "rope laid" cordage.

Three-strand cordage is 10 to 15 per cent. stronger than four-strand, if rope laid; 10 per cent. weaker in hawsers and cables.

The working or maximum proof strength of cordage may be calculated by multiplying the square of the girth (circumference) in inches by 200 to 300 pounds (300 for small, 200 for large rope). A more simple method of calculating the factor of safety, is to take one-third of the estimated strength, as shown in the table. The actual area of a three-strand rope is usually taken as three-fourths the area of the given diameter, and the figure obtained is called an "area factor."

The actual breaking strain divided by the area factor gives the strength per square inch, and good rope will show a tensile strength of 14,000 pounds per square inch, when figured this way, the dwelling, propelling the machine fans, running the sewing machine, operating the dumb waiter, and so forth. This, however, is only a faint suggestion of the advantages to be gained by the discovery I speak of. Electricity will then become an exceedingly cheap source of energy, and the sun's rays may be even employed to manufacture the fluid. If, as does not seem unlikely, a twentieth century inventor finds a practical way of harnessing the tides, the latter will produce at very slight expense all the electricity required to run all the machinery and to heat and illuminate all the houses in the United States.

The houses of many rich men to day are run to a great extent by electricity, which lights them, ventilates them, and even operates the family elevator. This kind of elevator is itself a very new invention; it has no attendant, but is so controlled by the invisible force stored in great jars of lead and acidulated water in the battery-room that it is as safe and docile as any well-trained servant. Anybody who wants to make use of it presses a button, and the car comes responsively to the floor desired. Stepping aboard, the passenger touches one of a series of buttons inside, and the car transports him to the floor he wishes to go to. If the promises of electrical experts are to be accepted, our dwellings before long will be lighted by electricity without wires.

An extremely valuable product of the electric furnace, by the way, is carborundum—now being made in a large way at Niagara—which is the hardest of all substances save the diamond, and therefore serves extremely well as an abrasive. By electrolysis aluminum is separated from its ore, and thus has been brought to a point of exceeding cheapness, while by the same means ordinary brine is separated into two valuable products chlorine for bleaching, and sodium for soap manufacture.

Electricity is now recognized as a most useful agent in medicine, being employed in a great variety of ways. In some complaints it has a remarkable power of stimulating function, and it has been found that certain drugs put on a moistened electrode can be carried into the body with the current, so as to benefit directly a diseased part. Various kinds of morbid growth are removed instantaneously and painlessly by electro cautery, and the only successful method for getting rid of superfluous hair is that of the electric needle, which is gently introduced into the hair follicle and kills the root. Nowadays operative instruments for the nose, mouth and throat, whether drills, saws, or what not, are controlled by electricity, while tiny incandescent lamps, swallowed by the patient, or otherwise manipulated, are utilized to illuminate the cavities of body and head, so as to reveal conditions to the physician.

Street cars are not only run by electricity, but are illuminated and heated by the same agency. The heaters used for this purpose require no attention, regulate the temperature exactly as it may be wanted, and when used on railway trains, does not endanger the safety of passengers. One of the latest improvements is to provide each berth in a sleeping-car with an incandescent light, so that one may read, if slumber comes not. Similarly, incandescent lights are now provided for carriages, and they are even coming into use for cabs. The Emperor of Germany has his closed carriages lighted in this way, and, in addition, the harnesses of his horses are covered with small glow lights, of different colors, so as to produce a very beautiful effect.

The twentieth century will see electricity introduced in place of coal and wood. In order that this may be accomplished, it is only necessary that the fluid should be made a little cheaper, inasmuch as it serves much better for all culinary purposes.

The electric oven bakes bread ideally, and meats prepared in it do not require basting or watching, while broiling and frying may be done in a superior style on the electric range. The electric chafing-dish is accessible at a moment's notice to an ordinary light wire; the current is turned on, and immediately the oysters begin to seew or the eggs to frizzle. In the electric kitchen of the near future there will be no coal, no ashes, and no smoke; there will be no fuel, and not even a battery, inasmuch as the requisite current will be furnished from outside, as gas is now. The sad-irons used on Tuesdays for the family linen will be heated by electricity, and will be kept thus at a constant temperature, so that they will never scorch things, and will not require reheating or changing. Already we have electric curling tongs, which, being hitched to a light wire, are warranted not to singe a hair.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Charles H. Harding will have a two-story stone addition, 8x13.4 feet, with a shingle roof, built at his residence, 5940 Overbrook avenue, Overbrook. Milton W. Young has the contract.

A. M. Green, contractor, Germantown, will build a substantial one-story stone church, 70x40 feet, for the congregation of the East Side Baptist Church, on East Chew street, Germantown.

R. Torpin & Co., owners, have awarded a contract to Rush J. Whiteside & Sons to erect a frame lumber shed, to measure 63x74 feet, at their yard, northwest corner of Seventeenth and Callowhill streets.

M. Harrington has awarded the contract for a two-story stone addition, 17x20.6 feet, at his residence, 112 Upsal street, Germantown, to Contractors Thomas W. Wright & Son. Work has been commenced.

Wilson Milnor, builder, will at once erect five dwellings for Newton Halden, Oxford street, below Unity, Frankford. All to be of brick, stone steps, and trimmings, with modern conveniences, etc.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has begun alterations to the Cheltenham passenger station in Germantown. This work will consist of changing the platforms and trusses in the shed and cutting off and rebuilding the corner of the station.

H. C. Schermerhorn, of Ocean City, N. J., with office in Hale Building, in this city, and President Langley, of the Millville Bank, N. J., have bought a $21,000 tract of land, at Ocean City, N. J., and intend to build in the near future a large hotel at that place.

S. F. Coffin has started on the erection of the Chinese Village at the National Export Exposition grounds, at Thirty-fourth and South streets. Architects Keen & Mead made the plans, and Y. P. Lee is the owner. The estimated cost is about $7000. Previously noted.

The Chambers-Wylie Memorial Church, at the northeast corner of Broad and Sansom streets, has been transferred to the Fidelity Insurance, Trust, and Safe Deposit Company, for the consideration of $412,500. The property measures 76x104 feet, and was transferred on the 16th inst.

Work will be commenced at once by John E. Heverer on the erection of twelve two-story brick dwellings, each 16x31 feet, to cost $24,000, on the east and west sides of Gratz street, south of Venango street. These are to contain all comforts and conveniences, heaters and ranges, etc.

Lindell, Carrington & Co., 1329 Race street, have awarded a contract to Joseph Bird to make interior alterations at 904-06 Callowhill street, consisting of taking out old walls, lining side walls and ceilings, laying a new floor in the basement, and replacing the old joist where necessary.

Contractor and Builder A. Raymond Raff has begun to excavate for alteration to the dynamo room at the German Hospital grounds, Corinthian and Girard avenues. The work will consist of the construction of an iron stairway, and the side walls will be lined with enameled brick.

David A. McClelland took out a permit last week to build a three-story front parsonage, 18x68 feet, on the north side of Woodland avenue, 70 feet west of Sixty-sixth street, for the congregation of the Union Presbyterian Church. This work was noted some time ago. The estimated cost is $5000.

William Henderson, 5003 Moravian street, has the contract to rebuild the lately burned factory of William Galloway, 3216 Walnut street. It will be upon the old lines architecturally, and three stories high, red brick and stone trimmings. Its uses are for manufacture of pottery entirely. Cost, $35,000.

The scenic railway structure at Chestnut Hill Park, was almost totally destroyed by fire, caused by lightning striking it on the 21st inst, and considerable other damage done to adjoining property. It will be rebuilt at once, as all is fully insured and can be adjusted without delay. Damage is about $10,000.

Plans were filed at the Bureau of Building Inspection for alterations and additions to the building at 1513 to 1519 Race street, for John J. Griffin & Co. The work will include the construction of a fourth story and general interior alterations. The George M. Newhall Engineering Company, Limited, made the drawings.

The congregation of the Emmanuel Methodist Episcopal Church, at the southwest corner of Twenty-fifth and Brown streets, which was struck by lightning and badly damaged by fire, recently, has awarded the contract for the necessary repairs to the edifice to Contractors Rush J. Whiteside & Sons. The estimated cost is $2600.

The Kensington Electric Company has awarded contracts to John M. Buchanan to build a one-story addition, 51x46 feet, to its boiler house, at the northeast corner of Otis street and Trenton avenue, and to raise the roof and make interior alterations to the engine room, on Blair street, north of Susquehanna avenue.

The Link Belt Engineering Company, of Nicetown, will erect an iron and steel annex to its already large plant. The new building, which will be used as a machine shop, will have a frontage of 60 feet and a depth of 100 feet, with an elevation of 25 feet. The building will be covered and roofed with corrugated sheet iron.

The contract for the League Island dry dock is a very uncertain question with the Navy Department. In the first place, a wooden dock is not popular with the authorities, and in the second place investigation must be made as to electric cranes and other things before the award can be considered at all.

George L. Sipps, 212 South Seventh Street, has the contract for the erection of the five-story addition, 41x131 feet, to John Weyth & Bro.'s factory, at the southwest corner of Eleventh street and Washington avenue, to cost $45,000. Architect W. Trumbower, made the drawings, and the work was noted when the plans were placed on the boards for estimates.

J. C. McLanahan, the well-known real estate agent and operator, Fifteenth and Pine streets, has had plans prepared for the construction of an apartment house, 42x53 feet, at the corner of Lombard and Carlisle streets. It will be four stories high, of brick and terra cotta work, some stone trimmings, and the interior will contain all the latest and best

The London Telegraph, speaking of the atmosphere of London, says: Only by degrees are the marvelous qualities of our London atmosphere becoming known. No city in the world can boast such a peculiar aerial composition as that which the inhabitants of the metropolis have served to them daily and nightly, without money and without price, neither the Government, County Council, nor Vestries have yet attempted to tax the highly nutritive air which we breathe. Most people think that our atmosphere consists of practically nothing. Quite a mistake. It is both meat and drink. A paper contributed to the "Transactions" of the British Institute of Preventive Medicine, states that, even in a suburb, the dust particles number 20,000 per cubic centimetre in the open air, and 44,000 in a quiet room; while in the city—O fortunatus nimium!—the totals per cubic centimetre were 500,000 when taken from the roof, 300,000 in a court, and about 400,000 in a room. In other words the air of the square mile is 900 per cent. thicker than in the suburbs, which is in accord with the general experience that fogs are both more dense and more frequent over the centre than in the outskirts. But what is especially interesting is to learn that although dust is the great carrier of micro-organisms, there is only one of these articles per 380,000,000 atoms of dust.

Thus it is calculated a man could live in the metropolis for seventy years and only absorb 25,000,000 microbes into his system from the air, or about the same number as he drinks in half a pint of unboiled milk. Of course, there are other serious objections to dust; but it is something to know that there is only one microbe to many millions of dust.

Thomas has been awarded the contract for the erection of the new Union Bank building at 9 and 11 East Fayette street; it will be finely finished, thoroughly equipped with all modern conveniences, and will cost about $125,000. A deed was recorded last week from the Merchants' National Bank, conveying the old Merchants' Bank building to the United States Government, as part of the site for the new custom house, to be erected by the Government. The property at the northwest corner of Courtland and Lexington streets, has been bought by Mr. Henry A. Parr, who will use the site on which to erect the new building for the Maryland Telephone and Telegraph Company. The proposed structure will be seven stories high, well finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements.

The plans have been prepared by Joseph Evans Sperry. The work of demolishing the old Barnum property, at the southeast corner of St. Paul and Fayette streets, has begun, and work will begin on the new building as soon as possible. The Structural Iron Company will erect a foundry at Brush and Ridgely streets, to cost $10,000. The trustees of Roland Avenue M. E. Church have taken out a permit for the erection of a three-story brick parsonage. They occupy a site adjoining the church. The United Railways and Electric Company has under consideration the erection of new shops. Plans have not yet been prepared. William A. House is the general manager.

Washington, D. C.

The War Department has under consideration the erection of permanent barracks at Camp Meade. Henry A. Prosser, of Washington, has been appointed engineer for the construction of the proposed water works and sewer system at Takoma Park, near Washington. It is said that the District Commissioners have rejected all bids for sewer construction and will advertise for new ones. The only bid received August 14th, by the District Commissioners for furnishing asphalt blocks, was from the Washington Asphalt Block & Tile Co., of Washington, D. C., on a basis of $96 per 1,000 for standard size and $49 for special size delivered in the D. C. property yards, with proportionate bids for delivery at other locations. It is said that the Great Falls Power Company will want bids in a short time for the construction of a dam across the canal at the Falls, and for a canal or sluice to convey the water to the power-house, for the purpose of generating electricity. It is stated that Pavarini & Greer, 814 Eighteenth street, northwest, have been awarded the contract for the Girl's Reform School, for $41,900. The District Commissioners have received a number of plans for the proposed Manual Training School for colored pupils. A number of improvements are being made to the dwelling occupied by Secretary of State, Mr. John Hay. Miles Fuller has begun work on three dwellings, to be erected on Somerset Heights.—Work has begun in laying the track for the new road to Rockville.

—The plans of George B Post, Warren Welmore and Price & Aiken, of New York City, have been selected from the ten offered for the Department of Justice Building. One of these three will be selected by the Attorney General at an early day, and as soon as possible work will be started on the proposed new building. $1,000,000 has been appropriated for the work.

You See, Mr. Carpenter and Builder

The one strong point which commends us to you is the fact that our stock embraces everything in our line which you require, in the most particular as well as the hurry-up job, big or little, that you may have on hand at any time. Now, the other side of the proposition—and there are always two sides, you know,—conditions recommend you to us, because we live on the patronage of the carpenter and builder, and this is the vital influence which prompts us to great care in the production of our MILL WORK, MANTELS AND TILE WORK, in order that we may give you the best value for the money, and the promptest kind of delivery, to your satisfaction as well as those for whom you work.

Architect Notes.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, have on boards for estimates plans for an iron fire-escape, for the National Biscuit Company building, now being erected.

The store building notice in last week's issue, for Christopher P. Chew, of Camden, N. J., plans by Field & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, have been on boards for estimates during the week past. Specifications call for a three-story structure of brick and terra cotta work and large plate glass windows in all floors, metal ceilings, electric work, plumbing and gas fitting, a passenger elevator and all the latest and best conveniences. Drawings have been in office of J. E. and A. L. Penneck, 395 Walnut street, and other contractors.

Lawrence Vischer Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has completed the drawings for the house for A. Haller Gross, Esq., to be erected at Langhorne, Pa. The structure will be colonial in style, three stories high, 32 x 60 feet in area, and contain sixteen rooms, stone, brick and framework; interior in hardwoods hot water heat, electric work, best of plumbing, range, cement work and all general conveniences, etc. Also a fine garden will be laid out surrounding the house and included in contract. Estimates are being made on the work. Mr. Boyd has other work in progress, which will be noted in the near future.

Joseph M. Huston, architect, Witherspoon Building, has prepared plans for a Gettysburg Memorial, which he suggests should be erected on the meadow over which Pickett and his men made their gallant charge. It consists of a main tower, 350 feet high, on the top of which will be placed a gigantic statue of Victory; on either side of the tower will be two circular buildings joined to it by graceful and beautiful peristyles. Both buildings will be of the same size. One is intended for use as an auditorium, in which, as each anniversary of the battle rolls around, the survivors of the great conflict can hold their reunions. The proposal to erect the memorial will be submitted to the G. A. R. during the encampment. It is estimated that $250,000 will be required to erect the structure.

Harvey P. Shumway, architect, Atlantic City, N. J., has completed the plans for a nine-story hotel, to be built at ocean end of New Jersey avenue, in the above city. It will be of grey brick and either Indiana limestone or terra cotta trimmings, ornamented in general design, measurement will be 172 x 222 feet and wing 145 feet. Specifications call for elevators, electric work, lift for freight, fireproof interior, steel skeleton structures, baths on an extended scale, cement work, grille work of iron and brass, tile and other ornamental work throughout, plumbing of the most approved kind, plate and small glass windows and doors, steam heat and power, ventilation upon scientific principles, ranges large and small, a culinary department and baggage room, sun parlors, reading rooms, sleeping rooms, single and en suite, all the latest and best conveniences will be introduced. Estimates are being made in the Builders' Exchange, 24 South Seventh street, until September 15th, when bids will close and the contract will be announced shortly after.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, has completed full plans for the parochial school of the new Roman Catholic parish of Our Lady of Victory, Fifty-fourth and Summer streets. The building will be one of the four to be erected on the lot at Fifty-fourth and Vine streets, which has a frontage of 230 feet on Fifty-fourth street and 175 feet on Vine street. On the corner of these streets a church will be erected. The parish house will be located in the rear of the church, and a convent between the church and parochial school. The Rev. P. F. McNulty, rector of Our Lady of Victory, expects to hold services in the new school building on Christmas Day. The school, which will cost about $30,000, will be built in Romanesque style of architecture, as will the other three buildings, and will occupy 65 feet on Fifty-fourth street and 105 feet on Summer street. The building will be three stories in height, and the walls will be built entirely of Port Deposit stone. The interior of the school will be finished in cypress. Partitions will be erected in the halls, which will be used as wardrobes by the pupils. The second and third floors will be divided into class rooms, each of which will accommodate fifty-four pupils. Each room will have three windows. The class rooms will be reached by two stairways in the front of the building and two in the rear. The rear stairways will be used as fire escapes. On the landings of the stairways will be placed rooms for the comfort of the teachers. The building will be heated by steam. It is estimated that the school will accommodate about 1000 pupils. Until the church building is erected the first floor of the school building will be used as a chapel, in which the services will be held. This floor will be fitted with three altars. The church, which will be one of the handsomest in the city, will be 70 feet in width and 146 feet in depth. It will seat about 1000 people. Estimates on the superstructure are being made and the contract will be awarded at once. Mr. Boyle has been retained to make plans for alterations to the R. C. Church of the Mother of Consolation, to be erected at Chestnut Hill. The work will include new seats, stained glass windows, new stations and confessionals, also new decorations, boiler house and fittings for steam heat, electric work, plumbing, etc. Also a house at Girardville for Rev. Father McCullough. Contract will be let to Mr. Wallner, of that place, for $9000. Mr. Boyle has on boards preliminary plans for other work, which we shall note shortly.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

It is stated that the Scott-Janney Electric Company, recently organized with a capital of $30,000,000, will build a large plant in this city at once.

Frederick H. Lewis, 406 Locust street, Philadelphia, is making plans for works for the Virginia Portland Cement Company, Craigsville, Augusta county, Va.

William Steele & Sons have signed the contract for additions and alterations at 2102 North Broad street, to cost $15,000 for W. H. Whitaker, owner. This work was noted in last issue of this journal.

John Whelan has the contract to erect twenty-five two-story dwellings at Dittman and Ontario streets, for Lewis Barr. This operation will cost about $26,000 for construction, and work will be started at once.

William Supplee has awarded contract to Charles W. Gager, for a new brick and stone-front and extensive interior and exterior alterations to his residence. No 1833 Spruce street. The work is estimated to cost about $7100.

Dyer Herman C. Kuehne will commence work at once on the erection of nine two-story brick dwellings, each 15x43 feet, on the west side of Royal street, west of West Logan street, Germantown. The estimated cost is $13,500.

Nos. 1214 to 1226 Canal street, 165 x 100 feet, has been purchased by the Lewis Motor Company, through W. Bruce Barrow, 1134 Vine street, for $70,000. Alterations are to be made to adapt the building to the manufacture of motors.

The stone crushing plant of John T. Dyer, located at Howellville, Chester county, was totally destroyed by fire on the 23d inst. Mr. Dyer says that his loss will reach $45,000. The plant was insured to the amount of $5000 and will be rebuilt.

The property measuring 90.11 x irregular depth, on the west side of American street, 179.11 feet north of Brown street, has been transferred to Samuel E. Alexander by Emma H. Reath, subject to a mortgage of $5,000, for a nominal consideration.

Work will be started at once by John M. Anderson on alterations to several dwellings at Thirteenth and Callowhill streets, made necessary by the construction of the Reading Subway. The work will include putting in a new marble base on a portion of 329, 331, 333, 335 and 337 North Thirteenth street; a new brown-stone base, cellar and first-story windows at 1238, 1240, 1242 and 1244 Callowhill street and alterations to the northeast corner of those thoroughfares. William B. Hackenburgh owns the properties, and the work will cost $7200.

Wharf Rats and Gentlemen

Are about as far apart as human agencies can make them; they represent the extremes of human nature as well as human possibilities.

Impractical philanthropists argue that this difference is the natural result of environment, and that, under the same conditions, men would be alike as to their social and moral status.

If this assumption is correct, why are not horses alike? There is little difference as to environments in the early life of horses.

Why are manufacturers not alike? Why do some of these bring to bear upon their products the invincible stamp of honest work and business integrity, an absolute and conscientious adherence to the highest possible standard of excellence.

No faltering; no quibbling; nothing for expediency's sake; no hedging or dodging; no flimsy excuse or false subterfuge. No! No! No! A thousand times no! Nothing but the best that can be made by mortal man. These are strong phrases, but every single one of them applies to the pre-eminently good duct of 1899, on account of the time required to open copper properties and provide reduction plants.

Lead.—The lead product increased from 213,000 short tons in 1897 to 231,269 tons in 1898, which is the maximum output of this metal in the United States. The value also increased from $14,885,728 in 1897 to $17,845,175 in 1898.

Zinc.—The production of zinc also increased to 115,399 short tons, valued at $10,385,910, from 99,980 short tons, worth $8,498,800, in 1897. This, too, is the largest product recorded for this country.

Quicksilver.—The production of this metal, which declined in 1897, shared the generally improved conditions in the mineral industries, increasing from 26,643 flasks in 1897 to 31,092 flasks in 1898. The value increased from $938,415 in 1897 to $1,188,627 in 1898. The value per flask in 1897 was $38.28; in 1898 it was $38.23.

Aluminum.—The production of aluminum also made a notable gain in 1898 over 1897. The product in 1897 was 4,600,000 pounds, valued at $1,500,000, and in 1898 it was 5,200,000 pounds, valued at $1,716,000.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Work has been started on the second-story brick rear addition, 22x100 feet, at 218 North Second street, previously noted, for G. T.

Lewis, owner. The building will be used for light storage purposes, and the estimated cost is $7200. David M. Ellis is doing the work.

The old Foulk-Long Institute, at Thirty-fourth and Locust streets, will after January 1, 1900, become the property of the University of Pennsylvania, and will then be remodelled for a laboratory of physics for that institution. As yet, no plans have been prepared for the work.

P. McShain has started to tear down the brick annex at St. Michael's R. C. Church, at the southeast corner of Second and Jefferson streets, and when that work is completed he will build a sacristy, to be 11 feet high, and measure 31x16 feet. The brick walls will rest on iron beams and columns.

The Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue,
Washington, D. C., to Mr. Edwin H.
Bonsall, vice-president of the Land, Title &
Trust Company, has decided as follows:
When real property is conveyed subject to a mortgage, if the deed conveying the same contains any covenant or statement that the grantee assumes the mortgage and becomes liable thereby for a deficiency judgment in case of foreclosure, then the amount of the mortgage is to be added to the value of the equity of redemption in determining the consideration on which the stamp tax is to be based. However, if there is no covenant or statement in the deed whereby any liability of the grantee for the payment of the mortgage can be implied, then the consideration is to be based only on the value of the equity

is receiving estimates for a bank building for Herbert Ballantine, at 749 Broad street.

St. Mary's Society, represented by Father Hoteneger, has bought ground at Second and Monroe streets, as a site for a parochial school. The plans will probably be drawn by Hyman Rosensohn. Thomas Cressey has made plans for extensive alterations to the property of Henry Dixon, at 26 Clinton street. A new front will be put in and a two story addition erected to contain stores and a number of offices. New plumbing, heating, lighting, etc., will be introduced.

At Atlantic City, Contractor John B. Hess has taken out a permit for the erection of a large hotel at Belmont avenue and the Boardwalk, Chelsea. The new structure will be 40 x 190 feet and will contain 1-0 rooms. It will be four stories high, finely finished throughout and supplied with all modern conveniences and improvements. Work will begin at once in order to have the building ready for the early spring trade. The owners are Messrs. Charles L. Adams and Frederick Myers. It is said that Charles B. Prettyman will erect a large building for hotel purposes at Pacific and Maine avenues, Chelsea.

It is stated that negotiations are in progress between the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and a syndicate of Philadelphians for the purchase of the large tract of ground at Chelsea, used by the company for its excursion house and pleasure grounds. The tract has a large ocean front of about 1200 feet and contains about four acres. It is said the company has asked $300,000 for the property with the understanding that a large hotel be erected on the site, in which case the railroad company would remove its tracks to the north side of Atlantic avenue, erect a fine seashore terminal station and run express trains direct to Chelsea from Broad street station, Philadelphia. It is said that John L. Young and others, owning property with a frontage of three hundred feet on the boardwalk have sold the same to a syndicate headed by Dr. Philip Marvel. H. A. Stout has prepared plans for two attractive cottages to be erected on the McLaughlin Grove tract of land below the excursion house. The plans call for half brick and frame structures of pleasing design. One will be four-story in height and will contain seventeen finely finished rooms, besides a beautiful hall and wide porches, all modern conveniences, fine interior finish. The owner is Lieutenant C. S. Grove. The other cottage will be erected for H. G. Mulock. It will also be four-story, of brick and frame, beautifully finished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements. The same architect has prepared plans for a handsome cottage to be erected at Chelsea for Nicholas Young. It will contain fourteen rooms and will be well finished; all conveniences.

Through Delaware.

At Greenwood, Sussex county, a stock company has been formed to erect a hotel at Shelly's bar, a short distance south of Bower's Beach.

At Milton, it is probable that work will begin in a short time on the erection of an electric light plant. James P. Morrison and Charles P. Taylor are interested.

At Lewes, Sussex county, the Lewes National Bank has under consideration the erection of a bank building. T. C. Ruddell, of Baltimore, Md., has been elected a director of the bank.

At Wilmington, the water commissioners, at a recent meeting, accepted the plans of Delt & Baker for the outside design of the water tower to be erected in Rockford Park. The specifications for the steel and iron work, submitted by Park Engineer Leisen, were also accepted, and specifications for the tile roof and copper work were read. Bids for the steel and iron work, also for the tile roof and copper work will be asked for in a short time. On motion of Mr. Betts it was decided to lay a cement sidewalk along the Tenth street side of Cool Spring Park and the reservoir from Jackson to Franklin streets. At a meeting of the street and sewer department a few days since it was decided to receive bids for 4000 square yards of fire brick to be used in paving Market street from Fifth to Eleventh streets. Bids will be received until September 5th. Plans for an overhead crossing for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Fourth street were approved. The street and sewer committee has approved the plans submitted by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company for a bridge at Fourth street.

Through Maryland.

At Germantown, Montgomery county, Lloyd Dorsey will erect an attractive dwelling to contain 12 rooms, bath &c. It will be of frame and stone, porches, fine interior finish, modern conveniences. The plans have been prepared by T. C. Groome, of Rockville, Maryland. The cost will be about $1000.

At Baltimore, Mayor Malster has been waited upon by a committee who requested him to withhold the advertisements for bids for the construction of the new No. 11 truck house until Council meets, as there is great dissatisfaction regarding the site selected for the building. Those who called were J. Kemp Barlett, James J. Swayne, William F. Wheatley and others. Chief McAfee has been instructed by the Fire Board to buy one thousand feet of hose for the chemical engine. Adam Schneider will erect two two-story brick dwellings at 1224 East Fayette street. A permit has been granted Boston Fear for the erection of eight two-story dwellings at Ludlow and Clem streets. The Calvert Building and Construction Company have bought the lot at the southeast corner of Fayette and St. Paul streets, and the site will be used for the erection of an addition to the Equitable Building.

The Baltimore Bargain House will increase its capacity by the erection of an addition to its present stores on Baltimore ave., near Howard street, from plans made by Joseph Evans Sperry. The new part will be five stories high, with basement and sub cellar, and will front 50 feet on Fayette street. A tunnel will be constructed under Garrett street, to connect the basements of the new and old buildings. The new part will be fitted up as salesrooms, &c., for warehouse purposes. The cost of the intended improvements is $150,000.

A. H. Bieler has made plans for alterations to the Chestnut Grove Presbyterian church at Long Green, Baltimore county. The improvements will include an auditorium annex, Sunday-school room, circular pews, slate for roofing, stained glass, new heating ventilators, &c. Peter Tome has sold a lot on York Road to the Jacob Tome Institute.

Washington, D. C.

At Washington, D. C., Secretary John Hay has bought a lot on L street, near Connecticut avenue. It is said that plans are under consideration for a fine apartment house to be erected on the site of old Stewart Castle and adjoining ground. Plans for such a structure have been drawn by a new New York architect, but no definite action has been taken. It is said that Senator Clark, of Montana, has taken stock in the company which will be organized to push the project. Work on the Aqueduct tunnel is being pushed rapidly by Col. A. M. Miller's corps of engineers, and it is thought the work will be finished within two years. The following bids for the construction of an addition to the District Almshouse were opened August 19 by the district commissioners: John Hughes, of Baltimore, $14,725; D. F. Mockabee, of Washington, $14,845;

Edward Lanoivoight and W. A. Kimmel, of Washington, $16,000. Bids will be received until September 2d for two truck houses, one on S street, the other to be erected on Whitney avenue. Jno. W. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG. 30, 1899

THE structural steel manufacturers are determined to advance prices in keeping with the present boom in iron and steel.

The meeting in New York on Friday last, of the representatives of the big concerns, at which it was decided to add $5 per ton to the price of structural steel, was the natural result of premium bids offered by the contractors for construction work.

How far reaching the increased price will act as an impediment to building remains to be seen. There is no doubt that it will set back much contemplated building, and yet, on the other hand, when it is fully realized that nothing will be gained by waiting, as it is more than probable that high prices have come to stay, a contrary effect may be the result.

In the face of the large orders that are being booked for pig iron, for 1899 delivery, it is merely speculation to look for an early reaction.

The Iron Age, which is a leading authority on iron and steel, editorially sums up the question as follows:

"The excitement in the iron markets is growing and is spreading. A very large tonnage of pig iron is being placed for 1900 delivery, at advancing prices. The bulk of the sales are for the first six months, but a number of important orders have been placed for delivery far into the second half of 1900, the southern furnaces leading in these transactions. They have even placed some round lots of gray forge in Pittsburg.

"There has been very great activity in basic pig iron. The leading consumers in Eastern Pennsylvania have been covering the sales aggregating about 30,000 tons, mostly taken by local furnaces. The southern furnaces are sold up on this grade up to July 1, 1900. It is a very significant fact, recorded by our Philadelphia correspondent, that a heavy demand for basic pig for western points has made its appearance in the east.

"It is a fact which does not augur well for the supply of pig iron for the central west for the spring of 1900, that a number of the Lake mining companies are even now announcing to their customers that their allotments of ore will have to be cut down from ten to twenty per cent.

"In Pittsburg the scarcity of Bessemer pig is illustrated by the fact that one of the largest concerns paid $22.50 delivered, for a lot of 5000 tons of pig, October and November delivery.

"Under exceptional circumstances as high as $38 has been paid in Pittsburg for prompt steel billets.

"A number of inquiries for steel billets for shipment to this country have been forwarded abroad. A new complication has arisen, and this is, that the prices asked there are such that it is doubtful whether the rate of duty will be four cents per pound or five cents.

"Following the significant reports of sales of steel rails for 1900 delivery in the west, comes now the official statement that a large railroad would purchase 15,000 tons of rails for next year at $28 at eastern mill.

"Evidence is accumulating that a very large tonnage of unfilled orders will be carried over into next year, not alone in steel rails, but also in structural material, plates and other forms of finished iron and steel. In other words, the impetus of the current enormous demand will surely carry us over the usually slack winter period.

"As for the near future, it is only a matter of getting the material, the price being an incidental question. We know of instances in which buyers have offered to pay a premium over contract prices in order to secure prompt delivery.

"The negotiations for the shipment of 25,000 tons of wire rods to Germany are still pending.

"In pig iron, new sales have not been made for some weeks. What is going forward now is on old contracts. Freight is easier, and $3 25 Birmingham to Liverpool is now the ruling rate."

According to a statement from Mr. Allen B. Rorke, price is not the main difficulty, for there are instances where construction iron and steel for early delivery cannot be obtained at any price, and a recent attempt to place an order by this gentlemen for structural steel was declined for delivery before February next.

Of course, the natural result will be the upsetting of time restrictions for the completion of important buildings, bridges, etc. Yet after every idle furnace in the country is again going at full blast, it would seem that, however great, in another year the supply will be equal to the demand.

Building in Germany.

German buildings are constructed with the precision which seems an essential to the Teutonic race, and are characterized by the same solidity and staying qualities, being built for use rather than for show or sale. Upon certain points the regulations are inflexible; the architect may indulge his fancy as to ornamentation, but the dimensions are prescribed, the height must be the same, the inner walls of a certain thickness, the floors laid in a certain way, the chimneys so constructed that fires from defective flues are an impossibility, the windows and water courses on the same level, the material the same as that of other houses in the same block, and poor materials, imperfect sanitary arrangements and other defects are excluded by rigid regulations, and Germany is consequently free from the horrible collapses which so often disgrace cities in other lands.

No shell game can be played by the German builder, and the occupant is not required to begin repairs with the second year, expend the cost of the building in ten years, and afterward either tear it down as uninhabitable or palm it off on some other victim. A German house seldom needs repairs.—Exchange.

R. G. DUNN & Co., last Saturday, in their weekly report said: "Nothing is more eloquent than the facts. Actual payments through the principal clearing houses for the week were 23.1 per cent. larger than last year, and 55.2 per cent. larger than in the same week in 1892. For the month thus far, the daily average of payments has been 23.3 per cent. larger than last year, and 56 per cent. larger than in 1892. Tonnage from Chicago in three weeks has been 80.7 per cent. larger than last year, and 74.6 per cent. larger than in 1892.

"It will not be suggested by anybody that such an astonishing increase over the most prosperous of all past years except the last was expected. Most people really regarded last year's expansion as something like a freak. Nor is the difference in amount of payments mainly due to rise in prices, for prices of several hundred articles actually range lower now on the whole than in August, 1892.

"It is a consumers' business also. Perhaps never before have demands for actual use controlled business and prices with so little speculation to anticipate higher markets. In fact the rise in most articles has gone farther than speculative opinions have warranted. Practically all industries are some months behind the requirements for actual use, and in many much of the output next year is already sold."

HERR MONTAG, of Mannheim, Germany, has invented a new fuel, which, it is claimed, develops no poisonous gases, makes but little soot, leaves no slate and only a small amount of ash—the residuum of ash left behind resembling that of wood or cigars. He guarantees it as the safest possible, since it is not liable to spontaneous combustion, and is thus to be relied upon as avoiding that danger when stored on board ship or elsewhere, and, from the fact of its not being productive of much soot, the fire risks from foul flues is reduced to the minimum. The composition of the new fuel is said to be ninety-two or ninety-four per cent. of ordinary earth and from six to eight per cent. of chemicals, whose names the inventor refuses to divulge.

nearly 90 per cent. or about $18,000,000 annually, but since 1893 the rate of increase has been nearly $25,000,000 annually. From 1834 to 1893 the increase was nearly $100,000,000, while in 1898 the increase was only a little over $1,000,000. Owing to the business depression from 1892 to 1894 there was a decrease of over $121,000,000.

In 1880 the mineral production amounted to $316,319,000, while in 1892 it was $697,830,002, the largest in the history of the country.

In 1898 the amount of pig iron produced was greater than any other year, yet the value of the product was considerably less than in 1890 or 1892, this being more than one-half the total increase in the metallic products from 1897 to 1898.

Bituminous coal increased from $119,567,224 in 1897 to $132,586,318 in 1898, a gain of $13,019,089, while the value of the anthracite fell off nearly $4,000,000.

Iron and steel.—The year 1898 proved to be another record breaker in the production of pig iron, 11,773,931 long tons being made in that year as compared with 9,652,650 in 1897, the largest output up to that time. This is an increase of 2,121,284, or nearly 22 per cent.

Large as was the increase in product in 1893 as compared with 1897, it was not so large as the increase in 1895 over 1894. In 1894 the product was 6,657,888 tons and in 1895 it was 8,448,808, an increase of nearly 42 per cent. In 1897 the increase was 1,029,568 tons, or 11.94 per cent. over 1896, and while the quantity was greater than in any other year up to that time, the value, $116,557,000, was $34,643,410 less than that of the product in 1890, which was the year of maximum value, though the product in 1890 was only 9,202,703 tons, or 2,571,231 tons less than in 1898. The average value per ton of pig iron increased from $9.85 in 1897 to $9.90 in 1898. This is the first rise in value per ton noted for some years, the average per ton being: 1895, $11.14; 1896, $10.47; 1897, $9.85.

The production of Bessemer steel ingots was 6,609,017 tons, as compared with 5,475,315 tons in 1897, and 4,909,128 in 1895. The production was more than double that of 1893.

The total production of open-hearth steel in 1898 was 2,320,392 long tons against 1,608,671 tons in 1897, an increase of 821,621 tons—over 38 per cent.

Iron ores.—The value of the iron ores mined in the United States in 1898 was $23,012,542, as compared with $18,953,221 in 1897, a gain of $3,059,321, thus nearly attaining the value in 1896, when it was $22,789,069. There was also a gain in the product of 1,760,333 long tons, or from 17,518,046 long tons in 1897 to 19,278,389 tons in 1898. The average price per ton in 1898 was $1.14, as compared with $1.08 in 1897 and $1.42 in 1896.

Gold.—The product continued to increase, and in 1898 was valued at $64,469,000, as compared with $57,363,000 in 1897. In 1896 it was $53,088,000.

Silver.—The coinage value of the silver product in 1898 was $70,394,485, or a commercial value of $32,118,420; in 1897 the coinage value was $69,637,172, and the commercial value $32,316,000. This is an increase in 1898 of $747,313 in the coinage value and a decrease of $197,580 in the commercial value. The product increased from 58,860,000 ounces in 1897 to 54,438,000 ounces in 1898. In 1898 the product was 58,884,800 ounces.

Copper.—The copper industry continues to be in a flourishing condition. The product in 1898 was 536,513,957 pounds, valued at $31,865,275, the greatest product and value ever recorded, 491,078,274 pounds, valued at $54,080,180, having been produced in 1897. The average price per pound in 1893 was 11.75 cents; in 1897 it was 11 cents, and in 1896 it was 10.5 cents. The actual scarcity of copper, with its accompanying rise in price and its enormous expansion of stock speculation, did not develop until the end of the year, and did not affect the returns for 1898. Nor is the great activity in the location of new copper mines apt to add materially to the copper pro-

Architect Notes.

Amos W. Barnes, late Structural Engineer Building Inspector's Board, of this city, has taken a fine suite of offices at 904 Walnut street, where he will in future follow his profession. Mr. Barnes carries with him the good wishes of all with whom he came in contact as a public officer.

The jury for the Phoebe Hearst University, of California, was to hold its final meeting on September 1st at San Francisco, when it was to decide which one of the remaining eleven competing architects should receive the award. The jury is composed of Architects R. Norman Shaw, England; J. P. Pascal, France; Paul Wollot, Germany; Walter Cook, New York, and J. B. Reinstein, San Francisco.

Frederick H. Lewis, engineer, and David Knickerbacker Boyd, architect, have completed contract drawings for the extensive cement manufacturing plant at Craigsville, Virginia, for the Warren, Burnham Company, of New York City. The plant includes mill buildings, power house, storage houses, boiler house, railway sidings, etc. The main buildings will be constructed of brick and are colonial in design. The remaining buildings will be of slate, iron or wood. Estimates are now being taken.

Architects Field & Medary are at work on drawings for a $15,000 residence at Overbrook for George W. Blabon. The house will be built after the Elizabethan style of architecture, of gray local stone, with cut limestone trimmings, copper bay windows and cornices. There will be porches and the grounds surrounding the house will be terraced. The interior will be fitted up with hardwoods, tile work, the latest plumbing. The architects will be ready for estimates in about three weeks.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, has made plans for alterations and extensive additions to 1518 and 1520 Locust street for Thomas S. Harrison, Esq. The work will include interior hard wood, steam heat, leaded and plate glass, tile and mosaic work, dumb waiter, artistic flooring, etc. The contract has been awarded to George F. Payne & Co. Plans are being made for alterations and additions to 112 South Fourth street for E. C. Jones & Co., to include a new front and extensive interior work, steam heat, leaded glass, tile and mosaic work, etc. Contract not let.

Plans have been made providing for the erection of a handsome stone residence at Wissahickon Heights for Walter L. Ross, to cost $25,000. The structure will be built of Germantown stone, on a lot measuring 250x215 feet; there will be porches and the grounds surrounding the house will be terraced. The house will be three stories high, and measure 98.4x36.4 feet. All conveniences, including hardwood finishings, up-to-date plumbing, etc., will be contained in the house. The drawings were made by Architects Peabody & Stearns, of Boston, Mass., and they show that the dwelling will contain a large vestibule and hall, parlor, library, dining room, coat closet, toilet room, store room, large corridor, servants' dining room, butler's pantry, kitchen and pantry on the first floor; three chambers, children's room, large hall, general bath room, sewing room, three servants' bed rooms and a servant's bath room on the second floor, and a guest's room, store room, trunk room and nursery in the attic, on the third floor. The contract for this work has been awarded to William J. Patterson, and he will begin the work as soon as the drawings are approved.

Charles McCaul, contractor, and Cope & Stewardson, architects, have made all arrangements for the start upon the new dormitory buildings and memorial tower to be erected at the University of Pennsylvania, Thirty-sixth to Thirty-seventh streets and from Spruce to Pine streets. The new buildings will contain 175 rooms, accommodating over 200 students and will be finished by August 1, 1900. The buildings are but one part of a great system planned so as to be exactly similar in every respect to those buildings already erected. The tower, which is to be erected under the auspices of the Houston Club, the students' social organization, in memory of those Pennsylvania alumni and undergraduates who took part in the war with Spain, will constitute one cottage, the block of buildings on Spruce street will contain two more and the cross block will contain two more. The main entrance to the triangle will be through the archway beneath the tower, in which will be hung the handsome and massive iron gates presented to the University by one of the recent classes. The tower will be five stories in height, while the remainder of the buildings are planned four stories. The archway underneath the tower extends to the base of the third floor, and opening upon the archway on the ground floor are the office, store room, waiting-room and porter's room etc. Above these doors on either side will be limestone tablets, on which will be engraved the names of those men in whose memory the tower is erected. The material of the buildings, the same as that of the others, is brick, with limestone facings and trimmings, with blue slate roofs. The tower, which has four peaks, each one ninety-five feet in height, will be roofed with copper, while an elaborately carved stone coping will adorn the bottom of these spires. The interior will contain steam heat, electric work, plumbing, closets, lockers for clothing and every modern comfort and convenience. Work to start at once. Previously noted in full in this journal.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

On the north side of Russell street, 135 feet east of G street, Thomas Greer, owner, will build four two-story brick dwellings, each 15x44 feet.

An association has been formed by a number of persons of Jewish faith to found a hospital for the lower wards of the city. A charter has been applied for and officers elected as follows: M. Rohrbelmer, president; Dr. Edwin Rosenthal, vice-president; Benjamin Davidson, treasurer; Jacob Catzor, financial secretary, and Jacob Magulies, of 407 South Third street, Secretary.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 1509 Sansom street, are at work tearing out the old Chambers Church, at Broad and Sansom streets, so as to remodel it somewhat for a temporary printing house. The structure designed for this site, from plans by Messrs Rankin & Kellogg, architects, 1024 Walnut street, has been postponed for the present owing to the condition of the iron industry and high prices at present prevailing for other material.

Plans have been submitted to the bureau of building inspection for approval of a large addition to the flour warehouse of the Merchants' Warehouse Company, at Shackamaxon street wharf. The addition consists of the erection of two additional stories on the present four-story building and the strengthening of the walls and girders where necessary. The dimensions of each floor are 50x170 feet. Allen B. Horke has the contract for construction, at a price said to be about $31,000. G. W. and W. D. Hewitt, architects, drew the plans.

Ex Councilman Harry Headley, proprietor of the new ocean pier at the foot of Tenth street, Atlantic City, N. J., which opened on July 4, has sold same to Charles Daniel and Jacob Meyers, proprietors of the Chelsea and Rudolf Hotels, Atlantic City. The pier will be rebuilt of steel and extended seaward sufficiently to build an auditorium and promenade beyond the present concert and ball rooms. The new proprietors will also build a hotel adjoining with a capacity for 600 guests and for which plans were negotiated prior to the purchase of the pier.

A long-standing dispute over the ownership of certain tracts of land in the lower end of the city, at the junction of the Schuylkill and Delaware Rivers, has been settled at Washington. In consideration of $15,000, the land was transferred by the Government to the International Navigation Company. The deed of conveyance was signed jointly by Secretary Root and Assistant Secretary Allen. The lands in question have always been claimed by the International Navigation Company, and have never been actually occupied by the Government, and the present transaction is made for the purpose of giving the Navigation Company a clear title.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 6, 1899

A SINGULAR episode in Philadelphia's municipal affairs is the paving of a single block on Forty-fifth street, below Market, with asphalt, while the entire street south of this point is paved with vitrified brick. Notwithstanding the fact that this streak of asphalt will look as much out of place as a Tomcat in a butcher's refrigerator; yet the citizens were told that asphalt is all that can be now obtained, owing to the new condition of things arising through the combination known as the American Asphalt Company, and the wise distribution of its stock in places where it will do the most good. If you prefer vitrified brick—and it is cooler, cleaner, more durable, and infinitely better than asphalt in many places as a street pavement—try to get it, and you will realize the power of the American Asphalt Company.

THE Corliss Steam Engine Company was recently sued for injury by electricity to a working man while working at an electric crane. The Supreme Court of Rhode Island practically says that owners are bound to look after their electricity, and must pay if they do not do so. The court decides that the accident was caused primarily by the contact outside the works of high-tension wires with the leader for the crane service. Before the accident the men had been shocked a number of times, and rubber gloves had therefore been furnished to them, and shocks were also felt after the accident. The court said, 43 Atl. Rep. 875: "These shocks were notice to the defendant of the leakage of electricity from the motor to the chain, and were also notice that if, from any cause, a sufficient current of electricity was brought to the motor, the leakage might be sufficient, not only to charge the lifting chain, but also the hauling chain or other metallic portions of the crane, unless properly insulated, with a dangerous current. Having this notice, we think the defendant was bound to have made the insulation between the motor and the hauling chain so complete that the use of the hauling chain would have involved no risk of injury by electricity."

We very recently asked a prominent real estate lawyer of this city the full meaning of the decision made by the Internal Revenue Commissioner in answer to Vice-President Bonsall, of the Land Title and Trust Company, of this city, as to the revenue tax on deeds conveying real estate with mortgage encumbrance. The lawyer aforesaid replied that the commissioner's decision was too much for him, as it was strictly inconsistent as well as illogical.

The Astoria Land Co. in New York has brought a suit to test the power of a local revenue collector in Brooklyn to collect tax on more than the equity conveyed. In this case it is claimed that the mortgage covers the full value of the property.

The Real Estate Record of New York in discussing the question editorially, says:

"The International Revenue office has decided not to appeal the decision of Judge Taft, in effect that a deed of transfer of real property subject to a mortgage is only taxable under the War Revenue Law of 1898, on the equity conveyed. That the Internal Revenue office was preparing to take this position has been apparent for some time in the language of its decisions. Its original position was that tax must be paid on the full value of the property conveyed, and that, in case of property conveyed subject to a mortgage, that value was the equity plus the amount of the mortgage. After Judge Taft rendered his decision, this was modified to the extent that tax must be paid on the full value unless it was expressly stated in the deed that the grantee was not responsible for the mortgage. Lately, however, the Internal Revenue office has held that, unless the mortgage is assumed by the grantee either by direct statement or by inference from the language of the deed the tax is on the equity only. The distinction between disavowal required at one time and assumption now will be noted. However, the position of the Internal Revenue office is no more logical now than it was originally; it has simply modified its illogicality. The contention ever since the War Revenue Law came into force has been that, where a piece of property sold is subject to a mortgage what passes is simply the equity, and that alone is taxable. This, as we understand it, is practically the position that was sustained by Judge Taft. The rulings of the Internal Revenue office as to taxable values naturally favor the treasury as much as possible; but in not accepting Judge Taft's decision in the full extent of its meaning, while declining to risk an appeal, no service is done either the public or the government. The public has the encouragement of a decision of a Federal court to resist payment of the tax on more than the equity, however the responsibility for the mortgage may be placed, and to claim repayment of any taxes hitherto paid in excess of that. The technical refusal of the Internal Revenue office to accept the full effect of Judge Taft's decision is most probably due to a desire to limit the number of these claims as much as possible. The question could be best settled by a suit to collect excess taxes paid in a case where the grantee has assumed responsibility for the mortgage in the deed, unless the Internal Revenue office will take another and final step in the right direction, and acknowledge that where a piece of property is sold subject to a mortgage the tax is on the equity only."

Why is it that every broad, far-reaching public enterprise connected with our city must be hampered with some money-making scheme from the beginning? The Philadelphia Bourse was hardly completed when solicitors were importuning our business men for advertisements for a book, to be issued in connection with the building.

Architects fill books with beautiful illustrations of their very creditable work, which would be interesting were it not for the fact that the interest is absorbed by advertisements which are only obtained under protest, and which are stigmatized as blackmail by the material men, who openly assert that they only patronize these schemes through fear of being boycotted.

The book issued by the Trades' League contained a mass of interesting and carefully written articles upon Philadelphia, her institutions, her business industries and her distinctive home life conditions, etc., and while we do not hesitate in saying that its wide dissemination did, and is to-day doing this city more practical good than any single enterprise of its kind, yet it was resolved into an advertising scheme at a price per page, and it was issued on this basis, just as any other private scheme of the kind.

To-day the papers are criticising the management of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, because the price of admission has been placed at fifty cents, and while, with our usual modesty, we have refrained from saying anything, we now declare the management to be "dead wrong."

As we understand it, the Museum is the creation of progressive business men, inspired by patriotic motives, and to Professor Wilson we are indebted for results more than to any other single man. It was not conceived as a money-making scheme, but it was intended to be strictly educational and instructive.

It was not intended for a class, but the doors were to be opened for the masses without regard to wealth, color, creed or nationality.

To make it available to the people, the whole people, the price of admission should be fixed so that the humblest workman could visit it without feeling that the cost was a serious tax upon his resources, and while such a policy might interfere with those who are controlled by fashion's fads or fancies, it would at least widen the scope of instruction, even if it was ruined as a promenade for handsome, well-dressed men and women.

The Escape of Wealth in New York.

The tax department has made to the Mayor what it ironically calls a report of the "equalized value of real and personal estate" in this city for the current year.

The following table will show the effect of tax-dodging extraordinaire:

Value of real estate assessed, . . .	$2,950,046,317

Value of personal estate assessed, . . .	8,137,489,149
Deducted by "swearing off"	7,583,598,285

That is to say, not one dollar in one hundred of the real estate assessed escapes taxation, while of the personal property assessed more than seven-eighths escapes.

If the real estate owners were permitted to fix the taxable value of their property by affidavit, or to "arrange" it with the tax commissioners, how much would remain for taxation?

If the personal property were made to pay as the real estate is, the total assessment would be levied upon more than eleven billions. In fact, it is levied only upon less than three and a half billions. The tax rate would be about 85 cents, where now it is $2.50.

Taxes upon personal property fall upon those who can well afford to pay. Taxes upon real estate fall chiefly upon the poor—for the renters and consumers ultimately assume that burden.

The new franchise tax law will do much to remedy this injustice, but as it stands the assessment is a monumental wrong.—N. Y. World.

A Point for Builders.

A recent article in the Pharmaceutical Era will serve to illustrate the point above advanced. The article says: "The lighting of a room depends, to a large extent, upon the color of the material of the walls; in other words, on the percentage of light reflection by them. Recent experiments have shown the proportion of light reflected to be in percentages as follows: Black velvet, 0.4; black cloth, 1.2; black paper, 4.5; dark blue, 6.5; dark green, 10.1; light red, 16.2; dark yellow, 20; blue, 30; light yellow, 40; light green, 46.5; light orange, 54.8; white, 70; mirror, 92.3."

Frank Williams, 1529 North Thirty-third street, has bought the old Starr mansion, on Tilgast street, west of Eighteenth street, and will build two fine houses and three smaller ones on the rear end of the lot facing on Atlantic street. All are to be of fine fancy brick and stone trimmings with best comforts on interior.

Contractors J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street, have just signed the contract for the erection of the new valve house at the Twenty-fifth ward gas works, for the United Gas Improvement Company. This work was noted some time ago, when the plans were placed on the boards for estimates.

On and after September 6 the letter of the new building law, approved recently, so far as drawings for new buildings and alterations are concerned, will go into effect. Chief Hill, of the bureau of building inspection, says: "Applicants for permits from this bureau will be required to present a duplicate set of plans for consideration before receiving the permit applied for. One set will be retained on file in the office; the other set to be stamped with the approval of that office and used at the building as a working plan to be open at all times to the consideration of the district inspectors."

Contracts have been awarded by the Pennsylvania Railroad for the construction of a new station at Desbrosses street, New York. The building will be similar to the one at Twenty-third street, in the same city, with the exception that it will be one story in height. The bridges will be arranged so that double-decked ferry boats can run to that point if necessary. The contract for the erection of the building and its foundations, the bridges and the ferry rights was let to Henry D. Steers, of New York. The plumbing, painting and electric lighting contracts were awarded to Philadelphia firms. The new building will be completed by May 1. The interior will resemble the station at Market street ferry, in this city.

Contractor A. Raymond Raff, 1635 Thompson street, has been awarded contracts for new work, and additions, to cost over $30,000. This work will include the new distributing station, to be erected at 1622 North Eighteenth street, for the Pennsylvania Heat, Light and Power Company, to cost $17,000. This work we also described as short time ago; new four-story brick and iron flour storage house, 21x128 feet, with a two-story extension, 17x29 feet, at the south end, at 3042 Market street, for the Quaker City Milling Company. The extension will be constructed on iron framing, and covered with galvanized iron. The estimated cost is $12,000, and a kitchen and conservatory addition, 19x10 feet, at 1809 Berks street, for Mrs. Florence Waltz, owner. The conservatory will be built over the kitchen. It will have a glass roof and leaded glass windows, and be covered with galvanized steel. The estimated cost is $1500.

The bureau of building inspection has during the past week approved the drawings for three structures to be used while the National Export Exposition is open. Permits were granted as follows: M. P. It is singular how much can be accomplished through the energy of a single man. It seems but a few months since we announced that Mr. William B. T. Roberts' tracts of land at Rubicum station, Glenside Farm, Roslyn Terrace, etc., were to be placed upon the market, to-day Mr. Roberts informs us that during the last four weeks he has sold all the lots remaining of his immense tract of land at Rubicum station, amounting to about four hundred lots, known as the Willow Grove Land Co.; the tract comprised about nine hundred lots. Parties desiring lots in this neighborhood now will have to purchase from his Grove Terrace lots, which he also expects to close out in the next week or ten days. His Roslyn Terrace tract of about 800 lots is also very nearly sold out, amounting to about $200,000 in sales. On account of the great demand for lots in this vicinity, he has decided to open another tract of his famous Glenside Farm, which will be known as Glenside Highlands, and which will be placed on the market from September 10th to the 25th. This tract will include all of the great heights in and around this beautiful tract. One of the pair

A Bit of History...

It was during the fearful hurricane which swept from existence many ships and hundreds of brave seamen of all nationalities in the harbor of Samoa, when the men of the U. S. Ship Trenton, standing waist deep upon her deck amid the gurgling sea, cheered, while the band played with joy as an English man-of-war's-man passed them and on and out of the harbor in safety.

At a banquet of English Naval Officers soon afterwards the first and regular toast "To the Queen, God bless her,"—when on all such occasions the glass is broken in order that it may never be profaned with a toast less sacred—was drunk, when, with deep earnestness, the toast was given "To the Trenton's men, the bravest of the brave, God bless them," which was drunk in silence, and with one accord every man smashed his glass into fragments.

This is a bit of history, as yet unwritten, until it appeared on this humble page, and it is not our fault that this is so.

Our business is to make and sell the best Hardware on earth, and like the Trenton's men, we yield to no temptation to swerve us from our duty to our customers and their interests.

It is our maxim, you know, that the Quality and beauty at all times and under all conditions is the key-note to its world-wide fame.

Remarkable Growth of Manufactured Exports.

The remarkable growth in our exports of manufactures is illustrated by a table recently prepared by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics showing the exports of leading articles of manufacture at ten-year intervals during the past thirty years. This table shows the exports of each class of manufactures whose value exceeded $1,000,000 in the year 1893, comparing that year's exports with those of 1888, 1878 and 1868, and thus presenting a bird's eye view of the growth of our leading exports of manufactures during a thirty-years' period.

The total export of manufactures in 1898 was more than five times that of 1868, that for 1898 being $288,571,449, while that of 1868 was in round numbers about $60,000,000, expressed in the depreciated currency of that date, and when reduced to the gold standard by which our manufactures are now measured, would be less than $45,000,000.

Thirty-four classes of manufactured articles show an export of more than $1,000,000 each in the year 1898, while in 1868 only seven of these classes showed an export of as much as $1,000,000 each. Five classes of articles show an export in 1898 of more than $10,000,000 each, while in 1868 only one of the classes showed an exportation of as much as $10,000,000. Even in 1888, only ten years ago but seventeen of the thirty-four classes showed as much as $1,000,000 each in value, and but three of them passed the $5,000,000 line. In these calculations it must be borne in mind that values of nearly all articles are now less than at the earlier dates considered, so that these statements of the exports of great groups of articles, while necessarily expressed only in values, doubtless represent in 1898 a larger quantity for each dollar or million of dollars than in 1888 or 1878, and especially more than in 1868, when the values were expressed in depreciated currency.

Of the important classes of manufactures, those of cotton, leather, wood, iron and steel present the most striking evidence of growth. Exports of cotton goods, which in 1868, even expressed in the currency of that date, were less than $3,000,000, but in 1898 were over $17,000,000. Exports of leather, which in 1868 were less than $2,000,000, were in 1898 more than $21,000,000. Manufactures of wood which showed an exportation of $2,000,000 in 1868 were in 1898 over $9,000,000. Manufactures of iron and steel, which expressed in the currency of 1868 were a little over $8,000,000, were in 1898 over $70,000,000. None of the great items of export show as rapid growth as copper, of which the exports of 1868 were less than $500,000, while in 1898 they were over $32,000,000. Paraffine, a comparatively recent development in the great petroleum industry, amounted to less than $50,000 in our exports of 1868, while in those of 1898 it amounted to more than $6,000,000.

That these statements, which show a wonderful growth in the value of our exports, do not, because of decreased values, in most cases, exhibit the real growth in quantities of articles exported is illustrated in the single case of refined mineral oils, in which the exports since 1868 have increased ten fold, while the values as expressed in this table are but two and a half times those of 1868. That it is impossible, however, in a table of this character to show quantities is of course apparent, as the great classes considered are made up of so many items measured by different units that it is impracticable in an attempt to group these facts in a single table to do more than present statements of total values by classes.—Exchange.

We May Have What You Want and You May Have What We Want

We have for exchange about $100,000 worth of real estate in various sections of the city of Philadelphia, and if you have anything that you wish to dispose of, either in ground or improved property, and will send us a list of the same, we will see if we cannot, immediately, make you an offer, and we might be able to make an exchange, which would be of advantage to both of us.

Just how well his clothes fit except by comparison. Now, why won't this hold good, Mr. Carpenter and Builder, as to your Mill Work, your Mantels and your Tile Work.

Of course, Doors are Doors and Shutters are Shutters, the wide world over, but the cost as well as the quality of Doors and Shutters are the factors which concern you.

Now, with you it is not a question of how well your clothes fit, but are you getting the service and the saving in price, as well as the prompt delivery we can give you, not in clothes but in the mill work you must buy from time to time? Try us and see the difference.

VOL. XIV.—No. 37. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1899. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Lawrence Vischer Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has awarded the contract for alteration to house of A. Haller Gross, at Langhorne, Pa., to Cyrus E. Smith, of Hulmeville, Berks county, Pa. Previously noted in full.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans for a five-story factory, to be built at the northwest corner of American and Willow streets, for G. I. Matthews, J. F. McCloskey has the contract to build the foundation walls at a cost of about $2000.

Architects Frank Miles Day, of Philadelphia, and Thomas R. Kimball, of Omaha, have been invited to serve with James Knox Taylor, the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, as judges in the New York Custom House competition, in which twenty leading architects of the country are engaged.

James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, has made plans for the new building for the Pennsylvania Heat, Light and Power Company, to be erected at 1622 North Eighteenth street, and A. Raymond Raff, contractor, has started to tear down the building on the site preparatory to erecting the new one.

A limited number of architects are now engaged in preparation of plans for the new Chambers-Wylie Church, to be erected on Broad street, below spruce, in this city. It is understood that an examination of the drawings will be made during the fall months and an immediate start made toward erecting the building.

Albert Ellis Yarnall, architect, 14 South Broad street, has completed plans for three fine houses, to be built at Glenside for W. T. B. Roberts. These are to be of frame, shingle and plaster work, with every modern comfort and convenience on interior. Same architect will prepare plans for ten more to be erected at the same place, but of a different style of architecture and materials.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, Fourth, above Walnut street, have completed plans for alterations and addition to the Emmanuel P. E. Church, at Holmesburg. The work will include a new choir loft, chancel, vestry and other rooms, as well as general detail work. The contract has been awarded to G. W. Fetter. The new addition will be in keeping with the old as to material, style, etc.

D. H. Burnham & Co., architects, of Chicago Ill., have on boards plans for a new "Mills Hotel," to be built by a syndicate of the above place. The structure will contain about 1130 rooms and will be absolutely fire-proof in material, being of stone, brick, iron skeleton, cement and holloware floors, and partition elevators, electric plant, telephone system, steam heat and power for elevators and ventilation, etc. No contract has yet been let.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, has just awarded the contract to erect the new parochial school of Our Lady of Victory, in West Philadelphia, to John McShane, contractor, 2117 Appletree street. This work has been fully noted in a previous issue. Same architect has plans ready for estimate for a fine residence for P. Donahough, at 1222 Christian street. It will be a brownstone front, three stories high, tin roof, 16x75 feet in area. Interior will be in hardwoods, tile and mosaic work, steam heat, electric work, gas grates and best plumbing system, range and all the latest and best comforts.

Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, the philanthropist, of San Francisco, Cal., has selected the plans made by M. Bernard, architect, Paris, France, for the new University of California, to be erected by her at a cost of $15,000,000. The design of the prize-winner, M. Bernard, who was the architect of some of the finest buildings in France, preserves all the natural beauties of the site. Facing the Golden Gate is the main entrance, opening into a walk will be known as the Fine Arts Square, surrounding which will be located the School of Finance, Museum, Academy of Music, Theatre and Grand Auditorium. Then a long avenue, which extends through the grounds, opens out into a larger square on the left side of which will stand a stately structure, to be devoted to the educational departments of the University. In the centre of this square will be the Administration Building, and at the rear the College of Agriculture. The campus is in front of the main building, and on each side are to be dormitories. The athletic grounds come further on, faced by a magnificent gymnasium, very ornate in design, with tribunes for spectators in front and at either end. On a still higher level will be the buildings devoted to Science and Natural History, and at the summit of the rising ground the observatory will overlook the whole. The architecture of all the buildings will be classic, of the Grecian type, with modern variations to adapt them to the purposes for which they are designed. The buildings are intended to be the finest of their class in the world.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 13, 1899

THE weekly record of transfers continues to show a very heavy falling off as the natural result of a dull summer in real estate circles. It is to be hoped that business in real property will improve with the fall months. There is certainly room for improvement, as houses are offered at prices entirely out of keeping with the value of material, particularly in the case of iron products. If prices are kept down as a result of dullness investors will soon recognize the advantages as well as the difference in the cost of construction.

Real estate as an investment presents an opportunity for those with confidence and ability now more than ever.

FRANCE is to be pitied. What there is of good remaining among her people is insufficient to lift her beyond the dregs into which she has fallen. Time, of course, will prove the truth or fallacy of this statement, but it is apparent that the sentiment of the masses is governed by those whose selfishness overtops national pride as well as the spirit and essence of justice, regardless of consequences.

France's shame, like Banquo's ghost, will not down. She stands convicted, and her shame will be lasting.

Her degenerates are all powerful within the army, and it seems to be well established that the army is France.

The trial was a farce throughout, the prisoner prejudged and every witness for the prosecution an arm or a leg of a devilish plot to convict in order that the guilty might escape.

What the consequences may be to France, with the people of the civilized nations arrayed in sentiment against her, as well as the all-powerful influences of Jew capital which can justly be expected to work earnestly in a cause so righteous, remains to be seen.

Of course, the civil courts may be made to correct the wrong committed against the prisoner, but the wrong done justice can never be corrected, the shame is there and the miserable puppets of an all-powerful militarism justly merit the scorn and contempt of every honorable man and woman everywhere.

It is intimated that another increase in the price of structural iron is likely to occur shortly, as the result of scarcity.

The demand for all kinds of iron is without a precedent. The agricultural implement manufacturers, it is stated, are compelled to curtail their output owing to slow delivery, while at the same time they continue ordering both steel and iron for 1900 delivery. The dearth of structural iron and steel has become serious with builders.

Railroad extension and improvements are greatly impaired through market conditions, and options for the English and Scotch product are in demand.

Predictions based upon the demand are for higher prices, and Bessemer especially for 1900 delivery.

Billets even at $39 per ton at the mills, are said to be oversold for months ahead. Coke is booked for $3 per ton.

In New York heavy structural work is greatly delayed.

WHILE Mayor Ashbridge, with his strict business methods and natural appreciation of the necessities of business men, cannot be expected to exercise personal supervision over every detail involved in such a demonstration as occurred on Grand Army Day, yet he can provide in future against the unjustifiable stupidity of police officials who on that occasion seemed to enjoy the embarrassments of business men.

An attempt to cross the line during the parade, no matter how urgent the case or how explicitly the necessity was urged upon policemen, was in most every case met with a cut refusal or a push back into the crowd in a manner entirely unbecoming.

One poor bank messenger at Eleventh and Market streets hung on to a bag of money for hours after the closing of the banks, and in constant fear of being robbed.

Hundreds of men, women and children were compelled to miss trains, and their pleadings were useless.

A trifle of the money expended by the city on reviewing stands if appropriated for temporary bridges across the streets at railway depots and other suitable points, would relieve most of the embarrassing difficulties occasioned by such events, and this suggestion is worthy of consideration.

THE annual report of the land department of the Northern Pacific, covering the Eastern district, shows that for the year ending June 30, sales of railroad lands have increased in a very unusual manner.

For the year ending June 30th the road disposed of 223,000 acres in Minnesota. In Dakota, east of the Missouri River, sales were 606,000 acres. In the same States, west of the Missouri, 187,000 acres were sold. In Montana, sales aggregating 396,000 acres were made, bringing the total up to the immense total of 1,494,000 acres. This is an increase of total lands sold over the preceding year of 547,000 acres.

For the preceding year there were 205,000 acres of Minnesota lands disposed of on the market. A significant fact in the report for the year ending June 30 is that the individual sales have been much heavier than for the twelve months preceding. It is estimated that the sales have increased the population of the Northwestern States, in territory tributary to the Northern Pacific, by 10,000 persons.

Since the books were closed on June 30, sales have been more than 116,000 acres, against 66,000 last year. The report gives only the sales made in the Eastern division, but it is understood that the report from the Western division, being made up, will show an immense increase.—The Railroad Record.

BRADSTREET'S says that with an exceptional heavy business already booked for the latter portion of the year, the mercantile community faces the trade situation with confidence, testified to by very generally firm prices and with quotations in a number of lines showing further marked advances. The most conspicuous exception to this is found in cereals, which are weak and declining. Low prices for wheat, corn and oats point to speculative liquidation of holders, who have weakened under unsatisfactory foreign demand, larger receipts and the near approach of expected heavier crop movement. Cotton, too, has weakened slightly, chiefly because of advances of rains in the South, though Texas crop advices are still unsatisfactory and stories of permanent damage are forthcoming. With these exceptions, most staples are either firmly held or evince decided progress upward, notable in this latter respect being iron and steel of all kinds, but particularly pig iron, which now is the centre of trade interest, owing to heavy demand, particularly for foundry grades, at advancing prices.

Increased strength has been imparted to hides and leather this week by the launching of the new upper leather combination. Boot and shoe manufacturers are actively employed, but the margin of profit is reported exceedingly small, owing to keen competition. Lumber retains all its old activity, and in some lines manifests new strength as regards prices. The refined sugar war apparently still continues.

In industrial lines the situation is reported very satisfactory. Employment is general, and strikes and labor troubles generally are conspicuous by their absence.

Bank clearings at seventy-six cities for August show an aggregate of $6,896,463 443, a total smaller, as was to be expected, than for any preceding month this year, but larger by 23.4 per cent. than those of August a year ago, in which month very large increases first began to be noted. For the eight months of 1899 the clearings at seventy-six cities aggregate $62,057, 949 254, a total of 42 per cent. in excess of last year.

Business failures for the week are the smallest reported for a long time, numbering only 131, as compared with 154 last week and 163 in this week a year ago.

Brick Dust in Mortar.

It is said that the addition of even so small a proportion as one-tenth of as much brick dust as of sand to ordinary mortars is preventive of the disintegration so often characterizing mortars used in the masonry of public works. The use of such dust mixed with lime

Rockefeller's Wealth.

The wealth of John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, has now reached the sum of $244,000,000, and furthermore is increasing at the rate of $1,500,000 a month, or $50,000 a day, or $2,098 an hour, or $34.50 a minute, or 57 cents every second of time, day and night, Sundays and holidays. John D. Rockefeller sleeps eight and a half hours every night, retiring at 10.30 and rising at 7. Every morning when he gets up he is $17,706 richer than he was when he went to bed. He sits down to breakfast at 8 o'clock and leaves the table at 8.30, and in that short time his wealth has grown $1,041.50. On Sundays he goes to church and in the two hours that he is away from his home his riches have grown $4,166. His nightly amuse-

Will Be a Shortage of Cars This Year.

Frank B. Cole, of the Puget Sound Lumberman, in an interview with a representative of the 'Tacoma News' says:

"The lumber trade on the coast was never in a more flourishing condition than at the present time. That there are more orders for lumber in the market now than cars can be had to accommodate all agree. There will be a shortage of cars this year, and not of orders. It is true, that while we are enjoying a good trade at good prices, Washington lumber is worth more in the eastern market to-day than we are getting for it. The cause of all this is the fact that we have no association here to keep up prices and never had. The big dealers get together sometimes on large orders, but the smaller dealers and manufacturers keep prices down. I don't think there will ever be an association here that will assist in raising the price of lumber. There is too much timber and too many small manufacturers."

Staining Brick.

It frequently happens that a builder has to build an addition to some building already up; and it also happens that he cannot procure brick to match the old brick in color. To get over this difficulty he is compelled to use brick available and render them the color of the old brick by staining, or staining the old brick to correspond with the new. There are several methods—all good—of staining brick, and for the benefit of those builders who may require to employ one or other of the methods, we submit the following: To make a good, durable red stain, mix Indian red, or venetian red, with a solution of Portland cement, regulating the color by adding a little Spanish brown if necessary. Mix with this fine sand, washed clean and dried, before being added to the solution. Cement and sand may be used in equal proportions. The mixture is to be a little thinner than ordinary paint. It must be stirred while being used, and applied with a brush. Another red stain, which is easily applied, looks better than the first, but lacks durability. Take as follows and in proportion to amount required: One ounce of glue melted in one gallon of water, add a piece of alum the size of an egg, then a half pound of venetian red and one pound of Spanish brown. Try the color and mix more light or dark to suit. For a buff or cream color use any yellow mineral paint, such as yellow ochre, adding a mineral white to make it light if necessary. For black use asphaltum heated to a fluid state before applying. Brick should be stained black before being laid, and the best way is to make the brick moderately hot, then dip them about one inch in the melted asphaltum, and leave them to dry before being used. This makes a good durable job, if they are held in the mixture for a moment or two in order that color may have an opportunity of being absorbed to the depth of a sixteenth of an inch. Another method of staining brick black is to mix together asphaltum and linseed oil, and heat the mixture until it will mix together well. Heat the brick and dip them in the mixture, where they should remain for a short time. The best way to stain black is to have a flat pan over a fire; fill the pan until it has about an inch in depth of the mixture. Place in the pan as many bricks as it will hold, then take out the first brick and replace it with another. Put the stained brick on a board or lean spot to dry; then take out the second brick and put another in its place; and continue this operation until brick enough are stained, minding to keep up the supply of asphalt and oil.

Value of Land in London.

One of the surest and safest ways of becoming rich beyond the dreams of avarice would be to possess a few acres of land in the heart of the city of London, or, in fact, a single acre would make one wealthier than the most lucky miner that ever starved in Johannesburg. This was proved conclusively the other day, when the freehold of 54 Cheapside sold for £28,500, which is equal to £60 a square foot, or £2,613,600 an acre! The highest price ever asked for land in London was at the rate of £19,000,000 per acre. The golden spot was in Bernersbury, where a few years ago a small piece of property was offered to the Southeastern Railway Company for £1,250,000. No wonder the railway company declined to buy. Coming back to the city again, we find that the ground about Lombard street is worth not less than £2,000,000 an acre, while something like £40 a square foot was paid for every piece of the land between King William Statue and Trinity square, E. C. In Cannon street in 1850, 600 square feet of land was sold for building sites for £4500, which amounts to £7 10s. a square foot, or nearly £380,000 an acre. In the same year building sites in Grace Church street realized £18 13s. a square foot, or £820,000 an acre. In 1858 these prices increased by leaps and bounds in the same streets, 1285 square feet of ground being sold for £37,000, which is £28 18s. per square foot, or not far from £1,260,000 an acre. Going westward land becomes somewhat cheaper, but still sufficiently high to make it no exaggeration to say that, metaphorically speaking, Londoners walk on gold. For instance, one could buy an acre in Pall Mall for £500,000, but if ground was required in St. James square or St. James street, something like £750,000 would be required for a like quantity. Three years ago the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland was letting his land on the Cadogan estate in Chelsea at £50,000 an acre on building leases, with an annual ground rent of half-a-crown a foot. Three acres of his property near Sloane street were sold for ninety-nine years for £175,000. The Marquis of Salisbury owns five acres of land at Charing Cross, which, 250 years back, was leased for grazing purposes to his ancestors at the rate of ten shillings an acre for five hundred years. These few acres are now worth about a sovereign per foot. The value of property in London has trebled since 1856, and to-day the houses within its borders are calculated to be worth some £250,000,000, and the land on which they are built is valued at not less than £600,000,000. Upon the latter sum the landlords receive about £25,000,000 annually in rent, and sooner or later, under the leasehold system, house property of enormous value will come into their hands. The owners of London include all sorts and conditions of men and women, from dukes to shareholders in building societies and owners of single tenements. These small owners number about two hundred thousand. But the great bulk of the rental of the metropolis belongs to comparatively few people. The ground landlords include the Duke of Westminster, to whom a large portion of the Belgrave, Piccadilly and Grosvenor square district belongs. Then the Duke of Bedford owns chiefly the Covent Garden district and Bloomsbury; Lord Portman and the Duke of Portland, West and East Marylebone districts, respectively; Lord Cadogan a large part of Chelsea, while the Marquis of Northampton reigns in Clerkenwell.—London Mail.

The Nature of Asphalt.

Among the recent contributions of pure science to engineering there has been none more interesting to the municipal engineer than that of Professor William C. Day, of Swarthmore College, on the production of asphalt in the laboratory from animal and vegetable materials. While it is probable that his investigations will not be accepted by every one as proving definitely the origin of natural bitumens of every sort, nevertheless they throw much light on a subject hitherto a matter of speculation. The general view of the connection between the liquid and solid bitumens is expressed in Dana's Mineralogy as follows: "The more solid kinds graduate into the pitchasphalts or mineral tar, and through these there is a graduation to petroleum. The fluid kinds change into the solid by the loss of a vaporizable portion on exposure, and also by a process of oxidation which consists first in a loss of hydrogen and finally in the oxygenation of a portion of the mass." If this opinion is accepted then the ultimate source of asphalt must be sought in connection with that of petroleum. The origin of the latter has been studied far more carefully than that of the former, and there are a larger number of different theories concerning it. The one most generally accepted regards the bitumens as the result of the distillation of animal matter under the combined action of pressure and heat. This is commonly termed the Hofer-Engler theory and entirely neglects the presence of steam in any stage of the process.

This theory has been strongly combated by a number of chemists and geologists, particularly Professor Peckham. The opinions of the latter have received strong confirmation from Professor Day's laboratory experiments, which incidentally demolish the theory of Wall, often quoted, which regards the Trinidad asphalt as resulting from the gradual decomposition of vegetable matter found imbedded in it. For a number of years, Professor Day has been studying the American asphalt, and his papers on the subject have attracted much attention from chemists. His latest achievement is the manufacture of a material closely resembling gilsonite from fresh fish and wood, and a material resembling elaterite from fish alone.

His first experiment, as described in the "American Chemical Journal," was to distill in an iron retort a mixture of herrings and fat pine wood, partly sawdust and partly staves. The retort was connected with a short glass tube by means of a joint of plaster of paris and asbestos. This tube was connected at the other end by a similar joint with a small iron gas pipe 4 feet long, placed on a combustion furnace by which it could be maintained at a red heat. The retort was heated by gas furnaces and the distillation carried to the complete carbonization of the organic matter. The mixed oil and water were condensed in Liebig apparatus as it issued from the red-hot gas pipe. The oil was afterward separated from the water, dried by standing over chloride of calcium, and then distilled by itself in a hard glass retort provided with a thermometer. The distillate at different temperatures was collected independently and when the process was finished the retort contained a mobile, homogeneous, black liquid free from solid particles of any kind. This liquid solidified on cooling into a shining black mass closely resembling the Utah gilsonite. The process was repeated a number of times, and the same result followed in each case.

The results of this investigation were so interesting that Professor Day conducted a similar series with fish only. The same apparatus was used as was employed for the mixture of wood and fish. In this case the distillate was a yellow emulsion difficult to break up, but after a time a method of doing this was discovered. The resulting oil was cautiously heated for a time and then allowed to cool, when it took on the characteristics of one of the Montana malthas. It was afterward boiled freely and then allowed to cool to a solid condition, in which form it was a black elastic mass, easily cut, but not pulverized, although if struck with a hammer it would break with a conchoidal fracture. An analysis of this material showed that it resembled elaterite, a rather pure asphalt from Utah.

Another set of experiments was made by distilling wood, and the result in this case was a black, shiny mass, very brittle and showing a conchoidal fracture. Apparently the experiments with this material and those with elaterite, a third Utah asphalt, have not been carried to completion. Be that as it may, the results already attained are highly significant and may be briefly summed up as follows, in the words of Professor Day:

"Three asphaltic substances have been obtained by operations of distillation, primarily in presence of steam, from natural animal and vegetable material, both separate and combined. The material obtained from the mixture of fish and wood, called artificial gilsonite, so closely resembles the gilsonite from Utah that it is impossible by inspection to tell the two materials apart. The material obtained from fish alone also resembles what has been called (with questionable propriety) elaterite from Utah. While these two pairs of substances differ from each other to a greater or less extent in respect to the various parallel treatments to which they have been subjected, and while they also differ somewhat in chemical composition as well as in solubility, specific gravity, streak, etc., these differences are all in degree and not in a single case in kind."—Engineering Record.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The contract for building the ordnance workshops at the League Island Navy Yard, have been awarded to Macy, Henderson & Co., of Philadelphia, at $57,430.

William Myers, contractor, will start the erection of a two-and-a-half-story buff brick dwelling, 16x38 feet, on Eleazer street, east of Second. All the latest modern comforts will be introduced on interior. All previously noted in this journal.

John Duncan, contractor, 920 Walnut street, will build a store building at 111 South Eighth street, 18x63 feet, and five stories high. It will be of brick and iron, plate glass front windows, and will cost when completed $12,500. Work to begin at once.

Builder William J. Patterson, of Chestnut Hill, was given a permit last week to erect a fine £28,000 residence for Walter L. Ross at the southwest corner of Thirty-third street and Moreland avenue. The dwelling is to be three stories high, 98.4x36.4 feet, located upon a lot 250x215 feet. It will be built of Germantown stone.

side of Glenwood avenue, east of Seventh street, at a cost of $20,000. The building is to be four stories, or 50 feet high, 60x160 feet, and will have a front of brick, with bluestone window sills.

During the current week work will be started on a four-story brick and iron front building, at 212 North Fourth street, for J. E. Cummings, by E. H. Sturts, 2527 Ridge avenue, from plans by Field & Medary, architects. Also by Lewis Bitters, contractor, on a three-story dwelling, Mervine street, south of Rockland street. Both jobs have been previously noted in this journal.

The manufacturing plant of the Lucent Oil Works, at Fifty-seventh street and Gibson's lane, which was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night last, entailing a loss of $95,000, will probably be rebuilt at once. E. H. Beardsley, one of the proprietors, states that it will be necessary to almost completely restore the works, and without doubt rebuilding would be started shortly.

Architect and Engineer C. Henry Roney has completed plans for two buildings which will be erected on the east side of the esplanade leading to the National Export Exposition grounds, in West Philadelphia, for Hagenback's Wild Animal Show and Chicquita. The buildings will be constructed of frame and staff work. One structure will have a frontage of 80 feet and a depth of 105 feet, while the other will measure 25x50 feet.

J. L. Clymer Company, 218-33 Germantown avenue, have secured the contracts for all cement work on the following: Horn & Hardart's Building, 1302 Filbert street; St. Laurentus Polish Catholic Church, Memphis and Vienna streets; building 1607 Chestnut street; United Gas Improvement Company's stables, Ninth and Diamond streets; James Briggs, operation of nine houses on Dyer street, Frankford; stable for Mr. Bolz, Pelham road, Pelham, Germantown.

Archbishop Ryan has just completed arrangements for a new Roman Catholic parish, to be erected at Westmoreland avenue and G street. Rev. D. H. Broughal will be in charge and will at once begin the work of erecting the necessary structures, including a church and school and parochial house, at present occupying temporarily 3018 Kensington avenue. Whilst drawings have been presented for the work no definite plans have been agreed upon, the latter now being considered by the Archbishop and the Rev. Father Broughal.

The Navy Department has finally decided to readvertise bids for the construction of the League Island dry dock. New advertisements will probably be ready for publication within two weeks. The bids opened some time ago were so indefinite that, after considerable correspondence and very careful consideration, it was decided to disregard all the original bids, and advertise over again. Nothing is lost by this, since it is expected that Congress when it meets will change the character of the docks from timber to stone, and there is no haste to go on with the work now.

A Board of Army Engineers, composed of Colonel G. V. Lydecker, of Detroit, Mich.; Major W. H. Bixby, of Cincinnati, and Lieutenant-Colonel C. W. Raymond, of this city, convened at the Witherspoon Building on the 7th inst., under the provisions of an Act of the last Congress, to inspect the surveys and plans for deepening the channel of the Delaware River to thirty feet. The Board had submitted to its consideration a detailed survey of the river channel. Some time will be devoted to the consideration of these plans. The Board will be taken over the course it is proposed to deepen.

Litigation will in all probability put a stop temporarily to the erection of the proposed "Hotel Majestic," which was to be built on the lately purchased site at Broad and Stiles streets, above Girard avenue. Anthony M. Zane, the well-known real estate operator, being the original purchaser, sold to Henry F. Creiger, architect of Chicago, and others, the building and plot of ground as it now stands, subject to mortgage of $250,000 and $300,000 cash. Payments defaulted as per agreement, hence a suit to recover has been entered in Common Pleas Court No. 3 against Henry E. Creiger and George N. Arthur, of Boston, representing the syndicate purchaser.

Mr. Henry, of the Fairmount Park Commission, has introduced a resolution setting forth that the Park Commission desired to secure by condemnatory proceedings the triangle at Pennsylvania avenue, Spring Garden and Twenty-fifth streets. "This," said Mr. Henry, at the meeting on the 8th instant, "would be an advantageous property to place under the care of the Commission. I think that the Commission feels that the principal entrance is not such as it should be, and by obtaining this triangle a magnificent plaza could be obtained." The assessed value of this piece of ground is $184 052. The matter was referred to the Committee on Land Purchases and Damages.

Contractors Stacy Reeves & Sons 1611 Filbert street, have plans for estimates for constructing a seven-story store and laboratory building for William R. Warner & Co. on the site of the structure burned down at No. 1228 Market street. It will have a frontage of 20 feet and extend back 90 feet. Estimates are asked for a front constructed of brick and terra cotta, ornamented with white marble pilasters, and having a granite base. The plans are by Architects C. W. Bolton & Co., and have been fully described previously. The same builders are asking estimates for additions, interior alterations, new copper roof, etc., to the Morse Williams Public Library at Woodstock, Conn.

Plans were recently submitted to Structural Engineer Clark, of the Bureau of Building Inspection, for new work as follows: By A. Raymond Ruff, for the Quaker City Milling Company, three-story building, 18x138 feet, which will be built on the north side of Ludlow street east of Thirty first street, at a cost of $12,000, and for the Pennsylvania Heat, Light and Power Company's three-story distributing station, which will be erected at 1622 North Eighteenth street at a cost of $17,000. The building will measure 18x120 feet. The work was fully noted a short time ago. Thomas M. Seeds, Jr., filed plans for the new fire house, previously described, which he will build for the city at 1528 and 1730 Sansom street.

Plans for new work have been submitted to Structural Engineer Edwin Clark, of the Bureau of Building Inspection, as follows: Contractor Charles McCaul for the University of Pennsylvania dormitories, to be built on the south side of Spruce street and Woodland avenue to cost $200,000; pump house addition, 25.1x32.5 feet, to be built for the Pennsylvania Heat, Light and Power Company, on the south side of Callowhill street, west of Twenty-sixth street, to cost $5000, and for a one-story factory addition, 42.5x190 feet, for J. P. Mathieu & Co., on the north side of Westmoreland street, east of Tenth street, and by John Stimmler for a one-story factory, 142x112 feet, to be built on the north side of River road, in the Twenty-first ward.

What is destined to become one of the greatest cement companies in this country has just been organized by ex-Governor William M. Bunn. It is to be known as the Union Cement Company, and will start with a capital of $2,600,000. This sum, however, will be increased as the business of the company demands. The plant will be located in the hills near Nazareth, Pa., where Governor Bunn has purchased 158 acres of the richest cement land in the world. English and German concerns were very anxious to secure this property, knowing its value, but the Governor outbid them, and his company will at once begin the erection of its plant. In about five months it will be burning and turning out from 2000 to 4000 barrels a day. Already large contracts have been made with New York firms and several other large dealers.

Contractor Charles McCaul, 10 N. Eleventh street, will break ground at once for the additional dormitories and memorial tower at the University of Pennsylvania, at an estimated cost of $200,000. The new buildings will contain 175 rooms, accommodating over 200 students, and will be finished by August 1, 1900. The total length of the frontage on Woodland avenue and Spruce street, including the tower, will be 157 feet. The structures are to be exactly similar to the present buildings, and the dormitories will be four stories high. The tower will be five stories in height. For estimates in Mr. McCaul's office at present is a large office building to be erected on Calvert street, Baltimore, Md. It will be of brick, stone and steel construction, with elevators, electric work, steam heat, tile and mosaic work, and all conveniences. Same contractor was recently awarded the contract to build the five-story fire-proof factory building at Trumbull and First streets, Elizabeth, N. J., for the Singer Manufacturing Company. The building will be 800 feet long, 50 feet wide, with two L shaped structures. It will be constructed of brick, with granite trimmings.

A Bit of History...

It was during the fearful hurricane which swept from existence many ships and hundreds of brave seamen of all nationalities in the harbor of Samoa, when the men of the U. S. Ship Trenton, standing waist deep upon her deck amid the gurgling sea, cheered, while the band played with joy as an English man-of-war's-man passed them and on and out of the harbor in safety.

At a banquet of English Naval Officers soon afterwards the first and regular toast "To the Queen, God bless her,"—when on all such occasions the glass is broken in order that it may never be profaned with a toast less sacred—was drunk, when, with deep earnestness, the toast was given "To the Trenton's men, the bravest of the brave, God bless them," which was drunk in silence, and with one accord every man smashed his glass into fragments.

This is a bit of history, as yet unwritten, until it appeared on this humble page, and it is not our fault that this is so.

VOL. XIV.—No. 38. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1899. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Autenreith & Collins, architects 410 Walnut street, have completed all plans for an erecting shop for Morse, Williams & Co., and awarded the contract to Robert Beatty & Bro., 2321 Townsend street. It is to be one story high, 50x10 feet, brick, stone and iron in material.

Architect J. C. M. Shirk, 421 Chestnut street, has finished plans for alterations to H. P. Kremer's residence, at the northeast corner of Sixteenth street and Girard avenue. The drawings are on the boards at William R. Dougherty's office, 1604 Sansom street, for estimates.

Architects Hales & Ballinger's drawings for the power plant at Ninth and Westmoreland streets, for J. P. Mathieu & Co., are on the boards for estimates at the offices of Charles McCann, John R. Wiggins, William R. Dougherty, Rush J. White-side & Sons, George Kessler, William Steele & Sons, Roydhouse, Arey & Co. and at the Master Builders' Exchange.

Andrew B. Mullett & Son, architects, 1411 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., have completed contract drawings for a store and office building at 926 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C., for David Laverone. It will be three and one-half stories high, of stone and brick, pressed mottled brick front, broken by terra cotta balcony and cornice, 23 feet 6 inches by 79 feet 11 inches, and containing fourteen offices and store on first floor. Estimated cost $15,000.

Emile G. Perot, architect, 1831 Master street, has made plans for a fine three-story country house, to be erected at Ridley Park, Delaware county, Pa., for Elizabeth B. Eyre. It will be stone and shingle work, slate roof, hard wood on interior electric work, wood mantles, range, heater, electric work, plumbing of the best, cement, tile and mosaic work, stained and plate glass and all the latest and best comforts. Estimate being made on the work in the office of William R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building Fourth and Walnut streets, is now preparing specifications for the remodeling of Bethany Presbyterian Church, at Twenty-third and Bainbridge streets, and expect to ask bids soon. The plans are all complete, as previously noted in this journal, and the work will cover quite a large scope of workmanship and material. Also plans by same architect for a church to be erected as a mission to the above at Twenty-eighth and Morris streets. This also will be offered at about the same time for estimates.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, are engaged on plans for remodeling the house of Mr. L. E. Miller, at Cape May, N. J. The work will cover an extensive amount of hard wood, electric work, hot air heat, plumbing, decorations, etc. Same contractors have just made plans for a house at Bala for John Haubert, the florist, at that place. The work of building will be done under Mr. Haubert's personal supervision, and all material and contracts made by him. Other work in course of preparation to be noted later in these columns.

Frank Miles Day & Bro., 925 Chestnut street, have awarded R. C. Ballinger & Co. the contract to erect the new chemical building for Hance Bros. & White, Seventh and Willow streets. As previously noted, it will be four stories high, brick, iron and stone work, cement work, steam heat and power, electric work, sanitary plumbing, freight lift, and all general conveniences introduced. Same contractors are at work on the Matthew Baird house at Ardmore, which will also be a model of comfort in modern appliances. This house has been fully described in this journal previously.

Wendell & Smith, 14 South Broad street, have signed a contract with Milton W. Young, Overbrook, to build a $7200 house on the west side of Drexel road, south of Lancaster avenue, according to drawings prepared by Architect W. L. Price, 731 Walnut street. The residence will be a three-story stone structure, with a porch front, and it will measure 31.4x66.3 feet. It will contain a large open hall, parlor and dining room, each with bay window, kitchen, pantry and laundry on the first floor; five chambers, hall, bathroom and linen and other closets, on the second floor and three chambers, a store room and closets on the third floor. The house will be finished in hardwoods and tile work and lighted by electricity.

Bruce Price, architect, 150 Fifth avenue, New York city, has drawings nearly completed for a fourteen-story office building at 135 Broadway, New York city, for the St. Lawrence Realty Insurance Company. It will be in classic style, of granite and Pompeian brick, iron frame work, cement roof and terra cotta trimmings, 40 feet 6 inches by 153 feet. The predominant feature will be the main entrance, at which there will be monolithic columns, carved Corinthian capitals supporting carved balconies on second floor. The building will be one of the finest of its kind in New York, and contain 30 separate offices, toilet rooms and general offices of the company on first floor. Estimated cost is given at $700,000.

Architects Hales & Ballinger have just completed plans and are now asking for estimates for the new power house, which J. P. Mathieu & Co. will have built at Tenth and Westmoreland streets. The building will be 156 feet long and 71 feet deep. The boiler house will be 101 feet long and 20 feet high in the clear, and the engine house will be 52 feet long and 18 feet high. When the drawings are placed on the boards contractors will be asked to furnish estimates for the work in addition to that above mentioned, as follows: A reservoir, 90x31½ feet and 12 feet in the clear, with a capacity for 151,000 gallons of water, a stand pipe 60 feet high, an artesian well, a brick stack, 6x6, on the inside, and 150 feet high six return tubular 150 horse-power boilers, two 300 horse-power engines, two 250 K. W. dynamos, also one 115 horse-power engine and one 75 K. W. dynamo.

Drawings for extensive improvements to be made at Summerdale Station, this city, for the Wolf Process Leather Company, have just been completed by Architects Stearns & Castor, Stephen Girard Building. Four new structures, a main building, varnish and drying building, boiler and engine house and workshop and storage building will be built. The main building will measure 369.9x42.9 feet, and it will be one story high and contain ten sections; varnish and drying building, two stories high, 202x147.6 feet, to contain seven large ovens and six sections on the first floor; engine and boiler house, 50.4x75.4 feet, with a coal storage bin 23x50.4 feet; one-story workshop and store house, 50x52 feet. The specifications provide for stone masonry, brick work, granite, steel and iron, sheet metal, slate and slag roofing, tin work, lumber and carpenter work, mill work, painting and glazing, hardware, fire doors, etc.

Architects Duhring, Okie & Ziegler, 1420 Chestnut street, have finished drawings for a two-story brick church and Sunday-school, which the congregation of the Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Riverside, N. J., will build at that place. The building will measure 38x60 feet, and it will have a tower 75 feet high, and a slate roof. The first floor will contain a vestibule, Sunday-school room, with a platform, and two class-rooms, and the second floor a chancel, vestry, organ, choir apartments, a treasurer's room and an auditorium, with a gallery to seat 250 persons. The building will be lighted by electricity and heated by steam, and the roof will be supported by open timber work. The drawings were placed on the boards at the offices of J. S. Rogers and Co., George Arndt, George Schele and William Brynmall, at Stanwick, N. J. Same architects are finishing drawings and are ready for estimates for improvements at R. Francis Wood's stock barn, at Devon, Pa. The work will include the construction of a building 35x85 feet, and a wing 24x14 feet. The main building will have stalls available for twenty-five cows and fifteen horses, while the wing will be fitted up and used for box-stalls. The second floor of the main building will be used for hay-mow purposes. Both buildings will have cement floors, and contain the latest improved stable equipments.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 20, 1899

It is stated that 1000 salesmen were discharged in Cincinnati alone on Saturday last through the results of the Whiskey Trust.

It is to be regretted that the Commercial Museum Exposition could not have been opened during June or July at the latest.

The influx of strangers to the city during the Summer was without precedent, besides the Grand Army demonstration brought its thousands of visitors, the most of whom would have regarded the Exposition as an important point of attraction.

As a subject of interest, however, the Exposition is fraught with so much meaning that it is bound to have a large influence in the direction of an increased export trade for the whole country.

The importers of other countries find it a difficult matter to keep posted on American inventions and improvements and it is no wonder, for the busy brains and hands of the Americans are quietly solving problems for betterments to an extent which baffles conception even with our own people.

The resources of the country in the way of manufactured products embrace so much that is needed in other countries that an object lesson, such as the Exposition, will yield such lasting benefits as to justify its cost a hundred fold.

Sharp Rise in Tin.

The advance of 27½ cents in the price of tin plate per box by the American Tin Plate Company came as a surprise to the trade. The quoted price for plate is now $4.85 a box, which carries the asked price up 80 per cent., or say, $2 a box above the figure quoted when the trust obtained control of the mills of the country. Business was not at all active at the advance rate to-day, as buyers were inclined to resent the latest uplift.

This latest advance has caused a good deal of discussion in the trade as to the competition by independent concerns now making ready to turn out plates. That opposition will not, of course, have immediate realization, but the anticipation of it crystallizes the opposition of the opponents of the trust. It is said that there is now a handsome margin for profit in making tin plates, and that if prices hold at anything like present values, when the new concerns get at work, they will make a good deal of money, and that a successful run will bring out all the capital needed to start new mills in large numbers. The principal opposition concerns are the National Stamping and Enamelling Company, with about forty mills completed, and the Champion Iron and Steel Company, of Muskegon, Mich., and the Tyler Mills, at Washington, Pa., in all about sixty mills, against 380 mills of the trust. It is said that the trust people have refused to sell these concerns.—New York Evening Post.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Report.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly report for week ending September 16th, said:

"Better than all other news, the record of August commerce shows the relation of United States business to that of other countries. Exports were $30,034,875 larger than ever before in August, and exceeded imports by $37,929,696, partly because exports of staples were $9,356,976 larger than last year, but also because exports of other products, mainly manufactures, were $30,439,000 larger than last year, and larger than in any other month of any year. Fears that great advance in prices might shut off export of manufactured products have not been unnatural, and it is most gratifying to find that such exports still continue and expand. The excess of exports over imports gives fair promise of a large balance in foreign trade to the benefit of this country during the winter as has ever been seen. That manufactured exports do not fall off, but are larger than ever, is both surprising and gratifying. The volume of business now in progress has never been rivaled.

The great movement of grain in wheat and flour a little larger than last year in August and in two weeks of September 5,929,273 bushels, flour included, from Atlantic ports against 5,423,976 last year, and from Pacific ports 755,559 bushels against 561,144 last year is far more effective in preventing a decline in prices than any official or unofficial estimate of yield.

Government report indicates a wheat crop of only 518,000,000 bushels, but last year the September reporting indicated 535,000,000 bushels, and afterwards the official return made it 675,000,000 bushels, and none would be surprised to see a like revision this year. The price, in spite of good exports has fallen one-quarter of a cent, for Western receipts have been 13,669,445 bushels in two weeks against 14,663,895 last year, and corn exports 6,498,212 bushels against 4,351,331. The feeling is not unreasonable that foreign needs are just now well indicated by the corn movement. At this season cotton shipments are always small, and hopes or fears rule the market, but prices have declined during the week a sixteenth, with a little less buying on foreign account.

Extraordinary efforts to increase the iron output failed in August, partly because stoppage of a few large furnaces for repairs more than balanced the addition of thirteen small furnaces to the producing force, and partly because hot weather prevented full production. The reported output of 267,335 tons against 267,672 August 1, with decrease of 2,347 tons in unold stocks, indicates a consumption of 1,209,012 tons during the month. Purchases of 60,000 tons Bessemer and 20,000 tons of other iron are reported with advance of Bessemer to $23.25 at Pittsburgh, but quotations are wild because of premiums paid for early delivery. Plates at the West are common here at Pittsburgh are $1 per ton higher, and wire nails have again been advanced $3 per ton. Orders for plates include several for export but one for a vessel in the Delaware River, with one for Venezuela at Pittsburgh, but many for all forms are refused because the works are unable to fill them on time, and some orders of much importance have been withdrawn at the West on account of the delay unavoidable and the high prices charged.

The heavy sales of wool, 12,055,900 pounds for the week as against 21,282,700 for two weeks, against 35,629,400 1897, are largely due to heavy manufacturing purchases at Boston, but there, as elsewhere, the buying is mostly based on expectation that London sales, beginning next Tuesday, will show an important advance. The prices here are stiff, and the demand for woolen goods of all sorts is strong.

Failures for the week have been 149 in the United States against 174 last year, and 32 in Canada against 23 last year.

The Prospectus of the Iron and Steel Foundry Supply Company.

In these days of scheme-floating it is certainly refreshing to meet a company whose prospectus embraces something besides fulsome promises and prospective wealth which the subscribers seldom live to enjoy. With tangible assets and wealth of its own, such as hundreds of acres of available land on the Ranocosa in New Jersey, which has for years yielded a profitable income to its former owners in foundry sand, clay, etc., the Iron and Steel Foundry Supply Company, whose office is at 700 Penn Mutual Building, invites the investigation of investors with the view of disposing of a portion of its stock for a working capital to push its supply business into all of the ramifications of the iron, steel and foundry manufacturing interests of the country.

The prospectus of the company appears in our advertising columns, and it merits a perusal.

Architect Notes.

The contract for the construction of general additions to the Masonic Home of the State of New Jersey, at Burlington, has been awarded to Contractor William Severns, of Camden. Architect Arnold H. Moses, 419 Walnut street, made the plans, and the estimated cost is $25,000.

Horace H. Bean, Lansdale, Pa., has finished contract drawings for a factory at Ambler, Pa., for George L. Sassam & Sons. of Jersey City, N. J. As soon as the contract, which has been drawn and approved by the Chief of the United States Engineers, is signed, preparations will immediately be made by the contractor to commence work. Two years have been given in which to complete the work, although it is expected that the rocks can be removed in about half that time. The Mameluke Rocks are considered to be a dangerous obstruction, as considerable shipping passes the point at which they are located. The Maritime Exchange and shipping men in general have been endeavoring for many years to induce the Government to remove the ledge. A short time ago bids were opened for the work in the office of Colonel Raymond, of the United States Engineers. Contractor Ross was the lowest bidder at $6.85 per cubic yard.

Quite an amount of work will devolve upon the session of City Councils which meet on the 21st inst. The report of the experts appointed last Spring by the Mayor upon water improvements, involving an expenditure of the $3,700,000 out of the loan of $11,200,000, will be considered. Just what they may recommend has been held in abeyance up to the present. Other items besides the recent loan bill will receive attention, among which will be a new bridge over the Schuylkill river, just north of Girard avenue, over the Connecting and Reading R. R. This will be opposed on account of the rise in steel to some extent. The art gallery item will likely receive considerable debate pro and con, when they come before both branches of councils. The amounts set aside are $600,000 for the bridge construction, and $200,000 for the art gallery. The free library item of $1,000,000, also $400,000 for grading and repairs to streets; $150,000 for suburban roads; $70,000 for Fairmount Park improvements; $200,000 for new almshouse buildings; $50,000 for new parks, and $300,000 for police and fire alarm stations, will all be reported from committee to the general body for final disposition.

The bids for the new railroad track at the League Island Navy Yard were opened on the 17th inst., at the Navy Department. The bids were as follows: The John Balzley Iron Works, Philadelphia, $19,990, conditional as to time. Macey, Henderson & Co., Philadelphia, $19,877 conditional as to time. William L. Ziegler, Philadelphia, $19,863, 85 pound rail. William L. Ziegler, alternate, Philadelphia, $18,843, 60 pound rail. American Artificial Stone Company, Philadelphia, $19,746. G. S. W. Brubaker, Philadelphia, $15,775. Time excepted in bid of Macey, Henderson & Co. The bids for the steel work for the new equipment building were also opened. They are as follows: Macey, Henderson & Co., Philadelphia, 60 days, $33,777; pound price, 60 days, 4 cents. Penn Bridge Company, Beaver Falls, 60 days, $40,430; amount of bid 90 days, $39,680; pound price, 60 days, 4 1/2 cents. Penn Bridge Company, alternate, Beaver Falls, 60 days, $40,430; amount of bid, 90 days, $39,680; pound price, 60 days, 4 1/2 cents. Penn Bridge Company, conditional, time 8 months, $25,430; per pound, 4 1/2 cents. Penn Bridge Company, conditional, time 4 months, $3,930; per pound 4 1/2 cents. H. S. Forte, $36,500; Philadelphia; time of completion, 4 months; informal; no check. Note.—Time excepted in bid on Macey, Henderson & Co.

Among the schools to be erected by the Board of Education will be the one at Eighth and Fitzwater streets, by Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and upon which work will be started at once. Fully noted previously in these columns. Also, another at Fifty-fourth and Lansdowne avenue will be erected of granite and will contain fifteen divisions. This structure has also been noted. Six other elementary buildings and the Boys' High School are to be erected during this year and the early spring months, for all of which plans have been made by the architect of the Board, Jos. D. Anschutz. All are to be fitted with the most approved appliances for education of the young, and will largely increase the capacity for teaching. The buildings expected to be completed within the year, for which provision was made in the Loan bill, include: Edward T. Steel School, Sixteenth and Cayuga streets, granite building of 15 divisions, cost $69,623; 15 division building, at Sixteenth and Porter streets, cost $69,350; James Campbell School, Eighth and Fitzwater streets, 18 divisions, cost $98,310; granite building of 15 divisions, at G and Ontario streets, Thirty-third section, cost $69,787; Heston School, Fifty-fourth street and Lansdowne avenue, granite building of 15 divisions, cost $71,800; 15-division granite building at Glenwood avenue and Corlies street, cost $64,901.

A Bit of History...

It was during the fearful hurricane which swept from existence many ships and hundreds of brave seamen of all nationalities in the harbor of Samoa, when the men of the U. S. Ship Trenton, standing waist deep upon her deck amid the gurgling sea, cheered, while the band played with joy as an English man-of-war's-man passed them and on and out of the harbor in safety.

At a banquet of English Naval Officers soon afterwards the first and regular toast "To the Queen, God bless her,"—when on all such occasions the glass is broken in order that it may never be profaned with a toast less sacred—was drunk, when, with deep earnestness, the toast was given "To the Trenton's men, the bravest of the brave, God bless them," which was drunk in silence, and with one accord every man smashed his glass into fragments.

This is a bit of history, as yet unwritten, until it appeared on this humble page, and it is not our fault that this is so.

Our business is to make and sell the best Hardware on earth, and like the Trenton's men, we yield to no temptation to swerve us from our duty to our customers and their interests.

It is our maxim, you know, that the Quality and beauty at all times and under all conditions is the key-note to its world-wide fame.

Hale, architect, 1524 Chestnut street, is preparing plans for the erection of an immense warehouse, at 2012 14-16-18 Market street, for William Weightman, owner, and to be occupied when finished by Gimbel Bros. B. Ketcham Sons are the contractors, and the structure will be only two stories at present, but the walls will be strongly built to bear further addition in future. It will be of brick, stone and iron, with all modern conveniences on interior. Work to begin soon. Area covered will be 149 x 86 feet.

Lindley Johnson, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has made plans for a house, for Walter B. Stephenson, to be erected in Lower Merion Township, Montgomery county, Pa. The structure will be entirely of brick, with stone sills and trimmings, coppered cornice, plate and small glass windows, colonial in style, and of hardwood. Electric work, tile and slate work, range, heater and cement work and all modern comforts are specified. Plans for estimates in office of Jacob Meyers & Sons, at Juniper and Sansom streets.

Architects Heacock & Hokanson, 931 Chestnut street, are at work on drawings for two three-story dwellings, with porches, to be erected at Jenkintown. The houses will have slate roofs and be finished in chestnut on the first floor, and pine, natural finish on the second and third floors. The first floor of each house will contain a parlor, hall, dining room and kitchen; second, three bed-rooms and bath room; third, three bed-rooms. The plans will be ready for estimates in about a week. The owner's name and the exact location are withheld for the present.

Baldwin & Pennington, architects, Baltimore, are the architects who prepared the plans for the Guardian Building, to be erected in the above named city at Calvert and German streets. It will be ten stories high and basement, of brick, stone and terra cotta work, with steel skeleton and fireproof material. Interior will contain steam heat and power, elevators, electric work, marble, tile, mosaic and slate work, cement work, grille work of iron and brass, considerable decorative work, culinary and kitchen fixtures, closets and toilets of the most approved kind; all modern comforts and conveniences will be introduced. The drawings have just been placed for general estimate and sub-bids in the office of J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut street. Other plans previously noted are on the same contractors' boards for bids.

Mr. Albert Kelsey, the well-known architect, lectured at the quarterly meeting of the Builders' Exchange on the question of "Municipal Improvements," on the 26th inst. An immense crowd was present, and showed quite an interest in the subject, presented very ably by Mr. Kelsey. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered the lecturer by the Exchange.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 1509 Sansom street have on boards for estimate, plans by W. Trumbaur for an office building at 1511 Sansom street for Murrill Dobins, owner. It will be of brick and stone with open glass front and all modern improvements on interior. Also bids are being made for renovating of 2009 Walnut street, for the owner, Thos. B. Wanamaker, the designs being made by Keen & Mead, architects, 1420 Chestnut street. Also on drawings by William Macauley, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, for alterations and additions to the residence of William McLoughlin.

Horace Trumbaur, architect, Land, Title and Trust Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, has completed plans for a fine country house for E. J. Berwind, Newport, R. I. It will be three stories high, 75x154 feet in area, and of Mount Airy granite, carved in graceful style, the trimming will be also carved Indiana limestone. Handsome terraces and approaches with steps of stone, ornamented grounds and walks will surround the structure. The plans are prepared in the style of Louis XV, and the house when completed will present one of the most palatial on this Continent, the interior being entirely in French art. Interior will be magnificent in decorations of hardwood, painting, etc., plumbing, electric work, plate and leaded glass work, open stairway extending to top of house; all modern comforts introduced. The drawings are on boards of Stacey Reeves & Sons, 1611 Filbert street, for estimate. Mr. Trumbaur is engaged on designs for remodelling the entire interior of the property at the northwest corner of Broad and Girard avenue, and when completed it will be turned over to the Philadelphia Free Library for its sole use. The work will be quite extensive and present a striking aspect in the way of public buildings.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Benjamin F. Teller & Bro., Ledger Building, are about to erect a fine store building at Nineteenth and Chestnut streets, for which they are receiving bids.

George Fredericks will build a three-story storage building, 41x96 feet, at Third and Beaver streets, for Burk Bros., and a two-story storage building, 70x115 feet, at 1327 to 1333 Germantown avenue, for William Burk & Bro.

John M. Whelan, builder, 240 Glenwood avenue, will at once erect ten two-story dwellings on Ontario street, north side, and east of Third. These are to be of pressed brick, stone trimmings, and best conveniences on interior.

J. M. Cardeza has awarded a contract to Samuel J. Sleath to build a two-story frame building, 20x32 feet, on East Washington lane, west of Limekiln pike, Twenty-second ward. The building will be used for cow and buffalo sheds.

Harry B. Shoemaker & Co., 113 North Seventh street, are taking estimates for the erection of a three-story fifteen-room Queen Anne style house, to contain all modern improvements, at Chelsea, Atlantic City, N. J., for George Omerly; for a large club house at Chester, Pa., and for alterations and an addition to the dwelling at 1127 Pine street.

Contractors Ryan & Kelley, 8 South Broad street, have been awarded the contract and commenced work on Monday on the erection of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway's new repair shop at Reading, Pa. This work will cost about $30,000. The same firm has plans on the boards for the factory buildings which the Wolf Process Leather Company will have erected at Summerdale, this city, from plans by Architects Starns & Cantor.

As indicated by this journal at the very beginning of proceedings by John J. McDevitt, against the Moore estate at Ninth and Chestnut streets, last year, the entire matter goes by default upon the part of McDevitt, to validate claim against the executors to join him in the erection of a hotel upon the site of the old Girard Hotel. The ground and old building will now be disposed of to the highest bidder, by Simpson & Brown, attorneys for the heirs.

Benjamin Ketcham Sons, contractors for the new stores to be erected at 935-937 Market street by Wm. Weightman, have started to make the excavations for the work, which was fully noted in this journal August 9th, current year. The structure will be eight stories high, brick and terra cotta work, large plate glass windows extending to top of building, steam heat, electric light, elevators and lifts and all conveniences. The drawings are by Willis G. Hale, architect, 1524 Chestnut street.

WHILE the filtration scheme seems at present to be the popular method and will probably be adopted at a cost of about $12,000,000 it is nothing but an experiment after all, and even if moderately successful will in a few years have to be abandoned for the only correct, permanent and economical solution of the water problem, which is a new source of supply from a quarter far enough away to insure pure water for all time.

To trifle with a question so serious by meeting it with a mere expedient is not the proper way to settle it.

If the city is too poor to provide for a proper water supply the whole business had better be relegated to private parties who are willing to undertake the job of supplying pure water from an unpolluted source at no greater cost to tax payers than the present inefficient service.

We are not, however, in favor of such a step, nor do we believe that a water bond debt of even a hundred million dollars would entail any serious burthen upon our citizens when compared with the endless benefits to be derived from a supply from sources beyond the possibility of pollution.

Of course, it would be childish to assert that filtration does not in a large degree purify and cleanse water, but to argue that the liquids from the cesspools of Reading and the other up river cities, which is the true source—the only source—of typhoid infection, can be entirely eliminated, is to upset the well-established methods of filtration in use by chemists throughout the world in the preparation of their chemical solutions, or, as it is called in chemistry, "percolation," which is the true name for the process proposed by the advocates of this $12,000,000 loan, although they improperly call it "filtration."

To whom will be relegated the care and responsible management of this proposed immense filtration plant when once established, if not to the self same type of men who for years dominated the gas works to the shame and disgrace of municipal government and the annoyance and distress of consumers?

Can any one estimate in dollars and cents the harmful influences of the typhoid scare of last year, or how far it is responsible for our empty houses?

According to the estimates, a filtration plant will cost at least one fifth of the entire cost of a new mountain supply.

The one will settle the question forever. Adopt the other and the question will never be settled, or, if settled, it will be only up to the time when the filtration plant becomes worthless. And its worthlessness even now can be easily established by any reputable body of practical chemists that may be selected.

The Iron and Steel Supply Company, office 700 Penn Mutual Building, desires it particularly emphasized that it is a strictly commercial enterprise, whose sole purpose is the mining of foundry and building sand, clay and other products, which it has now on sale in large or small quantities and differs only from other similar concerns from the fact of its ownership and monopoly of large tracts of land containing the best of these products which have been upon the market for years, and which are just as well known among the foundrymen of the country as the grades of iron which they are compelled to use from time to time. The company is entirely foreign to stock-floating schemes and its single corporate purpose is to procure the necessary capital to push its business to an extent in keeping with the possibilities of the foundry supply business throughout the country, which amounts to hundreds of millions of dollars yearly.

The West Jersey Title and Trust Company, of Camden, has insured the titles to its hundreds of acres of valuable land, which have already proven to be a source of great wealth to its former owners.

The company's prospectus appears on another page and merits a perusal.

On a Cash Basis.

In his address to the bankers' convention at Cleveland, President Russell, among other things, referred to one important change in business, that it was on a cash basis. He said on this point:

"The business of the country is being done on a cash basis. The annual and semi-annual settling days of the older States are not upon the calendar. The jobber finds his profits within the discount of the manufacturers, and the country merchant has learned the lesson, buys more carefully and pays cash, and so we see business paper surely disappearing."

"Banks must invest in other good securities, which under the new demand appreciate in value. Under this process and the growing wealth of our nation high-grade securities will be absorbed and the banks will lend their aid to the development of our industries and trade with all nations."

"Already we are purchasing the bonds of foreign countries. The savings depositor must satisfy himself with a lower rate of interest. It is to be hoped that this condition will not again stimulate a fever of speculation, which when it breaks, as it did in 1893, may reduce us to a long and anxious period of convalescence."

Here are some important facts, from an inside source, bearing on security values, and investors and speculators will do well to remember them. While there is less demand for long commercial discounts such as the old time long credit system called for, there is, on the other hand, a greatly increased use of actual cash in making exchanges day by day and week by week, and this requires, and will continue to require, a much wider and more general distribution of currency whenever and wherever general business is active. At present it is active in every part of the Union—North South, East and West, and in consequence, bank surpluses in New York keep low.

President Russell also called attention to changes in banking and business to come from the recent tendency toward industrial combinations, saying as to bank consolidations: "Consolidation and combination are the order of the day, and in many instances it would be desirable to consolidate banks where the smaller banks separately cannot use their deposits with safety to their depositors or profit to the stockholders after paying the cost of administration."

As to the industrial combinations and their effect on country banks, he said:

"We have looked with alarm upon the formation of industrial combinations, or trusts so called, and yet many of them conservatively formed will remain with us, and by economical administration and a lessening of the cost of selling to the consumer may serve to largely expand our home and foreign trade."

"Bankers after a time will need to investigate more carefully and discriminate fairly among these gigantic industrial organizations. Like the department stores to the small merchants, these larger corporations will seriously affect the business of the banks in cities which are not favored with the location of their head offices and financial management."

The bankers' convention is a big success both in numbers and in the many important subjects crowding for consideration.—Wilmington's Price Current.

Quarries of Carrara.

Carrara marble is known throughout the world, yet few of many tourists who are whirled along the Mediterranean railway from Rome to Genoa, ever stop to visit the spot from which this famous stone is obtained. Carrara lies on the railway between Pisa and Florence. All the inhabitants of the little town are directly or indirectly interested in the quarrying, working and shipping of the marble, and the glare of marble dust and marble meets one on every side. The marble quarries are entirely different from what might be expected, and in place of craning the neck to look down into the bowels of the earth one only has to admire the long, irregular rift in the flank of the mountain, for the quarrying is all done on the surface and does not require the construction of pits or galleries. The quarries have been likened by one writer to a casade of water suddenly hardened into stone.

The percentage of men who meet horrible deaths in the quarries is very large, notwithstanding the fact that powder and not dynamite is used. Of course many of these accidents are caused by carelessness on the part of the workmen. When the great blocks are once detached, they either roll down the mountain or are lowered to the desired place by means of ropes and tackle. No machinery is employed and all the work is done with the crudest appliances. A blast is announced by three long notes on a horn, but little attention seems to be paid to this signal by the workmen, and many terrible accidents result in consequence.

A few years back, when accidents occurred, the cathedral bells were tolled to give warning to the people, but owing to the anxiety and anguish of thousands of poor families on hearing this gruesome sound, the custom has now been abolished, and the workmen all leave the quarries as soon as the accident occurs in order to assure their families of their safety, and they are allowed their full day's pay. The pay of the workmen is wretched, varying from 60 to 80 cents a day. A blast is very exciting to a stranger, who is usually accompanied by a guide, who contrives to get him in a place of absolute safety during the explosion. The marble is blasted high up on the peak, and the pieces bound or leap downward until they strike some obstruction or the valley below. Formerly all of the immense chunks of marble had to be transported by primitive carts hauled by oxen, but now the railway affords an easy means of transporting to the market. The huge trucks are met everywhere floundering along, flinging great clouds of choking white dust in their train or splashing mud, which is white in this remarkable locality. Each car is drawn by 18 or 20 pairs of oxen, which are covered with the white dust which is everywhere. They are goaded by their cruel drivers, for the Italians are notorious for their cruelty to animals.

An interesting excursion is to one of the quarries which were worked by the Romans, and the quarries show how primitive were the means employed by men of antiquity. They first marked out the block upon the solid mass, and they actually cut it out by hand labor. In many places one can still see blocks which lie imbedded in the rubbish caused in quarrying and shipping them. The Romans split their blocks into slabs by inserting wooden wedges and keeping them constantly wet until the swelling of the wood burst asunder the stone. A Roman altar was unearthed some years ago near the quarries, and a few rusty implements have also been discovered.

Cararra marble has been a favorite with sculptors for nearly 2000 years, and to-day it is nearly always used by the sculptor in preference to marble from any other locality. It is also largely used in decorating churches.—Scientific American.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The city has purchased the property measuring 40x100 feet on the east side of Hancock street, 90 feet north of Master street, from John G. Amos, for $17,977.50, and the adjoining property on the north, measuring 30x160 feet, from William F. Ruff, for $15,223.50.

Schock Bros., Chestnut Hill, will at once erect a pair of dwellings 16x44 feet on Meehan street, east of Germantown avenue. These are to be two stories high, brick, stone facings and steps, interior to be fitted with hot air heater, ranges, plumbing, gas fitting, and all comforts.

A syndicate of this city, of which William G. Huey, Esq., is a member, have been negotiating for a property at Chelsea, Atlantic City, N. J., with a view of erecting thereon a fine hotel. As no plans have been made or details arranged, little can be said in regard to the size or general construction of the proposed building, but that it will be one of the largest and leading ones on the island there is no room to doubt.

Archbishop Patrick J. Ryan has transferred the property, measuring 60x221.4 feet, on the south side of Christian street, 91.6 feet west of Eighth street, to the Brothers of the Order of Hermits, of St. Augustine, subject to a mortgage of $15,000, for the consideration of $10,000.

The Treasury Department, at Washington, will receive proposals until October 25th for the installation of a wiring system for the United States Postoffice building, at Buffalo, N. Y. The members of the Master Builders' Exchange have received an invitation to bid on this work.

James J. F. Molloy, contractor, 837 East Allegheny avenue, has been given a contract by Rowland W. Boyle, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, to erect a fine residence for P. Donoghue, 1222 Christian street. It will be three stories high, brown stone front, and was fully noted in our issue of the 13th inst.

Frank S. Riggs, contractor, 1530 Chestnut street, is estimating on the drawings for officers' quarters at League Island, and for three fine houses to be built by W. T. B. Roberts at his Glenside operation of fine homes. The plans were made by Albert Ellis Yarnall, architect, 14 South Broad street, and fully noted previously in these columns.

The Thirty-fourth Sectional School Board met on the 25th inst. and recommended that additional buildings be rented for the accommodation of the pupils of the overcrowded Hoffman School. The board also recommended the purchase of a lot at the northwest corner of Fifty-eighth and Haverford streets for school purposes, the cost to be $17,000.

The Navy Department will call once more for bids for the new dry dock at League Island, Philadelphia, and they will be opened October 21. The former bids were rejected as too high. This is one of the four large structures provided in the last naval appropriation act. Bids were opened on the 23d inst. for the commandant's office at League Island, the lowest bidder being John J. Conner, at $37,173. The only bidder on the plate bending shops was Macy, Henderson & Co., of Philadelphia, at $70,433.

M. P. Wells & Co., contractors, 1420 Chestnut street, have begun work on the large store building for Wm. R. Warner & Co. at 1223 Market street, which we noted some months ago, from plans by the architects, C. W. Bolton & Co., Witherspoon Building. It is to be seven story and a basement, brick, stone and terra cotta, iron skeleton, fire-proof materials on interior, steam heat and power, electric work, elevators and lift, plate glass windows, and all the best modern conveniences will be introduced.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut street, have begun work on site for the large school house at Frankford avenue and Somerset street. It is to be of stone, brick and iron construction; interior in hard wood, electric work, best sanitary plumbing and all the most recent improvements for comfort and convenience of scholars and teachers. Same contractors are making general estimates on a new high school building to be erected in Trenton, N. J., and are receiving sub-bids on the work and materials.

About $70,000 is available to make the start upon the continuation of widening Delaware avenue north from Vine street to Green. Whilst this will not be sufficient to execute all the work, it will enable an early start, as proposed by an ordinance to be offered by Select Councilman Joseph Klemmer at an early day. Everybody concerned in the matter are enthusiastic, not only over the new work to be done, but proud with pride to the great commercial avenue now nearly completed lying between Vine and South streets on the Delaware river.

Builder John J. Brown, 460 Mechanic street, Germantown, will commence work at once on the erection of a pair of houses, to cost $8000, on the east side of Underhill street, 221 feet south of Chelton avenue, Twenty-second ward, for David McMahon, owner. Each structure will measure 40x63 feet, have porch fronts and front and rear bay windows. The materials to be used in constructing the front and side walls are Pompeian brick, with galvanized iron bay windows, sone trimmings. Both houses will have slate roofs and be fitted up with hard woods, tile work, modern plumbing, electric fixtures.

Councils' Committee on Finance have passed favorably on ordinances as follows for improvements: Out of the $11,200,000 loan bill $200,000 for police and fire stations, $100,000 for underground electrical work and $50,000 for small parks, and out of general fund $7000 for Councils' clerks for the incidental fund, and $3200 for the City Solicitor's office. The new stations are to be a police and patrol and a fire station, in the Twenty-sixth ward; a police station, Twenty-eighth ward; a fire station, Twenty-fifth ward; a fire station and ground, Twenty-seventh ward, and a patrol station, Thirtieth ward.

Charles Auchter, 1526 Pailey street, has the contract for improvements at 1909 North Twenty-first street, for George Kemmerle, to cost $10,000. The work will consist of the erection of a three-story brick and stone trimmed dwelling, 14.4x66 feet, and a two-story cold storage building, 34x27.6 feet in the rear. The dwelling will contain a vestibule fitted up with marble, mosaic and tile work, hall, parlor, stair hall, dining room, kitchen and shed on the first floor, two bed rooms, stair hall, sitting room, alcove and bath room on the second floor, and four bed rooms and a store room on the third floor. C. Taylor Leland, the last owner of the Doylestown and Willow Grove Railroad, sold recently, through W. G. Mendenhall & Co., 208 South Fourth street, his interest in the road, which he lately purchased from George Gaudy, William Jenks Fell, Thomas F. Deegan, Henry Lear, George Brock and others, consisting of the entire capital stock, $125,000, and $50,000 of notes, issued to the Bucks County Trust Company by the Doylestown and Willow Grove Railroad Company and bought by Leland; also a majority interest in the bond issue. After months of search for a suitable site for a new armory, the members of the First Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry, have determined upon a plot of ground on the west side of Twenty-third street, north of Chestnut, belonging to the estate of Elizabeth C. Phelan. It has a front on Twenty-third street of 92 feet, and runs back along Ransdell street to Twenty-fourth street, giving it a depth of 240 feet. The total area is more than twice the size of the site of the present armory of the troop, at Twenty-first and Ludlow streets. The valuation of the lot is placed at $60,000. The selection of the new site has not been ratified by the members of the troop as a body, but this formality will close the transaction, at its next monthly meeting, October 2, the selection of a site having been entrusted to a committee, with power to act. The matter of selecting an architect and having drawings prepared will be the next consideration.

Announcement is made that the Philopatrian Society, of this city, is to find a permanent home in the big brown stone house on Arch street, above Broad, directly adjoining the new building of the United Gas Improvement Company. Since the Society sold its old building on Twelfth street, below Walnut, it has found temporary quarters on Arch street, above Sixteenth. The directors and members, however, realized that that location was only temporary, and have been casting around for a desirable house, as several days ago when the roomy old house on Arch street was offered for sale Charles F. Sweeney, a member of the Society, bought it in at $35,000, a price which is generally considered to be very low. He then submitted it to the Society, and the officials at a meeting, decided to accept. The big double house is excellently adapted to the requirements of the organization, and will give them one of the finest houses in town. The necessary alterations will be begun at once.

Macey Henderson & Co., 1215 Filbert street, have been awarded the contract for erection of the new workshop and boiler house for ordnance at League Island navy yard, and also for the iron work for the equipment building at the same place. The materials to be used in construction will be brick, iron and slate. The estimated cost is $58,000. The estimated cost for the iron work is $38,000. The above named firm also has the contract to make renovations and additions at George I. Bodine's stable building, Synesed avenue, near Main street, Chestnut Hill. The stable will be built of local stone and have a slate roof. It will measure 44x50 feet, and contain a carriage shed, carriage house, six stalls, a box stall and cow-stable on the first floor, and a shop, living room, kitchen, feed bins and hay and feed storage room on the second floor. The drawings for this work are on the boards for estimates. Drawings are also on the boards at the same office for the two-story sub-station which the Union Traction Company will build on Thirty-second street below Dauphin street.

Ground will be broken at once at Westmoreland and G streets, Kensington, for the handsome stone church and school building for the Roman Catholic Church of the Ascension, which has been noted previously in these columns. The Rev. D. J. Broughal, rector of the new parish, states that the cost of the building will be about $35,000. It will be three stories in height and be built of Port Deposit stone. According to the plans, the structure will be a handsome one, much thought having been given to the architectural features. The first floor will be used as a chapel, having a seating capacity of 1000. On the second and third floors eight classrooms will be arranged, accommodating 1000 children. When the new church is erected, plans for which are yet to be arranged, the first floor of the school building will be used as a hall, with a stage. The boundaries of the new parish have just been announced, and are as follows: Frankford avenue to Orleans street, thence by Indiana avenue to Nicetown lane, to Butler street, to Frankford avenue. This boundary affects the parishioners of the Visitation, the Nativity, St. Joachim's and St. Veronica's Churches. Services are being temporarily held at No. 3018 Kensington avenue, where also is the parochial residence. John Flynn, architect, of Narberth Pa., will likely prepare the plans in detail and supervise construction.

A Bit of History...

It was during the fearful hurricane which swept from existence many ships and hundreds of brave seamen of all nationalities in the harbor of Samoa, when the men of the U. S. Ship Trenton, standing waist deep upon her deck amid the gurgling sea, cheered, while the band played with joy as an English man-of-war's-man passed them and on and out of the harbor in safety.

At a banquet of English Naval Officers soon afterwards the first and regular toast "To the Queen, God bless her,"—when on all such occasions the glass is broken in order that it may never be profaned with a toast less sacred—was drunk, when, with deep earnestness, the toast was given "To the Trenton's men, the bravest of the brave, God bless them," which was drunk in silence, and with one accord every man smashed his glass into fragments.

This is a bit of history, as yet unwritten, until it appeared on this humble page, and it is not our fault that this is so.

Our business is to make and sell the best Hardware on earth, and like the Trenton's men, we yield to no temptation to swerve us from our duty to our customers and their interests.

It is our maxim, you know, that the

Architect Notes.

Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building, have made plans for a stable for the United Gas Improvement Company, to be erected at Eighth and Mifflin streets, to be two stories high, of brick, stone, iron work, and all general conveniences will be introduced. Estimates are being made by Doyle & Doak, 1509 Sansom street, and other contractors.

Charles E. Oelschlager, Architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has awarded the contract for alteration and addition to 1127 Pine street, for A. J. Carr, to Matthew Murray, who will at once begin work. This work will consist of a two-story addition and general alteration to the interior of old structure, with all conveniences.

W. A. Keely, architect, 344 Green Lane Roxborough, has completed plans for a mill for William G. Collins, to be erected at River Road and Umbria street, to cost $15,000. It will be in area 140x123 feet, one story high, and of brick, stone and wood work on interior, fitted with steam, electric work and all general conveniences. John Stimler, contractor, of Manayunk, has the contract.

John F. Stuckert & Sons, architects, 49 North Thirteenth street, have finished plans for the store to be erected by Benj. F. Teller & Bro., at 1835 Chestnut street. It will be four stories high, of brick, stone and iron construction, electric work, plate glass bulks and windows, steam heat, and all modern conveniences. Estimates are being made in office of W. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and other contractors.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1403 Filbert street, has made plans for an electric light plant at Havre de Grace, Md. The structure will be one story high, of brick, stone, iron, and cement work, and fitted with boilers, dynamos, etc. Contractor for the building, E. S. Sentman, of Principio Furnace, Md. Mr. Plack is engaged on plans for fixtures for a large bank building at Kane, Pa., for which he also made the general building plans. Other drawings on boards, which we shall note in the near future by same architect.

Jacob Herold, architect, 441 Chestnut street, has made plans for alterations and additions to the property northeast corner of Eighth and Callowhill streets, for the Kinger Provision Company, of Indianapolis, Ind. The work will consist of an entire new front, and a cold storage and refrigerating plant on interior; also, smoke-houses or rooms are to be arranged, offices are to be fitted up, elevators, electric work, plumbing and general conveniences. Estimates are being asked on the work.

Rankin and Kellogg, architects, 1024 Walnut street, are completing a full detailed set of drawings for the new Chambers Wylie Presbyterian Church, to be erected on Broad street, below Spruce street, by the combined congregation. As indicated in these columns some weeks ago, the contract will likely be awarded in the late fall month of November. The Board of Trustees, Mr. George Allen, President, have ordered some slight modifications in the drawing, after which they will be considered by the building committee, and subsequently by the congregation. The new structure will be a most striking one, built of stone, richly dressed and carved, and the interior possess all the latest and best comforts and improvements, electric work, steam heat and fine upholstery, etc.

Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., architect, Brown Brothers' Building, southeast corner Fourth and Chestnut streets, has awarded the contract to erect the fine residence of Mr. Frank Samuels at the southeast corner of Twenty-second and Locust streets, to Hayes Mendenhall, contractor, 3948 Haverford avenue. The building will be of brick, stone and terra cotta work, and practically four stories high, and cost $25,000. There are to be coppered bays, leaded, plain and fancy glass windows, a green slate roof, and the interior in hardwoods, tile and mosaic work, cement work in cellar, electric work for light and bells, fine decorations, kitchen, laundry, coal storage, refrigerator, wine room, best system of plumbing, and all the latest comforts will be introduced.

Architect Thomas P. Lonsdale has invited contractors to submit proposals for the alterations and additions to Bethany Presbyterian Church, on Bainbridge street, above Twenty-second. A clerestory is to be added over the roof, giving much desired light and air. The galleries are to be rearranged, space for 400 seats being added. The choir and organ will be placed in the rear of the pulpit, and stepped platforms will be built to accommodate 200 singers. Fine new front vestibule entrances are to be erected opening to roomy staircases leading to the galleries. A new two-story building will be erected in the rear for session room purposes. Mr. Lonsdale has also submitted designs to John Wanamaker for approval for a new brick and stone parish house and chapel, to be put up at Twenty-eighth and Morris streets. All of which has been fully noted in these columns some months ago.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Gillinder & Sons, of this city, are erecting a two-furnace glass making exhibition plant on the grounds of the National Export Exposition.

Charles McCaul, contractor, 10 North Eleventh street, has received the contract to build the power houses at the new morocco works of J. P. Mathew & Co., at Tenth and Westmoreland streets. The plans are the work of Architects Hale & Ballinger.

It is announced that Joseph Wharton, of Philadelphia, has bought four acres more land at Beaver Tail, half way on the road to Narragansett Pier. He will put up a big summer hotel, with golf links and sporting grounds. S. W. Stevens, of Philadelphia, also bought the Frederick Anthony cottage, on Green lane, near High street, Jamestown, which has almost 8000 square feet of land attached.

John H. Chestnut has awarded a contract to Mitchell Bros. to make improvements to his property at the northwest corner of Third and Walnut streets. The work, which will be commenced at once, will include the tearing out of the old bulk windows and the corner pier and putting in of five new bulk windows and three new galvanized iron cornices on bulks. The same firm will repair the fire damage at J. Binder's residence, 849 North Forty-eighth-and-one-half street.

Rev. P. J. Dailey, rector of the Roman Catholic Church of the Annunciation, at the southeast corner of Tenth and Dickinson streets, is collecting contributions from his parishioners, to be expended in the renovation of the church. The need has become imperative, and a close estimate of the cost of necessary repairs placed it at $13,000. Among the items included in this estimate are new pews, new flooring and the refrescoing of the walls and ceiling. Father Dailey hopes to start the work in the spring of next year.

Owner J. Renton White has started to build two dwellings at Oak Lane, to cost $8000. Both structures will measure 40x44 feet, and be built of stone, with front and side porches. One house will be built on the lot measuring 70x123 1/2 feet, on the east side of Twelfth street, opposite Sixty-eighth avenue, and the other on the lot, 70x170 feet, on the east side of Eleventh street, 55 feet south of Sixty-ninth avenue. The rooms are nicely laid out and each house will contain a hall, parlor, library, dining room, kitchen and laundry on the first floor, and three chambers, hall, bath room, closets and a front balcony on the second floor.

The Beth Eden Baptist Church property, at the northwest corner of Broad and Spruce streets, and the two adjoining dwellings, Nos. 1409 and 1411, have been sold by William F. Deakyn, real estate broker, 1001 Chestnut street, to a syndicate represented by Samuel B. Huey, for $500,000. William Bryant and Arthur B. Huey are the purchasers. Just what is contemplated in connection with this purchase is not stated, but it is understood that one of several building enterprises now seeking possession will ultimately secure it. With the additional two properties on Spruce street the lot is now 121 feet on Broad street and 116 feet on Spruce street and Ladner street.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT 4, 1899

THERE is a peculiar apathy among real estate men at present, with one singular exception, and this exception is the result of the wonderful energy and resources of the man whose will power and business judgment seem to master conditions to an extent which enables him to wheel off scheme after scheme with a degree of success which will earn for him the cognomen of "the wizard," unless his health breaks or some unlooked for calamity happens.

Mr. Wm. T. B. Roberts has more in hand than any dozen real estate men in the business, and yet his equanimity seems never disturbed, notwithstanding his selling and buying and exchanging, his road and sidewalk construction work, his excavations in a dozen places for a dozen houses for a dozen different people with as many whims and caprices as there are dozens.

His everlasting "push things" is without a let up. He knows how to advertise, and he does it with such a vim and relish that he imparts confidence to the public and educates it to believe in his own taste and likings for pure air, pure water and grass and trees and Roberts' suburban homes.

Buy for cash if you have the cash, but buy now and anyhow. But he also follows his advice up by creating an easy buying method. Select your lot, your house your neighborhood, your environments. Buy it and pay a monthly rental. Keep the score yourself, and every month's rent paid o him makes you nearer to a fee simple ownership.

Glen Side Highlands lies amid the hills. It is a beautiful spot, and its owner knows it, and he is determined that every one shall know it. Mr. Roberts' nerve and courage and business methods and knowledge of human nature are the secret of his success.

MAN is full of idiosyncracies. A few months ago the banks were whooping up the gold standard and the use of the yellow metal. To-day earnest protests are being made by banks and merchants against the shipments of gold as crop moving funds, because the farmers hoard the gold and leave their debts unpaid.

Gold means currency contraction, and as an evil it is even now presenting itself in its worst form. The average man and woman dislikes to give up gold, and the same may truly be said of the banks, for if paper money was plenty gold would be retained.

Secretary of the Treasury Gage has issued nearly seventy millions in gold certificates for crop moving purposes. These, of course, are the same as gold and do not relieve the stringency in the least.

There is, perhaps, no country in the world that needs a large volume of emergency money so much as our own.

It needs it suddenly and without warning. It needs it for the crops, for stock gambling, for expanded commercial necessities. It needs it to protect the people against the sharks who run up call money to 20 per cent. in a single day, and, last, it needs it in order that commercial money should always be plentiful and at low rates.

This is the problem that faces the country, and which should be settled outside of politics, and on a business basis.

Under business development we will need more money to-morrow than we did to-day, and the day after to-morrow more than to-morrow, and while our financiers, our statesmen, our business men, big and little, know this and do a heap of talking, apathy prevails and the country suffers accordingly.

National bank notes figure largely in the bank statements, but keep a tab on the money you handle and form your own conclusions.

Buck Lead.

Messrs. Samuel H. French & Co., Fourth and Callowhill streets, are pushing their buck lead solely on its merits, and it is fair to assume that an old established concern whose antecedents date back for over a half a century, and whose business reputation is valued even more highly than any or all the profit its whole business might be made to yield in another half century, is not going to emphasize the goodness of even its favorite article, without knowing whereof it speaks, to an extent that leaves no room for distrust or doubt.

Buck lead, it is claimed, is the best white paint manufactured. It will outwear pure carbonate of lead twice over. It is unequalled for whiteness and durability. It does not wash off. It does not crack or peel off. It wears longer and looks better, and its challenge to the pure lead manufacturers has never been accepted.

There is an awful lot of meaning in the above statement as to the merits of buck lead, and the truth is, these statements made by Samuel H. French & Co., are based upon their fifty-five years of uninterrupted experience as paint dealers and manufacturers.

It goes without saying that no man will depreciate his own goods, and yet, on the other hand, no firm with the standing and character of this old Philadelphia house would be willing to jeopardize for a second its reputation for fifty-five years, by recommending a product that would not stand up without subterfuge or apology, and meet the most critical investigation under all and every claim made for it, however broad or far reaching.

A Bit of History...

It was during the fearful hurricane which swept from existence many ships and hundreds of brave seamen of all nationalities in the harbor of Samoa, when the men of the U. S. Ship Trenton, standing waist deep upon her deck amid the gurgling sea, cheered, while the band played with joy as an English man-of-war's man passed them and on and out of the harbor in safety.

At a banquet of English Naval Officers soon afterwards the first and regular toast "To the Queen, God bless her,"—when on all such occasions the glass is broken in order that it may never be profaned with a toast less sacred—was drunk, when, with deep earnestness, the toast was given "To the Trenton's men, the bravest of the brave, God bless them," which was drunk in silence, and with one accord every man smashed his glass into fragments.

This is a bit of history, as yet unwritten, until it appeared on this humble page, and it is not our fault that this is so.

Our business is to make and sell the best Hardware on earth, and like the Trenton's men, we yield to no temptation to swerve us from our duty to our customers and their interests.

It is our maxim, you know, that the PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1899. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

P. P. Elkinton, architect, 211 South Sixth street, has awarded the contract for the three-story house at Torresdale avenue and Granite street, to Louis Raffetto, contractor. The house will measure 32x69 feet, to be of frame, and contain all comforts on interior.

Architects Schermerhorn & Reinhold, 430 Walnut street, have prepared plans and specifications for extensive alterations and additions to the residence of S. S. White, at 215 Atlantic avenue, Atlantic City, N. J. The work will consist of interior alterations, bay windows, two bath rooms, alterations to roof and the introduction of all modern conveniences.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, has completed plans for a seaside cottage and stable, to be erected for his use. Both are of frame work, the house 73x43 feet, three stories high, and finished in hardwood on interior with all the latest and best conveniences, etc. Estimates being made in office of Geo. F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper street.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, have on boards for estimate the drawings for the entire heating plant for the Oldham Mills, Allegheny avenue and Boudinot street. The plant will be a large steam one of the most approved kind. Estimates being made in the above office. Other plans by same architects are in course of preparation, which we shall note later on.

Thomas M. Seeds, Jr., contractor, 1216 Race street, is making general estimates on the plans for an apartment house for Miss Ella Clement, at Forthleth and Sansom streets. These were prepared some time ago by Dull and Coates, architects, 1205 Walnut street, and noted previously in these columns. It will be practically four-story, of brick and stone trimmings, and furnished with all the latest comforts and conveniences, including electric work, etc.

The estimates for the improvements to be made at E. Francis Wood's stock barn, at Devon, Pa., have been submitted to Architects Dubring, Okie & Ziegler, 1420 Chestnut street, and the contract for the work will be awarded in a few days. The above-named architects are preparing plans for a two-and-a-half story frame summer cottage to be erected in Massachusetts for a Philadelphian. The house will measure 45x24 feet and it will have front and rear porches and a bay window. The owner's name is withheld for the present.

The drawings for the Continental Trust Co. Building, to be erected at Baltimore, Md., made by D. H. Burnham & Co., architects, of Chicago, Ill., are still on boards for estimate in office of Charles McCaul, 10 North Eleventh street. The structure will be eleven stories high, with a basement, and constructed of stone, brick, iron and terra cotta work, interior to be fitted with elevators, electric work, steam heat and power, mosaic tile and slate work, best systems of ventilating and plumbing, cement work, and all the latest and best conveniences, etc. This work has been noted before in these columns.

Contractors Doyle & Doak, 1509 Sansom street, are taking estimates for the construction of a four-story store and office building at No. 1611 Chestnut street, for Thomas B. Wanamaker. The building will have a frontage of 22 feet, and extend back 155 feet. The rear building will be two stories high. The front up to the second story level is to be of plate glass, and the facade above will be of brick, trimmed with white marble. It will be of steel, and will contain elevators and the usual appointments. Architects Keen & Mead, 1420 Chestnut street, made the plans, and these have been noted previously.

Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., architect, Brown Bros Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, has completed plans for alteration and additions to the house of C. E. Snowden, Esq., at Bryn Mawr, Pa. The work includes cut stone and brick work, iron work, painting and plastering, plumbing of the best system, electric work, Spear range, and all the latest and best comforts and conveniences, etc. Drawings in office of Doyle & Doak, contractors, 1509 Sansom street. Also in same office are the drawings for rebuilding the old Chambers Church, Broad and Sansom streets. Contractors are now taking estimates for practically reconstructing and modernizing the old edifice for Thomas B. Wanamaker. The remodeling is to be after plans drawn by James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street. When completed the building will be used as a newspaper plant. It will be five stories high, and 72x103 feet in dimensions, and will be erected on the structural steel frame plan. New steps and an entrance on Broad street will be built, and the exterior walls will be rough cast, similar to the present. Steam power and electric work, elevators and all general conveniences introduced.

Jacobs & Sansbury, architects, Cumberland, Maryland, have prepared plans for the following buildings, and would be pleased to receive catalogues and samples from manufacturers: Store and office building for Dr. C. C. Jacobs, the building to be three stories high, of brick, stone and iron work. It measures 63.10x65 feet, and will be fitted out with the most modern appliances. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT 11, 1899

On the 5th instant, Judge Allen, in the United States District Court, held at Springfield, Illinois, decided that the Bankruptcy Act was paramount and exclusive in settling all questions.

One Gast, the owner of a valuable farm, on which there were seven different mortgages held by different parties, all of whom had commenced foreclosure proceedings, filed a petition in bankruptcy, with assets amounting to $24,000 and liabilities to $21,000.

H. C. Hamilton, the trustee petitioned the court for order to sell the property free and clear; this the court ordered, ruling as above. The farm is in Macoupin county, Illinois.

The interest expressed in the National Export Exposition must be particularly gratifying to its managers.

The attendance has been large, and the visitors express, as a rule, the greatest satisfaction over the arrangement of the thousands of exhibits, as well as their general high character.

Of course, once in awhile some thoughtless person expresses astonishment because the National Export Exposition is not as large as the World's Fair was at Chicago, but a prolonged stay, together with an effort to obtain the sentiment of visitors, clearly demonstrated popular favor and entire satisfaction. The superb management leaves no room for criticism. Strangers are coming in numbers, and the numbers are daily increasing.

The exhibition means a great deal for Philadelphia and while our manufacturing interests are largely represented there are too many big concerns among the absentees, who seldom get such an excellent opportunity to demonstrate the capabilities of their concerns, as well as the wonderful business and manufacturing resources of the city.

The man, however, who neglects to take a day off in order to give himself and family an Exposition outing makes a mistake.

The issue raised by the City Treasurer, as to the city licenses for the amusement end of the Exposition had better be relegated to the Board of Managers, for while the City Treasurer is perhaps technically correct in making the issue, the Exposition is after all a city affair, and its managers the representatives of the city, hence, any contracts made for no matter what end of the show should be allowed to stand.

Exhibit D, No. 20, Main Building.

Exhibit D, No. 20, Main Building of the National Export Exposition is devoted to a display of Ludlow Valves and Fire Hydrants, by Messrs. Frank W. Dilks & Co., 518 Arch street, Philadelphia.

While there is not much in a display of this character that appeals to the pleasures of humanity, there is in it, however, a deep and solid claim upon the attention of those who comprehend the importance of mechanical science when applied to the uses and betterment of mankind. The Ludlow gate valves are now recognized as the valve par excellence, from the fact that they can be relied on under all conditions, the mechanical principle of their construction being entirely free from complications there is absolutely nothing to get out of order consequently their efficiency and durability are assured at the time of selection.

This feature is so important when associated with water works, steam and gas plants that engineers of experience always give a decided preference to the Ludlow valves.

It is a point worth mentioning, that every valve used in the power house and other Exposition buildings is of the Ludlow make and through a recognition of this fact those who are interested can see the valves in constant use, and under about every practical test and condition for which any gate valve is used.

While there is not much room for sentiment in the shape of a fire hydrant, there is a wonderful difference among those that are upon the market, as well as those in general use. There are the freezeable and the non freezeable kind and the Ludlow slide gate hydrant is the single one that will not freeze even in the coldest weather. Its automatic grip at the bottom so thoroughly drains it that freezing is impossible.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Geo. W. Kelly, 121 South Seventh street, builder, has taken title to two plots of ground at the northeast and northwest corners of Twenty-ninth and Cumberland streets, being 500x65 feet and 500x65 feet. Both are to be improved by houses in the near future.

William F. Harrity, William Wilkins Carr and a number of other Philadelphia capitalists have purchased the Bonnevillie Cement Mills, at Siegfried's. The consideration was $400,000 cash. The owners will greatly enlarge the capacity of the mills.

John Sibbald, of Fox Chase, has awarded contracts to Joseph Ashby for the construction of four three story dwellings on the north side of Loney street, west of Kensington and Oxford pike. These houses are each to be 11x67 feet in dimensions, and will cost about $10,000.

An addition is to be made to the dye-house and office of the Germania Dye Works, northeast corner of Kensington and Allegheny avenues. Harry Kamp has the contract, and will begin work at once, the plans having been approved by the Bureau of Building Inspection.

Henry G. Schultz & Son, owners, will commence work at once on the erection of three three story brick dwellings, each 11.8x57 feet, at 3337, 3339 and 3341 North Fifteenth street. Each house will have bay windows in front and galvanized iron cornices. The estimated cost is $9900.

Plans are on the boards at the Master Builders' Exchange for a new parish school, which will be erected at Twenty fifth street and Lehigh avenue, for the congregation of the Church of St. John the Divine. Architect a George Nattress & son, 430 Walnut street, made the plans.

Operative Builder John Devlin has started to build eighteen dwellings, to cost $30,600, on the east side of Rosewood street, 64 feet south of Porter street, in the Twenty-sixth ward. The houses will be two stories high and each will measure 15x40 feet. They will have brick fronts trimmed with stone.

The temporary home of the North Presbyterian Church, Broad street and Allegheny avenue, was dedicated Sunday last with appropriate exercises, and the services will continue throughout this week. The edifice is a neat and attractive structure, and will be replaced by a handsome stone church, which it is proposed to erect next spring.

Contractor G. R. Kurrie is furnishing and erecting the iron work at Schaun & Uhlinger's foundry, which is in course of construction at Second street and Glenwood avenue. The building is 54 feet wide and 152 feet long, with a three-story pattern shop and finishing room adjoining. William Steele & Sons are the general contractors for this work.

Record has been made of the transfer by the Foulke & Long Institute to the University of Pennsylvania of the property at the northeast corner of Thirty-fourth and Locust streets, lot 210.9, x500.09 feet, for $112 50. The former school buildings will be utilized for laboratory purposes, and ultimately the entire site will contain fine structures.

Owner George A. Bilyeu has started to build a three-story brick store and dwelling, and twelve two-story brick dwellings, at 2901 Park avenue, to cost $41 000. The store and dwelling will measure 16x50 feet, and it will be erected at 2901 Park avenue, and the twelve houses will be put up at 2903 to 2925 Park avenue. Each house will measure 15x42 feet.

Charles McCaul, 10 North Eleventh street, has plans on the boards for a new station for the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad at Chadds Ford, Pa.; George F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper street, for a stable to be built at Spring Lake, N. J., and Thomas Reilly, Harrison Building, for a school for the Church of the Ascension, on Westmoreland street.

Wynne, Prince & Co., real estate operators, 1116 Betz Building, want bids for the erection of forty-two two-story houses, to be built in the Fortieth ward. Also for forty-eight semi-suburban houses, to be built in pairs at Eighth and Ruscomb streets, in the Twenty-second ward. These will be unusually attractive modern cottage houses, with front and side porches, large yards, etc.

The Committee of Councils on Schools met on the 3d inst. and considered a large number of bills making transfers to the Board of Education, to condemn property in various sections of the city for school purposes, and making appropriation for the purchase of sites and making alterations and additions to school houses. Nearly all the bills were referred to sub committees for a report.

Globe Artificial Stone Paving Company, 1125 Betz Building, John F. Galbraith, proprietor, has the contract for all cement work on fifty three-story dwellings now in course of erection at Sixteenth and Lehigh avenue for Mr. John Loughran; also contract to finish all cement work on William Morris' operation of fifty-two dwellings at Fifty-second and Jefferson streets.

George F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper street, have started to lay the foundations for a six-story office building at the southeast corner of Thirteenth and Chestnut streets, for De Long & Bros., owners, to cost $35,000. It

A Philosopher

The man who said that steady, dogged concentrated work solves most of the problems of life, however intricate, was a true philosopher, whether he knew it or not.

Don't You Know that this is the secret, the only secret about the wonderful success of Bailey's Pure Rye?

For over a quarter of a century we have persistently clung to the single idea of quality, and, while we knew the wonderful goodness of Bailey's Pure Rye, it was our constant hammering that made the buying and consuming public know of it.

We ask you to give it a trial, that's all. A single trial and it will surely gain your favor and your earnest and unqualified recommendation.

was intended to make alterations to the old building, but when the contractors began that work it was decided to tear down the building and erect a new one in its place.

Charles McCaul will begin work at once on extensive improvements at 406 Market street, to cost $6000, for the Bell Telephone Company. The work will consist of cutting a cable shaft in the first and second floors, extending the gallery in the third floor, making a new entrance to the gallery from the Market street stairway, lowering the fourth floor, extending the sheet iron air duct in the first story, and putting in new partitions on the third floor.

B. Ketcham's Son has filed plans with Structural Engineer Clark, of the Bureau of Building Inspection, for the two-story warehouse which he will build on the south side of Market street, west of Twentieth street, for William Weightman. The building will measure 194x37 feet, and when completed it will be occupied by Gimbel Bros. The estimated cost is $50,000. Architect W. G. Hale made the drawings, which have been fully described in these columns.

Builder William F. Albrecht, 30-8 Diamond street, has completed all arrangements for the erection of eight two-story brick dwellings and a two-story brick store and dwelling at the northeast corner of Napa and Huntington streets. The dwellings will each measure 14x40 feet, and contain seven rooms and the store and dwelling will measure 15x40 feet. These structures will be built on one end of Mr. Albrecht's brick yard, which will eventually be built up with houses.

Plans have been filed with Engineer Clark by Contractor Charles McCaul for work to cost $45,500, as follows: J. P. Mathieu & Co.'s power house, Westmoreland street, east of Tenth street, $30,000; sub-station No. 5, for the Union Traction Company, two-story brick building, 42x50 feet, southeast corner of Fifth and Lombard streets, $15,000, and one-story log cabin, 13x19 feet, at Thirty-third and Westmoreland streets, Wissahickon Heights, for William J. Latta, $500, all of which has been fully noted before.

Macey Henderson & Co., 1215 Filbert street, have been awarded the contract for the erection of the plate-bending shop at League Island Navy Yard. The work will cost about $70,800. The same contractors are building the Union Traction Company's sub-station and printing office on the east side of Ninth street, above Dauphin street. They are also taking bids for the cement and vitrified brick floors at this operation, and for a two-story blacksmith shop and machine shop at Front and Ellen streets.

The Female Society of Philadelphia for the Relief and Employment of the Poor, have signed a contract with Machin & Brown to make extensive alterations and improvements to the building at the southeast corner of Seventh and Race streets. The floor in the front portion of the building will be lowered, the door on Race street will be closed up and a bulk window and entrance doors will be put in on Seventh street. The interior partitions will be rearranged and a new stairway, to be inclosed with corrugated iron, will be built from the yard to the second floor. The estimated cost is $2500.

Architect Powell is now engaged in preparing the annual estimate for 1900, for the Public Buildings. The amount asked for will probably be as usual, $2,000,000, but it is not likely that Councils will appropriate more than half that sum. This will be divided in four items, one of which, will be that of maintenance, which amounts annually to over $250,000. This, when completed, will be first submitted at the meeting to be held by the Commission in November, after which it will go to the Finance Committee of Councils, to be considered when the annual municipal appropriations are taken up.

M. P. Wells and Co., 1420 Chestnut street, and William R. Dougherty, 1604 Sanson street, are taking bids for the erection of a new public school house at Fifty-first street and Greenway avenue. The building will be three stories high and contain four class rooms, seven on each floor. William R. Dougherty has secured a permit to put up two fire escapes at the southeast corner of Twelfth and Spruce streets; Joseph Myers, a fire escape, at 1128 and 1130 Walnut street, and William Purling & Co., a fire escape at the Episcopal Academy, at the southwest corner of Juniper and Locust streets.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which has applied to the Board of Port Wardens for permission to extend Pier 43, Washington avenue, to the new Port Wardens' line in the Delaware River, will begin the work as soon as the request shall be granted. The new pier will be 685 feet in length and 100 feet wide, leaving a dock on the south side of 200 feet. The company will remove Pier 47, thus making the space between Pier 46 and 48 about 180 feet. This improvement has been contemplated by the Pennsylvania Railroad for some time. The enlarged pier will give increased facilities for the docking of large ocean steamers, and the river front will be correspondingly improved. It is stated that in addition to extending Pier 48, Pier 46 will be lengthened to 657 feet.

Plans have been perfected by Thomas H. Green, owner of the hotel in this city bearing his name, to erect a mammoth hotel at Atlantic City, capable of accommodating 1000 guests. The new hotel will be directly on the beach, with a frontage of 100 feet, extending from Tennessee to Ocean avenues. The depth will be 485 feet. The Waldorf-Astoria, which was opened on June 18 last, has been purchased, and will be utilized as the north wing of the new structure. It is six stories high and of buff brick, with brownstone trimmings. The new wing will be built to correspond. When completed Mr. Green thinks the hotel will be worth fully $600,000. The Green Hotel Company, of Philadelphia, having the work in charge, was incorporated at Trenton on the 4th inst., with a capital stock of $450,000. The incorporators are Thomas H. Green, of Philadelphia; William F. Eldell, John Walmsley and George H. B. Marten, of Camden. Mr. Green is president of the stock company.

The supplemental ordinance amending the $2,000,000 loan bill, providing for the widening of Delaware avenue so as to extend the improvement north from Vine street to Green, became a law on the 5th inst, when Mayor Ashbridge affixed his signature to the document. This action of the Chief Executive is all that is necessary to enable the work of extension to be proceeded with as far as permit. It is not thought, however, that actual operations in the way of widening the thoroughfare will be started until the Spring, but this will not prevent the owners of wharf properties in the section referred to from preparing plans and making all the necessary arrangements for extending their piers to the new Port Wardens' line. The preliminary plans for the widening were prepared some time ago under the direction of Chief Webster, of the Bureau of Surveys, and the specifications will in a short time be drafted for the work by the Department of Public Works, so that proposals can be advertised for and contracts awarded before the close of the present year. This work has been fully noted previously in these columns.

Councils' Committee on Schools considered a number of ordinances on the 3d inst, providing for the purchase of ground and the erection of schools, referring them all to the Finance Committee with favorable recommendations. The locations are as follows: Olney, Sixty-first street and Columbia avenue, Thirty-first and Sanson streets, Moyamensing avenue and Morris street, Sixteenth street and Erie avenue, Thirty-first street and Lehigh avenue, Hunting Park avenue, Edgmont and Huntingdon street, Boudinot street and Ludiana avenue, Broad and Green streets. For the erection of schools on ground owned by the city, in the Twenty-first and Thirty-sixth wards, and for additions to the following schools: Northwest Grammar, Adair School, Belmont School, Close School and A. S. Jenks School. The request of the Board of Education, asking that $21,756 be provided for furnishing the new Central High School as far as that amount will go, was reported favorably to the Finance Committee. The money is to be taken from the Loan bill. An ordinance appropriating $52,000 for repaving sidewalks about the schools was sent to the Finance Committee. The committee accepted the invitation of Thomas Meekin to inspect the schools in the Twenty-second ward. After considerable discussion on the 3d inst concerning the troublesome Twenty-eighth ward school site question, the Committee on Property have adopted a resolution recommending to the Board of Education the acceptance of the lot at Twenty-eighth and Huntington streets at $22,000. The date of settlement, according to the resolution, will be January 1. The Thirty-fourth ward school site was again brought forward, and a resolution presented by Mr. Rhodes was adopted. It recommended the purchase of the lot at Fifty-eighth and Haverford streets for $17,000. The following lots in the Thirty-first ward were presented to the committee: Nos. 2207, 2209, 2211 East York street, and 2208 Boston avenue, for the sum total of $14,490.

In considering the estimates for this year, which task has but recently been completed, a committee of the Board of Education of this city having the subject in charge decided to make another appeal to Councils for money to make a number of needed permanent improvements. The entire estimate submitted foots up a total expenditure of $9,119,714.51, of which $1,233,980 is for permanent improvements, and which is $265,772.61 more than was appropriated during the current year, including the $900,000 out of the big loan. Of the total amount $3,886,634.51 is for the general expenses of that branch of the city government, $3,491,435 being for salaries of teachers and pay of additional teachers, the remaining $1,233,980 being for permanent improvement, enumerated as follows: Third section, purchase property adjoining the Florence school house, $50,000; Fifth section, purchase property adjoining the Wharton school house, $10,000; Fifth section, additional story to the Horace Binney school house, $15,000; Sixth section, improvement of building on Union street, $10,000; Tenth section, purchase property adjoining the Agnew school house, $15,000; Twelfth section, purchase property, for entrance to Paxson school house, $15,000; Twelfth section, purchase property west side of Saunders school house, for yard, $7,000; Fourteenth section, new building to replace Hancock school house, $75,000; Fifteenth section, purchase additional ground adjoining the Thomas Wood school house, $15,000; Eighteenth section, purchase lot adjoining the Douglas school house, $5,000; Eighteenth section, purchase lots adjoining the Adair school house, $5,000; Nineteenth section, new building to replace Megaree school house, $70,000; Twentieth section, purchase property adjoining the James Lynd school house on the north, for additional yard room, $10,000; Twentieth section, purchase properties in rear of Daniel Webster school house, for additional yard room, $8,000; Twenty-first section, new, twenty-one division building, to Exhibit Section D, Nos. 4 and 5, South Pavilion, National Export Exposition.

A modern house with the old fashion black hardware would look as odd as this paragraph does without stops.

And the above statement is no joke, either.

It is doubtful if there is anything in the construction of a modern house that represents so much progression as American hardware.

The bricks, the plaster, the woodwork, are about the same as they were in ye olden times.

The architecture, style, internal and external finish, in many cases, are but a revival of the colonial of a century ago.

Hardware is a distinctive feature in modern house-building and even where the colonial is imitated there is beauty, style, finish and individuality, particularly in the

that emphasizes itself to an extent that becomes quite as assertive as the most elaborate decorations or costly embellishments.

Our Exhibit Section D, Nos. 4 and 5, South Pavilion, of the National Export Exposition, is a veritable exhibition of American progression, for it voices the genius, care, symmetrical proportion and ornate beauty embodied in the products of the American manufacturer.

Our aim has been to make our exhibit an object lesson and we have utilized our space in showing the best collection of artistic hardware to be found in the world, without a single exception.

We submit our exhibit to your critical inspection, confident of the result through comparison.

Buy it, try it, and you will use no other.

Yours respectfully,

Architect Notes.

Stacey Reeves & Sons, contractors, are to make estimates on an armory, library and mechanical building for the West Virginia Institute, at Morgantown, W. Va. Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building, this city, made the plans for all the work.

William Steele & Sons, 506 Walnut street, have the contract for the erection of the buildings at Third and Westmoreland streets, for the Bernstein Manufacturing Co. The drawings were made by Architect J. F. Stuckert & Son, 49 North Thirteenth street.

Plans are being prepared by Architect Charles E. Oelschlaeger, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, of this city, for a three-story stone and frame dwelling, 30x60 feet, which Charles R. Schaefer will have built at Centerton, Salem county, N. J.

The drawings for the Eppworth M. E. Church, to be erected at Race and Vogdes streets, will be completed during the current week, and contractors are to be asked for bids. It will be of stone and brick, slate roof, with steam heat, electric work, leaded and plain glass, etc.

Emsley Bros. have accepted the drawings of Architect Peter Kuhn for a three-story brick light storage building, 32x37 feet, to be erected on the south side of Letterly street, east of Jasper street, in the Thirtieth ward. Contractors Hothersall & Cloak have the contract and the work is now going on.

Architect Robert T. Rasmussen has completed plans and ground has been broken for six private residences at Centreville, N. J. C. Dahl is the owner, and bids are being received at the office of Charles Ackley. The style is English half-timbered work, with all modern conveniences. They will cost about $12,000.

Guy King, architect, 431 Walnut street, has completed the drawings for the building of an office structure at 112 South Fourth street, for E. Jones, owner. The work will consist of a new front three-stories high, and general interior work, with all conveniences. Geo. F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper street, has the contract.

Benjamin H. Barton, architect, 1011 Weighman Building, 151 Chestnut street, has made plans for addition to the shade factory at Twenty-second street and Allegheny avenue. It is 25x165 feet in area and will embrace in the work, masonry, cement work, iron work and general conveniences, etc. The contracts will be awarded at once and work begun.

The contract for the improvements to Francis R. Wood's stock barn, at Devon, according to plans prepared by Architects Duhring, Okie & Zeigler, has been awarded to William H. Burns, of Berwyn, Pa. The above named architects have submitted set of drawings in the competition for a building to be erected at Scranton, Pa., for the Y. M. C. A., to cost in the neighborhood of $150,000. All noted previously.

The drawings of Architect W. Trumbower for the four-story brick office building, which Murrell Dobbins will have erected at 1511 Sansom street, have been approved by structural Engineer Clark, of the Bureau of Building Inspection. Contractor George L. Sibbs, 212 South Seventh street, has secured a permit for the work. The building will measure 13.8x38.2 feet, and estimated cost is $6500. Previously noted in these columns.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have completed plans for a fine house, to be erected at Ocean City, N. J., for R. T. Holmes. It will be frame and shingle work, with all the latest improvements introduced on interior. Estimates are to be made on the work at once. Also work on preliminary drawings for a house to be erected at Deal, N. J. It will be of frame, with all the latest and best conveniences introduced. Also drawings for a residence and stable at Frankford, to be brick and stone.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 1599 Sansom street, have received the contract for the new five-story printing house, to be erected at Broad and Sansom streets, after plans by James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street. Previously noted in these columns in full. Also from Thomas B. Wanamaker, a contract to erect the office building at 1611 Chestnut street, and alteration and additions to 2009 Walnut street, both from plans by Kean & Mead, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, and which have also been noted previously in this journal.

Architect and Engineer Amos W. Barnes, 904 Walnut street, has finished plans for extensive alterations, additions, and improvements at the building recently purchased by the vestry of St. Stevens' P. E. Church, Manayunk. The building is located on Terrace street, near Hermit street and it will be thoroughly overhauled. The improvements will consist of an addition to the first story on the side, a reception hall, large colonial porch, remodeling the stairways adding two bay windows, steam heating plant, etc. When the work is completed the structure will be used as a rectory. The drawings will be ready for estimates shortly.

In the office of Seymour Davis, architect, 907 Walnut street, contractors are making estimates on drawings for the High School Building, to be erected at Chester, Pa. The structure is to be of stone, three-stories high, cut stone work, brick work, and fire proof material on interior. Specifications call for tile work, cement work, electric work, heat to be estimated in two ways, by steam and by hot-air furnace. All the latest and best improvements will be introduced, including new methods of ventilation and best system of plumbing. The bids are to be sent to Mr. Joseph Oliver, Chairman Building Committee, Chester High School, Chester, Pa., by November 1st, when they will be opened and the award made shortly thereafter.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Maconaghys Brothers, builders, will at once erect ten dwellings on Liumore street, west of Sixty-ninth, each to be 14x28 feet, two stories high, and of fine faced brick, stone trimmings and best comforts on interior.

Charles J. Heckler, owner and builder, has started excavation for fifteen two-story dwellings on south side of Mayfield street, west of Twentieth; also, two on Toronto street, east of Woodstock, all to be of press brick, stone facings and on interior best comforts and conveniences, heaters, ranges, etc.

Extensive alterations are to be made to the Star and Gaiety Theatre, Nos 237 to 245 North Eighth street, for S. Zweigholt, owner, from plans by Ambrose Beck, architect. A new iron front is to be erected, and the interior is to be altered and renovated. H. Thron has the contract for the work, which will cost about $8500.

Charles Bowditch has signed a contract and will commence work at once on alterations at St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church Sunday School, at the northwest corner of Harvey and Wayne streets, Germantown. The work will consist of changing the location of the interior partitions and heat registers, minor repairs and the installation of new toilet rooms.

Wynne, Prince & Co., 1116 Betz Building, are receiving bids for the erection of forty-two small houses, to be built in the Fortieth ward; also for forty-eight semi-suburban houses to be built in pairs at Eighth and Ruscomb streets, in the Twenty-second ward. These will be unusually attractive modern cottage houses, with front and side porches, large yards, etc.

The Property Committee of the Board of Education received bids last week for the erection of a new school at Fifty-first and Greenway avenue, in the Fortieth Section. The bids were extraordinarily large, the rise in the price of iron causing the difference. The lot on which the school is to be built is 15 feet below grade, and will have to be filled up. The awarding of the contract was postponed. The new fifteenth division schools, at Sixteenth and Porter streets, and at Ontario and "G" streets, which are of similar design, cannot be used until the pavements and ceilings are done. About $32,000 is needed for this purpose, and the two schools named will be idle until the money is forthcoming for that purpose.

An important transfer of a building was recently made in Butte county, Nebraska.

The court house at Hemmingford, a two-story frame building, 40 x 50, feet and estimated to weigh 100 tons, was loaded on cars and transported to Alliance, a distance of twenty miles.

The work was done under the supervision of Mr. E. W. Bell, of Lead City, South Dakota.

Mr. Bell's description of his work is best given in his own words:

"I prepared the building for loading on four set of trucks; on the inside I built four semi-elliptical trusses, one over each truck, bolted through the floor to a sand board.
The building was equipped with air brakes and held in position from swaying by a set of double block and falls over each corner and brought down to the opposite side of a 60,000-pound capacity coal car loaded with coal. Another car similarly loaded served to hold the building in place on the other side. Then, when all was ready, engine No.
185 pulled out, and the building began its journey. On straight sections of the line we made over ten miles an hour, but in turning corners and on curves we thought it better to slow down. The entire distance of twenty miles was traveled in two hours and a half."

It is estimated that with rollers and skids it would have taken at least two months to have completed the work.

The building was not injured in the slightest degree. It was moved because the county seat had been changed by a vote of the people.

Literary Note.

The College Man's number of the The Saturday Evening Post (of Philadelphia), though planned primarily to appeal to university men, past and present, will interest all who care for the short story at its best. Robert W. Chambers, in "The Spirit of the North," tells of the adventures of a party of Columbia naturalists and their quest of the disguise—hitherto supposed to be extinct—in the unknown country behind the Hudson Mountains. This story is a rather remarkable combination of exciting action and inimitable humor. Charles Macomb Flandrau (author of Harvard Episodes), contributes "Prince Protococoff and the Press Club," an irresistibly funny episode of Cambridge life. Jesse Lynch Williams (author of Princeton Stories and the Stolen Story), chronicles "The Great College-Circus Fight," between Princeton students and a passing Wild West Show; and Arthur Hobson Quinn (author of Pennsylvania Stories) tells the story of "The Last Five Yards." Among other contributors to the number are President Benjamin Wheeler, who discusses the regulation of college athletics; Thomas Wentworth Higginson, who describes the college life of our grandfathers, and President Nathaniel Butler, of Colby College. The College Man's Number will be on all news-stands October 26th.

AUGUST was a bad month for the insurance offices; but the underwriters expected that such would be the case, from the fact that this year the fire loss has been heavier by nearly $12,000,000 than that in the same months in 1897 and 1898. The following table shows the losses during the eight months of the present year, and to it are appended, by way of comparison, those of the two years preceding:

	18-7	1898	1899
January	12,049,700	9,472,500	$10,718,000
February	8,676,750	12,629,300	18,469,000
March	10,572,957	7,645,200	11,493,000
April	10,833,000	8,211,000	9,213,000
May	10,193,600	11,072,200	9,091,000
June	5,684,450	9,206,900	6,714,800
July	6,626,300	8,919,750	11,426,400
August	6,453,950	7,793,500	9,703,700

Totals. $71,021,700 $74,900,350 $86,829,850

The August fires in which the loss was from $10,000 upward were 146 in number.
Their degrees of destructiveness were as follows: From $10,000 to $20,000, forty-three; $20,000 to $30,000, thirty-nine; $30,000 to $50,000, twenty; $50,000 to $75,000, sixteen; $75,000 to $100,000, fifteen; $100,000 to $200,000, fifteen; $200,000 to $1,100,000, eight—total, 146. The most destructive fires were those at Victor, Col.—town—$1,000,000; Carrollsville, Pa.—tannery—$ 90,000; Chicago Ill.—paint and oil warehouse, and Newark,
N. J.—electric car barns—$300,000 each;
James'own, N. Y.—axe works and other —$284,000. Glen's Falls, N. Y.—cement works; Placerville, Idaho entire town;
Lockport, N. Y.—iron bedstead factory—$250,000 each.—Fire and Water.

The Trust Conference.

To those "cock-sure" individuals who know the right and wrong of every question—to those sublimely certain political economists who are accustomed to see the country saved or lost at every quadrennial election—the solution of such a simple question as the trust problem is merely a matter of mental arithmetic—twice two are four, two from four leaves two, two into four goes twice—and there you are. But the recent conference at Chicago, whither, perhaps, a great many delegates went with "twice two-are-four" solutions in their pockets, revealed the fact that this problem is not one of the twice-two-are-four order. No sooner did they begin to rattle off their solutions than some other fellow quickly pointed out the fact that this is not a problem for mental arithmetic, but a proposition in calculus, while some other fellow would get up and demonstrate that it is a question involving the fourth dimensions, and therefore beyond solution.

Whatever may be the outcome of the trust movement, it is safe to say that it will be but little affected by academical or political conferences. It will run its course, for good or ill, its persistence or desistence being determined by its conformity with the general laws of economic evolution. If it is a good thing for humanity it will persist in spite of academical and political societies; if it be a harmful thing for humanity it will desist, in spite of hades and the "plutocrats" of Wall Street and London. Would it not be judicious for the present at least, to adopt the advice of the shrewd 'old doctor of the law?' "If this counsel or this word be of men, it will come to naught; but if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it."—Drugs, Oils and Paints.

The Danger in Trusts

Ex-United States Senator William D. Washburn, of Minnesota, says:

"The present situation, to the good citizen, the good Republican and the man who loves his country, is really alarming, and it is more largely owing to the rapid formation of what is called the trust than to any other agency.
First, this trust craze has changed the whole nature of doing things.

"When I was a young man—I am now sixty-eight—I had the world before me and there was absolutely a fair field for me. Take all our most successful business men of to-day, and their experiences were like mine. They entered the race without a handicap, and their grit and capacity won. Now this building up of trusts puts a stop to fair and equal opportunities for the young men of to-day. The young man just out of college has no opening as a rule. He cannot begin business on his own account against organized capital. He must join the procession. He must content himself with being a mere clerk, and the chances are that he will never get any further, because there are so many in his class. This makes the situation a serious one, and I am sorry for the young man of to-day. I have studied the situation and I'm sure of what I am saying.

"The present industrial tendency amounts to almost a craze for trusts. There is hardly anything in the industrial line that has not been tackled by the promoters of the trusts. All the promoters care for us is to get up these combinations, palm them off on an uninitiated public and then get out of them, after making all the money they can. The worst feature of the industrial trust of to-day is that nearly

of Chestnut street, 100 feet west of Eighteenth street, from Thomas H. Belcher for $150,000.

Mr. Joseph L. Caven, President of the Real Estate, Title and Trust Company, arrived from Europe on the Fuerst Bismarck on Saturday morning last.

George W. Frederick has commenced work on the erection of a two-story brick storage building, 70x115 feet, at 1327 to 1333 Germantown avenue, for W. Burk & Bros., owners. The estimated cost is $15,000.

The Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company will build a new passenger station at Port Clinton, Pa. The drawings for this work can be seen at Contractors Ryan & Kelley's office, 8 South Broad street.

Owner and Builder Charles L. Turner is at work putting up two two-story brick dwellings, each 13.9x26 feet, on the northwest side of Brunner street, 40 feet northeast of Clarissa street, in the Thirty-eighth ward.

The Lewis Motor Vehicle Manufacturing Company has purchased the property measuring 173.41 by irregular depth, on the southwest side of Canal street, 76.5 feet southeast of Thompson street, from Walter K. Clarke, for $23,000.

Architects Field & Medary, 1414 South Penn Square stated yesterday afternoon that work on the plans for Edward L. Blabon's residence, to be built at Overbrook, was progressing rapidly, and they will invite bids for the work in a short while.

D. R. Evans, contractor, 1918 Westmoreland street, will at once erect a two-story mill for the Pabst & Co. brewery, Allegheny avenue, below Twentieth street. The plans are made by B. A. Barton, architect, and call for brick, stone, iron and cement work.

Builder John R. Wiggins will build two additional stories to the plant of Emanuel Printz, at Schiller and Tophin streets, to cost $2500, and J. Franklin Stuckert & Sons, architects, for alterations to the city's fire engine repair shop, at Juniper and Race streets.

On the west side of Livingston street, 156.4 feet north of Wilmot street, Owner George W. Roberts will build a two-story brick store and dwelling, 16x40 feet, and five two-story houses on the same thoroughfare, 86.4 feet north of Wilmot street. Each house will measure 14x40 feet.

M. P. Wells & Co., 1420 Chestnut street, are taking bids on drawings by Architect Frank R. Watson, for a two-story store and office building, for Peter Wool & Son, at Mascher and Berks streets, and on drawings for alterations and additions at 1128 Walnut street, for the J. L. Mott Iron Works.

The School Committee of Councils met at the City Hall on the Thirteenth inst., and resumed the consideration of the estimate for the Board of Education for next year. The total amount asked for is about $5,000,000, $1,500,000 of which is for new school buildings and the alteration and additions to old structures.

The Philadelphia Electric Company has been incorporated with a capital of $25,000,000.

This Country of Ours

Is a very extensive proposition when taken as a whole. It is peopled by a race that exhausts daily more nerve energy than any other under the sun.

There is no mystery in the secret of the wonderful recuperative power of the American.

Physical and mental forces would soon exhaust themselves were it not for the constant rehabilitation of wasted nerve energy through their food and drink.

The influence of meat in this respect is vastly more potential than most men recognize.

Bailey's Pure Rye

Is held in high esteem among medical men as a wonderful tonic. Taken after meals it prevents fermentation and promotes digestion. It is both food and drink for the weak and debilitated, and as a pleasant, wholesome beverage it has no equal.

Age alone controls the price—75c., $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00.

to manufacture and supply gas, electricity, light, heat, steam, compressed and liquefied air, power, ice, cold storage, etc. Incorporators: Edwin Hand, Jr., Germantown; J. Morton Fulz, Frazer, Pa., and William H. Jolly, Camden.

Contractor William Milnor will commence at once to build a two-story brick dwelling, 20x50 feet, on the lot 20x100 feet, at the southeast corner of Orthodox and Cambridge streets, Frankford, and he is now at work putting up a two-story brick stable, 10.4x16.4 feet, in the rear of the southeast corner of Cumberland and Cedar streets.

The Episcopal Parish, at Bustleton, has awarded a contract to Albert A. Kuhn to erect a one-story frame chapel, 12 feet high, to measure 20x40 feet, on the south side of New street, west of Bustleton, and Somerton pike, Somerton. The building will have a shingle roof, and be heated with hot air. The estimated cost is $1200.

Contractor Philip Halbach has the contract to build a two-story brick building, 87x53 feet, on the south side of Ingersoll street, east of Twenty-fourth street, to be used as a wagon house and carpenter and paint shop by Charles and William Freihof, owners. The estimated cost is $8000, and work will be commenced on the 30th instant.

Two buildings, Nos. 122 and 124 Naudain street, fell with a crash to the foundations last week, and are a wreck. Also a two-story brick factory in the rear of these fell at the same time. There are a number of other adjacent properties condemned, as they are frame and very old. For the latter, it is understood, Senator Becker is the agent in charge.

J. Renton White has completed arrangements for the erection of two two-and-a-half story dwellings, one at the northwest corner of Twelfth street and Oak Lane, the other on the west side of Twelfth st, north of Oak Lane. Each house will measure 40x34 feet, and the corner house will be built entirely of stone, while the other will be constructed of stone and frame.

G. Watkinson & Co. has filed plans with Engineer Clark, of the Bureau of Building Inspection, for a two-story and basement factory building, 154.2x117 feet, and a back building, 40x20 feet, on the west side of Schuylkill avenue, below Reed street. It is to be of brick, stone and iron work, wooden floors and beams. All conveniences will be introduced on the interior.

Now that a loan of $100,000 for improved street paving has been voted by Gloucester City, the residents of that place are keenly interested in City Council's selection of paving material. The prevailing sentiment is in favor of sheet asphalt, but it is reported that City Councils will select either Belgian blocks or cobble stone. This may arouse strong opposition, and result in legal complications.

Councils Committee on Fire and Health have approved the budgets of both of those bureaus for 1900. The Bureau of Fire asks for $1,049,656.75, as against $888,500 appropriated for the current year. The increase is caused by several new companies to be instituted, with the necessary increase in the force and in new apparatus. The Bureau of Health asks for $211,320, as against $211,071.17 appropriated for 1899.

The DeWitt Moore Gospel Association has purchased the plot of ground on Germantown avenue, extending through to Sixth street, on which its present building now stands. The Board of Managers intend to use this site, which cost them $8000, for a new building, to be devoted to purposes entirely new in this city. It is the intention to have the building four stories high, and modeled after the general plan of similar missions in London, England. Steps have been taken to carry these plans into effect.

The Feltonville Real Estate Company has completed arrangements for the erection of twenty brick dwellings in the Twenty-second ward, to cost $30,000. W. A. Margerem has the contract for the work, and he will commence excavating to-morrow. The houses will each measure 15x42 feet, and they will be built on lots each measuring 18x95 feet, on the north side of Loudon street, 12 feet west and 8 feet east of A street. It is understood that the company will build sixty-four more houses in the same locality.

In his annual report to the Secretary of the Navy, Chief Constructor Hieborn lays special stress upon the importance of continuing the work of improving the plants at the various navy yards, inviting particular attention to that at League Island, where he suggests that a marine railway be constructed for handling torpedo boats. Some of the lessons of the war referred to in the report is the importance of sheathing ships, as well as restricting the use of combustible material upon them, and of fireproofing such material as must be used.

The Street Cleaning Committee of Councils met last week and considered the estimate of the Bureau of Street Cleaning for next year. The amount asked is $923,820, the same as was appropriated for the current year, and includes $12,500 for cleaning streets, inlets and public market houses and for the removal and disposal of ashes; $358,000 for the removal and disposal of garbage and dead animals; $30,000 for removing snow from the streets surrounding City Hall, etc., and the bridges spanning the Schuylkill river, and $18,020 for salaries.

A number of important improvements at the Postoffice Building are being contemplated by Collector of Internal Revenue McClain. The court yard back of the building will be repaved and new floors will be laid on the second and third stories. It is likely that a new drainage system, connecting the Market and Chestnut street sewers, will be put in. Mr. McClain went to Washington a few days ago for the purpose of conferring with the Treasury officials on the subject. Architect Borden will forward the plans to Washington in a few days for approval by the Government officials.

Rev. James Fitzmaurice, rector of St. Michael's Church, southeast corner of Second and Jefferson streets, has signed contracts with John McShain to make interior and exterior alterations at the church and parsonage. The work will consist of a new front to the church, polished granite base, lined with Pompeian brick, and trimmed with terra cotta. New doors and a traery window will be put in place. Four new windows will be put in the parsonage where the building was torn down to make way for the new sacristy, which Mr. McShain is now building. The estimated cost of this work is $7000.

Architects Frank Miles Day & Bro., 925 Chestnut street, have finished the plans for an immense ice manufacturing plant, to be established at Twenty-seventh and South streets, by a syndicate represented by Theodore Kollischer. The building will be of steel, brick and stone, and will have the most modern appliances for the manufacture of ice. They are to form one large structure, ranging from three to one story in height. The total frontage will be 351.6 feet and depth 122.3 feet. Bids will be requested for the construction at once, as grading and excavation has started. This work has previously been noted in these columns.

Councils Committee on Schools have completed its work of going over the estimates of money needed for the public schools for next year. The changes made in the estimates were the following: Adding $50,000 for the completion of the new Central High School; cutting item, $14,000 for special supplies for the new Central High School. In addition estimates for "permanent improvements" were passed amounting to $1,323,080, which is $90,000 more than the submitted estimates. The changes were: Third section, increase from $30,000 to $70,000; Tenth section, $15,000 to $70,000; Fifteenth section, increase from $15,000 to $35,000 and Twenty-fourth section, increase from $40,000 to $70,000. A movement is on foot by Mr. Harris of the Building Commission, to construct in the court yard of the Public Buildings a large fountain and otherwise place the site in a presentable condition. Nothing of a definite character has been done by those interested.

The estimates for the navy for the year ending 1901 are complete. Exhibit Section D, Nos. 4 and 5, South Pavilion, National Export Exposition.

A modern house with the old fashion black hardware would look as odd as this paragraph does without stops.

And the above statement is no joke, either.

It is doubtful if there is anything in the construction of a modern house that represents so much progression as American hardware.

The bricks, the plaster, the woodwork, are about the same as they were in ye olden times.

The architecture, style, internal and external finish, in many cases, are but a revival of the colonial of a century ago.

Hardware is a distinctive feature in modern house-building and even where the colonial is imitated there is beauty, style, finish and individuality, particularly in the

that emphasizes itself to an extent that becomes quite as assertive as the most elaborate decorations or costly embellishments.

Our Exhibit Section D, Nos. 4 and 5, South Pavilion, of the National Export Exposition, is a veritable exhibition of American progression, for it voices the genius, care, symmetrical proportion and ornate beauty embodied in the products of the American manufacturer.

Our aim has been to make our exhibit an object lesson and we have utilized our space in showing the best collection of artistic hardware to be found in the world, without a single exception.

We submit our exhibit to your critical inspection, confident of the result through comparison.

Buy it, try it, and you will use no other.

Yours respectfully,

Architect Notes.

Sketches are now being prepared by Architect Frederick M. Mann, 523 Chestnut street, for a two-story frame dwelling house, to be built at Passaic, N. J. The owner's name is withheld for the present.

Architect Will D. Decker, Betz Building, has completed designs for a three-story mill addition of brick, stone and steel, 55x122 feet, to be built at Nos. 2154 to 2160 Adams street, for A. Schenck & Co. Philip Haibach, contractor, will have the contract.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, has made plans for alterations and additions to the dwelling 6445 Greene street. These consist of a two-story back building, new porches and interior work, hot water, heat, etc. R. M. Peterson, 5250 Wakefield street, has the contract for the work, which will be started at once.

Architect Addison Hutton, 400 Chestnut street, has finished drawings for improvements to cost $3000 at the Friends' Home, at Swede and Powell streets, Norristown, Pa. The plans are now being estimated upon by contractors, and they show the improvements to be a fire-escape and two verandas. The materials to be used are stone, mill work, iron, and the specifications provide, in addition, for painting, glazing, etc.

Architects Brouse & Arend, 913 Chestnut street, this city, have finished drawings for a three-story frame dwelling and a two-story frame stable, which W. H. Linburg proposes to have built at Spring Lake, N. J. The plans are on the boards at the Philip Anns Co. s office. The residence will measure 50x58 feet and have verandas extending around the front and sides and bay windows. The stable will measure 38x26.5 feet.

Edwin F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, having finished plans for alterations and additions of a detail character to St. Michael's R. C. Church, Jefferson and Second streets, has awarded the contract to John McShain, contractor, 2117 Appletree street. The cost of the work will be about $7000, and begin at once. The work will consist of granite, Pompeian brick and terra cotta work, with tracery windows, etc.

Edwin Gilbert and Harry H. Bailey have begun suit in the Common Pleas Court against the Security Homestead Company of America to recover $2000 damages for breach of contract. It is averred that in May last the plaintiffs agreed to furnish plans and drawings for an apartment house, which it was proposed to erect at Seventeenth and Arch streets, but afterwards the scheme was abandoned and the defendants refused to compensate them for their work.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have completed a detailed set of drawings for a new valve house, to be erected by the United Gas Improvement Company at their Twenty-fifth ward gas plant. The structure will be two stories high, of brick, stone, iron and terra cotta work, cement and brick floors, and will be fitted with all conveniences, as well as general machinery, for manufacture of gas, etc. J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street, will build the structure.

In the office of John R. Wiggins, contractor for estimates, are the plans by Dull & Coates, architects, 1205 Walnut street, for the apartment house to be erected for Miss Ella Clement, and which is to be located at the northwest corner of Fortieth and Sansom streets. It has been decided that the structure shall be five stories high, of brick, stone and iron work, cement and terra cotta work, with all conveniences on interior, elevator and lift, electric work, steam heat, best of plumbing, baths, etc. The contract will be awarded in a few days after all bids have been received.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, Fourth, below Chestnut street, have been selected to prepare the plans for the mammoth hotel to be erected by a syndicate, of which W. G. Huey, of this city, is the president, on the site of the Pennsylvania Railroad Excursion House, at Chelsea, Atlantic City. Allen B. Rorke, it is said, will be the builder. It will be of iron frame construction, and is estimated to cost $300,000. The drawings have not been completed in detail, but the structure will be fireproof throughout and be fitted with all the latest and best hotel equipments.

Feild & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, have won in the recent competition for plans from which the new gymnasium at Haverford College, Pennsylvania, will be erected their drawings having been selected by the committee appointed for the purpose. The proposed structure will be of stone, two stories high, slate roof and colonial in general design. The interior will be fitted with track, pool, baths, lockers and all the general paraphernalia for amusement and physical culture. Steam heat, electric work, best system of plumbing and ventilation will be introduced, and the cost is estimated at about $40,000. Same architects have on boards preliminary sketches for other work, which will be noted later in these columns.

It is understood that a syndicate has been formed, with Mr. W. S. Thorp, architect and engineer, 1420 Chestnut street, Crozer Building, at its head, who will during the current week consider the plans and estimates for a proposed hotel, to be known as "The Pilgrim," at the northeast corner of Eleventh and Arch streets. We noted some time since in these columns this project, and the drawings now completed by Mr. Thorp indicate an eleven-story structure, of brick, stone, iron and general fireproof construction, in the Renaissance style of architecture, and fitted on the interior with elevators, electric work, marble, slate, mosaic work and cement flooring in basement, plumbing and baths, with every general convenience.

In the office of Doyle & Doak, 109 Sansom street, are drawings for estimates on work as follows: Plans for a building for Mr. George P. Wilson by Clark Dillenbeck, engineer and architect, of this city. The structure will be three stories, brick, elevator, engine and boiler in basement, and erected at northwest corner of Thirteenth and Cumberland streets. Also plans for two-story pier and wharf, to be constructed between Jackson street and Snyder avenue, Delaware river. It will be 135x675 feet, of corrugated iron, gravel roof and fitted with wharf facilities for all general commerce, piling etc. Also drawings for the previously noted West Virginia University buildings, to be erected at Morgantown, W. Va., these drawings being made by Wilson Bros., of this city. These structures are to be one, two and three stories high, and of brick, stone and iron work concrete foundations, wooden and cement flooring and all general accommodations for collegiate purposes.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The members of the congregation of the Central Presbyterian Church, at a spirited meeting held last week, decided to construct a new church in the west end of the town, to cost $10,000. The Board of Trustees was appointed a building committee.

One hundred acres, very desirable location, all railroads, free to factory employing 1000 men. Also ten other smaller locations, all central, with good railroad facilities. Correspondence and inspection solicited. Address Douglas Benson, Secretary Board of Trade, Erie, Pa.

The Church of the Holy Apostles, southeast corner of Twenty-first and Christian streets, is to undergo extensive interior alterations, at a cost of about $2500. Thomas Mesouch has the contract for the work, which includes hand-on tile work in the central and two side aisles, and wainscoting the spaces between the rafters under the roof. Work has already begun.

Contractors Ryan & Kelley, 8 South Broad street, and Roydhouse, Arey & Co., are receiving estimates for the erection of a three-story and basement building, 126 feet long and 45 feet wide from one end to the centre, and forming an acute angle at the other end, at the northwest corner of Thirteenth and Cumberland streets, for George P. Wilson, owner. Engineer and Architect Clark Dillenbeck made the drawings. The same contractors are taking proposals for a double-deck pier which the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad proposes to have built at Snyder avenue.

The Exhibit of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, National Export Exposition.

There are facts connected with the plate glass interests in America which disclose such extraordinary developments in a short space of time as to occasion surprise. Indeed, the time can be gauged by months when the making of large plate was considered an unsolved American problem, and there is little difficulty in naming the time when the science of silvering was supposed to be too complicated and scientific ever to become a prominent American industry even in the smaller sizes of mirrors.

What can be said in the way of commendation for Yankee progression more forceful than that expressed through the exhibit of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at the National Export Exposition?

If one desires, for argument's sake, an example of American skill in mirror making the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company modestly submits for criticism a tiny, wee one which only measures 144 inches one way by 206 inches the other, or 12x17.2 feet.

The glass for this mirror was made at the Ford City works of the company, and the silvering and beveling was done at 1012 to 1018 Filbert street, the company's Philadelphia offices, factory and warehouse. Of course, comparisons are odious but if there are any who think that the American product will be the sufferer when compared with the foreign, the opportunity is offered, and the American specimen will be found well able to withstand the test.

The range of the company's exhibit embraces about everything in glass that is used in construction work, even including ship-building. Size, thickness, shape, all play a part in the display, and, of course, indicate the wonderful resources of the largest producers of plate glass in the world.

The company's factories, nine in number, are located as follows: No. 1, Creighton, Pa.; No. 2, Tarentum, Pa.; No. 3, Ford City, Pa.; No. 4, Ford City, Pa.; No. 5, Duquesne, Pa.; No. 6, Charleroi, Pa.; No. 7, Elwood, Ind.; No. 8, Kokomo, Ind.; No. 9, Crystal City, Mo.

The warehouses of the company are located in the following cities: New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago, Detroit, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Davenport. The largest warehouse and principal office for export business is in New York, corner of Hudson and Vandam streets. The office of Mr. W. W. Heroy, general eastern manager of the company, is located at the above address. The Philadelphia office and warehouse is located at 1012 to 1018 Filbert street, of which Mr. H. E. Sealey is local manager.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Stacy Reeves & Sons will commence work at once to remodel the old Morris mansion at Wynnewood, for Isaac Clothier.

George F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper street, will build the stable at Eighth and Mifflin streets for the United Gas Improvement Company.

Three two-story dwellings, each 15x45 feet, are to be built at Nos. 1413, 1415 and 1417 South Forty-seventh street, by A. Meyer. Work to start at once.

A two-story addition, 16x26 feet in dimensions, is to be made to the A. C. Harmer Club, No. 1130 Shackamaxon street, at a cost of about $2000. William C. Hyzer has the contract.

Henry Dunphy has secured a contract to build a fourth story addition, 60x16 feet on the rear of the store property No. 1020 Race street. The contract calls for the expenditure of about $7000.

On the east and west sides of Lee street, 235 feet north of Allegheny avenue, John M. Whelen, owner, will build six two-story brick dwellings, each 14 x 28 feet. All of pressed brick, stone facings and steps.

Harry B. Shoemaker & Co. have started to make general repairs and to strengthen the repair shop of the city police and fire departments at Juniper and Race streets. The improvements will cost $5000.

On the north side of Kingston street, near G street, in the Thirty-third ward, Thomas J. Holliday, owner, will build a two-story brick dwelling, 18x46 feet. All modern comforts will be introduced on interior.

Henry P. Schneider, contractor, has the contract to erect a new brownstone front, with an octagonal bay window of copper and copper cornices, to the residence of Mrs. Miller, No. 2018 North Broad street.

F. Miles Day, architect, has completed plans for a new bay window and extensive interior alterations to the residence of Samuel S. Bodine, No. 222 South Nineteenth street. Thomas M. Seeds, Jr., has the contract.

Andrew Stanwold has granted contracts to John Davies & Son for the construction of a three-story dwelling at No. 3381 Frankford avenue. The house is to be 21½x62 feet in dimensions, and will cost about $5000.

Contractors Macey Henderson & Co., Limited, 1215 Filbert street, have secured the necessary permit to build George I. Bodine's two-story stone and frame stable, 45x45 feet, on Sunset avenue, Chestnut Hill, to cost $5000.

The construction of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company's new bulkhead and freight shed, 150x649 feet, at Ann street, Port Richmond, is about to be commenced. An engine house, 30x50 feet, will also be built at Clearfield street.

Work will be started at once by John J. Reilly, owner, on the erection of twelve two-story brick dwellings, each 18x50 feet, on the north side of Market street, west of Sixty-first street, in the Thirty-fourth ward. The estimated cost is $24,000.

N. and H. O'Donnell, owners, are at work putting up a three-story brick storage building, 60x100 feet, on the south side of Moore street, 87 feet east of Waterstreet, in the First ward. The building will be used for storing empty barrels, and the estimated cost is $5000.

A $80,000 addition is to be erected to the insane department of the Philadelphia Hospital after the money has been voted by City Councils, but neither their action or plans have as yet been consummated, and it is not likely the work will be started before the coming spring of 1900.

Work will be commenced at once by George Edge & Bro., contractors, on the erection of a two-story brick stable, 100x33 feet, on the lot 100x250 feet, on the south side of Regent street, between Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh streets. Four frame buildings on the site will be torn down. The estimated cost is $6000.

The pattern and hand printing shop of the Reeves Oil Cloth Works, head of Pine street, Camden, was burned to the ground last week. The building was a two-story frame structure, about 40x75 feet. The flames were started by spontaneous combustion. It is understood a new structure will be erected at once.

Extensive improvements will be made to Mrs. Catharine M. Smith's residence, at the southwest corner of Broad and Poplar streets, by Contractor and Builder A. Raymond Raff. The work will include the construction of a three-story rear addition, interior alterations, new bake oven, steam heating, new plumbing, etc.

H. C. Francis has awarded the contract for improvements at 6445 Greene street to R. M. Peterson. The drawings for the work, which will cost $8000, were made by Architect Addison Hutton, and they show a two-story stone addition, 17x30 feet, in the rear, new porches, interior alterations, a hot water heating plant, etc.

The work of developing John Dickinson Square, Tasker street and Moyamensing avenue, will be commenced as soon as the plans, which are now being prepared by Chief Pierie, of the Board of City Property, are completed. Of the $50,000 appropriated out of the big loan for the improvement of small parks, $10,000 is to be expended on John Dickinson Square, and while this is not sufficient to complete all that has been planned, it will admit of the laying out of the square of ground, construct walks and plant trees.

We Would be Delighted

if you will kindly make an effort while visiting the National Export Exposition to spend a few minutes at our handsome exhibit of

Bailey's Pure Rye

Central Pavilion, B 34

Of course, we cannot entertain you with an exhibit covering acres of space, but any deficiencies in area is more than compensated by its unique and enchanting beauty. It is certainly one of the most beautiful exhibits upon the ground, particularly under the electric lights, whose strong rays penetrating every bottle, which, while reflecting back its richly laden colorings in a scintillating light, holds each visitor spellbound. There is such extreme goodness in Bailey's Pure Rye as a family necessity that there is little room for surprise at the interest our exhibit excites among the Exposition visitors, for in the quarter of a century that has elapsed since it was first offered to the public it has gained widespread popularity in families throughout the whole State.

Our Family Department is a permanent exhibit, retired and pleasantly inviting.

Age alone controls the price.

rooms on the second and third floors, supported on iron columns, and considerable interior work. George G. Dawson has the contract, and will begin work at once.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street, have been awarded the contract for the office and stable at Ninth and Dudley streets, and the two-story valve house, 45x63 feet at Tioga and Richmond streets, for the United Gas Improvement Company. The same firm is building the new $35,000 public school at Frankford avenue and Somerset street.

Permits have been granted to William Steele & Sons to build a two-story engine house and shop, 31x40 feet, at Leua and Armat streets, Germantown, for the Leicester Mills Company, and to tear out the old floors and laying new ones, and re-enforcing the walls at William Amer & Co.'s engine house at the northwest corner of Third and Willow streets.

Manager William B. Allen, of the Frankford Music Hall, was given a permit last week to put up a frame balcony, 80x53 feet, capable of holding 80 people, and to make a front and side exit to the building at No. 4652 Frankford avenue. The building was recently damaged by fire, and is now about to be modernized. It is being refurbished and renovated.

Contractor Philip Haibach has the contract to make extensive alterations to the hall at the northeast corner of Eighth and Callowhill streets, which, when completed, will be occupied by the Kingan Provision Company, Limited, of Indianapolis. The plans are by Architect Jacob Herold, and require a recon-

John D. Berger, of Baltimore, Md., has awarded a contract to William Smith, of this city, to build three three-story brick dwellings, each 16x50 feet, in lots each 16x200 feet, on the east side of East Logan street, 392 feet northeast of Germantown avenue, Twenty-second ward. Mr. Smith will start at once on the work.

Builder William T. B. Roberts sold to Gordon Chambers, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, a lot, 12.1x195 feet, on East Walnut lane, southwest of Chew street, for $600. Mr. Chambers also bought from Mabel Glazier, No. 2857 William street, Port Richmond, for $800.

The congregation of the Sarah D. Cooper Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church has awarded a contract to the Monitor Steam Generator Manufacturing Company to install a low pressure steam heating apparatus, to heat the church, chapel and Sunday school at the southwest corner of Sixty-third street and Girard avenue.

Extensive alterations and additions are to be made to the southwest corner of Twentieth and Arch streets for Mrs. R. Randolph. This work includes the building of two bath struction of the building, partly of steel, with cold storage facilities.

On the northeast side of Cliveden avenue, 120 feet northeast of Nash street, in the Twenty-second ward, William C. Wetherstone will have a pair of two-story brick dwellings, each 16x55 feet, built on lots 30x165 feet. The houses will have mansard slate roofs, front and side bay windows, and be heated by hot air. George A. Sorber, who has the contract, has commenced work.

The question of extending the boardwalk from the Sea View excursion house down to the westerly limit of the city, a distance of one mile and a half, was brought before Atlantic City Councils on the 23d inst. in an ordinance which provided for its construction. If the extension is made the walk will be nearly five miles in length, and will skirt the entire ocean front of the city. The ordinance passed one reading.

William Steele & Sons, 516 Walnut street, will commence work on the erection of a three-story brick factory, 80,10x90.4 feet, on the west side of Juniper street, near Snyder avenue, for John H. Wallace & Bro., owners. The estimated cost is $6000. The same contractors are constructing a tank support for a tank of 20,000 gallons capacity, at the northeast corner of Allegheny avenue and Hancock street, for J. R. Keim & Co., owners.

Fire of mysterious origin on the 20th inst. destroyed the frame building, Park and Susquehanna avenues, occupied as a stable by Robert Arge. Shortly before daylight a citizen, who was passing the place, saw smoke issuing from a window. He gave the alarm, and the firemen, after a short struggle, extinguished the blaze. The building was badly damaged, but the contents were gotten out in safety. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Hayes Mendenhall will build at once a three-story irregular-shaped dwelling, which will be erected at 3837 Baring street. The house will have fronts measuring 34.3, 37.2, 26.4 and 22 feet, with a porch and bay window on the front. It will contain a parlor, large open hall, dining room, kitchen and pantry on the first floor, two chambers, sitting room, alcove, open hall and bath room on second, and three chambers, store room and hall on third floor.

Another stone and brick residence is now in course of construction at Overbrook, for Wendell & Smith, owners. This house will be a three-story structure. It will measure 31.4x58.3 feet, and be built on the lot measuring 60x150 feet, on the east side of Sherwood road, 500 feet south of Lancaster avenue. The house will have a peaked shingle roof, be heated by steam from the central plant, and fitted up with all modern conveniences. The estimated cost is $7200.

The Schuylkill Iron and Steel Company will have an addition built at its plant at Thirtieth street and Gray's Ferry road. The drawings were made by Engineer and Architect Constantine Shuman, and they show a one-story high building, to measure 210x80 feet. It will be properly equipped and contain two twenty-five and one five ton traveling cranes. This work will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000. The drawings have not yet been estimated upon by contractors.

Builder Arthur M. Greene has taken out permits for four frame structures, to cost $5000, at the National Export Exposition grounds, as follows: One-story building, 12x116 feet, for ticket offices and exit turn stiles, at South street entrance, and similar building, 12x58 feet, at Vintage avenue entrance; emergency hospital, 1000 feet square on Esplanade, at South street, and a one-story store house, 20x40 feet, on the southern part of the grounds.

It seems probable that a large warehouse will be established at Shanghai, where American manufacturers and exporters may store goods intended for the American trade with the Orient. The National Association of Manufacturers has interested itself in the project for some time, and to it the credit is due for the undertaking. Mr. V. L. Boeck will be the manager of the warehouse. It is said the opening of National Export Exposition had considerable influence in causing the plans to take definite shape.

The Fifteenth Street Methodist Episcopal Church, the Rev. G. W. Henson, pastor, which now worships in a frame building on Clearfield street, west of Fifteenth street, has obtained an option on a lot on the southeast corner of Broad and Westmoreland streets which the congregation expects to conclude the negotiations for next week. The lot, which will form a site for a new and more commodious edifice, has a frontage on Broad street of 65 feet and of 115 feet on Westmoreland street, and will cost about $15,000.

Macey Henderson & Co., Limited, 1215 Fillbert street, are receiving proposals for a residence which will be erected at Atlantic City for a prominent Philadelphian, whose name is withheld for the present. The house will be three stories high, constructed of brick. There will be porches and bay windows, and the interior will be handsomely fitted up with up-to-date plumbing, hardwoods, etc. Same contractors have just been awarded the contract for the erection of two new buildings for the I. C. Brill Car Works, at Seventeenth and Woodland avenue. The work will include a two-story brick stable and a large storage house.

Councils' Committee on Charities and Correction recommends that $88,370 be added to the appropriation for the bureaus under its jurisdiction. At their meeting last week at the Philadelphia Hospital the committee went over the detailed statements of the estimated expenditures for the city's institutions of charity and correction and recommended that the appropriations in many instances be increased. The most important new appropriation recommended was $60,000 to provide for the construction of an addition to the insane ward of the Philadelphia Hospital. An increase of $1600 was recommended for the lighting of the hospital.

Siloam Methodist Episcopal Church, of West Philadelphia, has made all arrangements to build a small frame chapel, 24x60 feet in dimensions, on the lot at the northeast corner of Sixty-first street and Woodland avenue, for the purposes of extending the church work. Contracts have been awarded to Samuel H. Dillin, and ground will be broken at once. The lot, which is 450x250 feet in general dimensions, is owned by Joel Thomas, who has granted permission to use the lot to Charles S. Mervine, pastor of the church, and the Board of Trustees, they in turn signing an agreement to remove the structure within twenty-four hours after notice in case the site is sold.

The Philip Anne Co., of this city, is taking bids for a handsome residence which Charles W. Soulas of this city, will have built at Atlantic City, N. J. The house will be a three-story and basement brick and frame structure, and it will measure 38.6x57.6 feet. There will front and side porches and bay windows on the first and second floors. The building will contain a play room, two store rooms, boiler room, laundry and storage space under the porch, in the basement; parlor, library, hall, dining room and kitchen on the first floor; five chambers, hall, and bath room on the second floor, and five chambers and bath and storage rooms on the third floor. Architect Howard A. Stout, of Atlantic City, made the plans.

A meeting of residents of South Philadelphia organized to urge the erection of a High School in the southern section of the city was held last week in the Y. M. C. A. Building, Broad and Federal streets. John F. Devlin was chairman and Franklin Martin secretary. The chairman was authorized to appoint a Committee of Plan and Scope, to consist of three representatives from the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Twenty-sixth, Thirtieth, Thirty-sixth and Thirty-ninth wards, whose duties it would be to act in co-operation with committees from the South Philadelphia Business Men's Association and other organizations already interested in the movement. A public meeting will be held at an early date in the hall of the South Philadelphia Business Men's Association. We have previously noted this movement by the citizens of the wards noted above.

The experts at the Bureau of Yards and Docks, having analyzed the various propositions received under the second call for bids for constructing the new dry dock at League Island, have decided that the bid of the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company, of New York, was the lowest and most satisfactory. Accordingly Admiral Endicott, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, will at once award the contract to the concern named. The bids of the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company, under Part A, including the construction of the dry dock, superstructure proper, pump house, boiler and engine house, approaches, etc., were: (1) With steel approaches and masonry dredging, $698,600; (2) with timber approaches and dredging, $54,600; (3) without approaches and with dredging, $498,600; (4) without approaches and without dredging, $492,000. Under part B the firm's bid was $199,500, and under part C $58,500.

The Property Committee of the Board of Education was notified last week by the owner of the Twenty-eighth ward school lot, at Twenty-eighth and Huntingdon streets, that he was willing to accept the board's offer of $22,000 instead of his original price of $25,000. The committee accordingly passed the bill, and the purchase will be consummated as soon as the papers can be drawn up by the City Solicitor. The committee agreed to refer to Chairman Kavanagh for future report, whether $32,721 is available, before they award the contracts for paving around seven schools now in course of construction. It was decided to rent a building at 2828 Dauphin street, to accommodate new divisions organized in the Twenty-eighth section. The purchase of a lot in the Thirty-fifth section, bounded by Benner, Dittman, Jackson and Sherman streets, 400 x 225 feet, for $5000, in accordance with an ordinance of Councils of last March, was recommended to the board.

Councils' Committee on City Property have approved the recommendation of the Sub-Committee on Small Parks for the distribution of the $50,000 appropriation for the improvement of small parks. The allotment is as follows: Clarence H. Clark Park, $10,000; Fotherall Square, $10,000; Dickinson Square, $10,000; McPherson Square, $7000; Juniata Park, $7000; Vernon Park, $3000, and Gorgas Park, $3000. The committee also approved the transfer of the lease of Marlborough street wharf from Marshall Brothers to the American Tin Plate Company, and an ordinance providing that hereafter all city piers shall be double-decked when rebuilt met with like favor. A modern house with the old fashion black hardware would look as odd as this paragraph does without stops.

And the above statement is no joke, either.

It is doubtful if there is anything in the construction of a modern house that represents so much progression as American hardware.

The bricks, the plaster, the woodwork, are about the same as they were in ye olden times

The architecture, style, internal and external finish, in many cases, are but a revival of the colonial of a century ago.

Hardware is a distinctive feature in modern house building and even where the colonial is imitated there is beauty, style, finish and individuality, particularly in the

that emphasizes itself to an extent that becomes quite as assertive as the most elaborate decorations or costly embellishments.

Our Exhibit Section D, Nos. 4 and 5, South Pavilion, of the National Export Exposition, is a veritable exhibition of American progression, for it voices the genius, care, symmetrical proportion and ornate beauty embodied in the products of the American manufacturer.

Our aim has been to make our exhibit an object lesson and we have utilized our space in showing the best collection of artistic hardware to be found in the world, without a single exception.

We submit our exhibit to your critical inspection, confident of the result through comparison.

Buy it, try it, and you will use no other.

Yours respectfully,

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Architect W. G. Eckles, of New Castle, Pa., has been selected to make the plans for the new buff brick and red stone church building to be erected by St. John's Evangelical Lutheran congregation at that place. It will cost about $15,000. Work will be started next spring.

Jacoby & Weishampel, architects and engineers, Allentown, Pa., have been engaged to prepare plans and estimates for a new pumping station, 56x120 feet, for the Water Department at the above place. The buildings will be brick, with stone trimmings, steel trusses, slate or tile roofs, and ornamental in design.

The members of the Master Builders' Exchange have been invited to submit proposals for the following Government work: Interior decorating and painting Post Office and Custom House at Milwaukee, Wis.; installation of a wiring system in the Post Office at Newport, Ky.; isolation ward and laundry at the Marine Hospital at Boston, Mass., and heating and ventilating apparatus at the Post Office and Custom House at Norfolk, Va.

Willis G. Hale, architect, 1524 Chestnut street, Weightman Building, having completed all drawings for alteration of six fine dwellings into an apartment house for William Weightman, has awarded the contract to Benjamin Ketcham Sons, the well-known contractors, and they will at once begin work, which will be ornamental in design, begun on exterior red-stone bases, copper bays, mottled brick work, and interior to be fitted with all the latest and best comforts.

The drawings of Architects Rehlfuss & Roberts, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, for extensive improvements to dwelling at 1523 North Broad street, to cause an expenditure of $5,000, have been accepted by Frank Buck, who owns the property. The work will consist of a new front, extension to the dining room, remove partition between the parlor and rear hall, new stairway, bath room in the basement, a bay window on the second floor of the back building, and a bay window in the sitting room.

Architect Bear, of Lansdale, Pa., has completed drawings for a modern factory building to be erected up the State for private parties. Details of construction can be obtained from architect, who states that it will be brick and iron, with slag roofing, containing lavatory fixtures, electric wiring, steam piping and fittings, hardware, power apparatus and equipment. The same architect has finished drawings for a modern three-story residence for a private party, details of which will be given later on.

James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, has finished drawings for alterations and additions to the residence of Charles A. Porter, at Torresdale, Pa. The specifications call for brick and stone masonry, iron work, carpenter work, hardware, sheet metal work, plastering, painting and glazing, plumbing, marble and tile work, electrical work, etc. Plans being estimated on in the office of Doyle & Doak, 1509 Sansom street, and other contractors. Also in same office are some revised drawings for the Sansom street elevation of the new First Baptist Church now being erected at seventeenth and Sansom streets.

Baker & Dallett, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, have completed plans for two city residences on Locust, above Van Pelt street, for Mr. Charles Creswell and Miss Florence Catherwood. These are to be four stories high, tin roof, cut stone, brick and terra cotta work, iron and cement work, cut stone paving, interior to be fitted in various hard woods, tile and other ornamental work, wood mantels, range, boilers and heaters, electric work, finest system of plumbing, wash-tubs, gas-fitting, bath-tubs and closets of the most approved kind and all modern conveniences. Drawings are being estimated on in office of Doyle & Doak, 1509 Sansom street, and general information can be had of the architects.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have awarded the contract for L. E. Miller's residence at Cape May, N. J., to J. Stratton Ware, of same place. The work consists of alterations and additions and has been noted before. The architects desire estimates for a rough stone fireplace and stairway, these contracts being reserved. Same have made plans for an operation of houses, to be erected in the suburbs of the city, and others at Atlantic City, N. J., of which more will be said in the near future. Estimates are being received in same office for the alteration and addition of house for Matthew Gill, at Longport, N. J. Other plans in course of preparation noted later in these columns.

Architect John Flynn, of Narberth, Pa., has completed drawings for a handsome stone and iron-framed church building to be erected in this city for a local Roman Catholic congregation. It will be handsomely finished in hard woods, with electric-gas combination fixtures, steam heating and plumbing fixtures, stained glass windows, seating for about 700 persons and flooring of marble, tile and wood. Adjoining same will be erected a school building for the same parties, which will be about three stories and basement, of stone, brick and iron, having latest improvements in all lines, with school rooms, reception room, toilet rooms, lavatory, cloak and dressing rooms, etc. The same architect is working on other plans, which will be detailed as soon as they are finished.

Macey, Henderson & Co., Limited, 1215 Filbert street, are taking bids for a handsome three-story dwelling, to measure 4'x30' feet, which will be erected on States avenue, near Pacific avenue, Atlantic City, N. J. The drawings were made by J. Thornly Dinglee, of Furness, Evans & Co., Provident Life Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets. The owner's name will be withheld for the present. There will be a porch in front and on both sides, with entrances to the vestibule and an alcove. There will be a balcony on the second floor. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 1, 1899

HOMEOLGY is the title to a booklet issued by Messrs. Felton Sibley & Co., the paint and varnish manufacturers of this city, dedicated to the American housewife and homemaker. It is full of suggestions as to how and what to use in the way of paint and varnish to make home better, brighter, cleaner and more cheerful. To the woman of the household, who is supposed to know little or nothing about paints and varnishes, it guides and directs specifically the material needed for floors, fences, doors, etc. The roof is not forgotten, and it tells the story of leaks and how to stop them.

CAPT. FRANK FURNESS, the well-known architect of this city has just been given a medal of honor by the War Department for conspicuous gallantry in action at Trevillian Station, Va., June 12, 1864. Mr. Furness served in the Sixth Pennsylvania Cavalry during the Civil War and was always regarded as an intrepid and dashing soldier, losing no opportunity to instill courage and enthusiasm in those whom he led. The incident of June 12, 1864, at the station named, that of furnishing ammunition to a part of the Union forces whilst under heavy fire of the enemy, as performed by Captain Furness, is retold and vouched for by Major-General Wesley Merritt in his letter of recommendation to the Board of Award in the Department at Washington. D. C. We congratulate Mr. Furness upon a reward well earned in his country's defence, and of which he is most deserving.

Architect Notes.

Architect T. H. Scott, Standard Building, Pittsburg, Pa., has plans for a handsome brick residence, to be erected by Mr. R. C. Lare at Wilkinsburg, a part of Pittsburg.

Architects Alden & Harlow, 323 Fourth avenue, Pittsburg, have been engaged by Mr. S. Tamazuchi to make plans for a modern English residence, which he will erect at Tokio, Japan.

Charles A. Young, owner, has accepted the drawings of Architect H. E. Flower for two three-story brick dwellings, which he will have built at 427 and 429 North Nineteenth street. Each house will measure 18x36.9 feet. A. H. Williams' Sons will do the work. The estimated cost is $5000.

Dubring, Okie & Zeigler, architects, Crozier Building, 1420 Chestnut street, have made plans for a factory building, to be erected at Riverside, N. J., for the Riverside Metal Company, of that place. It will be of brick, stone, iron and cement work, 100x300 feet. The company are letting contracts and buying materials.

Some time ago we noted the completion of drawings for the new Eppworth M. E. Church, to be erected at Vodges and Race streets. These are by Stearns & Cast r, and these architects have presented the plans for examination by Structural Engineer Clark, of the Building Inspectors' Bureau. The work will be pushed to completion at once.

Local and other architects are working on preliminary drawings for a handsome high school building to be erected at New London, Chester county, Pa. Dr. James Fulton, Dr. G. D. Armstrong, R. D. Hodgson, James P. Jackson and others of New London are interested. A plot of ground has been selected and staked out, and it is likely that the building will be soon started. George W. Boyles, president, and Thomas P. Conrad, secretary, have the matter in charge at present.

Architects Cope & Stewardson, 320 24 Walnut street, who, with other firms of architects throughout the country, prepared competitive designs for a group of buildings for Washington University, at St. Louis, Mo., have been notified that their plans carried off first honors. In making the selection the jury of award did not know who presented the plans until after the selection had been agreed upon, as the drawings were numbered instead of marked with the firm's address, as is the usual custom. The proposed cost of the structures is reported to be about $1,500,000.

Ground will be broken soon for an apartment house at the corner of Thirty-third street and Woodland avenue, by a syndicate of capitalists of Buffalo, N. Y. The site was purchased from the Philadelphia Traction Company for $25,000 some time ago. It has a frontage of 27.10 feet on Chestnut street, 112 feet on Thirty-third street and 93 feet on Woodland avenue. That emphasizes itself to an extent that becomes quite as assertive as the most elaborate decorations or costly embellishments.

Our Exhibit Section D, Nos. 4 and 5, South Pavilion, of the National Export Exposition, is a veritable exhibition of American progression, for it voices the genius, care, symmetrical proportion and ornate beauty embodied in the products of the American manufacturer.

Our aim has been to make our exhibit an object lesson and we have utilized our space in showing the best collection of artistic hardware to be found in the world, without a single exception.

We submit our exhibit to your critical inspection, confident of the result through comparison.

Buy it, try it, and you will use no other.

VOL. XIV.—No. 45.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Seymour Davis, architect, 907 Walnut street, has been requested to revise the plans for the Chester, Pa., high school building, as the bids opened November 1st are understood to be entirely too high. New bids will be invited after the completion of the revision, which will divest the structure of all but actual needs and limited ornamentation.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth street, above Chestnut street, are engaged in plans for addition to Simonius Sons' Fertilizer Works, Clearfield street and Trenton avenue. These will include masonry, carpenter and iron, as well as cement work of extensive character. Other work in preparation by same architects, to be noted at an early day.

T. Frank Miller, architect, Oak Lane, will at once erect a fine $6,000 residence at that place from designs made by himself, the structure will be of local stone, three stories high and will contain on interior all improvements and general comforts, range, boiler, electric work, best of plumbing etc. Other work by same architect under preparations will be noted soon in these columns.

Robert A. Pitts, Architect, 224 South Third street, has on boards plans for estimate on 314 dwellings to be erected at Sixty-second and Vine streets, 144 of these will be two story, and 170 three stories. These are to be of Pompeian colored brick with porches, tin roof, interior in hard wood, open plumbing and have cross stairways, the fronts will be out of the ordinary design for two and three story dwellings, being quite ornamental, furnace heat with ranges, tiling, mantels, etc. They are located between three separate lines of trolley cars.

Bolton & Savage, architects, Witherspoon Building, Juniper and Walnut streets, have been selected to make all plans for a new dormitory building for Lafayette College, at Easton, Pa.; also, for alterations and additions to the present three buildings, the whole to contain more than three hundred rooms. The work, when started, will include steam heat, electric work, plumbing and ventilation on improved systems, closets, toilets, and all general comforts and improvements will be introduced. The walls will be of Pompeian brick and stone trimmings, and will render all the structures uniform on exterior. Other work by the same architects in course of preparation will be announced at an early day.

Architect A. W. Leh, Post Office Building, South Bethlehem, Pa., has completed plans for a six (6) story store and office building, to be erected on North Seventh street, Allentown, Pa., for Mr. E. W. Nagle. Mr. A. Albright has the contract. Also, plans for a residence, to be erected on Fountain Hill, South Bethlehem, Pa., for Lindsay Jeter, Esq., to be three stories, in brick, stone trimming, hard wood finish, wood mantels, china closets, hot air heat and electric work. Also, plans for a National Bank, to be erected at Siegfried Pa. Mr. Oliver Williams, of Catasauqua, Pa., is the President. The front will be pressed brick and brown stone trimming, hard wood interior finish, vault and electric work. Also, plans for a residence to be erected on Broad street, West Bethlehem, Pa., for Mr. M. Bloss. Other notes of work in the near future.

The second competition of the continuous programme of the Travelling Fellowship of the T-Square Club was decided last week, when first mention was awarded to R. L. Watmough, second to W. F. Lunt, and third to J. Edgar Hill. The club adopted as the code governing competitions which was arranged in New York last year by representatives of several architectural clubs. It aims to conduct public competitions, which are now much abused, in a fair and systematic manner, and is a decisive step in the right direction. Notice was given of the annual exhibition of the club, to be held at the galleries of the Art Club, from December 16, when the press view and public reception takes place, to January 6. The selection of drawings, especially those from abroad, will be exceptionally fine this year, and the illustrated catalogue, which will be bound in cloth, is expected to be of great interest and value to the profession.

Thomas Reilly has the contract for the erection of the $50,000 parochial school on Westmoreland street, between "G" and "F" streets, for the Roman Catholic Church of the Ascension, and has submitted the drawings for the work to the Bureau of Building Inspection for approval. The plans were made by Architect John Flynn, Narberth, Pa., with Howard Hager as associate, and they show a handsome stone building, which will measure 76.8x135 feet. It will have a tower fire escape and a peaked slate roof. The first floor will contain a vestibule with slate halls on either side, a sanctuary, sacristy and vestry; second and third floors, each eight class, and as many coat and hat rooms. The building will be properly fitted up with modern plumbing, ventilating and heating systems, etc. The land on which the school will be erected measures 500x180 feet, and several other buildings will be put up by the parish in the near future, as indicated in these columns some months ago.

Thomas Stephen, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., has been retained to prepare the plans for the New Burlington County Insane Asylum. The new structure will be two and the Administration Building three stories, of Colonial architecture, of brick and marble slate roof, and a central plant for light and heat, and laundry purposes, centrally located between the old almshouse and the new buildings connected by conduit system. Also, plans for alterations and additions to the Vineland National Bank; $60,000 has been appropriated for the work, consisting of a new brick front, new Safe Deposit vaults, new partitions, desks, furniture, etc. The West Jersey Trust Company will have a house altered into an office at the southeast corner of Third and Market streets, from drawings by same architect. Mr. Stephen will prepare plans for a large four story and basement factory building for R. M. Hollinshead Company at Ninth and Market streets, to be 80x150 feet, and on the slow burning construction principle, equipped with boilers, engines, elevators, electric work and soap making machinery of the most approved kind; also, an iron smoke-stack, 84 feet high, exterior will be hard stretcher brick and granite, tinted yellow pine floors, four-inch spruce. All the latest conveniences will be introduced. Same architect is receiving estimates for interior of the Central Trust Bank of Camden, N. J., up to November 12th; for partitions and finishes, doors and desk work, marble counters, shelves, and bases. Also, steel cases for books, etc. The contract for the alteration to City Hall, Camden, N. J., has been let to John Larsen of that city. The porch work for Soldiers' Home at Vineland, N. J., has been awarded to W. E. Allen, of that place. The work for the W. C. Davis storage house has been awarded to George Bachman, of Camden. N. J., Mr. Stephens having prepared all the plans.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Philip Anns Company, of this city, is taking bids for a new Baptist Church, which will be erected at Collingsdale, Pa., and a brick building at Asbury Park, N. J.

The Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company is at work constructing an addition, 6.8x12 feet, at Columbia avenue Station, Ninth street and Columbia avenue.

Charles McCaul is taking estimates for alterations at the northeast corner of Eighth and Ransstead streets, and Walter B. Kohl for alterations at 3 North Water street.

Edwin Gilbert's plans for three three-story houses, to be built at or near Merion, Pa., for James Q. Maguire, are on the boards for estimates at the Philip Anns Company's office.

The Board of Managers of the Pennsylvania Hospital have signed a contract with Frederick V. Yeager to build a one-story brick bay window, at the hospital, Forty-fifth and Market streets.

An ordinance is before Councils repealing the ordinance compelling house owners to place automatic valve attachments to hoppers in outside water closets. The committee has reported in favor of the repeal. A legal opinion has declared the ordinance unconstitutional.

How few of these many millions fully comprehend the wonderful progress that has been made during the last ten years in the manufacture of building hardware.

We know this to be the fact and we submit for critical inspection the tangible evidence of the correctness of this statement in the LOCKS and HINGES and BOLTS and KNOBS and other things taken from our stock, and which for beauty, ornamentation, symmetry and durability cannot be duplicated except through our own shelves in our own warehouses and factories or through the shelves of thousands of retailers throughout the world, for be it known that we are heavy exporters of our own hardware.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 8, 1899

The Germantown Trust Company.

It must be particularly gratifying to the officers and directors of the Germantown Trust Company of this city to realize that its prosperity and popularity is the result of their careful management of its business affairs.

While its location is far removed from the city's business centre its success is so well established and its popularity so far-reaching that it would be a difficult matter to specifically mention a section of the city from which it does not draw a share of its patronage.

The company's statement, which was issued on September 30 last, placed its assets at $2,277,341.14, its deposits at $1,834,097.13, and its undivided profits at $143,744.01.

The company does a title insurance and conveying business, besides acting as executor, trustee, etc., of estates.

It is officered by capable and conservative business men whose qualifications are justly measured by the success it has reached. Mr. Edward Mellor is the president; Mr. Francis Yarnall, secretary and treasurer; Mr. Jay Gates, title and trust officer, and Mr. John C. Bockius, real estate officer.

N. & G. Taylor Co.

N. & G. TAYLOR Co., Philadelphia, have a very attractive and interesting exhibit at the National Export Exposition, now being held in this city. They show a miniature house roof covered with the "Taylor Old Style" brand of roofing tin, one section flat seam and the other a standing seam. There is also to be seen a section of roof covered with tin shingles and tiles made from the same brand of tin. Under this roof is a wall or partition forming the background of the exhibit, and paneled with very interesting photographs of interiors and exteriors of the firm's tin plate works. A handsome picture of old Independence Hall, which is well known to our readers, as being covered with this firm's special brand of Terne, the "Taylor Old Style" stands out conspicuously, and there is also a photograph of the White House or Executive Mansion, their brand, the "Taylor Old Style," also being used on this building. The firm also displays old prints showing how tin plates were made in 1714. They also illustrate the sizes of tin plates in use in 1720 and 1732.

Along the sides of the exhibit, in well arranged boxes, are piles of boxes of tin plates representing the firm's well-known brands of bright tin,—"Brilliant," tissue-paper packed; "Royal," tissue paper packed; "Merion," "Linden," and "Almond," and in roofing plates, their own original brand, "Taylor Old Style," extra heavy leaded. This plate is the heaviest coated roofing tin made; it is also evenly coated, the metal coating being equally distributed over the entire sheet by a special process of their own. This plate is made in the old-fashioned original way that roofing plates were first made in 1830, and then sold by them. They also show their "Taylor Roofing Tin," "Columbia," "Maple Reddipped," "Knoxall" and "Globe" brands. The boxes are all open for the inspection of visitors. Samples of the material used in the manufacture are also exhibited, such as tin, lead, palm oil, cleaning mixtures, bran, flour, etc. Their ventilators and their makes of solder, babbitts, type metals, etc., are also displayed.

The firm received bronze and silver medals of award at the Franklin Institute held in Philadelphia in 1874, and also at the Centennial National Exposition in 1876. N. & G. Taylor Co.'s brands are not only a household word throughout the United States, but the firm advise us that their export trade has largely increased.

They issue a very neat photograph of their exhibit, which can be secured free of cost by applying to them.

$18,288,350 is the total cost of building

9819 transfers of real estate, or 46 less than for the same ten months of last year.

"A mad world, my masters," and it would seem that the man who could write an optimistic article upon real estate at a time when the High Sheriff of the county is reveling in a feast of fees from foreclosures, must be mad indeed.

On Monday last the Sheriff, under 340 separate writs, offered for sale 99 pieces of real estate, which represent the consequences arising from the worst and most prolonged business and financial depression our country has ever experienced and out of which an era of prosperity has sprung which already baffles all effort at comparison, and which for solidity as an economical proposition is as solid as the principles on which the nation itself is founded.

The positiveness with which the above statement is made needs no apology, and those who have watched business developments since the beginning of the year will accept it without qualification. The careless or indifferent observer may object, and it is his exceptions which must receive attention.

The opulence of the Sheriff's office has nothing to do with the present conditions of general business or the future for real estate. It is a serious relic of a miserable past, without a parallel for its agonizing length, of business prostration and idleness among our wage-earners which, like a slow and loathsome cancer, consumed the sustenance and energies of our people. Conditions have changed and our artisans and mechanics are now welcomed to our mills and forges with work in plenty.

Labor has already asserted itself as to hours and compensation in several instances, and we learn that many of the strikers at Cramps have found work at Chester and other places at an increase that justifies the payment of the fare each way daily.

The saving funds of this city are experiencing a phenomenal year, as the increase in both the number of depositors, as well as the money deposited, is without a precedent.

Values have increased and are daily increasing, and the volume of business is in no way impaired, except it be in building construction work.

The whole country is booming with business, and from every quarter the railroads report delays and embarrassments for the want of cars; hundreds of millions of dollars have, and are being expended in the rehabilitation of the property of these self-same corporations, many of which are scarcely through bankruptcy and reorganization, while others are already paying dividends.

Immigration has increased 36 per cent. for the year ending June, 1899, and this does not include immigrants from Mexico or Canada; neither does it include at least 25,000 persons who were not listed, owing to a defect in the law. This means that 336,175 thrifty, self-supporting foreign people, possessing the legal amount of money, have been added to the population of the country in a single year.

The United States Treasury Bureau of Statistics informs us that for the nine months ending with September, 1899, the imports of the country have increased $14,953,831, and it is worthy of notice that this increase is $41,314,649 in the raw material imported for our own manufacturing industries, $7,410,410 in articles wholly or partially manufactured for use in our mechanical arts, $37,814,413 increase in live animals and articles of food, while the increase in manufactured articles ready for consumption was only $8,471,038, and luxuries and articles which were not necessary, $15,860,731, and there is as much argument and solid reasoning in this increase of nearly fifty millions in the importation of raw material used by our manufacturers during the first nine months of the present year as anything we can offer to justify our statement with which we commenced this article.

The total exports for the nine months amounted to $30,000,000 more than for the same period of 1898, and the peculiarity is in the fact that while the export of cereals and other agricultural products fell off about thirty millions, our manufactured products show an excess of fifty millions over the showing of last year.

The following is a Table of Conveyances by Months.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

M. P. Wells & Co., 1420 Chestnut street, are taking bids for alterations to the Valdemar, at 1510 Pacific avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., for C. H. Stroud, according to drawings by Architect William H. Free, of this city.

Joseph Bechtel, contractor, will build the new engine foundations at Seventeenth and Clearfield streets, to be used in connection with the Diamond Electric Company's plant, for the Pennsylvania Heat, Light and Power Company.

The Abram Cox Stove Company has purchased the properties at 144 North Second street, 16,137.3 feet, and on the east side of Broad street, between Arch and Race streets, measuring 51x136.6 feet, from Walton Penne-kill, for $23,000.

The Belmont Golf Club is having a second-story frame addition built to its club house, at Fifty-second street and Chester avenue, the addition will be used for dressing room purposes. Contractors George Edge & Bro. will do the work.

Interior alterations, including the removal of a back stairway and the erection of a hand power elevator, are to be made to the residence of Mrs. P. S. Gill, No. 1713 Walnut street. The Energy Manufacturing Company has the contract, and will begin work at once.

Doyle & Doak, 1500 Sansom street, are estimating on a six-story factory and office structure, location and owner's name withheld. It will be of granite base, brick and terra cotta work, interior to have all conveniences, steam power, heat, electric light, elevators, etc.

John Maginnis has the contract to build the five-story building at 1707 and 1709 Filbert street for William H. Gregg, owner. This building will measure 40x116 feet, and it will replace the one destroyed by fire a couple of months ago.

Plans for the mammoth machine shop, which the William Cramp & Sons Ship and Engine Building Company will erect at its plant, with a frontage on Norris street, were submitted to the Bureau of Building Inspection last week for approval.

George F. Payne & Co. have started to build the two-story brick stable, 108x57 feet, to cost $36,000, on the south side of Mifflin street, east of Eighth street, for the United Gas Improvement Company. Wilson Bros. & Co. made the plans. Noted previously.

George B. Newman & Co. have signed contracts with Armstrong & Kintzschhoff to construct ten stalls in the second story of their stable, and also to build an iron covered gangway to the stable, on the south side of Chestnut street, east of Thirtieth street. The work will cost $1000.

The new structure to be built at the southwest corner of Main street and Fifth avenue, Asbury Park, N. J., for which the Philip Anns Company is now taking bids, will be erected for the Pennypacker Publishing Company. The structure will be three stories high and measure 39x30 feet.

The Athletic Association of the University of Pennsylvania has awarded a contract to Joseph Foster for the erection of the grand stand on Franklin field, from which the great ball games are to be witnessed. The stand will be 50x100 feet in dimensions, and will cost about $1000 for construction.

A. D. Spencer & Co. have signed contracts for painting as follows: Four passenger stations for the West Chester trolley road, stable for George A. Fletcher at Radnor, Pa., the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company's station at Wissahickon, and an addition at 317 South Eighteenth street.

The rector of St. Stephen's Church has taken title to three lots, each 14x70 feet, on Vernon avenue, 236 41 feet northwest of Girard avenue, and two lots each 14x70 feet, on the same thoroughfare, 344 41 feet northwest of Girard avenue, from Richard A. Cleeman. The consideration was nominal.

Drawings are in office of Macey, Henderson & Co., limited, for estimate for a storage house and a stable for the J. G. Brill Company. The storage house will measure 164x99.7 feet, and the stable 78.6x52 feet. The latter will contain twelve stalls, two box stalls, harness room, hay loft, feed bins, etc.

Foulke & Montgomery have accepted plans drawn by A. E. Yarnall, architect, 14 South Broad street, for the installation of a new electric passenger elevator with all safety appliances in the apartment house at the southeast corner of Twelfth and Spruce streets. The estimated cost is about $2000, and the Elktion Manufacturing Company has the contract.

In office of Port Wardens applications for wharf improvements were received as follows and referred to appropriate Committees: From the Schuylkill Improvement Land Company to erect a covered pier on Delaware avenue, near Snyder avenue, and from the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company to build a bulkhead across their dock on the west side of Gunner's Run.

B. Ketcham's Sons will at once make extensive interior and exterior alterations and remodel the six dwellings at 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 South Thirty-eighth street, transforming them into an apartment house, for William Weightman, owner. The work will cause an expenditure of $10,000 and include steam heat, electric work, tile mosaic, marble and slate work; also other decorations and all modern comforts, etc.

The Philadelphia Engine Works have started work on the erection of two additions to the bridge shop, to cost $15,000, at its plant, at Meadow and Mifflin streets, east of Front street, in the Thirty-ninth Ward. One of the additions will measure 12x30 feet and the other 65x0 feet. The new buildings will be constructed on concrete foundations, with brick walls and yellow pine and hemlock timbers.

Porter, Thompson & Sons, and other contractors in general are taking bids for the dwellings at Van Pelt and Locust streets for Charles T. Creswell and Miss Florence Cath-erwood. They want proposals for cut stone, brick and mason work, plastering, plumbing, painting, mill work, copper, iron, cement work and other items connected with the building. Plans by Baker & Dallett, architects, 1420 Chestnut street.

The jury appointed to assess damages for the condemnation of the buildings Nos. 1140 to 1148 Duntun street, for school purposes, have filed their report to the Common Pleas' Court, in which they made the following awards: Anna S. Coates and others, owners of Nos. 1140 and 1142 Duntun street, $5000; Bridget Irene Murphy, owner of No. 1144, $2500; William Murphy, owner of 1146, $2500; Bridget Murphy, owner of No. 1148, $2550.

The Finance Committee of the Reading School Board held a meeting October 30th, and decided that, in view of the cut in the school appropriation and the necessity for more schoolhouses, the tax rate must be increased. The Board is practically powerless to erect any new buildings at this time, beyond those now building, and which were provided for in last spring's appropriation, and there is urgent need of at least six new buildings.

Harry H. Pickering (late of Burck & Pickering) electrical construction, repairing, etc., 104 North Sixth street, has secured the contract for wiring for electric lights and motors of the old Odd Fellows' Hall Building, Sixth and Cresson streets. He is also doing all electrical work on 50 three-story dwellings for Killough Bros. at Fifteenth and Hazel avenue and 83 two-story dwellings at Fifty-second and Haverford avenue for Alexander Wilson, Jr.

John McConaghy took title last week in the property measuring 270.6x445 feet, at the west corner of Sixty-fifth street and Woodland avenue, from Elias P. Smithers, for $31,000, and the property at the north corner of Sixty-sixth street and Woodland avenue, measuring 129.6x485 feet, from Gertrude W. Pennington, for $18,000, on October 24th, and immediately transferred the lots to William C. B. Gilmore, for a nominal consideration, subject to ground rents.

There now seems to be a prospect of finishing the Franklin, Somerset and Kennebec Railroad which L. R. Atwood, a Philadelphia contractor, started to build and abandoned. It extends from Farmington to New Sharon, and surveys are now being made to extend the road to Waterville. There is a plan on foot to consolidate this, the Wiscasset and Quebec, and the Waterville and Week's Mills road. Mr. Atwood states that he will begin work at his end of the line as soon as the survey is finished.

The Plans and Improvement Committee of the Fairmount Park Commission were to have visited and inspected the Fairmount avenue entrance to the Park last week, where a number of important improvements are contemplated, but owing to the inclemency of the weather, the inspection was postponed until the 8th instant. It is proposed to greatly improve this entrance, the plans for which will be drafted by Chief Engineer Vogdes, and will be fully noted when agreed upon as to general detail.

Builder William Fleming will commence work at once on improvements at the southeast corner of Wayne avenue and Hansbury street, Germantown, to cost $1000, for William Conner, owner. The house will be pebble-dashed, a new bay window on the second story front and a front porch will be built, the side porch will be moved to the rear, the square bay window will be altered to a smaller one, octagon in shape, the second-story stairway will be altered, and the open fire place in the parlor will be closed.

In a special message to City Councils last Thursday, the 2d inst., Mayor Ashbridge recommended an ordinance to plant trees upon either side of Broad street from Moyamensing avenue, south, to Germantown avenue on the north. Also, that the sum of $10,000 be appropriated for that purpose. Also, a message indicating that his approval had been given to an ordinance passed last summer, and vetoed by him at that time, opening streets as follows: Pine, Lombard, Fifty-third and Juniper street, south.

W. G. Day, of Baltimore, has invented a new process for transferring decorations to tiling, etc. The superiority claimed for it over any plaster work is in the cheapness, variety of color effects of which it is capable, the rapidity with which it can be worked, its low cost of manufacture, and its great durability, the material being a fusible stone that may be melted. A company is being organized by J. C. McKennie, 402 Herald Building, for the manufacture of tiling under the Day process, also glazing bricks, stereotyping and transferring pictures on stone, etc. The capital will be $100,000.

Jesse D. Pharaoh will at once make extensive alterations and improvements at 1517 North Broad street, for Stanley Buck, owner. The work will include the construction of a new brick and red stone front, with a bay window, galvanized iron bay windows to the sitting and second and third floors, extensions, 5x19.6 feet to the dining room, and of 8x16 feet, to the kitchen, veranda in rear of the sitting room, and interior alterations to stairways, etc. Architects Rehfuß & Roberts, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, made the plans, and the estimated cost is $5000.

William Steele & Son, contractors 608 Walnut street, have the contract to construct several buildings at Frankford for Sheble & Klemm. The drawings were filed with Structural Engineer Clark, of the Bureau of Building Inspection recently, and they show a three-story office and stock house, 40.4x90.6 feet; a two-story machine shop, 58x23 feet; a two-story cylinder room, 65x38 feet; a two-story ferrule shop, 74.4x42 feet; a one-story hammer shop, 200x66 feet, and a two-story wagon house and stable, 58x30 feet. The necessary permit for the work will be granted as soon as the drawings are approved.

Contractors George R. Parke & Co., 401 South Juniper street, will build the new six-story office building, to be known as the De Long Building, at the southeast corner of Thirteenth and Chestnut streets, at a cost of $50,000. The structure will be 80 feet high, with spruce beams, steel girders and columns. It will have a front of brick, stone and plate glass. It is to have a frontage of 21 feet on Chestnut street and 100 feet on Thirteenth street. The first story will be arranged for store purposes. De Long Brothers are the owners. The same contractors have received the contract to build the Berwin residence, at Newport, R. I.

Florey & Bevan, 14 South Broad street, have sold 116 houses at Overbrook Heights to a New York syndicate for $1,178,750. The transaction is a very important one. Included in the sale are 36 houses on Sixty-third street, all of which are built of stone, and Highland avenue, between Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth streets, and extending from Lansdowne avenue to Jefferson street, embrace the balance of the 80 houses. They are of stone and brick. The negotiations for the purchase of the property were pending for some time. The stone houses are alternately single and in pairs, while the stone and brick residences are built in pairs.

The support of Congress for the improvement of the channel in the Delaware river is greatly desired by the commercial bodies of Philadelphia. An inspection of the river front has been planned for Saturday, November 18th, at which time members of Congress from Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, besides the Governors of those States, will be present. The inspection will be made as a means of impressing the visitors with the necessity for the deeper channel to the sea. The affair will be in charge of the Joint Executive Committee on the Improvement of the Harbor of Philadelphia and the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers.

Andrew Pinkerton, floor layer and planer 2482 North Thirty-third street, has been awarded the following contracts: Laying all maple floors in seven-story factory building at Twelfth and Cherry streets, and two factory buildings at Allegheny avenue and G street; four-inch planks and yellow pine floors in Scott Paper Factory, Sixth and Glenwood avenue; three-inch planks and yellow pine floors in Mathies's Monoco Factory, Tenth and Ontario streets; also maple floors at Dunlap's Carpet Factory, Fifty-sixth and Lancaster avenue, and laying and planing floors at Jenkintown Club House, Jenkintown, Pa. Camden Post Office, Camden, N. J., and Building 1224 Market street, Philadelphia.

Contractor Charles McCaul, 10 North Eleventh street, has secured the contract to erect a new telephone station at the northwest corner of Seventeenth street and Allegheny avenue for the Bell Telephone Company. He will also erect a new station for the Atlantic City Telephone Company, at the Atlantic City, and make alterations to the Electric Storage Battery Company's buildings at Nineteenth street and Allegheny avenue. Mr. McCaul also secured the contract for the fourteen-story office building for the Continental Trust Company, in Baltimore. The competition was open to the foremost builders of the country. It is said the building will be one of the handiwork in the country, and is to be finished in ten months.

The Admiral Porter property in the city of Chester, Pa., embracing an extensive tract of land along the river front, has been sold to B. C. Fox, Esq., for $25,000. P. M. Washabaugh, who was appointed by the Court, will ask that Mr. Fox's bid be approved, after which the deed will be transferred to a syndicate of local business men, who propose to improve and develop the property. The deed to this land has never been transferred from the original owner, Admiral David D. Porter, in over seventy-five years. The syndicate which has bought the property intend to drive piling and bulkhead the entire river front of the purchase, and fill in to the Port Warden's line, and develop the river front for some large concern. The land contains over thirty-three acres.

As a result of the competition among shipbuilders for contracts for the six unprotected cruisers authorized in the last Naval Appropriation bill, a contract for one ship will probably be awarded to each of these firms: Messrs. Townsend & Downey, of New York, upon its bid of $954,500; Wm. R. Prigg & Co. of Richmond, Va., upon its bid of $1,027,000; Lewis Nixon Crescent Shipyard, of Elizabeth, N. J., bid of $1,039,966; Bath Iron Works, Bath, Me., bid of $1,041,650; Union Iron Works, San Francisco, $1,041,900; River Engine Co., of Burnt River, Mass., bid $1,065,000. Neither the Cramps nor the Newport News Company took part in the competition to-day, and it is presumed they are reserving their slips for the battleships and armored cruisers, bids for which will be invited just as soon as Congress determines the armor question.

First thing you know some fellower perhaps some dozen fellows will wake up some fine morning to find out that during the night their business establishments have been reduced to ashes. And then what? Insurance of course and that is about all there will be left to start in on after settlements have been made. This was the cold proposition thousands of sufferers were compelled to face good the Chicago fire. There are plenty good fire insurance companies and quantity whose policies are not worth the paper they are written on. Don't you think you had better keep your eyes open as well as a tab on the standing of the companies in which your risks are placed. The Mechanics Insurance company Fifth and Walnut streets is one of the many good ones, and you do not want to forget it when you commence your investigation, either.

Messrs. Heaton & Wood, 1706 Chestnut street, owing to the demand for hardwood floors and grilles, far in excess of any previous season, have been compelled to add to their force as many skilled men as could be procured; also to work overtime when possible.

They will soon have, in addition, their city factory, to help out on more prompt delivery. This is not only an indication of better times, but also that better grades of flooring are demanded for our modern homes, as they make a specialty of furnishing selected and prepared lumber at a slight cost over ordinary work. It is a pleasure to visit this beautiful store and see their line of domestic and imported woods, together with curiously wrought and original designed grilles of every description. Messrs. Heaton & Wood are representatives of Cosper's Metallic Weather Strip for Pennsylvania. This Strip received the highest award at the World's Fair.

A new theatre is to be built in Chicago inside of a year by a company composed of Al Hayman, Charles Frohman, and Klaw & Erlanger, of New York, and Will J. Davis and Harry J. Powers, of Chicago. The prospective builders of the theatre have closed a ninety-nine-year lease of a plot of ground fronting seventy-two feet on Jackson street between Wabash and Michigan avenues, and one hundred and fifty-two feet deep. Possession of the ground will be given early in December, and the theatre will be opened October 1, 1900. The building will be devoted entirely to theatrical purposes, and by the terms of the lease the lessors bind themselves to erect a structure costing not less than $150,000. It will probably cost nearer $250,000. The seating capacity will be a little over 1500. The lease of the Columbia Theatre in Chicago, now held by Hayman & Davis, will expire next summer, and the new theatre is designed to take its place.

Director of Public Works Haddock has just awarded contracts for the grading of a large number of streets, principally in the suburban sections, and for paving with sheet asphaltum many other thoroughfares located in all sections of the city. The proposals for the latter improvements were opened about ten days ago, the lowest bids received ranging from $1.85 to $2.28 per square yard, and being about the same as those upon which contracts were awarded some months ago under $1,200,000 appropriated for the purpose out of the big loan of $1,200,000. The contracts awarded at this time for paving with sheet asphaltum were to the Alcatraz Paving Company, Pennsylvania Asphalt Paving Company, Richardson & Ross, W. S. F. Shields, and the Vulcanite Paving Company, the streets to be improved being as follows: Broad street, from Fisher's lane to Sommerville street; Collins street, from Allegheny avenue to Willard street; Cambria street, from Twenty-second to Twenty-third street; Cedar street, from Ann to Clearfield streets; Emerald street, from Harrowgate lane to Venango street; Fifty-third street from Haverford to Market street; Fifty-ninth street, from Race to Vine street; Midvale street, from Ridge avenue to Park Drive, Melville street, from Woodland to Kingessing avenue; Master street, from Sixty-first to Sixty-second street; Moyamensing avenue, from Ninth to Eleventh street; Nineteenth street from Erie street to Hunting Park avenue; Oakford street from Thirtieth to a point about 63 feet westward; Oakford street, from Twenty-eight to Twenty-ninth street; Pine street, from Forty-fifth to Forty-sixth street; Park avenue, from Cambria street to Glenwood avenue; Race street, from Fifty-second to Fifty-third street; Reed street, Twenty-seventh to Thirty-first street; Schuylkill avenue, from Wharton to Reed street; Sixty-fourth street, from Woodland to Paschall avenue; Somerset street from Twenty-second to Twenty-third street; Saybrook avenue, from Fifty-fifth to Vogdes street; Thompson street, from Sixtieth to Sixty-first street; Twenty-fourth street, from Tasker to Moore; Twenty-seventh street, from Earp to Reed; Twenty-sixth street from Huntingdan to Lehigh avenue; Vogdes street, from Woodland to Paschall avenue and Westminster avenue, from Fifty-sixth to Fifty-eighth street. This being original paving, all the work, with the exception of the intersections, will be paid for by the abutting property owners.

Through Pennsylvania.

A modern house with the old fashion black hardware would look as odd as this paragraph does without stops.

And the above statement is no joke, either.

It is doubtful if there is anything in the construction of a modern house that represents so much progression as American hardware.

The bricks, the plaster, the woodwork, are about the same as they were in ye olden times

The architecture, style, internal and external finish, in many cases, are but a revival of the colonial of a century ago.

Hardware is a distinctive feature in modern house-building and even where the colonial is imitated there is beauty, style, finish and individuality, particularly in the

that emphasizes itself to an extent that becomes quite as assertive as the most elaborate decorations or costly embellishments.

Our Exhibit Section D, Nos. 4 and 5, South Pavilion, of the National Export Exposition, is a veritable exhibition of American progression, for it voices the genius, care, symmetrical proportion and ornate beauty embodied in the products of the American manufacturer.

Our aim has been to make our exhibit an object lesson and we have utilized our space in showing the best collection of artistic hardware to be found in the world, without a single exception.

We submit our exhibit to your critical inspection, confident of the result through comparison.

Buy it, try it, and you will use no other.

Yours respectfully,

The Russell & Erwin Mfg. Co.

Not Sleepy Philadelphia.

From the New York Press.

Philadelphia never was a sleepy town, and where she got the name is not quite clear. She had the first bank in America, the first savings bank, manufactured the first brooms, had the first Roman Catholic Church, was the first to export cotton, had the first city directory, was the first to use gas in a theatre, had the first insurance company, published the first newspaper in a foreign tongue, had the first literary journal and the first daily newspaper; was the first to number residences and business houses, had the first paper mill, built the first turnpike road, organized the first anti-slavery society, and constructed the first steam engine used in America. Anything slow and pokey about that? And now what do you suppose she is doing to advertise her latest show? The cancelling machines in the post office have been running in with a stamp reading: "Nat'l Exposition—Sep-14-1899-Nov-30." Uncle Sam puts this on the back of every letter sent out of the city. Anything slow about it?

Cost of Living.

An investigation into the comparative cost of living at the various European capitals resulted in the following facts: At Vienna the prices of most articles of food are lowest; at Madrid they are dearer than in any other capital, and such things as bread, meat, sugar and coal are very expensive, indeed. At St. Petersburg, also, the price of bread is still considered a luxury above the means of the working classes. Next to Vienna, Brussels is an expensive city; Paris is a little higher in the scale, while London is still more expensive. An American spends on an average $50 a year for food, a Frenchman $48, a German $45, a Spaniard $38, an Italian $34 and a Russian $40. Of meat the American eats 109 pounds a year, the Frenchman 87 pounds, the German 64 pounds, the Italian 28 pounds and the Russian 51 pounds. Of bread the American consumes 880 pounds, the Frenchman 540 pounds, the German 560 pounds, the Spaniard 480 pounds, the Italian 400 pounds and the Russian 655 pounds. Outside of Europe, in times of peace, Manila is cheaper to live in than any other city in the world.

The Census of Germany.

The Times of Thursday published a careful analysis of the German census taken on June 14, 1895, from which it appears that the population amounted on that day to 51,770,000, of whom 25,400,000 were males and 26,360,000 females, the excess of females being, therefore, nearly a million, says the London Spectator. This population increases at the rate of a little more than a million a year, for which new means of maintenance, education and housing must be provided. The rush is, of course, to the towns, the general urban population having increased since 1882 by 33 per cent., while the populations of towns with more than 100,000 persons had more than doubled. Of the total, 8,292,000 are occupied in agriculture, 8,281,000 in industry, 2,238,000 in trade, 794,000 in the professions, 631,000 as soldiers or sailors and 1,330,000 as servants. The proportion of servants is the lowest in the census-taking world, not half the proportion in Great Britain. The Catholics are about a third of the population, while of the whole commercial class 5.71 per cent. are Jews.

VOL. XIV.—No. 46. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1899. $6.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

J. F. McCloskey has started to build the five-story brick factory, 40x80 feet, at the northwest corner of American and Willow streets for C. J. Matthews, owner. Architects Hales & Ballinger made the plans for this work and the estimated cost is $15,000. Previously noted.

James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, has made plans for alterations to the Diamond Electric Company's boiler house. These are quite extensive and take in masonry, iron and brick work, cement work, as well as minor detail improvements. Estimates being made in the office of Doyle and Doak, contractors, 1509 Sansom street, and other offices.

J. C. M. Shirk, architect, 421 Chestnut street, has made plans for alterations to house 1213 Walnut street, owned by Mr. Charles H. Smith. Specifications call for carpenter work, tiling, plastering, painting and glazing, plumbing, hot water generator to be let separate, as well as minor detail work. Estimates being made in office of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street and other contractors.

Philip Haibach has started work to cost $14,000 for the A. Schoenhut Company, at 213 & 2159 Emilen street and 2154 to 2160 Adams street. The new work on Emilen street will consist of the construction of a four-story brick factory, 59x28 feet, which will have an outside iron fire escape, and the other work will consist of the erection of a fourth story, 58x120 feet, to the three-story factory on Adams street.

Hales and Ballinger, architects and engineers, 1200 Chestnut street, are engaged in plans for a large factory to be erected on east side of Ninth between Ontario and Westmoreland streets, in addition to other structures already erected, and estimates are to be invited soon. Same architects are taking estimates on the boiler setting for the factory of C. J. Matthews, at St. John and Willow streets. Other work in course of preparation which will be noted soon.

A one story frame chapel, 24x40-6 feet will be built on the lot measuring 60x117 feet, at the northeast corner of Salmon and Lefevre streets in the Twenty-fifth ward, for the congregation of the First Baptist Church. Benjamin D. Price, architect, of Atlantic Highlands, made the plans, and Contractors Roth & Wagner will do the work. The same contractors have started to build a two-story brick dwelling, 16x45 feet, on the lot 29x150 feet, on the northeast side of Cottage street, near Bridge street, Twenty-third ward, for Frank Kohler.

Joseph W. Anshutz, architect, Board of Education has placed on boards of contractors plans for a school house to be erected at Fifty-first street and Greenway avenue, also for another to be erected at Girard avenue and Leopard street, both having been estimated upon previously, but not awarded. In both structures stone, brick and iron work will be specified, tin roofs slate work, hard wood on interior, steam heat, electric work, plumbing and cement work and all general conveniences, etc. The plans for both jobs can be seen at 1604 Sansom street, office of W. R. Dougherty, as well as other contractors in general.

Grant Withins, engineer and architect, Atlanta, Ga., has completed plans for an annex to the Fulton County Court House at Atlanta, Ga., and a set of drawings are now on the boards for estimates in office of Charles McCaul, contractor, No. 10 North Eleventh street, in this city. The structure will be three stories high, of granite, brick and structural steel work, cement work, slate, tile and marble work on interior, steam heat, electric work, elevators, radiators for heat, grille, iron and brass work, office partitions and fixtures, plate glass, and all the latest and best conveniences and improvements will be introduced. Bids now being made as above noted.

The prospects for the erection of a new armory building for the First City Troop, next spring, are considered bright. According to the present plans, the ground for the new building will be broken as soon as the winter is over. The site selected is on Twenty-third street, above Chestnut. It has a frontage on Twenty-third street, of 98 feet, extending back to Twenty-fourth street, a distance of 240 feet, and it is proposed to erect the largest riding hall in America on the lot. The old armory, which is owned, clear of encumbrances, by the organization, is assessed for $40,000. The new lot cost about $30,000. The new armory will cost about $70,000, and Bailey and Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have prepared plans for the work some time ago.

Stearns and Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth above Chestnut streets, have finished plans for the new factory of Simonh Sons at Clearfield and Trenton avenues; it will cost about $15,000. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 15, 1899

THE want of ability on the part of some people to recognize a change in conditions is to be regretted. Such a mental condition, if widely represented, exercises a most pernicious influence in impairing progress and prosperity.

It is natural for lots of well meaning people to attribute changes for the better to influences entirely foreign to the true causes, or to mince the facts in a way that is truly discouraging to the hustling drive and energy of those whose ability to recognize a change as well as the inestimable power of nature's forces.

The pessimist is a freak of nature. The judgment day is always on hand with him, and the shroud and the halo are an important feature of his household effects always.

He cannot be made to see things as they exist, for his vision is darkened by the inherent forebodings of his make up.

He won't build, for while he has been contemplating an improvement long enough for the average boy to grow a full crop of whiskers, he is suddenly brought face to face with new conditions, and to him this means an increase of prices, or in other words, a sudden change for everybody from starvation methods to an era of prosperity, which he calls trusts.

He will not recognize the fact that trusts are made up of human beings who pool their capital for money-making purposes, and that these trusts are engineered by the shrewdest and most capable men in their respective lines of business.

Whoever heard of the formation of trusts when the possibilities of money-making were rendered highly improbable through conditions both drastic and general?

Our pessimist is like his colored brother, who is always preparing for a decent burial through his membership to funeral societies.

The river of Lethe runs through Africa; its waters never saturate the soil of America. The poets properly called it the river of Hell, because a drink of its waters produced oblivion.

Our pessimist is eternally waiting. He won't build because prices have advanced, while others are offering a bonus to have their orders filled without regard to prices.

Nor will he recognize this fact, that the very conditions that have enhanced prices also increase the demand over which he is worrying and regretting while delaying, only to meet greater obstacles through the very delay for which he alone is responsible.

Our people are tired of doing business on a starvation basis, and they propose to keep pace with the march of progress and prosperity which has commenced throughout the civilized world.

THE Thanksgiving number of The Saturday Evening Post, in its stories, poems, pictures and general articles, will be the most attractive number of the magazine yet issued.

In this number Robert W. Chambers has a seasonable out-of-door story, entitled "The Hunter," the romance of a poacher's pretty daughter. Other features are: Edwin Markham's latest poem, "The Lyric Seer;" "An Electrical Transaction"—a tale of the Transvaal War, by Robert Barr; "At Dawn," by Octave Thanet, and "The Minister's Hen-house," a droll story by C. B. Loomis.

Two notable articles in this number are "Lincoln as Candidate and President," by his old friend and political ally, Colonel A. K. McClure, and "Our New Prosperity," by Frank A. Vanderlip, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

The Thanksgiving number of The Saturday Evening Post will be on all news-stands November 23.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Last week fire destroyed the dye and dry house of James Maslin, at Jasper and Clearfield streets, causing a loss of about $12,000. It is the intention to rebuild at once.

The Committee on Property, Board of Education of this city, have passed a resolution to ask Councils for $40,000 to make alterations and addition to the Belmont school, in the Twenty-fourth section.

Contractor George C. Dietrich will at once start to build the $2000 storage house in the rear of 915 and 917 North Front street, for Alfred Box & Co., owners. The building will be a one-story structure, and measure 38x100 feet.

Builder John M. Whelan has started to build thirty-five dwellings, to cost $35 000, in the thirty-third ward. The houses will each measure 14x8 feet, and be built on the west side of Bodine street, between Ontario and Tioga streets.

S. Gourley, Jr., contractor, will build the three-story public school building, 164x54 feet, to cost $81 000, on the south side of Allegheny avenue, between Germantown avenue and Twelfth street, in the Thirty-seventh ward. Previously noted in full.

A new back building is to be erected in the rear of No. 1706 Locust street for George L. Harrison, at an estimated cost of about $5000. Stacy Reeves & Son will tear down the present back building to the foundations preparatory to starting work on the new addition.

Loydhouse, Arey & Co., Master Builders Exchange Building, are taking bids for a mammoth machine shop for the Baldwin Locomotive Works, on the west side of Broad street between the subway and Hamilton street. The shop will be six stories high and measure 200x100 feet.

The Grusen Iron Company has arranged with the Eddystone Borough Council, near Chester, Pa., to locate its plant there. The company has bought the Simpson property and promises to erect big diags and have the plant in operation in two years. It will give employment to 1000 persons.

The Bureau of Building Inspectors of this city has condemned the properties at Nos. 125, 127 and 129 Willow street. The front and rear walls are in a dangerous condition and are liable to collapse at any time. They are to be torn down. The Provident Title & Trust Company represents the owners.

J. Renton White, Oak Lane, has made arrangements to build a $5000 house on the east side of Lawnton avenue, south of Sixty-ninth avenue, Oak Lane. The house will be two stories high and 40x45 feet in dimensions, on a lot 134x175 feet. The plans have been approved and ground will be broken at once.

Copies of the new building laws are ready for distribution at the office of the Bureau of Building Inspection. Chief Hill said recently that the laws would only be given to contractors, builders and architects. They can be had by applying in person or sending a business card. No laws will be mailed to anyone.

Thomas B. Harrison, of No. 1520 Locust street, has accepted plans drawn by Guy King, architect, for extensive additions and alterations to be made to the stable on Latimer street, in the rear of his residence. George F. Payne & Co. have the contract to do the work, a figure said to be about $2000, and will begin work at once.

Councils' Committee on Fairmount Park met last week to consider an ordinance appropriating $250 000 for the improvement of the entrance to the Park at Spring Garden street. The ordinance provides for the condemnation and purchase of several unsightly buildings and lots at the triangle bounded by the Reading Railway, Twenty-fifth street and Green street.

At a meeting of St. Peter's Lutheran congregation at Barren Hill it was decided to rebuild the structure which was destroyed by fire on September 28, at a cost not to exceed $13,000. The new church will be a modern edifice of polished stone, rock face, with a steeple. John Kerper is the chairman of the building committee. The assets of the church are about $18,000.

Coincident with the perfection of plans for the construction of a mammoth hotel on the site of the old Excursion House at the southern end of Atlantic City, the purchase of four hundred and sixty acres of ground in the immediate vicinity has recently been arranged for. The deal will be consummated to-morrow. The new owners are known as the Chelsea Investment Company, capitalized at $1,000,000, Charles A. Porter, of Philadelphia, being the principal mover therein.

The hotel building to be erected by the Atlantic City & Chelsea Improvement Company, in which Senator Boise Penrose, Allen B. Rorke, W. W. Gibbs, C. R. Dicks and others are heavily interested, will be built of brick and iron. It is understood that its construction will be entirely controlled by Mr. Rorke, with the view of having its erection pushed during the winter with Mr. Rorke's usual vigorous energy. Work will be commenced as soon as details are completed.

The ordinance granting permission to the Frankford and Fairmount Passenger Railway Company to lay tracks and operate an overhead trolley system on certain streets in the Twenty-second, Twenty-third and Twenty-eighth wards, was referred to a sub-committee of five by Councils' Committee on Street Railroads at their last meeting. Like action was taken with an ordinance to compel the Frankford, Tacony and Holmesburg Railway Company to remove a track from Frankford avenue, near Bridge street.

Porter Thompson & Sons, Twenty-third and Filbert streets, have been awarded the contract for the erection of the two handsome four-story dwellings, at Locust and Van Pelt streets, one for Charles T. Cresswell, the other for Miss Florence Catherwood. These structures will be fitted up with hardwoods, tile work and up-to-date plumbing. The drawings for both houses were made by Architects Baker & Dallett, and as soon as they are approved by the Bureau of Building Inspection, the permit for the work will be granted.

Charles P. Nesbitt, contractor, has started to make improvements to Bethany Presbyterian Church, on Bainbridge street below Twenty-second, at a cost of $27,000. The work includes interior alterations, a new clerestory, new galleries to seat 500 persons, raised choir stands and a two-story brick addition. The architect is Thomas P. Lonsdale, and a full description of the work has been given in these columns. No award for the new Memorial Chapel to be erected at Twenty-eighth and Morris streets has been made. Mr. Lonsdale also made plans for this structure, and they were fully noted previously.

The congregation of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, which fitted up quarters for church purposes, at Albrecht's Hall, near 3005 Diamond street, have completed arrangements with Jesse R. Pharaoh, contractor, to make extensive alterations and improvements in the first floor, 3007 Fountain street. When this work, which will cost $2000, is completed this floor will be used as a place of worship. The improvements will include new floors and iron columns, replastering and wainscoting, the side walls of the main room, putting in new gas fixtures, constructing a chancel and robing room, new window in front, a steam heating plant and brick up the rear entrance.

During the past six months William T. B. Roberts, real estate operator, 410 Land Title Building, this city, sold suburban property which realized over half a million dollars, exclusive of the closing out of the entire Willow Grove Land Company tract of 900 lots. This is the largest sale of suburban property ever made within the same period in the history of Philadelphia, and is another proof of the unprecedented prosperity of the present year. The following is a statement of these suburban sales from May 1, 1899, to November 10, 1899: Glenside Highlands, $163,353; Roslyn Terrace, $191,080; Ogontz Park, $207,749; also two small properties, Grove Terrace, $17,800; Grove Terrace Annex, $8,855; grand total, $556,960, together with the closing out of the entire Willow Grove Land Company tract of 900 lots.

Proposals are posted as wanted by Supervising Architect, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., in the Master Builders Exchange, 24 South Seventh street, as follows: Until November 23, for plumbing etc., U. S. Marine Hospital at Cleveland, Ohio; until 13th day of December, for painting, decorations, etc., U. S. Court House and Custom House, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin; until 18th November, for wiring system electric work U. S. Post Office, Newport, Ky.; until 22 November, for erection of an isolated ward Marine Hospital, Boston, Mass.; until 22 November, for construction of a laundry building at Marine Hospital, Boston, Mass.; until 18 November, for heating and ventilating apparatus complete, U. S. Court House and Post Office, Norfolk, Va. Plans and specifications are only furnished at discretion of the above authority.

William Steele & Sons, 506 Walnut street, have the contract for extensive improvements for the Bernstein Manufacturing Company at the southwest corner of Third and Westmoreland streets, to cost $71,800. The work will include the erection of a brick factory building, the front structure to be three stories high and measure 293x60 feet, with a one-story brick back building, 68x136 feet; a three-story building, 96x46 feet, and a two-story back building, 42x23 feet, to be used for factory and stable purposes; a one-story brick engine and boiler house, 25x76 feet; a wagon storage shed, 36x60 feet, and a cupola room, 22x44 feet. Work will be started at once. The above named contractors have started work on the erection of a two-story brick stable, 68x30 feet, to cost $5000, for Sheble & Klenn, owners, on the east side of Ashland street, near Frankford Creek, Frankford. They have also filed an application for a permit to build a two-story storage building, 60x130 feet, for the same firm, to cost $1800.

Plans are being pushed to completion by Chief Pierie of City Property for improvement of the land set aside for what will be known as League Island Park. The general shape of League Island Park is a somewhat irregular square, with Broad street passing through the centre. Midway along Broad street will be the key point and heart and assembling place of the park whence the best distant views can be obtained, as well as the most highly finished foreground details. This great circle of gardens and assembling places contains twelve acres, and has within its bounds the most varied formal effects that should pertain to combined garden and promenade. It is intended to have gay parterres of richly colored leaf plants, massed in curious and artistic designs; fountains, with water lilies and lotuses floating on the water of the basin, and umbrageous arches of leafage sifting from on high golden bars of sunlight. The open air gymnasiums for boys and girls will be near by and convenient of access. We have previously noted this work in these columns.

Harlan Page, of Mt. Airy, Chestnut Hill, is at the head of a company who intend to erect a large apartment house on the north side of Cheltenham avenue, and between Greene and Wayne streets. The lot has a frontage on Cheltenham avenue of 180 feet, running through to Maplewood avenue, a depth of 325 feet. The site of the proposed building is also only a few squares either way from the stations of the Reading and Pennsylvania Railroads. It is expected that the apartment house will have a frontage on Cheltenham avenue of 140 feet, with a hollow square in the centre of 60 feet, for light, air and attractive flower beds. The building will extend back 256 feet, with light on all sides. It will be six stories in height, constructed of Pompeian brick and Indiana limestone, with terra cotta trimmings. Four floors will be fitted up with suites of rooms, all communicating. A roof garden will be a feature for summer use. Harlan Page, of Mount Airy, is at the head of the syndicate having the enterprise in charge. Fred Fox, architect, 4956 Rubicam street, made the plans, and estimates are being offered in the office of J. W. DeLong, 1003 Real Estate Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, where the plans can be seen.

The Property Committee of the Board of Education met on the 18th inst with Council's Committee on Schools to award contracts for new schools and paving around seven schools now in course of construction. The contract for the erection of a twelve-division building at Fifty-first and Greenway avenue was awarded to W. K. Smith for $54,941, without paving. The school is to be finished by August 1 next. A contract to build a school at Girard avenue and Leopard street was awarded to S. Gourlay for $31,575, but as the items for new schools did not mention this section the award was reconsidered and left in the hands of the chairman of the Property and School Committees to see if it was necessary to have a special ordinance passed by Councils. Owing to the lack of money the only contract awarded for paving was for that around the new school at Sixteenth and Porter streets, which will be occupied in less than a month. It was awarded to the Pennsylvania Paving Company for $5769. The Property Committee recommended the purchase, at $16,000, of a lot at Frankford and Erie avenues, 224 feet by 1.0 feet by 150 feet by 240 feet, offered by George Horn for $20,000. The reduction asked for was due to the fact that the lot is assessed for only $10,000. The committee also decided to request Councils to repeal its ordinance purchasing the O'Rourke lot at Glenwood and Frankford avenues, in the Twenty-fifth section, for $25,000, because there are more suitable lots to be had in the vicinity.

The plans for the new station of the Chesapeake & Ohio R. R., at Richmond, Va., are nearing completion in Wilson Brothers & Co.'s office, Drexel Building, this city, and contemplate a handsome structure to be built of dark-colored Pompeian brick, with a light green stone base and terra cotta trimmings. While no estimates have been received as yet, it is anticipated that the new building will cost between $400,000 and $500,000. In architecture the building will be ornamental, as well as imposing, and will be after the Spanish Renaissance in style. The general waiting room is placed central and is flanked on the one side by the ladies' room, entrance stairs, elevator, etc., and on the other side by the dining room, exit stairs, and service stairs to the upper floors. A general service stairs and elevator has also been provided from the ground floor to the fourth floor. The interior of the second story has been arranged with colonades and large openings. This gives a beautiful vista into the upper parts of the dining-room and ladies' room and effects a continuity of architectural dignity from one end of the building to the other, and gives a very spacious appearance. On the fourth floor arrangements have been made for the use of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., with rest rooms, bath-rooms, reading-rooms, etc. A conspicuous feature of the building will be a handsome clock tower, with faces on all four sides, surmounting one corner of the building. It is intended to make an architectural feature of the interior of the second story, and in all probability the columns and pilaster finish and the wainscoting will be of marble and the floors of marble mosaic. A very commodious lobby is placed between the station proper and the train shed, with plenty of exit and train gates. It is the intention of the railroads to have everything in connection with this station first-class and substantial and of a permanent character, and the building and train shed, with all their appointments, when finished, will be among the finest examples of this kind of work in this country. Previously noted in brief in these columns.

A modern house with the old fashion black hardware would look as odd as this paragraph does without stops.

And the above statement is no joke, either.

It is doubtful if there is anything in the construction of a modern house that represents so much progression as American hardware.

The bricks, the plaster, the woodwork, are about the same as they were in ye olden times.

The architecture, style, internal and external finish, in many cases, are but a revival of the colonial of a century ago.

Hardware is a distinctive feature in modern house-building and even where the colonial is imitated there is beauty, style, finish and individuality, particularly in the

that emphasizes itself to an extent that becomes quite as assertive as the most elaborate decorations or costly embellishments.

Our Exhibit Section D, Nos. 4 and 5, South Pavilion, of the National Export Exposition, is a veritable exhibition of American progression, for it voices the genius, care, symmetrical proportion and ornate beauty embodied in the products of the American manufacturer.

Our aim has been to make our exhibit an object lesson and we have utilized our space in showing the best collection of artistic hardware to be found in the world, without a single exception.

We submit our exhibit to your critical inspection, confident of the result through comparison.

Buy it, try it, and you will use no other.

Yours respectfully,

High Wages Not Costly Labor.

The most important part of Governor Stone's speech at the opening of the Philadelphia Export Exposition was his presentation of the paradox that high rates of wages do not necessarily mean costly labor, and that the growing export of manufactured goods from this country has not only occurred when wages were higher here than abroad, but notably this year the exportation has been increasing with wages going up. To economists it is no new thing, nor is it confined to our own experience; it has been illustrated in the competition of England with the continent, and of Germany with Russia, as well as in the competition of the United States with England. But the manufacturer has been rather too much disposed to sneer at the economists, and to stick to what was put forward as the common-sense view, that if he paid higher wages than his European competitor he must get a higher price or lose money. The greater use of machinery in one country than in another explains in part the paradox of high wages and a low labor cost, but in addition to this there are differences in the strength of laborers, due mainly to their diet, and in their energy, due partly to strength and partly to local custom and the incitement to their ambition. The experience of the elder Brassey was that the cost of crude labor was pretty nearly the same, first and last, in all quarters of the globe, and the competition of this country and of western Europe with eastern Europe and Asia afford many instances where the cost of production is least where wages are highest. There is a great future for this country as an exporter in competition with Europe.—Exchange.

Houses for Working Men.

W. P. Hartley, of Aintree, one of the suburbs of Liverpool, recently erected a street of about three-score houses for working men to acquire on easy terms, having observed the beneficial working of a scheme of the sort in Philadelphia, says the London Times. On Monday night he called a meeting of tenant-purchasers at the Aintree Institute to consider whether they would continue under the agreement into which they had entered or approach the Liverpool City Council with a view to that body's taking over the enterprise under the provisions of Mr. Chamberlain's small houses (acquisition of ownership) bill.

The sixty houses erected by Mr. Hartley are on the two sides of a street (Cedar road), which is seventy feet wide between the walls. The roadway is twenty feet, each sidewalk ten feet wide, and the gardens in front of the houses are fifteen feet long. The cost of erection varied from $1375 to $1850 per house, and the terms of purchase vary in proportion.

In a 1375 house there is a sitting room, kitchen, with modern range, scullery, pantry, three bedrooms, small bathroom, with hot and cold water, and coalhouse and water closet outside, but under cover. A patent cone boiler in the scullery prevents steam from escaping into the remainder of the house. An 1850 house contains a front sitting room, dining room, kitchen, scullery, pantry and outhouses under cover, while upstairs are three bedrooms, bath and water closet, and double attic bedroom. In all cases there are gardens at the back as well as the front, while Mr. Hartley has reserved a plot of 3200 square yards as a recreation ground for the colony.

The tenant has to pay for ground rent about $11.50 a year, besides repairs and rates, and he pays off the principal at the rate of 3½ per cent. per annum, or $46.50 in the case of a 1375 house. He also pays interest at the rate of 8½ per cent. For the first year there is a total of $93, but the interest will diminish as the principal is paid off, and in eighteen years the house becomes the tenant's own property.

If compelled to move the tenant may sell his interest or have the principal he has repaid refunded, less ½ per cent. per annum for depreciation. A tenant may, if he likes, buy the freehold, which is held by Mr. Hartley. The tenant purchasers comprise commercial travelers, clerks, school masters, engine drivers, engineers, stewards, etc.—Exchange.

Gold Production.

The increasing output of gold from the mines of the world is stimulating industry and commerce in all countries. In the United States most of all because, aside from this country being one of the greatest producers of the yellow metal, it is the great surplus country of the world in agricultural and industrial commodities and products, and because of its excess of exports in its foreign trade is drawing to it, or piling up in foreign countries subject to draft, enormous gold balances. The figures of recent years are so large that they cannot be too often taken into consideration because of their effect on trade and on prices. For the first half of the nineteenth century the world's annual output of gold averaged about thirteen millions of dollars. After California mines were opened and Australia's, there was a sudden increase, for five years, to an average of about 182½ millions.

From this on there was a gradual falling off to the world's yield, until from 1881 to 1885, the average annual yield was below one hundred million dollars. In 1891 it was back to $180,650,000, and in 1892, $146; in 1893, $157; in 1894, $181, in 1895, $198; in 1896, $202; and in 1897, $237 millions in round figures. For 1898 the figures show an increase of about fifty millions according to the figures of the "Engineering and Mining Journal," being $236,218,954, and the outlook for increased production in North America, in Australia and South Africa indicates that 1899 will exceed 1898 as much as the latter exceeded 1897.

In the United States there is every reason to look for greater development in the old fields of production, while in Alaska and in the British territory north of our country there is a very rapid development, the proceeds of which will largely enter our Western ports direct from the mines, and from this source alone our gain ought to be considerable over 1898. But as our foreign trade balance sheet now stands, and promises to stand for the future, wherever the gold may be mined and through whatever channels it may be directed, its ultimate destination will be largely to our ports. Russia, Austria, Germany, Japan and other countries are buying gold in London to furnish their monetary needs, but with all the European countries our balances steadily increase, so that the gold, or credit for it, subject to draft, must find its way to the United States.

VOL. XIV.—No. 47.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

At York county, Pa., J. A. Dempwolf has prepared plans for the model school to be erected at Millersville, Pa., by the trustees of the State Normal School. It will cost $80,000. The contract has been awarded to Mr. H. D. Rapp, of Lancaster.

Mr. Frank Miles Day, architect, of this city, has been selected to prepare plans for the competitive drawings for the Baltimore Custom House, at Baltimore, Md. A number of other architects have been selected, and are mentioned elsewhere in these columns. It is expected a selection will be made at an early day and the work begun.

Richard C. Loos, architect, has taken offices at 1017 Chestnut street, moving from the Fidelity Building, Broad above Arch street. Mr. Loos will be well prepared in his new rooms to prosecute his profession, and is engaged on several building projects, which will be noted as plans develop.

M. Emile Benard, the French architect, whose plans were selected for the University of California, has arrived in New York on his way to California, to superintend the beginning of the undertaking. He has announced that he will require the assistance of a number of American architects. The total cost of the buildings will be about $80,000,000, and it will take twenty years to complete the work. It will accommodate five thousand boarding students.

Amos W. Barnes, engineer and architect, 904 Walnut street, has made complete plans for alterations and extensive additions to the Willow street shops of the Baldwin Locomotive Works. Specifications are brief, but include iron work, brick and stone construction, with steam heat and power. Electric work will be put in the interior, and all general conveniences, etc. Estimates are now being made in the office of Doyle & Doak, 905 Sansom street, and other contractors.

The election of officers for the coming year and the meeting place for the next convention were features of the last day's session of the Architects' Convention at Pittsburgh, Pa., last week. Washington was chosen for the next meeting. The election for officers resulted as follows: President, R. S. Peabody, of Boston; first vice president, W. S. Barnes, of St. Louis; second vice president, Frank Miles Day, of Philadelphia; secretary and treasurer, Glenn Brown, of Philadelphia.

Architects Hales & Ballinger, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed drawings for a large warehouse to be erected at Ninth street, Sedgley avenue and Ontario street, for J. P. Mathieu & Co., leather manufacturers. The building will be an L-shaped structure. One portion of it will be two stories high, and 272 feet long, and the other one story high and 332 feet long. A bridge will be constructed to the warehouse to connect it with the company's present building on the west side of Ninth street. As soon as the architects finish the drawings they will invite proposals for the work.

The growth of the Park Avenue M. E. Church and Sunday-school, at Park avenue and Norris street, has caused the necessity for the enlargement of the quarters of the Sunday-school. The annual corporation meeting of the Society in the spring authorized the trustees to get plans and estimates for a new chapel. Later on a public subscription netted $18,000, and Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, was retained to make plans which were completed early in the current year, and fully noted in these columns. The work will very likely be started in the spring of 1900.

Preliminary sketches are now being prepared for a very fine I-shaped apartment house, to be erected in this city at an early day. The drawings are being made in the office of William Macauley, architect, 1530 Chestnut street, and precise location and name of owner are withheld for the present. When built it will be six stories high, of brick, stone and terra cotta work, and unique in design and replete with every comfort and accommodation. The interior will be handsomely decorated and fitted with elevators, electric work, baths and toilets, steam heat, mosaic tile and slate work, iron and brass grille work, and finely appointed suites and single rooms, etc. Fuller details will be announced later in these columns.

The plans of Architect Charles E. Oelshlager, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, providing for the erection of a three-story truck house at Twelfth and Wharton streets for the city, have been submitted to Structural Engineer Clark, of the Bureau of Building Inspection. The building will have a frontage of 32 feet and be 98 feet deep. The front will be of an ornamental design, constructed of brick, with marble, granite and Indiana limestone trimmings. The first floor will contain tracks for the apparatus, four horse stalls, water troughs; second floor, recreation room, with twelve lockers, foreman's room, toilet room, bath and shower bath rooms, and a large dormitory; third floor, gymnasium, drying room, hay loft and feed bins. The hay and feed chutes will extend from the first to the third floor, and there will be three sliding poles, two extending from the dormitory and one from the recreation room on the second floor to the first floor. The same architect is at work on plans for a new police patrol house, to be built at Twentieth and Pemberton streets, for the city, and the detail drawings have been submitted for inspection. Estimates are to be invited at an early day by the Chief of City Property at his office, City Hall.

A new police and patrol station is to be erected on the north side of York street, east of Twenty-sixth street, and Architects J. Franklin Stuckert & Son, 49 North Thirteenth street, announce that they have finished drawings for an up-to-date police station and patrol house, and further, that they would have plans on the boards for estimates early this week. The same firm has also completed drawings for the erection of a combination police patrol, fire patrol and police station at Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue for the city. Both structures will be erected and fitted up with all modern improvements. The site on which the three buildings will be erected, at Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue, has a frontage of 150 feet on Snyder avenue, 166.43 feet on Fifteenth street and 162.11 feet on Passyunk avenue. The police patrol station will contain tracks for the patrol, feed bins, a hay loft, etc. The fire patrol quarters will contain tracks for the apparatus and quarters for the men, feed bins and chutes. On the first floor of the police station will be located the lieutenant's room, chamber and bath room; street sergeant's room, with a bath room attached, roll room and cell room with six cells in the rear; dormitories, matron's department and sick room on the second floor and dormitories and sitting room on the third floor. The police station on York street, below Twenty-sixth street, will measure 49x82 feet, and will be laid out similar to the police station at Fifteenth street and Passyunk avenue. The patrol station will front on Hagert street, and there will be a cemented driveway from York street to Hagert street, between the fire and police stations.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The J. L. Clymer Co., 2136-23 Germantown avenue, have under construction all the cement work on the walks around the McPherson Square at Kensington avenue and Indiana avenue.

Contractor A. Robinson will make extensive alterations and additions to Senator Porter's residence, on the east side of Academy road, at the corner of Bristol street, Torresdale, to cost $9000.

Extensive alterations are to be made to the storage house of Straubmuller's brewery, Emilen street, east of Trenton avenue. Philip Haibach has the contract, at a figure said to approximate $3000.

Samuel McClellan has begun work on improvements to the dwelling at 1632 Walnut street, for John W. W. Williams, owner. The work will consist of the erection of a one-story brick laundry, 7x10 feet, a new back stairway, put in elevator, alter main stairway and partitions, and cut new windows in the walls.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 22, 1899

COASTING vessel owners are receiving the heaviest freight rates for years, and vessels are not over plenty at that. We know of one charter last week at $1.55 per ton for coal to Boston, and demurrage at both ends of the route in case of delay. The "Evening Star" quotes a charter of $3.50 per ton for coal to Augusta, Maine. When it is considered that 60 cents per ton for coal to Boston was the prevailing rate last summer, and that present prices represent a raise of over 300 per cent., it is safe to conclude that business is going with a rush in some sections.

We also know of a shipper who was quoted a rate last week of 20 cents per barrel for 3000 barrels of cement by vessel, against 12 cents per barrel, the former price.

The mountains of coal at Richmond wharves are gone, and we know that tide-water coal is hard to get, one vessel at Baltimore having been delayed for the better part of a week for the want of two car-loads to complete her cargo.

There are some fears expressed as to a coal famine in some sections in case of a prolonged snap of cold weather, as stocks are not large, and there are thousands of concerns burning coal extensively now that have not consumed a pound of it for years.

The following clipping from the "Atlanta Constitution," in conjunction with the estimate furnished by the commission for the completion of the City Hall, will, it would seem, be a veritable tid-bit for our tax-payers to chew and lament over as a condition of municipal government for which they alone are responsible. Indeed, there is much room for worry among our thinking and well-meaning citizens in the face of the coming opportunity for the diversion of public funds when the twelve million loan resolves itself into hard dollars and work on the great humbug, to be known as a filtering plant, commences.

This is certainly poor encouragement for people with money to buy real estate in Philadelphia, and as "coming events have cast a shadow before," even in this staid old city of the Quakers, it wouldn't, under present auspices, take much of a prophet to predict the wanderings of the aforesaid dollars, nor the kind of an institution the above-mentioned filtering plant will become under the control of existing powers.

An inside history of our former gas works would afford refreshing reading if one were truthfully written, but would it afford more cause for wonderment and alarm than one of the inside workings of the City Hall Commission from its inception to the present day?

It is not necessary to analyze the figures contained in the Commission's estimates, for as soon as our citizens become tired of being humbugged humbugs will stop, and not before.

In Philadelphia, where the Republicans continue to stuff the ballot-boxes as a matter of habit and custom, there exists one of the greatest curiosities this country has ever seen. It is called the Public Buildings Commission, and it is an affair that is self-perpetuating. Therefore, when we talk about self-government in this country we should not forget the existence of this monstrosity, which was invented for the purpose of eating up the money of the taxpayers.

The Public Buildings Commission was organized ostensibly for the purpose of supervising the erection of a city building, the cost of which was to be in the neighborhood of $5,000,000. The result is that this city building has been erected at a cost of $25,501,556. That the Commission has just demanded $1,000,000 more.

The Russell & Erwin Mfg. Co.'s Hardware Exhibit.

With singular unanimity the visitors to the National Export Exposition have pronounced the exhibit of the Russell & Erwin Hardware Mfg. Co. the most beautiful among the large number of displays of all kinds.

Congratulations in plenty have been showered upon the company's manager, Mr. Van Newkirk for the exquisite taste he has expressed in the arrangement of his display of the company's products.

It is a noticeable fact that while those associated with the building trades are, perhaps, more critical as well as more careful in their examination of the hardware exhibited, it is extremely gratifying to the manager that his display has excited such a warm interest among the general public as to justify the statement with which this article begins.

The exhibit will remain during the entire term of the Exposition, and it is hoped that every one will examine it.

A committee of the Reading School Board are selecting sites for new school houses. It is proposed to erect four buildings, which will be located at Fifth and Spring, Tenth and Union, Eleventh and Pike and Douglass and McKnight streets respectively, and plans and measures are to be considered at once to carry the ordinance passed recently into effect.

We are informed by a member of the Board of City Trusts that there is no foundation for the report current in some of the daily journals, that that body contemplated the erection of a hundred houses or more in the Twenty-sixth ward or elsewhere. This may become feasible at sometime, but surely has not been considered at all, nor is it likely to be in the near future.

Alterations and additions, to cost $10,000, will be made at 2314 Wood street, for Lever Bros., by Rush J. Whiteside & Sons. The roof of one of the buildings will be raised, and interior brick walls will be built. Two new floors of steel beams will be constructed, two elevators will be put in, new cement floors will be laid, and general exterior and interior additions will be built.

Nathan Snellenberg, the merchant, Twelfth and Market streets, in this city, has bought nearly six acres of land on south side of Market street, east of Fifty-eighth street, as a matter of investment, for the present, at least;

Real estate in this locality is being sought, and is on the rise in the market, owing to the numerous buildings now erected and contemplated in the near future.

John Devlin, builder and owner, has completed arrangements to build sixteen dwellings on the north side of Shunk street east of Fifteenth, at an estimated cost of $25 000 for construction. Four of these will have fronts of fifteen feet, while twelve will be sixteen feet front. All of them will be two stories high, and two will be stores and dwellings. The fronts are to be of brick, with brownstone trimmings.

The Sawyer Electrical Company has the contract for all the electrical work in the building to be erected by Mr. William Weightman, at 1035-37 Market street; also the contract to install the pump, hydraulic elevators and other details of the steam plant; also has contracts for the residence of Mr. John C. Bullitt, Welde & Thomas' Brewing Company, Jordan L. Mott's iron works, new store 1123 Walnut street, and for the apartment house at 203 South 12th street.

Work on a big building operation in West Philadelphia has been started, in the improvement of the entire square bounded by Woodland and Greenwood avenues, Sixty-fifth and Sixty-sixth streets. The realty company of McGraw & McConaghy will expend over $20,000 for the erection of 164 moderate-priced houses on this vacant square. The operation will be finished by next spring. All are to be of press brick, and best conveniences on interior.

The plans drawn by T. P. Lonsdale, architect, for the extensive additions and alterations to be made to Bethany Presbyterian Church, Bainbridge street, below Twenty-second have been passed by the Building Bureau. These improvements contemplate a two-story addition 24x16 feet in dimensions, new outside stair enclosures to the front entrance, and a number of interior alterations. The estimated cost of the work is about $27,000. Charles P. Nesbitt has the contract, and will begin work at once. Previously noted in full.

The drawings for the new High School to be erected at Chester, Pa., were placed on contractor's boards for estimates, the 16th inst. The drawings were made by Architect Seymour Davis, of this city, and when the proposals were opened about a week ago, it was found that the bids were higher than the Building Committee anticipated. Mr. Davis said yesterday that the Building Committee would hold a meeting on Wednesday evening and that $100,000 is available for the work. Previously noted in full.

At the northwest corner of York road and Sixty-eighth avenue, in the Twenty-second ward, Charles Longmier will have a three-story mansard roof store and dwelling built. The house will measure 36.9x49 feet, and the lot on which it will be put measures 100x20 feet. The materials to be used in constructing the front are brick and Germantown stone. The structure will be heated by stink and the work will cost $7000. Harry Hinkle has the contract and he will commence work at once.

Real Estate Broker James Enburg has signed a contract with Charles Yundt to make extensive alterations at the northwest corner of Thirty-first and York streets. The improvements will include tearing out the front on Thirty-first street, put in steel beams to support the upper floors, and put in a flush bulk window. The wall under the overhanging bay window on York street will be taken out and steel beams will be put in over the opening. The foundation walls will be underpinned, and alterations will be made to the stairs and heater.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street, will at once erect the three-story office and building at Ninth and Dudley streets for the United Gas Improvement Company at a cost of $22,000. The building will measure 39.2x99.10 feet. The first floor will contain a shop, storekeeper's office, toilet rooms, general offices, superintendent's office, second floor, meter storage room, meter proving room and a rendezvous, with lockers, and a store room on the third floor. An elevator will run from the first to the third floor in one corner, in front of the building.

After having remained idle for many months, the property No. 38 1/2 Walnut street, formerly occupied by the University Club, which is now located at No 1510 Walnut street, has at last been sold. The purchaser is William C. Martin, and the price paid was $50,000, inclusive of a mortgage of $50,000 which stood against the property. The sale was arranged by Walton & Andre, and William C. Martin, who is former State Senator Charles D. Porter's book-keeper, was simply acting as agent for his employer. Just what will be done with the property Mr. Martin declines to say at present.

Fire during the last week has destroyed

Maxwell's Gypsum Factory, Front and Reed streets, and damaged property adjacent to a considerable degree. Also 238 South Front street, owned and occupied by William S. Emsley, fruit dealer. The buildings which were damaged were as follows: Enterprise Fruit Company, 238 South Front street, upper floors cleaned out. Loss on building and contents, about $5000. William S. Emsley, 125 Dock street, fruit dealer, stock damaged by fire and water. The loss on the building is estimated at $5000. G. G. Justice, fruit dealer, 123 Dock street, damaged by fire and water. A. W. Holden & Co., butter and eggs, 127 Dock street, damaged by fire and water. All are to be repaired at once by the various owners.

H. E. Witmer, architect, 1432 South Penn Square, will this week ask for estimates from contractors for the construction of about 100 houses on the site of the old lampblack works in the vicinity of Twenty-ninth and Oxford streets. The owner's name is not as yet made public. It is proposed to build the houses both two and three stories in height, with porches and ornamental fronts. Plans are now being perfected in the architect's office. The lot is a large one and the 100 houses will cover but a small portion of it, as there is a frontage of about 150 feet on both Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets and about 400 feet on Oxford street and Columbia avenue. Myrtlewood street is to be cut through, thus giving additional frontage for small houses.

The ordinance providing for an appropriation to plant trees along Broad street passed Councils' Joint Committee on City Property on last Thursday, the 16th inst., with little opposition, except as to the amount of money to be appropriated. Mayor Ashbridge, in his message to Councils last week, advised that $10,000 be appropriated. At the meeting today, however, Mr. Lewis, the city forester, explained that this would not be sufficient to carry out the Mayor's plan. On motion an ordinance was passed with favorable recommendation to Finance Committee, appropriating $15,000 for this purpose. An ordinance to purchase a lot of ground and authorize the construction of a police and patrol station thereon in the Twenty-ninth ward was reported back to Councils with a favorable recommendation. The ordinance providing for the purchase of a lot at 2206 Columbia avenue, for fire purposes, met with a determined opposition and was returned to Councils with a negative recommendation. The report of the sub-committee recommending the sale of the Ninth ward gas works and the old Lehigh avenue reservoir was approved.

In a few weeks the managers of the Pennsylvania Hospital will have large and commodious quarters for their corps of nurses. David M. Hess, of South Sixth street, has transferred title to the property on the southeast corner of Eighth and Spruce streets to the hospital. The property acquired, valued at $25,000, consists of a large four-story house, facing 24 feet 9 inches on Spruce street, with a depth of 250 feet on Eighth street. At the present time the rear of the building is divided into several stores, but it is the intention of the hospital authorities to demolish these stores at once and construct in their place a substantial stable for the ambulances and horses. The interior is in very good condition, and with slight alterations to some of the rooms, will make one of the finest homes for nurses in the city. A monument is also to be erected in the present hospital grounds, central part, to the memory of Mrs. Stephen Girard, who lies buried in the enclosure. Also, it is understood, a branch kitchen will be added. All these improvements, except possibly the monument, will be done under the supervision of their architect, Addison

An Invitation

Do you know that the buyers of hardware number into the millions?

How few of these many millions fully comprehend the wonderful progress that has been made during the last ten years in the manufacture of building hardware.

Our exhibit at the National Export Exposition is a revelation to the average visitor, and we intended that it should be, for without such an opportunity to display the products of our great factories we would not have been able to convey to the buyers of hardware our true meaning when we assert without fear of contradiction that the

is without an equal in the world.

We know this to be the fact and we submit for critical inspection the tangible evidence of the correctness of this statement in the LOCKS and HINGERS and BOLTS and KNOBS and other things taken from our stock, and which for beauty, ornamentation, symmetry and durability cannot be duplicated except through our own shelves in our own warehouses and factories or through the shelves of thousands of retailers throughout the world, for be it known that we are heavy exporters of our own hardware. Visit our Exhibit, handle and test our hardware. We want everybody to see it.

Buy it, Try it, and you will use no other.

DEVOTED TO REAL ESTATE, BUILDING, ARCHITECTURAL AND INSURANCE INTERESTS

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XIV.—No. 48. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1899. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Architect and Builder Hosea Jones has just been to Washington, where he called to confer with President McKinley. He will remodel Mr McKinley's North Market street cottage at Canton. An addition will be built in the house, and it will be put in good shape. Work will commence as soon as the plans are completed.

J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 N. Thirteenth street, have completed plans for exterior and interior alterations to be made to the northeast corner of Thirteenth and Cumberland streets, for A. J. Luburg. The first story front is to be torn out and a new front put in; numerous interior alterations include the lowering of floors, and a rear addition will also be made. Charles Auchter has the contract.

The plans for a cottage dormitory by Samuel Hall Day, architect, 539 North Sixty-third street, to be erected at Woodbine, N. J., to be attached to the Baron De Hirsch school at that place, have been placed for estimate by sub-contractors and others in office of W. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street. The work will be of frame, three stories high, single roof, and the interior will contain all general comforts and conveniences. Bids now being made.

Architect T. Frank Miller, at Lippincott Building, also at Oak Lane, is ready for estimates this week for the erection of four dwellings at Jenkintown. The plans show two and one-half story structures to be built of stone and brick, and each to measure 18x45 feet. The houses will be fitted up with modern conveniences, and Mr. Miller will want estimates for all the material and labor required to build the structures. The specifications provide for brick and stone work, carpenter and mill work, tile work, hot air heating, plumbing, plastering, etc.

Plans for the police station, engine-house, and patrol station, to be erected by the city at Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue, are on boards of Contractor William R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, for estimate. These are by J. Franklin Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirteenth street. Also, in same office, are the drawings for a fire house, to be erected at Twelfth and Wharton streets, by Charles E. Oelschlagel, architect, Harrison Building, this city. Also, plans for a two-story truck house, from designs by Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street. The specifications of each call for stone, brick, terra cotta, iron and cement work, electric work, plumbing and gas fitting, steam and air heat, cement and board floors, painting, glazing, etc., slate roofs, plate glass windows, and every modern convenience for the purposes named above. All of the above have been noted in full in this journal some time ago.

The Charity Organization Society of New York city, Lawrence Veiller, Secretary, 105 East Twenty-second street, have issued a prospectus of the aims of their organization, and invite competitive drawings for plans for the construction of a series of homes for the betterment of the poor, for which they propose to award the architects prizes whose plans shall be considered best, and contain the fullest embodiment of their ideas. The prizes are $500 for the first, $200 for the second, and $100 for the third best set of drawings. The purpose of this competition is: 1. To stimulate the intelligent interest of architects in the scientific and economic planning of city homes for wage earners, and thereby to obtain type plans of high character adapted to the conditions which prevail in the city of New York. 2. To encourage the building of model tenements by showing that by the application of scientific principles in the design of the plan, such buildings can be made to yield proper commercial returns. Full information can be had in pamphlet form by application to Secretary Veiller. Jury of award, Mr. W. Bayard Cutting, President Improved Dwellings Association; Mr. John D. Crimmins; E. R. L. Gould, Ph.D., President City and Suburban Homes Co.; Mrs. Roland C. Lincoln, Boston; Miss Lillian D. Wald, Head Worker of Nurses' Settlement; Mr. W. R. Mead, of McKim, Mead & White, architects; Mr. I. N. Phelps Stokes, Tenement House Committee.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Harry Kuemmerle, general contractor, 1020 Betz Building, has plans on boards for estimates on hook and ladder house, Twelfth and Wharton streets, police patrol station, Twentieth and Pemberton streets; police station, Fifteenth and Snyder avenue, and truck house, Thirty-sixth and Clearfield streets.

The congregation of the Church of the Holy Spirit has signed a contract with John Robertson to construct a temporary gallery from the chapel to the church in the rear at the southeast corner of Eleventh street and Snyder avenue. The gallery will be constructed so as it can be easily removed in the spring.

The front wall of the building at 1631 Chestnut street, which is four stories high, will be torn out and a new ornamental front of brick, copper and plate glass will be constructed on the new building line. This will make the building set back about four feet. Interior alterations will also be made. J. A. Patterson & Co., the agents, have awarded the contract for the work to Joseph F. Myers. The estimated cost is $2500.

The jury which for several days last week had been engaged before Judge McMichael in Common Pleas Court No. 3 in trying six cases in which appeals were taken by the city from the awards made to property owners by the jury of view for the change of grade of Thayer street between Kensington avenue and Emerald street have rendered their verdict, cutting down the awards of the road jury from $2,552 to $2,000. Annie C. Lingman is given $1,150 instead of $1,275, Peter Hoffman $450 instead of $790, Marion Hoffman $100 instead of $180, George E. Wehn $100 instead of $75, Robert J. Stewart $50 instead of $75, and Andrew Metzger $150 instead of $157.

Proposals for dredging the Delaware River near Reedy Island and for construction of a bulkhead for retaining dredge materials was opened last week at the office of the United States Engineer, in the Witherspoon Building, by Lieutenant Spencer Cosby, of the Engineer Corps. There is about $500,000 available for the work, and the contract will be awarded the lowest responsible bidder, under the estimates of quantities, etc., made by the United States Engineer. The lowest bidder, under these estimates, is the Virginia Dredging Company, of Richmond, Va., $75,280. The American Dredging Company, of this city, which dredged the shoal in 1897, bid $397,370.15, and the other bidder was the Morris & Cummings Dredging Company, of New York, $422,450.40.

Ground has been broken by Contractor Allen B. Rorke, of Philadelphia, for the big new hotel that is to be built on the site of the Pennsylvania Railroad Excursion House, Atlantic City, N. J. The property, which was recently purchased by the Atlantic City and Chelsea Improvement Company, covers fourteen acres, with an ocean frontage of 1400 feet. The hotel, which was designed by Architects G. W. and W. D. Hewitt, Bullitt Building, Philadelphia, will be the finest structure of the sort on the Atlantic coast. It is to be six stories high, of fireproof construction throughout, and ornamented handsomely, the exterior being of light gray brick and terra cotta. The building will have a frontage of 232 feet on Atlantic avenue and will extend 252 feet toward the ocean. A feature of the main floor will be a promenade corridor in the centre of the structure 42 feet wide and 252 feet long. There will be 400 sleeping-rooms, with about half that number of bath rooms. A roof garden will be reached by four elevators. The Penney Iron Company will deliver the steel for the structure, and have agreed to have the frame finished in two months. The frame will rest on great cement piers twelve feet square, no piling whatever being used. It will open about June 1st, and George C. Boldt, of the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, and the Bellevue and Stratford, Philadelphia, have been mentioned in connection with the management. We have previously noted this work in these columns.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Fire damaged the malt house of John F. Betz & Son, American and Willow streets, on the 22d inst., to the extent of about $30,00. The repairs are to be started as soon as details can be arranged.

Builder Harry T. Saunders has started to build a three story brick store and dwelling, 18x69.9 feet, at 4146 and 4148 Lancaster avenue, for Adolph Kreutzer, owner. The estimated cost is $5000.

The Union Traction Company has purchased the George S. Patchel property, on Main street, above Ninth, Darby, and it is said they will erect a large car barn there. It is located at the terminus of the trolley line.

A set of chimneys, to weigh five tons, will be put in the tower of Christ Church, at the northeast corner of Tulpehocken and McCallum streets, Germantown. Contractor H. H. Buzby is now at work putting in the girders to support the chimneys.

John W. Logan, of Bala, has transferred to the Logan Manufacturing Company a tract of land, with the buildings thereon erected, in the borough of Phoenixville for $80,000. The company will manufacture steel when rebuilding and repairs are completed.

Builder John J. Reiley will commence work at once on the erection of fifty-six two-story brick dwellings, to cost $67,500. The houses will each measure 15x40 feet and they will be built on both sides of Dewey street, west of Sixty-first and north of Market streets.

Max Oppenheimer has completed all arrangements for alterations and improvements at 2839 Girard avenue, to cost $1450. The work will include a new bulk front, changing stabling and other interior alterations and building an extension to the back building. Frank F. Wintz has the contract.

Contractor John R. Wiggins will commence work at once on the demolition of the south party wall in the rear of 216 North Third street. When that work is completed he will erect a new wall five stories high, with concrete footings. The work will be done for Alfred F. Moore, owner, and the estimated cost is $5000.

Messrs. J. E. and A. L. Pennock have commenced work on the erection of the three-story and attic office and warehouse, 39 2x30.10 feet, at the northeast corner of Ninth and Dodley streets, for the United Gas Improvement Company, to cost $22,000. Architects Wilson Bros. & Co. made the plans, which have been fully noted previously.

Contractor and Builder A. Raymond Raff will make improvements, to cost $7000, at the boiler-house on the south side of Clearfield street, west of Seventeenth street, for the Pennsylvania Manufacturing, Heat, Light and Power Company. The roof of the structure will be raised, the piers will be strengthened, and new trusses will be put in place.

Improvements, to cost $2900, will be made at the dwelling at 415 South Broad street for S. B. Woodington, owner, by Contractor H. M. Irwin. The work will consist of tearing out the front wall and putting in a new front, brick and stone, up to the first story window sills, building an addition, 5x12 feet, in the side yard, constructing new oak stairways and interior alterations.

Mayor Ashbridge has asked City Councils to appropriate $50,000 to the purpose of fitting up a series of rooms on the third and fifth floors of the Public Building for the Department of Public Works. This is recommended by the Mayor in lieu of $87,000 to the Public Building Commissioners for the same purpose. The matter is expected to be settled by Councils at an early day.

A handsome hall will be erected on the west side of Eighteenth street below Columbus avenue, for a lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, to be known as Drexel Hall. The plans for the work have been drawn by Architects Hazlehurst & Huckel, Girard Building. A description of the proposed building is being prepared and it will be given out in a few days.

The management of the University Hospital is having another sun parlor built at Thirty-fourth and Spruce streets, similar to the one erected last year. The parlor will measure 18x30 feet. Contractors Appleton & Burrell are doing the work. The same contractors are building a new one-story front building, 18x50 feet, at 710 South Eleventh street, for William Kayser, owner.

Charles Craig has the contract to build the foundry building at the southeast corner of Thirtieth and Gray's Ferry avenue, for the Schuylkill Iron and Steel Company. Work on the foundations is to be begun at once, and will cost about $3500. Plans for the superstructure have not yet been completed, but will be submitted to the Bureau of Building Inspection within a short time.

Extensive alterations are to be made to Nos. 431 and 433 Christian street, for the College Settlement. Sections of the party walls are to be removed, stairways and partitions are to be taken out, and other interior improvements made, including the introduction of bathrooms. When completed the buildings are to be used as a kindergarten. F. L. Hoover & Son have the contract for the work, and will begin at once.

Harrison Bros. & Co., incorporated have started to build a brick inclosure at their plant, Gray's Ferry road, between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-sixth streets, for manufacturing chemicals. The old wall, which is 63 feet long and 10 feet high, will be torn down and replaced by brick paved construction. This material must be used because galvanized or corrugated iron would corrode from the acid.

In the office of Supervising Architect Tressury Department, Washington, D. C., estimates are being asked until January 15, 1900, for construction of a heating apparatus, elevator and electric wire conduits for the United States public building, at Helena, Montana. Also for extension of the United States Court House and Post Office at Jackson, Miss., until December 21, 1899. All information can be had at the above office.

As previously noted, the Keasbey & Mattison Company, manufacturers of drugs and chemicals, have taken the preliminary steps toward the erection of a factory plant at South Amber, Pa. Grading has been started on the tract between Maple and Chestnut streets, and a building 9.8 by 60 feet in dimensions will be erected. The plans contemplate a five-story structure of stone and iron, but for the present it is said to be the intention to erect but one story.

The drawings for the $11,000 storage warehouse, at 1707 and 1709 Filbert street, were approved recently by the Structural Engineers of the Bureau of Building Inspection, and the necessary permit for the work has been granted to Contractor John Maginnis. The building will be five stories high, and measure 40x116 feet. The structure which stood on the site was destroyed by fire several months ago. William H. Gregg & Co. own the property.

Jackson & Gould, 1335 South Frazier street, have accepted plans drawn by W. S. Watts for a row of twenty-two dwellings, to be erected on the west side of Sixty-fifth street from Greenway to Woodland avenues. They are each to be two stories high, and 1x44 feet in dimensions. The Bureau of Building Inspection has approved the plans, and a permit was granted to the builders this week. It is estimated the cost of construction will be about $55,000.

Theobold & Oppenheimer, 111 North Third street, are reported to have purchased the American Mechanics' Hall property, at the northeast corner of Fourth and George streets. The consideration is withheld. The structure, which will undergo alterations, and will be occupied by the firm as a cigar factory, is of brick, five stories high, and was built in 1850. The cost was close to $100,000. For years it was the headquarters of the order. Lately, however, with the westward movement of the city and the establishment of branch quarters its use for meeting purposes has diminished. A few years ago a fire damaged the building, and only temporary reconstruction was made. Since then it has been on the market, and the Committee on Property accepted the cigar firm's bid. During the Civil War the hall was utilized for hospital purposes. No plans have been made.

Contracts for the six new 3500-ton cruisers were awarded on the 27th inst. at the Navy Department, in accordance with the recommendations of the Board of Construction, one to each of the following firms: William R. Trigg, of Richmond, Va.; Lewis Nixon, of Elizabethport, N. J.; the Bath Iron Works, of Bath, Me.; The Union Iron Works, of San Francisco; The Fall River Engine Company, of Braintree, Mass.; Neafie & Levy, of Philadelphia. All the boats are to be constructed in accordance with the Department's designs.

William L. Elkins, of this city, has concluded to build and endow a home institution and college for the care and education of girls, similar to Girard College, only differing in minor matters as to regulations after it shall go into operation. Mr. Elkins is at present in negotiation for a site, and as soon as the matter is definitely settled, his further plans and specifications will be given to the public in these columns. The home will be entirely of a non-sectarian character, and will be controlled upon principles indicated by Mr. Elkins.

The contract for several factory buildings which will be erected for the Wolff Process Leather Company, according to drawings by Architects Stearns & Castor, Stephen Girard Building has been awarded to Contractor George W. Pierson. The structures will be built on a lot measuring 538x3600 feet, near Summerdale station of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, 1500 feet north of Asylum pike. The drawings show the buildings will measure 50x75 feet, 42 x369.9 feet, 148x202 feet and 50x80 feet. It is estimated that this work will cost $59,000. Previously noted in full.

Charles C. Henry, 2381 North Broad street and other Philadelphians have during the past ten days been absent in Maine, looking over several points of advantage for building operations. Notably among those visited were shore property from Oakland to Ballard Point. It is understood, however, that the same parties have bought for a Mr. Harrison the Ames Barrett farm, between Mcintyre grove and Chalfield farm, all shore property and the land of E. Schwartz, of Camden, Me., has on hand the plans for a summer home, to be erected for the purchaser, and several other cottages for different Philadelphia parties.

George P. Moore, of Bangor, Me., supported by Representative Boellie, has entered a protest with the Secretary of the Navy against the award of the contract for the League Island dry dock to the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific company, who were the lowest bidders. The price of the dock is $4,337,000. Moore properly only, his bid being $4,337,000. The Atlantic Gulf, and Pacific Company were the lowest bidders on all of the work, as previously stated, including pump house, pumps, and caisson, their bid for the dock only being $490,240. The protest against the award being made to them is based on the grounds that they have the construction of the California dock.

The proposed new bridge across Cooper's Creek, at Pine street, Camden, will probably be built next year. Owing to lack of an appropriation to meet the cost of the structure, the work cannot be commenced until after the close of the fiscal year. The Bridge Committee, at the last meeting, was accompanied by County Engineer Albert J. Mohrman, inspected the proposed site last week, and were favorably impressed with the location. The committee will recommend that plans and specifications be prepared and submitted to the board for approval, so that work may be begun as soon as an appropriation is made.

The Adam Forepaugh estate has sold to O'Neill Brothers the two large lots at the southwest and northeast corners of Lehigh avenue and Edgemont street for $25,850. On the lot at the southwest corner is a large brick building now used by the purchasers as a storehouse. On the other lot is a large brick building, to be used for manufacturing purposes, extending over two hundred feet along Edgemont street and Tilton street. In the rear of this building are four unfinished houses along Edgemont street and fourteen unfinished houses along Tilton street, which are to be completed as dwelling houses. It is also expected that the purchasers will erect upon the unoccupied portion of the lot a number of two-story dwelling-houses.

The Sub-committee of Council's Committee on Surveys met on the 22d inst., to consider the distribution of the $600,000 provided in the $1,200,000 for city bridges. Chief Webster, of the Survey Bureau, was present, and submitted plans for 38 bridges, at an estimated cost of $3,000,000. From these estimates the ones to be built out of the $600,000 appropriation. The bridges considered were the Thirty-third street structure over the Reading and connecting railroads between Oxford street and Girard avenue, for which $150,000 is asked, although $270,000 will be necessary to complete it; and the Lehigh avenue bridge, to cost $60,000. The Lehigh Valley Business Men's Association, of Frankford, also is anxious to have the proposed bridge at Wyoming avenue and Frankford Creek, to cost $100,000, and two bridges at Frankford avenue, over Frankford creek. The money deemed necessary is $90,000. Two bridges are needed, owing to the peculiar winding course of the creek. With Councilman Knight, of the Twenty-fifth ward, was present, and the Thirty-third ward, also, strongly advocated the plan, which, it was said, would benefit trade, and by straightening the street, greatly improve the adjacent property.

Quite a host of elevators were passed upon on the 224th inst., by the Bureau of Building Inspection, both freight and passenger, at various points throughout the city, as follows: Hand power carriage at rear of No. 216 South Ninth street, for F. An Invitation

Do you know that the buyers of hardware number into the millions?

How few of these many millions fully comprehend the wonderful progress that has been made during the last ten years in the manufacture of building hardware.

Our exhibit at the National Export Exposition is a revelation to the average visitor, and we intended that it should be, for without such an opportunity to display the products of our great factories we would not have been able to convey to the buyers of hardware our true meaning when we assert without fear of contradiction that the

is without an equal in the world.

We know this to be the fact and we submit for critical inspection the tangible evidence of the correctness of this statement in the LOCKS and HINGES and BOLTS and KNOBS and other things taken from our stock, and which for beauty, ornamentation, symmetry and durability cannot be duplicated except through our own shelves in our own warehouses and factories or through the shelves of thousands of retailers throughout the world, for be it known that we are heavy exporters of our own hardware. Visit our Exhibit, handle and test our hardware. We want everybody to see it.

Buy it, Try it, and you will use no other.

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XIV.—No. 49.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

K. W. Peuckert, architect, 254 South Fourth street, has made plans for a stock house for Jacob Horning, at 2127-29 Clearfield street, and Philip Haibach has the contract. It will be of brick, three stories high and cost $7000.

William J. Dillhey, architect, No. 3 Union Square, New York city, has on boards plans for a twelve-story office and business building, to be erected at 555 Broadway. Stone, brick, and iron construction, as well as fire-proof on interior, elevators, electric work, etc.

Furness, Evans & Co., architects, Provident Life Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, have made plans for a stable for John C. Bullitt, Esq., to be erected at his summer home near Paoli, Pa. It will be of stone, 35x77 feet, two stories high, and furnished with all conveniences, etc. Estimates being made in office of W. R. Dougherty, 1814 Sansom street, and other contractors.

Architects Horenburger & Straub, 122 Bower, New York city, have plans for a six-story brick and stone tenement house, to be erected at 213 and 213½ E. Seventh street, at an estimated cost of $30,000. Building will have light or buff front, Indiana limestone trimmings, tin roof, and the usual improvements. Owner's name and address will be given in later issues.

Work will at once begin on the erection of an additional factory to Thomas Wolstenholm Sons & Co., at Frankford avenue and Westmoreland street. The building will be five stories high, 62x217 feet, of brick, slow burning construction on interior, steam heat and power, electric work and all general conveniences, etc. Messrs. Stearns & Castor, architects, drew plans and will supervise the work of construction. Previously noted.

Messrs. Hales & Ballinger, architects, 12½ Chestnut street, have placed on boards in their office plans for a private office and fittings for Hoyle, Harrison and Kaye, Indiana avenue and A street. The work will consist chiefly of wood work, plain and paneled, and glass, iron and brass grille work, plumbing, etc. Estimates being made at present. The same architects are engaged on preliminary sketches and plans for other work to be noted in these columns at an early day.

George B. Post, the well-known architect, 33 East Seventeenth street, New York city, has the opportunity of associating his name with another great building. He has been selected as the architect of the new building to be erected by the Stock Exchange. The Exchange recently purchased adjoining property on Broad street, and while no plans have been adopted, it is probable that it will erect practically a new building, covering the old and the new sites. The result will be one of the finest structures in New York, absolutely fireproof. Mr. Post has also received an order to prepare the plans for the new Department of Justice Building, to be erected at Washington, D. C.

Henry D. Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street, has let the contract for the excavation, foundation and brick work of the Holy Trinity R. C. Church, at Perth Amboy, N. J., to C. C. Christian-on of that place. The superstructure will be trimmed with stone, etc. Same architect has made plans for eighteen dwellings for Messrs. O'Neill Bros., and are to place the plans for alterations to 1411-13 Arch street for the new owners, the Catholic Philopatrian Literary Institute. These will be quite extensive.

A six-story brick and stone store and tenement house will be erected at No. 162 East Broadway, New York city, by Mr. Jacob Fischel, 200 Clinton street, who recently purchased this property. Estimated cost, $20,000. Michael Bernstein, 245 Broadway, is the architect, and plans provide for stone foundations, iron columns and beams, buff and common brick, brownstone, spruce and pine lumber, tin roof, soft wood finish, sanitary plumbing, slate mantels, electric work, etc. Owner will superintend.

Architects Moore & Landsidel, 148th street and Third avenue, New York city, have plans for a six-story brick and stone apartment house, to be erected on the north side of One-hundred-and-fiftieth street, near St. Nicholas avenue, by Mr. D. C. Moore, 433 W. One-hundred-and-forty-seventh street, at an estimated cost of $50,000. Plans call for iron columns and beams, light face and common brick, granite and Indiana limestone, tin roof, hardwood finish, cabinet mantels, tile and marble work, steam heat, hot water supply, electric work, elevator, etc. Work to start soon; owner will superintend.

James Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., has asked general bids for the construction (except heating, elevators and electric work) of the U. S. public building, Boise City, Idaho, until February 1, 1900. Also for construction of U. S. Court House, at Jackson, Miss., until December 21, 1899. Also for construction of U. S. public building, at Helena, Montana, until January 19, 1900. Also for general interior decorations to Post-Office and Court House at Milwaukee, Wis., until December 13, 1899. Full information can be had of the above department, or of the Custodian of Building in each city or locality named.

Bunting & Shrigley, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, have made complete plans for a new building for The Burlington County Safe Deposit & Trust Company, at Moorestown, N. J. The structure is to be two stories high, of stone, brick, iron and terra cotta work, slate roof and plate glass windows, hardwood fixtures, electric work, hot water heat, best plumbing and gas fitting, cement, marble and tile work, vaults and all first-class bank appliances. Estimates to be sent to the President, Wm. M. Paul, at Moorestown, N. J. Drawings on boards of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and other contractors. Previously noted in this journal.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have awarded the contract for alteration and addition to house of Matthew Gill, Jr., on Seventeenth avenue, Longport, N. J., to J. E. Adams & Son, of Pleasantville, N. J. These are to be quite extensive, including baths, kitchen, fireplaces, etc. Same architects have on boards plans for other work in same place. Also plans for a hotel of large dimensions to be erected in the near future, at Atlantic City. It will be in Italian Renaissance style of architecture and furnished with all the latest comforts and conveniences. Preliminary plans are in course of preparation for quite a number of operations in the coming year.

A gift of $250,000 for the erection and equipment of a splendid new laboratory of physics for the University of Pennsylvania is announced by Provost C. C. Harrison. The donor of this munificent gift is a public-spirited Philadelphian, whose name is withheld for the present, and although the gift was presented to the University through Provost Harrison last summer, it was not until last week that its receipt was announced to the University and its hosts of friends. Secrecy will not be maintained long, however, as the $250,000 is ready for immediate use, and the new laboratory, bearing the donor's name, will be erected without delay. Plans for the building are already being outlined by Professor George F. Barker and others, and the site will undoubtedly be the Foulke-Long property, recently acquired by the University. This ample tract, extending as it does from Thirty-third to Thirty-fourth streets, is admirably situated for the purpose and a structure fronting on the Thirty-fourth street side has been suggested. This is near the handsome buildings devoted to the laboratories of chemistry and hygiene. If the new laboratory building is placed here, it will complete as attractive a group of buildings devoted to science as any American university can boast.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Contractor Lewis R. Elliott will make the repairs caused by fire at Nos. 918-920 Vine street. It consists of a new roof, and the repairing of window frames and sashes, etc., painting and glazing, plumbing and steam heating apparatus. It is estimated that the work will cost about $3000.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 6, 1899

THE NATIONAL EXPORT EXPOSITION was closed officially on Saturday evening, December 2d. The affair from its inception was intended to be far-reaching in its influences, with the view of presenting our national manufacturing possibilities and resources to our sister nations, and more particularly to those who are heavy buyers of manufactured products.

As an object lesson the Exposition has been a great success as far as it went, but in magnitude it embraced but a fractional part of our national industries, and conveyed to the foreign visitor the merest reflection of what Yankee ingenuity has accomplished in the way of costly machinery, which is, after all, the base on which our great success in our manufactured products rests.

The managers of the Exposition deserve great praise for their cleverness in handling the affair, as well as the general satisfaction their management has given.

Professor Wilson certainly possesses genius in the direction of conception, as well as in the organization of such displays, and to him, more than to any other man, praise should be given, for he has not only demonstrated his ability to make such events conspicuously interesting from an educational view point, but he has been instrumental in presenting the best traits of American business character, which must have a lasting influence with those whom we hope to make customers for our manufactured products.

In this respect much good in the way of profitable orders already placed for export has been accomplished, and now that the bars are down it is to be hoped that the purposes of the Exposition will not be defeated through the want of nerve and energy on the part of those in whose interest it was held.

It's a Daisy.

There are men and plenty of men, and while men are plenty, very few men possess the qualifications necessary for leadership. If this holds good as to men in public life, why not recognize it in the manufacturing world, wherein men are constantly asserting themselves in a degree that bears the stamp of leadership in all things pertaining to their business.

We are greatly interested in a voluminous catalogue recently sent to us by the Berger Manufacturing Company, of Canton, Ohio; and, while it is not our weakness to grow ecstatic over catalogues, yet the one before us (Berger & Co.'s) justly merits more attention in the way of space than we can afford to give it.

Classical art heretofore has been associated with sculpture, architecture and painting, and its application to metal ceilings and exterior and interior decorations of this character is an innovation representing a stage of perfection away and beyond the mental grasp of the average artisan, who thinks he knows all of the possibilities attainable in this line.

The catalogue to which we refer measures 12x15 inches. It has fifty-two highly illustrated pages, the first page being devoted to an engraving representing the largest and most complete sheet metal manufacturing plant in the world. Seven pages of the catalogue are devoted to illustrations of the company's application of Greek architecture to metal ceilings, panels, borders, cornices, mitre blocks. The seven following pages embrace the possibilities in the Romanesque, seven to the Rococo style, six to the French Renaissance Empire, nine to the Colonial and eight to miscellaneous designs. The last page is devoted to a telegraph code for the use of customers, the necessity for such a code being in itself an indication of the company's immense business. The Philadelphia branch at 129 N. Eleventh street is in charge of Mr. R. H. Old, who reports a plentiful supply of orders as well as the most gratifying interviews with our architects, who express surprise at the beauty, range and possibilities of sheet metal work as demonstrated by the Berger Manufacturing Co.

A Silver Medal and Diploma.

The Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company, office Fifth and Commerce streets, was awarded a medal and diploma for its exhibition of building hardware at the National Export Exposition.

A Silver Medal and Diploma.

There is something particularly gratifying in the award—medal and diploma—given by the National Export Exposition to the H. B. Smith Company, 510 Arch, street, for, while it was the intention of the company to make a display of its many hot air furnaces and steam and hot water apparatus, in full working order, its efforts were defeated through the unprecedented demand for its products, and the exhibition had to be abandoned.

While this is a source of regret, as the opportunity for a practical demonstration of the efficiency of the H. B. Smith Company's heating system was extremely favorable, the award is extremely gratifying. The goods could not be spared without injury and inconvenience to customers, and the exhibit suffered accordingly.

Why the Confederacy Failed.

Joel Chandler Harris contributes to the Christmas number of "The Saturday Evening Post" an authentic account of the daring attempt to warn the Confederate cabinet of the great movement whereby Grant and Sherman were to co-operate in crushing the Confederacy. How the attempt failed and why it failed are the subjects of a chapter of the little known history of the Secret Service. Mr. Harris has his facts first-hand, and he has woven them into a story of such absorbing interest that it might easily be mistaken for pure fiction.

The Christmas number of the Post will be on all news-stands December 21st.

Silver Medal and Diploma.

The following Philadelphia concerns in the building line received a silver medal and diploma from the National Export Exposition:

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.
Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company.
H. B. Smith Company.
Thomas Roberts & Stevenson Company.
Warren-Rhett Company.
Borgner Cement Company.
Sharpley & Watts.
Pencoyd Iron Works.
Cyrus Borgner.
Reading Hardware Company.
P. & T. Corbin.
John Lucas & Company.
Harrison Brothers & Company.
Miller Lock Company.
Frank W. Dilks & Company.

A most substantial endorsement of the quality and merit of the Holmesburg Granite Company's output, at their quarries, lies in the fact that their entire force is engaged day and night in order to meet advance orders. Messrs. Vollmer & Register, sole agents in this city, inform us that the prospects for the product for 1900, for this particular stone, are unexcelled in the history of the company, and that it is simply a question of booking orders well in advance, so as to meet the demand. During the year 1899 this enterprising company has placed in their plant the most recent and improved machinery for producing the granite in the most advantageous condition and subject to specified size and shape. This is but another of the many evidences of general prosperity throughout the nation.

Christmas Presents.

Parents are of course deeply interested in securing profitable and instructive, as well as durable amusements, for the little fellows, and this is the trend of the paternal mind about Christmas times.

Mr. F. Weber, of Messrs. F. Weber & Company, 1125 Chestnut street, suggested, in a conversational way, that drawing outfits for children were the most sensible as well as the most practical Christmas presents that parents could bestow upon their children for many reasons. As a rule, they engender a taste for sketching, a very pleasant accomplishment for either a boy or girl. They train street, all to be of press brick, stone trimmings, and the interiors to have hot air furnace, range, baths, etc.

The Keystone Lime Co., dealers in Builders' Supplies, etc., have removed from 14 South Broad street to Witherspoon Building, Juniper and Walnut streets, Room 823.

Clerk Bird, of the Orphans Court, granted 92 marriage licenses on Wednesday, November 29th. The influences that are filling our empty houses are gradually compounding as a result of better business conditions all over the country.

Thomas Wolstenholme will start at once the erection of a five-story brick building, 82 1/2 x 217 feet, at the northwest corner of Frankford avenue and Westmoreland street

The building is to cost $4500. The work will begin at once.

Joseph F. Roberts will at once start the erection of two brick dwellings, two stories and mansard roof, each 16x100 feet, on the west side of Water street, north of Fisher's avenue, Twenty-second Ward. Each property will cost $2200 to erect. Joseph F. Roberts and Albert Thomas are the owners.

Contractor William A. Margerum will begin the erection of twelve dwellings for the Feltoville Real Estate Improvement Company, to be built on both sides of Eleanor street, east of A street, Twenty-second ward. The estimated cost is $19,200, and the dwellings will be two-story brick, 15 x 42 feet, with a lot depth of 100 feet. Work will be begun at once.

A strong move is being made by the Jews of the southern section of this city to provide a hospital for their sick and disabled. At a meeting held last week, Chas. M. Klein presiding, in the Ohev Shalom Congregation Church, Fifth and Gaskill streets, and Jacob Margulies officiating as secretary, a committee was appointed to take into consideration the feasibility of such a building being erected, and ways and means to sustain it.

William B. Hart and William Nickell, grand trustees of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias of Pennsylvania, have sold to Bullier Thomas M. Seeds, Jr., the property at 1027 Race street, for $7300. The building is at present occupied by the Grand Lodge, K. of P., for office purposes. Mr. Seeds owns the adjoining property, 1025, and it is understood that in the near future he will tear down both buildings and erect a four or five-story building on the site.

A report gained currency during the last week that Robert Steel, the owner of the northwest corner of Broad and Chestnut street, was negotiating a sale of his holdings with a syndicate of New York capitalists. When interrogated upon the subject Mr. Steel positively declined to say anything about the matter either in the affirmative or negative. If such a transaction is being considered, one thing is certain, that no consummation has been reached at this time at least.

William W. Astor, through his agent, Charles A. Peabody, Jr., filed plans with Commissioner Brady, of New York city, for an eight-story brick and stone building, to be erected on the site of the Star Theatre, Broadway and Thirteenth street. The Star Theatre is the last of the many which flourished below Fourteenth street, and was one time the leading theatre of New York. In recent years it has been a cheap combination house, and the new structure will be an up-to-date building in all respects.

At a meeting of a special committee of Highway Inspectors, the plans for the new Germantown and Fairmount trolley line were approved, and work on the new connecting link of the Union Traction Company will begin at once. The new line will connect the Falls of Schuylkill and Maugans with Germantown. The route is through Wayne and Coulter avenues to Chelton avenue, and thence by way of Midvale avenue to Ridge avenue, completing a link that has been wanted by the citizens of that vicinity for a long time.

Mrs. Jno. C. Harrison, of 1628 Locust street, will at once begin a system of planting throughout the vacant spaces in the city and around blank walls of factories, wherever permission can be obtained, vines, bushes and trees for the purpose of ornamentation entirely, as well as to make the surroundings cheerful to those who are engaged in either the interior of buildings or the vicinity. The general outcome of Mrs. Harrison's beneficence will be to beautify the waste places and help the attractiveness of the entire city, and is most commendable.

The Wolf Process Leather Company has awarded contracts to George W. Pierson, contractor, for the erection of several buildings on Oxford pike, north of Asylum pike, Summerdale Station, at an outlay of $59,000. The plans were made by Architects Stearns & Cañor, and provide for a main factory building, one-story high and to measure 53x389 feet; one-story workshop and store room, to measure 50x82 feet; two-story varnish and drying building to measure 202x147 6 feet; and a one-story boiler and engine room, 71x51 feet. Work will be commenced at once.

H. Wallace & Bros., owners; wiring mansion A. Torresdale, Pa., for Senator Chas. A. Porter, owner; also, completing 132 houses at Overbrook Helghus, Sixty-third and Lansdowne avenue, for the Equitable Trust Company.

The collection of water rates for hopper closets, under the new ordinance is causing the Department of Public Works, as well as the Bureau of Water, much trouble. "The payment of this tax is more important than most people think," said Director Haddock last week, "and those persons who have put in the automatic attachment should notify the Bureau of Water, so that an inspection may be made by January 1st next, otherwise the charge of $5 will be imposed. The price has been fixed by ordinance of Councils at $5 for each hopper closet without automatic attachment, and one dollar with the attachment. These taxes should be paid at once by persons using the attachment, to avoid the fine which will be imposed on the first of the new year."

A letter was received by Lieutenant Colonel Raymond, of the United States Engineer Corps, from the War Department at Washington last week, approving the bid of the Virginia Dredging Company, for the contract for the initial work of dredging the Delaware river for a clear thirty-foot channel to the sea. The contract includes the construction of a bulkhead for the reception of the dredged material below Reedy Island. The bulkhead construction will be begun on or after March 1, 1900 but not later than April 15, and at least 50,000 linear feet of continuous bulkhead must be built on or before July 1. The channel is to be excavated to a full depth of thirty feet at mean low water, with a width as great as can be formed with the funds available, not exceeding 60 feet.

A committee of the National Memorial Arch Bureau, Boston, Mass., consisting of Assistant Secretary Thomas H. Cochran, W. D. Hensbury and R. U. Capet, called on Mayor Quincy on November 29th, in behalf of the proposed arch to be erected at Washington, as a national memorial to the army and navy, and as a tribute to American patriotism. The committee stated that it was visiting the principal cities of New England for the purpose of securing the co-operation of the Mayors and Governors in the movement. It is intended to form sub-committees, which will have charge of the work of procuring subscriptions for the national arch, and also co-operation in securing the passage of a national memorial bill by Congress for the erection of this arch, and for the appointment of a commission to carry the same into effect, and making an appropriation of $50,000.

The Committee on Schools of City Councils have adopted a resolution favorably recommending a bill amending an ordinance appropriating $525,000 for new schoolhouses, and authorizing the Board of Education to use $31,875 of that amount in the erection of a new school house at Girard avenue and Leopard street, Sixteenth section, and as much of the balance remaining in the item as may be necessary for paving and curbing around new school houses now in course of erection. Bids were made for this work some weeks ago, but laid over, as money was not available at that time to go ahead with the work, hence the action above noted. The remainder of the item was apportioned to the Twenty-eighth Section for the erection of a schoolhouse in that ward, but Mr. Fourier said that the amount being insufficient, and on the understanding that the Twenty-eighth Section shall be given first consideration in making appropriations for new schoolhouses next year, he would not oppose the bill.

Director of Public Safety English, on the 4th inst., opened bids for new fire, police and patrol houses, to be erected in various parts of the city. A disastrous fire broke out on the morning of the 29th of November, at Partridge & Richardson's, Eighth above Market, and on Filbert streets, destroying all the property in its wake, including Lippincott's great publishing house on the east in the rear. The surrounding properties were damaged to a great extent, much of which is at present being repaired, but others remain for contract. We learn that the Lippincott estate will at once take measures to rebuild the burned structures upon the same sites. As for the Partridge & Richardson plant it is not likely rebuild will be attempted unless full control can be had of all the leased properties at the time of the fire. This firm has bought the old Sharpless store at Eighth and Chestnut. The Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and the Granting of Annuities, 517 Chestnut street, is the trustee for the Lippincott estate. Plans and specifications are, of course, yet to be prepared, but it is understood that the new building will be erected at a cost of about $150,000. The buildings, 729 Filbert street, and at north-west corner Eighth and Filbert streets, are owned by William Warnick. An insurance of $10,000 is carried on the former and $20,000 on the latter. Both buildings were slightly damaged, amounting to about $2500. During the progress of the fire another broke out at 417-419 Market street and damaged 421 and 423, almost completely gutting the former numbers. Repairs to all these stores are to be made as soon as insurances are settled and if its magnificent exhibit of BUILDING HARDWARE at the National Export Exposition had failed—notwithstanding the gratifying expressions of admiration and appreciation of the many thousands of visitors lavishly bestowed upon it—to command the attention of buyers for both export and domestic uses.

THE PRACTICAL AND PROFITABLE

Results are doubly gratifying and the closing of the Exposition marks the beginning of a new era in the history of this great American manufacturing concern, for many new and important fields have been opened for its products in foreign lands, besides which the company has been highly honored through the attention and critical inspection given to its exhibit by hundreds of local and visiting architects and builders, many of whom have placed valuable and important introductory orders.

The statistics of fire insurance prove that during the first nine months of the present year the losses by fire in this country and Canada exceeded those of the corresponding period last year by more than $10,000,000, and were more than $19,000,000 in excess of the same period in 1897. This enormous increase in losses is something to arrest the attention of the public in general and of the insurance companies in particular. There must be a reason for it—perhaps there are several reasons. One contributing cause is that, owing to the growth of population and the consequent increased demand for houses, there are more buildings to burn now than there ever were before, but this will account for only a very small portion of the increase. Another reason may be, that as the people have grown more prosperous they have also grown more careless in the matter of fusing and safeguarding lights. Still another may be the great increase in electric business, with its consequent dangers from crossed wires and defective insulation; but probably the most prolific cause of all will be found to be the defective flue. This insidious enemy, caused by scamped work on the part of some workman or contractor, lies in wait, covered up and concealed where its peril can be neither detected nor suspected, perhaps for years, until by the gradual drying out of mortar and timber, the slow charring of mild combustion and perhaps the final dropping away of a bit of protecting mortar, the end of a beam or the side of a joist is exposed, and then a rather hotter fire than usual on some special occasion does the rest. The insurance companies, when taking risks on buildings, should look carefully after the flues, and make sure that no bad work lies concealed there to threaten their treasures and the lives and property of the people in the houses.—Exchange.

Architect Notes.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, have made drawings for an addition to the Esterbrook Steel Penn Factory, Camden, N. J. The plans contemplate brick and iron work and introduction of all conveniences now in use in the main structure. Estimates now being made in the office of the architects.

Architects Hales & Ballinger, 1200 Chestnut street, will be ready for bids in about a week on an addition to the Fern Rock woolen mills, at Amber and Wishart streets. The building will be one story high, of brick, slow-burning construction, 45x147 feet, with an extension of 25x25 feet.

Furness, Evans & Co., architects, this city, have completed plans for alterations and additions to be made to the Provident Life Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, which will cost $18,000, consisting of interior work entirely. The contract has been awarded to McDermott & Ramsey, 1723 Chancellor street. The work will be started at once.

Furness, Evans & Co., Provident Life Building, have completed plans for alterations and addition to house at Haverford, Pa., for Samuel Bettle. The specifications call for quite an extensive field of work—cut stone, cement work, shingle work, iron and steel metal work, carpentering, painting and glazing and general details. All modern conveniences will be introduced. Estimates are being made in office of W. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and other contractors.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 24 Walnut street, have made plans for a house to be erected at Great Neck, Long Island, for Roswell Eldridge, Esq., and drawings are placed for estimates on boards of Charles McCaul, 10 North Eleventh street. The structure will be large and of stone, three stories high, slate roof (some parts of roofing in copper work), plate-glass windows and the interiors fitted with every known comfort and convenience—steam heat, electric work, gas fitting, cement floor in the basement, which will be subdivided and fitted for all wants; hardwood, tile and marble work; slate interior work, plumbing, fine hardware and decorations are among the specifications. In the same office are drawings for masonry work required in the previously noted additions to the Slinger factory at Elizabethport, N. J. These are prepared by D. B. Provost, architect, Elizabeth, N. J. Also in same office are plans for alterations and additions to 1719 Chestnut street, all being bid upon.

There have already been introduced sixty bids for public buildings in different sections of the country, all of which have been received at the architect's office at the Treasury Department. The Treasury officials will take no action on these buildings until called upon by Congress, when they will make their report as to the feasibility of the buildings called for. The last session of Congress provided for the construction of fifty-six new buildings and ten additions and extensions. The limit of cost for these new buildings and extensions aggregated $19,000,000. Congress appropriated last session for the commencement of these buildings $5,000,000. Bills were passed for the construction of public buildings in Wilkes-Barre, Altoona and New Brighton, Pa. The Treasury Department, after careful inquiry and investigation found that the appropriation for a public building at Wilkes-Barre was totally inadequate for the building required, and before anything is done in the matter additional legislation will be required. The Altoona site is in the hands of the Attorney-General, and as soon as it is approved work will immediately be commenced on the plans.

Edgar V. Seeler, architect, Real Estate Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, is working on the plans and specifications for the new ten-story office building for the American Bank Note Company, to be built at Nos. 408 to 416 Library street. It is proposed to begin the construction as soon as the tenants now occupying the buildings can be got out. All have been notified to vacate, and, it is said, the work will be started early in 1900. The structure will be known as "The American," and will be built by a syndicate, to be known as the American Building Company, formed from the company's members. Henry R. Edmunds, who secured the property on the site at an outlay of about $175,000, says that the building would have been named after some prominent Philadelphian, but no suitable name could be agreed upon. Mr. Edmunds on Thursday last had introduced into Councils an ordinance to wipe out a small building on the Library street end of Leithow street, adjoining the proposed new building, and contractors will likely soon be invited to figure on the drawings.

Plans and specifications, as indicated in our previous issue, have been on boards of contractors for estimates during the week just ended, and will, in some cases remain open a few days. Among these may be noted those for a stable for John C. Bullitt, to be erected at Paoli, Pa., after drawings by Furness, Evans & Co., architects; Provident Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, to be stone, slate roof and all general conveniences on interior; also for alterations and addition to the Philopatrian Institute, on Arch street, above Broad. These are, as previously noted, quite extensive, and embrace masonry, brick work, cement work, grille work of iron and brass, decorations, electric work, plumbing and gas fitting, paper hanging, painting and plate-glass work, heating and ventilating upon improved system; large halls, baths, pool rooms and alleys are to be fitted up; reading parlors, reception rooms, etc. All will be of the best. The Burlington County Safe Deposit and Trust Company Building, after plans by Bunting & Shrigley, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, also are being figured on, and it will be a two-story structure, of brick, Indiana limestone trimmings and plate-glass windows, copper cornice and possess on interior all bank fittings, etc.

Peter A. B. Widener, of this city, has announced his intention to found and erect a magnificent institution in the near future for the care of and education and training of crippled and maimed children, upon 38 acres of ground just purchased at Logan station, and now bounded by streets upon the city plan, Somerville avenue, Old York road, Thorpe's Lane, and Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, all of which Mr. Widener has asked City Councils to strike by ordinance from the plans indicated, so as to make it one entire plot of ground. Upon the latter's action much depends the conditions being fully stated by him in a letter to Mayor Ashbridge and the following ordinance: "To authorize the Striking from the City Plan of Clarkson street and Olney street from Sixteenth street to Old York Road, and of Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets from Somerville avenue to Thorpe's Lane. Section 1. The Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia do decide: That the Department of Public Works be and the said Department is hereby authorized and instructed to strike from the City Plan Clarkson street and Olney street from Sixteenth street to Old York road, and Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets from Somerville avenue to Thorpe's Lane." All the drawings have been prepared for the buildings by the well known architect Mr. Horace Trumbull, Land Title Trust Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, and they fully embody Mr. Widener's ideas. There are to be about twelve buildings in all, and will include medical school, training houses, amusement places, baths, heating and electric plant, laundries, cooking and baking kitchen, quarters for officers and teachers, dormitories for children admitted, hospital for care of sick. All are to be of red brick and stone trimmings, and purely colonial in style of architecture, and absolutely fire proof in construction. As soon as act on has been taken by Councils, which is expected at an early date, a practical move will be made in the direction of placing the drawings for estimate on the boards of contractors.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Philip Anne Company has plans on the boards for four buildings to be erected at League Island, and used for officers' quarters. Previously noted.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 13, 1899

RUMOR has it that Mr. Adam Stull, at present the Treasurer of the Commonwealth Title & Trust Company, has been tendered the position of President of the recently reorganized Trust Company, of North America.

Mr. Stull is a gentleman thoroughly versed in the business of a trust company. In financial circles he is highly esteemed as a capable and efficient official. His experience and energy will certainly have a telling effect upon the affairs of the new company, and he will certainly carry with him in his new position the best wishes for his success of a host of personal friends and business acquaintances.

WITH over six thousand pupils on half time and nearly two thousand in double classes, according to the recent report of Superintendent Brooke, and many more children for whom there are no accommodations at all, it seems scarcely the time to consider an increase in the salaries of teachers. In fact, there are many taxpayers who would like to know why the public schools should not be run on the same common sense and business-like methods that obtain in other professions and trades. A prominent member of the Board of Education, some time since made the statement that the Normal School was graduating hundreds of girls for whom it was impossible to obtain positions, for the simple reason that the yearly supply of graduates far exceeds the number of positions made available by resignations and the formation of new schools. Why this steady and expensive overproduction of teachers should continue year after year, accompanied by a demand for increased salaries, is one of the anomalies which no one as yet has satisfactorily explained. In the meantime, there is no money available for the construction of much-needed primary schools to accommodate thousands of children who can not even get half time or double classes. A glance at the salary list should convince any one that no young woman in any other line of similar work commands the salary paid to teachers. Thousands of hard working young women in Philadelphia to-day think themselves fortunate to get ten dollars a week and work eight hours or more a day, six days in the week; for no harder work and less hours, a teacher gets as much the first year of her work and has Saturdays and holidays and a long vacation in summer. It is also true that during the last five or six years, when positions were scarce and applications for them many—with a consequent reduction in salary—there was no suggestion of any such reduction in the pay of the teachers in the public schools. They not only enjoyed their accustomed pay, but the added advantage of the increased purchasing power of their salaries, owing to the decrease in the cost of living. There are hundreds of bright, well-equipped and thoroughly capable young women graduates of the Normal School willing and anxious to accept positions at the present salaries, and there is no reason why the law of supply and demand should not hold good in the case of teachers as well as in any other business.

A Great Christmas Number.

The Christmas number of The Saturday Evening Post marks a new departure in periodical literature—the first successful attempt to give for five cent's, stories, articles and pictures by the same writers and artists who make the high-cost magazines.

For example, the opening story in the Christmas Post is by Rudyard Kipling, and the tale that of Private Ortheris and his dog, Garm; Joel Chandler Harris tells "Why the Confederacy Failed," a stirring story of the Secret Service; and Ian Maclaren, Justin McCarthy, M. P., John Luther Long, M. E., M. Davis, W. C. Culp and W. S. Harwood contribute stories and articles. The verse in the number is by Edwin Markham, Frank L. Stanton, Mary E. Wilkins and Clinton Scollard.

The half-one page headings, illustrating Christmas in History, are by Charles Louis Hinton, Frank and Joe Leyendecker, W. S. Lukens, George Gibbs, F. L. Fithian, Emilen McConnell and Harrison Fisher. The handsome colored cover is by Henry Hutt. The Christmas Post will be on all news-stands December 21.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A three-story brick and stone dwelling will be erected by Contractor Lewis B. Bitters on the east side of York road, south of City Line, for William Bruhns, at a cost of $1900.

On Elberon avenue, west of Solly street, Fox Chase, Contractor Joseph Ashby will build two thr e-story brick and frame dwellings, each 15 6x43.6 feet for Kennedy Crussen, owner.

Joseph Virkler will build twelve two-story dwellings on the south side of Stiles street, between Fifth and Fifty-first streets. All to be of press brick, stone trimmings and bee' comforts on interior.

Contractor J. G. Leis'er has started to build a one-story frame chapel, 30.4x40.6 feet, at the northeast corner of Twenty-second and Homestead streets, for the congregation of the Faith Methodist Episcopal Church.

Christian Dear & Son have started to make alterations to the Opera House, at the northwest corner of Longshore and Edmunds streets, Tacony. New steel beams will be substituted in place of the timber girders.

Contractor Joseph Quinn will make interior and exterior alterations of fourteen dwellings on the west side of Tilton street, between Lehigh avenue and Huntingdon street, for O'Neill Brothers, owners, at a cost of $6000.

A permit has been issued to John W. Mortimer for the erection of a 40x30 foot two-story building on Boudinot street, between Indiana avenue and Clearfield street. The structure will be occupied as a stable. Its estimated cost is $3000.

A permit has been issued to E. Wynn, contractor, for the erection of eleven two-story brick dwellings on the south side of Stiles street, west of Fifty-first street. The work is to be done by A. H. Virkler, and the estimated cost is $1500 each.

A one-story brick building, 50x72½x29 feet, is to be erected by A. Raymond Raif on the north side of Harbor street, west of Eleventh street. The work is being done by Bigler Bros., Ltd., and the building will be used for manufacturing purposes.

On the west side of Fortieth street, south of Spruce street, Charles S. Metzger will at once build five dwellings. Three of the houses will each measure 18x62½ feet, and the other two each 18x60 feet. The houses will be fitted up with hard woods, and contain all modern conveniences.

Directors of the Elison Portland Cement Company, which is to erect an immense cement plant at Stewartsville, Warren county, closed an option on ten farms aggregating 796 acres in this vicinity. The plant, it is said, will cost $1,000,000, and will have a capacity of 5000 barrels a day.

It is stated that Partridge & Richardson have purchased the Sharpless property at Eighth and Chestnut streets for $600,000. It is 100 feet on Chestnut by 178 feet on Eighth, having three fronts. The price is regarded as exceedingly cheap, as the stores are in fine order, requiring no additional expense.

Os'ar Hammerstein, the well known theatrical man, when asked last week regarding the rumor of his intention to build a theatre in Philadelphia said: "The rumor is true. I intend to build a theatre in Philadelphia, but at present I can't give any detailed information as to the location or when I shall be able to start building." Mr. Hammerstein is to be in Philadelphia this week on business relating to his new project in this city.

An apartment house is to be erected on the Southeast corner of Walnut and Thirteenth streets, for C. F. Rumm, owner. The site includes adjoining dwellings, with a front of 38x125 feet. The structure will be about seven stories high and will be well fitted on interior with all conveniences. A. J. Patterson, real estate agent, 8 South Penn Square, has charge of the matter, and says nothing will be done until the beginning of the coming year 1900.

Contractor Thomas Noble will immediately commence to improve the properties at Nos. 2920-22-24 26-28 30-32 Kensington avenue for John Fox. Bulk windows will be put in, and new party walls in three of the houses, while they will be placed in good condition. The cost of the work is estimated at $2500.

Harry H. Pickering (Late of Burk & Pickering), electric construction, etc., 104 North Sixth street, is installing incandescent electrical light work in Union Presbyterian Church, Sixty-sixth and Woodland avenue. Also just completed the wiring and switch-board complete in Yewdall & Jones Brothers' mill, Fifty-fourth and Girard avenue.

C. A. Heinke & Co., address 63 East Penn street, Germantown, want bids for two weeks for nineteen 4-story and basement apartment houses, and sixty-one two and three story and basement, one family house to be erected in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Heinke was formerly an operative builder in Philadelphia, but is now operating in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The City Property Committee of the Board of Education met last week and received and opened proposals for furnishing desks, blackboards and other class room furniture for several new schools now in course of erection, which will be completed early next year, the whole involving an expenditure of upwards of $100,000. The bids were referred to be scheduled and the contracts will be awarded in a few days.

The final papers in the sale of the property situated at Peaches' Point, belonging to the heirs of B. W. Crowninshield, to Mrs. Louisa Du Pont, of Wilmington, Del., have gone on record. The location of this property is one of the finest in Marblehead, the view of the ocean being excellent. It is the intention of Mrs. Du Pont to improve the land immediately by the erection of a fine building for a summer residence.

The Law Committee of Councils met last week and acted affirmatively upon a bill providing that in all cases where the purchase of lots shall be authorized by ordinance, the title to which shall be subject to approval by the City Solicitor, the warrant for the purchase money will be drawn by the latter, after, in his opinion, a proper conveyance shall be tendered sufficient to vest the title in the city, according to the terms of said ordinance.

The sub-committee on bridges of the Survey Committee of Councils, having charge of the appropriation of $50,000 out of the big loan for the construction of new bridges, accompanied by Chief Webster, of the Bureau of Surveys, on the 6th instant, inspected the sites for the proposed structures over the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroad Companies' tracks at Thirty-third and Master streets and at Walnut lane, Wissahickon, to connect with Manayunk, Germantown and Roxborough.

John W. DeLong, 1003 Betz Building, is again taking bids for the erection of a seven-story apartment house, to be erected at Chelton avenue and Knox street, Germantown. The building will measure 50x50 feet. The exterior walls will be constructed of Port Deposit granite and Roman Pompeian brick, with terra cotta trimmings. There will be copper bay windows and porches, and it is estimated that the work will cost $150,000. Previously noted in this journal.

The drawings prepared by Architects Sterns & Castor for the three-story brick addition, 16x70 feet, to C. F. Simonin's Sons' thread factory, were approved last week by the Bureau of Building Inspection. The necessary permit for the work was granted to the firm. The estimated cost is $30,000. The same architects have orders to prepare plans for an office building and a stable, to be erected at Westmoreland street and Frankford avenue, for E. Wolstenholme, whose factory is being enlarged at the present time. Details later.

Councils' Committee on Highways visited Twelfth street and Glenwood avenue in a body on the 11th inst. to view the property and consider proposed improvements. The Pennsylvania Railroad crosses the line of Twelfth street at this point, and the mission of the Councilmen will be mainly to get an idea of the damages the city will have to pay should the street be opened. Whether the improvement will be made depends upon the amount of the appropriation recommended to the Bureau of Highways by the Finance Committee.

The appropriation of $100,000 made by Councils for a new fire boat will make a most efficient addition to the harbor police service. The plans for the boat are now in course of preparation, and all modern appliances for fighting fire along the river front will be embodied in its construction. It will be built of steel. A water tower of powerful dimensions is to be a conspicuous feature of the new craft. Contracts will be asked for the construction of the boat some time in January, and it is proposed to lay the keel about March. The boat will be christened the "Samuel H. Ashbridge," as it is the custom to name all fire tugs in honor of the Mayor under whose administration they are built.

It is altogether likely that the old Mercantile Library on Tenth street, south of Market, will soon be erected from the $1,000,000 provided under the recent loan bill. As a number of sites have been looked at on Broad and other streets, the Tenth street location is at this time favored, and if details can be arranged between the city authorities and the Mercantile Library Association, a building will be the outcome, and likely competitive drawings by architects will be invited. The old building noted above is not adapted for permanent uses as a first-class library. The questions above noted are now being considered by those interested in the matter.

The Schuylkill Valley Clay Manufacturing Co., recently organized, and now applying for an charter, has purchased one hundred acres of clay land at Shoemakerville, Pa., and will erect a five-story brick building for the manufacture of terra cotta sewer pipe, of the same character and quality as that made at Akron, Ohio. The company has elected Joseph W. Hunter, of Jenkintown, President, and J. Loughbridge, 2309 North Seventh street, this city, Vice-President. Besides the factory building, which will be 100 x 300 feet, five stories, twelve kilns, with a daily capacity of about seven carloads of pipe, will also be constructed. Lumber, brick, plaster, roofing, hardware and machinery will be wanted. Mr. Loughbridge can give information.

The great labor war threatened so long between the Chicago building contractors and Trades Unions has been averted through an agreement for a permanent Arbitration Board, whose personnel is to be thoroughly representative of the Trades Unions and the other interests concerned. Through the terms agreed upon, no sympathetic strike is to be declared until the new Board has had an opportunity to investigate and decree what are to be the terms of settlement. Provision is made for the naming of a referee by the arbitrators in the event that the Board is unable to reach a decision on any particular issue. Preferably the referee is to be a Judge of the Circuit or Superior Courts. Would it not be well for organizations of labor in this city to follow in the wake of their Chicago brethren, and, in this amicable and peaceful manner, settle the various questions which arise from time to time regarding hours of labor, wages, etc.?

The Master Builders' Exchange has voted not to send representatives to the Union Committee which is to be organized for the purpose of securing abolishment of the Public Buildings Commission. It is claimed that the fact that Franklin M. Harris and John S. Stevens, members of the Commission, are also Directors of the Exchange, had nothing to do with that action. The reasons given by Secretary Harkness are that the movement is more or less political, that the legislative session is too far ahead for such action now, and that the proposition made is too indefinite. The Citizens' Municipal Association, which backed the attempt to abolish the Commission when the Penrose bill was passed, has also refused to go into the present movement, but, on the other hand, expresses doubt as to the advisability of turning over the control of the Public Buildings to "Councils as they are now constituted and the present Administration."

The formal transfer of the new Post Office and Custom House in Camden from the contractor, Charles McCaul, of Philadelphia, to the Federal authorities was made on the 8th instant, in the presence of about 250 invited guests, including prominent citizens of Camden and Philadelphia and Government officials. The building, located at Third and Arch streets, was immaculate in appearance, and for an hour before the formal ceremonies, at 2 o'clock, the guests examined the beautiful marbles, the artistic decorations, and the handsomely polished woodwork. The entire first floor of the building is devoted to the Post Office, with all the latest appliances for handling mail matter. The mail wagons can drive entirely around the rear of the building, there being entrance gates on both Third and Arch streets. In the upper story are suites of offices for the Internal Revenue Collector, Collector of Customs, a hearing room for the United States Commissioner, and witness rooms. All the interior fittings are in vari colored marble and mahogany.

Common and Select Councils, of this city, at their last session, considered quite a number of bills which will likely become law at an early date. Among these were: Chairman Seeds, of the Finance Committee, introduced an ordinance authorizing the City Treasurer to pay to the State $135,746.59 as a part of the city's debt. Mr. Myers presented a resolution directing the purchase of a new site for the location of Potter's Field, asking $50 000 for the purpose. Mr. Cavin presented an ordinance asking an appropriation of $10,000 for the purchase of a lot at Sixtieth and Media streets, for school purposes. An ordinance providing for the lease of the property 2003 and 2005 North Second street, for fire purposes, at an annual rental of $1500, was passed. Another ordinance, directing the purchase of a lot in the Thirty-seventh ward, bounded by Cambria street, Park and Glenwood avenues, also for fire purposes, was passed, and similar action was taken on a site in the Twenty-second ward, at Germantown avenue and Mt. Pleasant avenue, for the same purpose, at a cost of $10,000. The Water Committee recommended that the time of enforcing hopper ordinance be extended to January 1, 1901. An ordinance granting the Frankford and Fairmount Passenger Railway Company, the right to construct and run a trolley system to connect Frankford, Germantown and Falls of Schuylkill was passed. The measure requiring that all wharves owned by the city that are to be rebuilt shall be of double deck construction, so as to afford a pavilion for the use of the public, was referred to the Committee on City Property. Ordinances introduced included two by Mr. Fourier, one authorizing the expenditure of $100,000 for a new school house at Twenty-eighth and Huntingdon streets, and the other asking $2500 for a school lot at Thirty-first street and Lehigh avenue. Mr. Schofield introduced a measure providing for the creation of a separate police district in the Thirty-ninth ward. Another school lot asked for, was one in the Thirty-eighth ward, bounded by Luzerne and Seventeenth streets, Wayne and Hunting Park avenues, the cost of which is not to exceed $25,000.

DEVOTED TO REAL ESTATE, BUILDING, ARCHITECTURAL AND INSURANCE INTERESTS

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER]

VOL. XIV.—No. 51. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1899. $5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Architects Stein, Cohen & Roth, 41 Union square, New York, have nearly completed the plans, and estimates will soon be taken on the large fifteen-story apartment house to be erected at the northwest corner of Central Park West and Seventieth street, for the Et-na Real Estate Co., 1270 Broadway. Estimated cost, $750,000. Work will not be started for some time.

Estimates are being taken on all construction contracts for the twelve-story brick, stone and iron business building to be erected at the southeast corner of Broadway and Thirtieth street by Mr. Henry Corn, 142 Fifth avenue, New York. Plans are by Robert Maynecke, 725 Broadway. Work to be started early next year.

Architects Janes & Leo, 765 Boulevard, New York are preparing plans for the seven-story brick and stone apartment house, which Mr. Michael Tully, 210 W. 105th street, will erect on the south side of Eightieth street, 151 feet west of West End avenue, at an estimated cost of $125,000. Plans call for the latest improvements and conveniences. Owner superintends and is in the market for all material.

W. E. Rees, architect, southeast corner Forty-sixth and Baltimore avenue, has made plans for the first building of the new company to manufacture sewer pipe upon a plot of ground at Shoemakerville, Pa. The structure will be three stories high, of brick, stone, iron, and slow burning construction, and fitted with all conveniences. Estimates are being made by Contractor W. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sanson street, and others throughout the city. We fully noted this work in a late issue of this journal.

Mr. Henry A. Cohen, 163 Park Row, New York, has purchased the property at the northeast corner of avenue C and Sixth street, and will improve by the erection of a six-story brick and stone flat house, with stores, plans for which will be prepared by Architects Horenberger & Straub, 122 Bowery. Estimated cost, $25,000. Owners will let contracts for material, but work will not be started before spring. Building will have buff brick front, tin roof, and the usual improvements.

Architect C. P. H. Gilbert, 1123 Broadway, New York, is preparing plans for a six-story brick, stone and iron business building (lots and factories) to be erected on the west side of Park avenue, between 131st and 132d streets, by Mr. Charles W. Hall 26 Cortlandt street, who recently purchased this property. Owner will superintend, and mention will be made when plans and specifications are ready for estimates.

Architects Hales & Ballinger have been taking estimates for the Fern Rock mill annex, to be erected on the south side of Wishart street, west of Trenton avenue. The new structure will be one-story high with a basement, and it will measure 147x45 feet. A wing will also be built. This will measure 25x25 feet. The buildings will be used for office and manufacturing purposes. The above-named architects have been taking estimates for an addition which will be erected for the Esterbrook Pen Works, in Camden. The addition will measure 76x59 feet. One portion will be four and the other two stories high.

Mr. Frank Fichter, 837 Jackson avenue, New York, has purchased property on the north side of 156th street, 100 feet west of Union avenue, and will improve by the erection of four three story frame flat houses, to have all improvements. Moore & Lunsiedel, 148th street and Third avenue, are the architects. Estimated cost, $25,000. Owner is in the market for all material and work will be started at once. Same architect's have completed the plans for the seven-story brick, stone and iron bachelor apartment house, which Mr. Thos H Bell, 145 W. Ninety-sixth street, New York, will erect at No 431 Fourth avenue, at an estimated cost of $50,000. Owner superintends and is still open for estimates on all construction material.

Frank Miles Day & Bro., architects, 925 Chestnut street, have been retained to prepare plans for the new P. E. Church of the Epiphany, to be erected at Pelham, Germantown, and it will likely be erected during the coming year, 1900. The edifice has been designed by the architects in colonial style, but in a very simple form of colonial, resembling old St. David's, at Radnor, rather than the highly ornate forms that are seen in Christ Church or St. Peter's. At the western end is a low tower, and through the lower story of this tower is the main entrance to the church. Another entrance is afforded through the south transept. The chancel will be of considerable depth and will be large enough for a surplined choir. There will be a sacristy and choir vestry. The interior of the church will be finished in a purely colonial fashion, with woodwork painted white. The plan of the church is cruciform and the material to be used in its construction is Germantown stone.

The T Square Club's annual exhibition of architectural drawings was opened in the rooms of the Philadelphia Art Club on South Broad street last week. The display was the first of a series which will take the form of a circuit and will travel from this city to New York, thence to six of the Western cities, Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland, Pittsburg, etc. The exhibition proved one of the most interesting and successful ever given by the T Square Club. It was international in character and gave to the public a comprehensive idea of the great progress being made in architectural art. The drawings submitted in competition for the prize membership of the T Square Club by students of the senior and special classes of the University School of Architecture and the day and night students of the Drexel Institute were of a particularly high order. The following committee has charge: Adin Benedict Lacey, Professor Warren P. Laird, Arthur S. Brooke, Horace H. Burrell, Julius F. Harder, Albert Kelsey, David K. Boyd, Edgar V. Seeler, Louis C. Hinkman, J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr., Paul A. David and John T. Cornes.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, have been retained to make the necessary alterations to the big auditorium in the Exposition buildings required to accommodate the delegates to the Republican Convention, to be held in this city, June 19th, 1900. The exteriors of the buildings will remain as they are at present. Mr. Hewitt stated that when alterations are completed there will be a seating capacity of about 16,000, and that the stage will seat from 2500 to 3000. Extreme care is to be taken of the acoustic properties of the altered auditorium, so that the speakers may be heard in every part of the vast room. They have just started on the plans for the alterations, consequently are not in a position to give any definite description. It is proposed, however, to remove the partitions forming the sides of the present auditorium. This room is now 140 feet wide and 300 feet long. On each side of the present partitions there are over 78 feet to the exterior walls. That space will be added, giving a total width of about 297 feet. The present stage and dressing rooms will be taken down and rebuilt on a much larger scale at the extreme south end of the room adjoining the central wing building. The new stage will be semi-circular and raised in steps, so that the speaker may be seen from any point in the building, the speakers' platform being placed well forward. The present east and wing seats are to be removed and the whole floor space will be covered with seats, the east and west wing seats being elevated so that the platform may be seen from all points. The wing known as No 2, of the permanent building, which adjoins the stage to the south, is to be fitted up for committee rooms and dressing rooms, etc. It has not been determined yet whether the seats will be built in or whether chairs will be secured. Probably the latter course will be adopted. When finished this auditorium will be the largest in the country, as far as seating capacity is concerned. It is proposed to have the alterations completed in time to make tests with sounding-boards, etc., in order to make the acoustics of the room as near perfect as possible. The plans will be completed in about a week or ten days, and contractors will then be asked to estimate. The cost will not be less than $20,000, nor more than $35,000.

of figures on paper only?

Are her battalions, like her battalions, offered by men of the same type as Buller and Methuen?

Is her boasted strength a game of bluff and arrogance?

What if her army had run up against the scientific Germans?

Her colonial history is written with the blood of the half-starved Kaffirs and Indians who fought her battalions hard and long with their spears and bows against her dum-dums and Maxims, and it was in the slaughter of these poor devils that the fame and glory of British officers have been won.

Now that her Lord Dukes and Right Honorables are face to face with the blue-eyed white man of South Africa, the question of supremacy is more serious, and the easy walk-over that was predicted is not likely to happen.

The prestige of England's army is gone, for while it has been a factor, the humiliating fact now exists that there is no: a third-rate power that has reason to fear it.

Her difficulties will increase as the Boers fall back to their mountain fastnesses, and while the slaughter of surrendered white men while suing for mercy upon which more Victoria crosses will be won, British domination of South Africa will end with the war, and this is the sentiment and sympathy of 98 per cent. of our own people as we find it.

ONE of the most practical moves made by the Master Builders' Exchange since its organization, was the recent introduction of the idea of personal representation of exhibitors by business agents. Since the method was adopted new life has been infused throughout the floor space of exhibit; indeed, almost the entire room for show of products has been utilized. Never before has the prosperity of this department of the Master Builders' Exchange, at 24 South Seventh street, developed so much strength and business-like capacity as it does at present under the able management of William H. Matthews, the general superintendent of the Exhibition, in conjunction with the active support of the Committee on Exhibition, who are among the most energetic members of the Exchange. These are: Messrs. Charles Gillingham, chairman; Jno. S. Stevens, J. S. Thomas, A. A. Reeves, and A. J. Slack. The Master Builders' Exchange Exhibition is filling a want long needed in this city, where a consolidated exhibit of building material, and genuine home conveniences and comforts is placed so as to be suggestive to the minds of those engaged in building or about to construct for themselves future abiding places. A visit will repay all, and all are made welcome.

THE Philadelphia Record has kindly favored us with several copies of its almanac for 1900.

As a maker of a useful and practical almanac, containing a mass of information of great value to practical people, the Record maintains its former high standard of excellence of twenty years ago, and while this is the fact it could not well be otherwise with the self-same working force, with few exceptions, that mastered successfully the problem of making the paper the important factor in the business and social world it is.

The almanac is just what an almanac should be, a mass of important facts and data that people are not supposed to remember.

Architect Notes.

The plans for the eight-story "North American" building, to be erected by Thomas Wanamaker at Broad and Sansom streets, are again on the boards of Doyle & Doak, contractors, 1509 Sansom street, for estimates. The drawings have been changed to some degree and the specifications altered. It will be of brick, stone and terra cotta work; steel skeleton, and fire-proof material for interior work, elevators, lifts, electric work, steam heat and power; marble, tile and slate work, iron and brass grille work, plumbing and gas fitting, as well as all modern conveniences.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

An agent of Drexel, Morgan & Co. is said to have bought up the stock of President Roberts and Mr. Howard Slater, of the New York Standard Watch Company, of Jersey City. It is believed that the Jersey City plant will be consolidated with the watchcase factory near Philadelphia. It is reported that the purchasers paid $752,000 for the Jersey City plant, or $147 per share. Extensive improvements are contemplated.

Thomas Wade Wright, one of the best-known builders of German town, senior member of the firm of Thomas W. Wright & Son, died at his home, No. 20 Harvey street, Germantown, on the 15th instant, in his sixty eighth year. Mr. Wright was born in New Basford, near Nottingham, England, and came to this country when a boy, settling in Brooklyn. Later he settled in German town, and took charge of Charles Miller's building business. In 1870 he started in business for himself, and built many beautiful structures in the Twenty-second ward. He was a Republican, having served as School Director in his ward for twelve years.

A charter was issued by the State Department at Harrisburg on the 15th instant to the Pencoyd & Philadelphia Railroad Company. The capital is $50,000, and Percival Roberts is president, Peter Williamson Roberts, Charles R. Price and Charles Major, directors, all well-known members of the Pencoyd Iron Works. The road, which will be used only for freight purposes, is to run along the river road on the west side of the Schuylkill, from the Schuylkill Valley Branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad to City avenue bridge, connecting with the Venice branch of the Reading Railway at the west end of the Navigation Company's bridge.

Tractions are being considered by the Union Traction Company for the erection of an immense plant for the construction and repair of rolling stock, and within a few months the work of erecting the proposed shops will be under way. For a long time the main repair shops at Eighth and Dauphin streets have been unequal to the amount of work required there, which has grown with the increased number of cars that are operated by the company. The plans for this important step are far from completion. In fact, it is not yet announced where the new shops will be located. It is said that the property of the company at Eighth and Dauphin streets is not large enough for the proposed new shops, and that the company contemplates selecting a site along one of its northern suburban roads. The construction of its own cars will, no doubt, result in a large saving to the company. Master Mechanic Oliver, when asked where the new shops would be located, said that he was not in a position to make public anything about the plans of the company.

The long-promised trolley road from this city to Belmont Driving Club will probably be built and operated next season. The right of way has already been secured, it is asserted, from Fifty-second street to the Park. All legal impediments have been removed and the consent of the Lower Merion township supervisors has been secured. The new road, to be known as the Lower Merion & Conshohocken, will extend through private properties nearly the entire length of the line. Beginning at Fifty-second street, the line extends out Jefferson street to the Montgomery turnpike, crossing under the Schuylkill Valley branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad on the turnpike; then verging to the eastward, through the Munyon property and parallel with the turnpike to Bala, crossing Winfield avenue and city line in close proximity to the old Black Horse Hotel, and extending across the McGeorge and Stadlerman properties to near Cynwyd, and thence across the Logan property to Meeting House road, to the terminus at the southern end of Belmont Park. The road will at the outset reach Bala, Cynwyd, and the settlement at Academy, and will ultimately be extended across the Mill Creek Valley near Humphries' Mill, to Gladwyn, and thence on to West Conshohocken.

DELAWARE of Philad'a
Against Fire

The Italian Marble Mosaic Company, 431 Spruce street, have been awarded the contract for all the mosaic floors in the hotel Traymore, Atlantic City, N. J.

The Alpha Portland Cement Co., Bourse Building, Philadelphia, has under consideration, so it is said, extensive improvements on its plant at Alpha, New Jersey.

Fire on the third instant damaged Bonachur & Holmes' store building at 1533 Chestnut street. This structure has been completed but a short time and will require about $10,000 worth of new work at once.

Cards have been posted on the boards at the Master Builders' Exchange inviting estimates for a 1200 foot retaining wall which the government proposes to build at League Island Navy Yard.

The Supervising Architect has submitted to the House a report recommending an appropriation of $80,000 for renovating and repairing the plumbing apparatus in the Custom House at Philadelphia.

Twenty-five two-story brick dwellings, each 14x24 feet, will be built by Jackson & Gould on the east side of Daggett street, between Greenway and Woodland avenues. The operation is estimated to cost $40,000.

The congregation of the Thirty-fourth Street Baptist Church has taken title to the property measuring 75x65 feet, at the northeast corner of Thirty-fourth and Brandywine streets from the Haverford Building and Loan Association for the consideration of $9,000.

Dr. G. Fling, of Germantown, has signed a contract with Neal McIlvaine to erect five two-story buff brick front dwellings, on the south side of Kalos street, between Righter and Retta streets, in the Twenty first ward. Each house will measure 16x44 feet. Work will be commenced at once.

Contractors Appleton and Burrell, 1201 Chancellor street, have the contract to transform the stable at the northeast corner of Twentieth and Walnut streets into an up-to-date art gallery, for E. T. Statesbury, owner. The same contractors are taking bids for a handsome residence to be erected at Arctic and Vermont avenues, Atlantic City, N. J., for Albert Baltz, owner. Architect D. K. Boyd, of this city, made the plans.

John Lynch will build six two-story brick dwellings, each 16x43 feet, on the north side of Thompson street, between Sixty first and Robinson streets. He will also erect a two-story store and dwelling, 16x43 feet, at the northeast corner of Robinson and Thompson streets. All of the above are to be press brick, stone trimmings and contain best modern conveniences, etc.

Murrell Dobbins, of this city, has purchased the Lyons Pottery Company's works in South Camden. This plant is said to be one of the best equipped of its kind in this country, and occupies two acres of land. Mr. Dobbins will erect several additional kilns at the works for the manufacture of buff, Pompeian and other kinds of brick, giving employment to several hundred men. Walter Lyons, who was connected with the works, will be associated with Mr. Dobbins.

Germantown is to have a new Roman Catholic parish, and consequently a new church will be erected. The Rev. Jeremiah D. Nevin has been directed by Archbishop Ryan to at once organize the parish, and has also secured a fine lot of ground at the northwest corner of Logan and Pulaski streets. The lot is 347 x 220 feet. Father Nevin says he is desirous of having plans made, and to start upon the new church made in the early spring of 1900.

Director of Public Works Haddock will, in a few days, receive and open proposals for furnishing supplies that will be required by the Bureau of Highways during next year, and also for work to be performed upon the highways, the whole involving an expenditure of upwards of $800,000. The most important of the many bids to be received are for repairs to paved streets during next year, the cost of which for the current year was $350,000, and for the maintenance of unpaved and macadamized roads, which will cost about $125,000.

That definite business is meant by the Lit Brothers to obtain a grant of control over the entire site of the late fire at Eighth and Filbert streets is not denied, nor is such a consummation unlikely as the matter stands at present. There are certain details and transactions that must be met by concessions before a general transfer by the various owners can be made. Of one thing we are certain at this time, which is that the scene of the fire will at an early day be rebuilt with first class business houses.

Charles McCaul has the contract for the erection of a large reducing room building for the Electric Storage Battery Company, at Nineteenth street and Allegheny avenue. The building will be one story high, and it will have fronts of 159, 144, 103, and 27 feet. The estimated cost of the work is $12,000. The George Lang estate has awarded the contract for repairing the fire damage at 731 and 33 Filbert street, to Mr. McCaul. This work was made necessary by the big fire at Eighth and Filbert streets, and it is estimated that it will cost $1500.

Andrew Pinkerton, floor layer and planer, 2432 North Thirty-third street, reports the following new contracts: All maple floors at addition to Gimbel Brothers' store, 812-14 Market street; building, southeast corner Eighth and Market streets, four-story; and Enberg's real estate office, Thirty-first and York streets; also two inch plank and maple flooring at the Northern Electric Light Company Building, Second and Susquehanna avenues; new floor at Electric Storage Battery Building, Nineteenth and Allegheny avenue, and parquet floors in parlor, hall and dining room of seven dwellings, Thirty-third and Oxford streets.

Both Mr. Elkins and Mr. Widener, of this city, flatly deny that there is any truth in the statement made that they were parties to the purchase of the Academy of Music in this city. There is no doubt, however, that an offer has been made to the Baker estate interests which will be the controlling factor in the transaction when it is made. We are enabled to say that at present such transfer has not been made and Mr. Elkins says that he is not a party to the rumored purchase. Notwithstanding all that is said pro and con, we believe the sale will be made of the property at an early day, as negotiations are now pending.

Dr. James M. Munyon, of this city, has had a limited number of plans made by architects for a home, to be built and established on the hills just beyond George's Hill, upon the rolling land on old Lancaster road, near the home of Mr. Munyon. It is to be one of the best in the country, and will care for girls entirely. It is to be an industrial and educational home and institute, and will cost $2,000,000 when completed. A definite scheme has now been made of plans upon which the work will be constructed from drawings by the well known architect Seymour Davis, 907 Walnut street. Early in the coming year, Mr. Munyon says, he hopes to put his ideas into practical effect and award contracts.

Secretary Long's desire to provide the naval establishment with stone and concrete docks is shown by his action in transmitting to Congress a bill prepared by Rear-Admiral Endicott authorizing the construction of the League Island dock of stone and concrete instead of timber. A bill requesting similar authority in the case of the Mare Island dock will also be presented to Congress. Rear-Admiral Endicott, in draughting the specimens of these docks, was careful to insert a provision under which the contractors should agree to change from timber to stone and concrete, at the direction of the government, and accept a price fixed by a board appointed by the department. An earnest effort will be made to secure an appropriation from Congress for a stone and concrete dock for the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

A movement has been inaugurated to establish a Protestant Episcopal Mission at the northeast corner of Market and Fifty-sixth streets, where a lot is available at a cost of $15,000. There is no church of this denomination within twelve squares, and it is stated that nearly one hundred families within that radius are desirous of having one. The lot which has been chosen is considered the best in the neighborhood and large enough for all future uses, having 230 feet on Market street and 150 feet on Fifty-sixth street. A temporary chapel will be built by the Convocation of West Philadelphia as soon as the purchase is concluded, and as soon as it is in suitable form the Convocation will conduct regular services and establish a Sunday school. Of the first $7,000 needed toward the purchase, $2,700 has already been promised. This $7,000 must be on hand by January 20. Contributions for the object are being solicited by the Diocesan Committee of the Pennsylvania Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Henry Anstice is President and Mrs. E. N. Thomas, Secretary.

The work upon the new dormitories at the University of Pennsylvania is now progressing rapidly. The foundations have been laid, and the workmen were careful to see that they were not built upon soft ground, for in the construction of the dormitories before one building had to be torn down on account of a poor base for foundations. The tower, which is to be the feature of the new structure, and a memorial to Pennsylvania men in the late war, is also in progress of rapid construction. It has been known for some time that the class of '95 C. was raising money to erect a gate to be put at the entrance to these new dormitories. The requisite amount, $1,200, has now been subscribed to by members of the class. The gate will be given as "Their Five Year Gift." The gate has been designed by Cope and Stewardson, and will be of heavy wrought iron similar to the '73 gate and will form the entrance to the Memorial Tower. The following is the committee in charge: Dr. A. P. Francine, chairman; Percy H. Wilson, secretary; William G. Moore, treasurer; J. Clifford Rosengarten, J. Maxwell Bullock, L. C. Wetberill, Dr. John E. Bullitt, William Kauffman, T. Kilby Smith, Dr. William Pepper.

and other aquatic plants will be planted. A quaint rustic bridge will span the pond and connect the two hills on either side, while about the ledges, if the appropriation will permit, a stone terrace will be constructed. To improve this twenty-five acres only $7,000 has been allowed the City Forester, but with the natural conditions existing he is confident of turning the tract into a beautiful rendezvous for the citizens of Frankford and the adjoining section. Work will be started as soon as the plans are completed. It will be pushed forward in order to have the park in readiness for opening in the spring. Much of the work, such as grading, clearing away the underbrush and laying out the drives and paths, can be done during the winter so long as the ground is not frozen or covered with snow.

if its magnificent exhibit of BUILDING HARDWARE at the National Export Exposition had failed—notwithstanding the gratifying expressions of admiration and appreciation of the many thousands of visitors lavishly bestowed upon it—to command the attention of buyers for both export and domestic uses.

Results are doubly gratifying and the closing of the Exposition marks the beginning of a new era in the history of this great American manufacturing concern, for many new and important fields have been opened for its products in foreign lands, besides which the company has been highly honored through the attention and critical inspection given to its exhibit by hundreds of local and visiting architects and builders, many of whom have placed valuable and important introductory orders.

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST-OFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. XIV.—No. 52.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Architect Frederick Jacobson, 54 West Eighteenth street, Brooklyn, will probably prepare the plans for the seven-story brick, stone and iron apartment house, which Mr. Jas. Kilpatrick, 640 Madison avenue, Manhattan, will erect at the northeast corner of Hicks and Pierpont streets (plot, 50x115). Mention will be made when plans are ready for estimates; owner will superintend.

Architect Thomas Bennett, 198 Fifty-third street, Brooklyn, has plans for a four-story light brick and limestone front apartment house, to be erected on the south side of Eighth street, west of Seventh avenue, by Mr. Charles Micking, 323 Seventh avenue, at an estimated cost of $15,000. Plans provide for tin roof, hardwood interior finish, cabinet mantels, open plumbing, enamelled baths, tile flooring, dumbwaiters, electric work, etc. Estimates are being taken.

The drawings of Architects Savary & Scheetz, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth above Chestnut streets, for the two-story carriage house and stable which Walter S. Cramp will have built at Rosemont, Pa., are on the boards for estimates at the office of Contractor John R. Wiggins. The first floor will contain box and other stalls, harness room, closets, carriage house, while a man's room and hay loft will be located on the second floor. Previously noted.

At the Builders' Exchange, 24 South Seventh street, are posted invitations by the Supervising Architect Treasury Department, to bid on the hospital building to be erected at Ellis Island, N. Y. (except electric work, heating, ventilation, and elevators). Also for wiring system in boiler house for the U. S. Marine Hospital at Chicago, Ill. The former to be in by January 31st, 1900, and the latter by January 15th, 1900. Addressed to James Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect, Washington, D. C.

The property at the southeast corner of Sheriff and Stanton streets, recently purchased by Mr. Jacob Fishel, 22 Clifton street, will be improved by the erection of three six-story brick and stone store and flat houses, plans for which have been prepared by Architect Michael Bernstein, 245 Broadway, New York. Plans provide for iron columns and beams, granite and brownstone, buff or light face and common brick, terra cotta, North Carolina pine and spruce lumber, tin roof and soft wood finish, and the usual improvements. Owner will superintend, and is taking bids on material.

After a tour of the architects' offices in this city we are enabled to state that the outlook for the coming year, 1900, is most auspicious, if we are to judge by the amount of preliminary sketches and direct orders now on file and in course of preparation in the leading offices.

Many of these would indicate not only the average buildings, but those of large magnitude, such as office structures, churches, factory buildings, large additions, and a considerable proportion of dwelling house construction in two, three and four story. It is also regarded as certain that the prices of material will find a common level and will no longer prove a detriment to improvements of this character.

Plans were filed at the building department last week for two brick and stone store and flat-houses, (five and six stories high), to be erected at 253 East Tenth street, and 97 and 99 Avenue D, by Messrs. Lowenfeld & Prayer, 115 Broadway. Estimated cost, $50,000 total. George F. Pelham, 503 Fifth avenue, New York, is the architect, and plans provide for stone foundations, iron columns and beams, light face and common brick, Indiana lime, brownstone and granite, North Carolina pine and spruce lumber, tin roof, softwood finish, wood mantels, open plumbing, steel clad baths, alabaster washbasins, dumbwaiters, ash stairs, electric bells and door openers, concrete cellars, etc. Owners will superintend. Contracts not let.

After competition by a number of city architects, preparation of plans have been awarded to Messrs. Field & Medary, of 1414 S. Penn Square. The building which will be of the colonial style of architecture, will cover an area of 60 by 150 feet. The minimum amount necessary for its completion is $40,000, but it is hoped that $60,000 will be donated, which would give the college a gymnasium first-class in every respect and unequalled at any other institution of its size in the country. On the first floor, besides the gymnasium hall, which will extend up both stories, there will be two directors' rooms and a reading-room, while the second floor will contain a trophy room, two alumni rooms and a visitors' gallery. The gymnasium hall, which will be equipped with facilities for all branches of work, including an indoor running track, will be ninety feet long and sixty feet in width. The committee in charge consists of Messrs. Isaac Sharpless, chairman; Edward P. Allinson, vice chairman; Walter C. Janney, secretary; Charles J. Rhoads, treasurer; James A. Babbitt, Edward Kettle, Jr., Henry Cope, John C. Winston, Joseph W. Sharp, Jr., Franklin B. Kirkbride, J. Stoddell Stokes, and J. Henry Scattergood.

In connection with the T-square Club's architectural exhibition now being held in the galleries of the Art Club, the club has issued a handsome catalogue in stamped cloth binding containing an excellent choice of subjects presented with taste, skill, and in compact form. A special innovation has been introduced this year by the use of brown ink. By bringing out more durable binding than that affected in previous years, the club has made its annual catalogue more acceptable as a permanent addition to the library. In the present catalogue as much emphasis as possible has been given to problems of every-day practical value, selected for originality of thought and expression rather than for size and importance. The suburban house, the city front, elevators, with plans, working drawings, detail and measured drawings and photographs of executed work are given the preference over sketches and general drawings, which are often, by reason of indefiniteness or too great reduction from the original, of no real value for the purpose of study and comparison. The exhibition closes January 6th, 1900.

Wilson Brothers & Co., architects, Drexel Building, are busy on plans for the construction of a union railroad station at Richmond, Va., at a cost of between $400,000 and $500,000. The new structure, when completed, will be used by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad and the Seaboard Air Line, and it is possible that Philadelphia contractors will be invited after the first of the year. The structure will be built of dark colored Pompeian brick, with a light green stone base and terra cotta trimmings. The building will be ornamental as well as imposing, and the style of architecture will be Spanish Renaissance. The general waiting room is placed central and is flanked on the one side by the ladies' room, entrance stairs, elevator, etc., and on the other side by the dining room, exit stairs and service stairs to the upper floors. The arrangement of the main entrance and exit stairs is such that either is equally available for either purpose, and they are located so as to be readily accessible from all parts. A general service stairs and elevator has also been provided from the ground floor to the fourth floor. The interior of the second story has been arranged with colonnades and large openings. On the fourth floor arrangements have been made for the use of the railroad Y. M. C. A., with rest rooms, bath rooms, reading rooms, etc. A conspicuous feature of the building will be a handsome clock tower, with faces on all four sides surmounting one corner of the building. It is intended to make an architectural feature of the interior of the second story, and in all probability the columns and plaster finish and the wainscoting will be of marble and the floors of marble mosaic. A very commodious lobby is placed between the station proper and the train shed, with plenty of exit and train gates. It is the intention of the railroads to have everything in connection with this station first-class and substantial and of a permanent character, and the building and train shed, with all their appointments, when finished, will be among the finest examples of this kind of work. We noted this work on the selection of the Wilson Bros., as architects, in these columns some months ago.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 27, 1899

The death of Allen B. Rorke is a serious loss to the business interests of this city.

As a builder he was identified more closely with the new methods in construction work adopted after the centennial, than any other man in the long list of capable and enterprising builders in the city.

He always brought to bear upon his work a conscientious regard for the owner's rights and interests, and this, perhaps, outside of his ability, was the great secret of his popularity, and in this connection the high compliment paid to Mr. Rorke by Governor Hastings upon learning that the contract for the capitol building at Harrisburg had been given to him, was well merited and earnestly meant. The Governor said that if Allen B. Rorke had the contract he could go home satisfied that the work would be well done.

No higher compliment could be paid to any man and it was doubly gratifying to Mr. Rorke, because his whole business life had been devoted in an effort to justly merit it.

Mr. Rorke's funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, 131 South Eighteenth street.

Mr. WM. P. KLING, the Secretary and Treasurer of the West End Trust Company, has been elected to the same position in the Commonwealth Trust Company, in place of Mr. Adam A. Stull, who has been elected President of the Trust Company of North America.

Obituary.

Allen B. Rorke, the distinguished builder and contractor, died from apoplexy at his residence, 131 South Eighteenth street, on Tuesday morning at 3.30.

Mr. Rorke was an enterprising and progressive man, who for many years had been identified with the erection of prominent buildings in this city, his latest triumph being the construction of the National Export Exposition buildings under time restrictions which were regarded by many experienced persons as physically impossible.

Mr. Rorke not only completed the contract within the time limit, but he took pride in saying that he could have beaten the limit by at least a month had it not been for delays for which he was in no way responsible.

Mr. Rorke, at the time of his death, was engaged in the construction of the mammoth hotel at Chelsea, Atlantic City, and was also one of its owners.

Mr. Rorke had many personal, political and business friends, as his frank, open nature, as well as his prompt and straightforward characteristics in business matters commanded the highest respect among those who knew him.

MESSRS. SAMUEL H. FRENCH & Co., Fourth and Callowhill streets, are supplying their customers with their regular New Year's greetings in the shape of a memorandum calendar.

In 1844, when the firm was established, calendars of this character were unknown. As a "memory prompter," this little article for desk use is invaluable for busy men.

It's a good thing to be remembered by old friends, and the patrons and customers of this old house are doubly pleased just about this time every year, first by the kind thoughtfulness which prompts the gift, and second, because of the essential usefulness of the gift itself.

We are also indebted to the Provident Life & Trust Company, Messrs. Wm. H. Albertson & Company, and Messrs. Henry G. Schultz & Son for calendars for 1900.

Architect Notes.

Robeson L. Perot, architect, 619 Bourse Building, has made plans for alterations to Holy Trinity Baptist Church, Bainbridge, above Eighteenth street, and has placed them on boards of Contractor Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, for estimate. It will consist of exterior and interior work of an extensive character.

Architect S. D. Cohen, 203 Broadway, New York, has plans for a seven-story brick, stone and iron apartment house, to be erected on the south side of Ninety-seventh street, 100 feet east of Riverside drive, by the Olympia Construction Company, 213 Broadway. Estimated cost, $175,000. Building will be of fire-proof construction, and have all the latest improvements and conveniences. Estimates will soon be taken, all bids to be submitted to architect.

Architects Hunter & Murgatroyd, 1046 East 169th street, New York, have plans for six frame flat houses, to be erected on Crotona Park South, west of Clinton avenue, by Mr. Henry White, 1016 East 169th street, at an estimated cost of $40,000 total. Buildings will be three stories high, 20x85 feet each, and have the usual run of flat improvements. Heating not decided (steam or furnace). Owner will superintend, and work is to be started at once.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

An additional story will be erected on the building at the southeast corner of Second and Somerset streets for James Barker at a cost of $3,300. The floor will be used for the storage of patterns.

Extensive interior alterations will be made to the buildings Nos. 432 and 434 Library street by Contractors Doyle & Doak to make the structures suitable for office purposes. The work, which will be started immediately, is for Harrison G. Seeler, owner, and will cost $800.

It is altogether likely that the general budget of appropriations for the Department of Public Safety and Public Works of this city will be acted upon at the meeting of City Councils to be held on Thursday of the current week.

Architect J. Cather Newsom, 1001 Chestnut street, of this city, is at work on drawings for four two-and-one-half-story frame dwellings, to be erected at Hadsonfield, N. J., for S. Frank Davis. The plans will be ready for estimates in a short time.

Contractor Benjamin Walker will begin work at once on a one-story brick building, 14x26 feet, cement floor, at the city dog pound, east side of Lambert street, above Lehigh avenue. The building will be used as a cook house and battery room.

Builder John Devlin will at once build eighteen two-story brick and brown stone front dwellings, each 15x40 feet, on the east side of Carlisle street, 64 feet south of Porter street, in the Twenty-sixth ward. The estimated cost of this work is $27,000.

Frank T. Maguire, 1403 Real Estate Building, has been awarded the contract for the erection of the four officers' quarters at League Island. Plans for this contract have been on the boards of local contractors before, but the bids have always been in excess of the appropriation.

The necessary permit for the erection of the two-story brick stable, 52x17.4 feet, on the south side of Shamokin street, east of Eleventh, has been granted to Macey, Henderson & Co., Limited. The work will be done for the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company.

Charles McCaul has taken out a permit to build the Electric Storage Battery Company's new reducing room at the southeast corner of Nineteenth street and Allegheny avenue, to cost $12,000. The building will be one story high, with a basement, and it will measure 105x141 feet.

The Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company has awarded the contract for the erection of the new $30,000 freight shed at Callowhill street wharf, Delaware river, to contractors Armstrong & Pritzenhoff. Oelschlagel, and for a truck house on the north side of Clearfield street, 125 feet east of Frankford avenue, made by Architects Schermeihorn & Reinhold. All previously noted in full.

Bureau of City Property, and is intended for the extension of the hospital itself, the ground which it is intended to purchase being the Atherton Blight tract, enclosed by Huntington and Twenty-second streets, and Sedgley avenue. The members of the Kensington International Beneficial Association, which has headquarters at Fox and Cumberland streets, will erect a hand-some club house, to cost in the neighborhood of $14,000, near where the club is at present located. The exact location is withheld for the present by the Building Committee. It will be an up-to-date structure, two stories high, to have a frontage of 36 feet and a depth of 98 feet. The front will be constructed of Pompeian bricks with stone trimmings, and the cornice will be of an ornamental design. The basement will contain a large bowling alley and shuffle boards. A billiard room will be located on the first floor, with a large concert room and committee rooms on the second floor. The building will be fitted up with hardwoods and heated by steam and lighted by gas and electricity. The bowling alley and shuffle board room will be equipped with the necessary paraphernalia. When this building is completed, the members of the organization will have a workmen's club house to be proud of. It is expected that contractors will be asked to submit proposals for the work before the first of the year.

Samuel B. Huey, president of the Board of Public Education, says that the board would continue to select school sites and to build upon them, as far as they were able to do so under the appropriation granted by Councils, and that the action of Councils in passing the bill to take away the power of the Board in the buying of lots by authorizing the City Solicitor to draw warrants upon approval of titles would be disregarded. "Councils' action in passing that ordinance," said Mr. Huey, "was clearly illegal, and, should it ever come into court, the court would pronounce it utterly inoperative." Judge Woodward, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in the case of Johnson vs. the city of Philadelphia—to be found in the Forty-eighth Pennsylvania State Reports, page 332 decided that everything pertaining to the public schools of the city and county of Philadelphia has been committed to the Board of Public Education, excepting only the public purse, that is to say, Councils have to appropriate the money. Various other decisions are quoted to sustain the stand taken by the Board of Education in the matter of purchase and control of all school matters.

THE PRACTICAL AND PROFITABLE

if its magnificent exhibit of BUILDING HARDWARE at the National Export Exposition had failed—notwithstanding the gratifying expressions of admiration and appreciation of the many thousands of visitors lavishly bestowed upon it—to command the attention of buyers for both export and domestic uses.

Results are doubly gratifying and the closing of the Exposition marks the beginning of a new era in the history of this great American manufacturing concern, for many new and important fields have been opened for its products in foreign lands, besides which the company has been highly honored through the attention and critical inspection given to its exhibit by hundreds of local and visiting architects and builders, many of whom have placed valuable and important introductory orders.

the highest award—silver medal and diploma—in the face of such competition is an episode full of deep meaning as well as pleasant gratification, and the company extends its thanks to everybody.

Harper, of Jonesboro, Ga., will make extensive improvements to her dwelling from plans prepared by R. L. Jones, of Atlanta. The same architect has prepared plans for a large oil mill at Jonestown, in which A. B. Rivers is interested.

The proposed new East River bridge at Blackwell's Island, New York, for which surveys have been in progress for some months, will be a cantilever structure, according to the preliminary plans just approved by the Bridge Commissioners of New York City. The bridge will be 150 feet wide, and from the East River shore of Manhattan to the opposite shore of Long Island its length will be 2710 feet. It will accommodate two elevated railroads, two double tracks for trolley lines, paths for bicycle riders, walks for foot passengers, two roadways for heavy teams and also roadways for light vehicles. The foundations, which will be concrete and stone, will rest on solid rock. The main pier in Manhattan will be 115 feet high, and the height of the pier on Blackwell's Island will be 118 feet. The approach to the bridge on Manhattan side will be in Sixtieth street, from Second avenue. On the Long Island side the bridge will terminate at the shore line, between Rodgers and Rabbitt streets, in Ravenwood. The estimated cost of the bridge is as follows: Condemnation of land in Manhattan, $1,455,000; condemnation of land in Queens borough, $573,000; main bridge, $1,392,000; approach in Manhattan, $930,000; approach in Queens borough, $1,360,000; total cost, $5,740,000.—Engineering News.
